Local Art Contest Launched To Help Fiber Network Bid

Garrett Google Fiber Network (GGFN) proponents are recruiting help from local schoolchildren through an art contest. The county is competing with communities throughout the United States to convince Google to build a high speed fiber network, delivering speeds of 1 Gbps (over 100 times faster than DSL), in their areas.

"The Garrett County school system will greatly benefit if Google chooses Garrett County for the trial," said Dr. Wendell Teets, superintendent of the Garrett County Board of Education. "It will allow us to have much faster and content-rich applications in the classroom, administration, and student and parent communications."

As part of their bid to become a Google community, GGFN officials are asking Garrett County students to submit their own 4-inch by 6-inch postcard to be sent to Google and to compete for prizes locally.

Students must bring their postcards to school by next Thursday, March 18, to be considered for the competition. The cards will be judged for creativity, art, "fun," and Google/Garrett County content. For inspiration, students may visit fibergarrettcounty.org.

The creator of the winning postcard will receive a $25 gift card. Those who place second through fifth will be awarded $10 gift cards, and the top 20 postcards will be featured on the GGFN web site.

Persons who would like to see Garrett County become a Google community are asked to sign the GGFN petition at google.com/-appserve/fiberrfi and click on the "Nominate Your Community" button. The deadline is March 26.

More information about Google's high speed fiber network and how it benefits education, healthcare, business, citizen services, and community action is available by visiting fiber.-garrettcounty.org or calling 1-866-403-5982.

GCAC Exhibiting Work Of Artist Daniel Helsel

The Garrett County Arts Council has announced its latest exhibit in the Backroom Gallery, located inside the Gallery Shop in downtown Oakland.

"Simple Things Remembered" is the title of the collection of work by GCAC member artist Daniel Helsel that will be on display through April 16.

Helsel began painting in 1995 after retiring from business. He paints in the old master's style and said he is influenced by the works of artists like Chardin, Vermeer, and Rembrandt. He said he feels their work has lasting quality and beauty. Hesel paints on oil-primed linen canvas and prepares his own panels using a Renaissance formula.

Helsel has trained at several locations, including the Sulkowski Academy of Fine Art in Canonsburg, Pa., where he studied the texture of silver, brass, gold, glass and porcelain.

"In the few days the exhibit has been on display, our gallery visitors have been awed by the realism of Mr. Helsel's work, especially his depiction of Delft pottery and metals," said Karen Reckner, executive director of GCAC. "Mr. Helsel works with actual set-ups in the studio, not from photographs."

The artist has won several awards with local art associations. He has exhibited at the Greensburg Art Association in Greensburg, Pa., the Bedford Art Association, the Jenner Art Gallery at the Mountain Playhouse in Jennerstown, Pa., and numerous other locations.

His paintings can be found throughout the United States, and have been purchased by Mt. Aloysius College, Community Arts Center, and the Southern Alleghenies Museum of Art. Helsel resides in Davidsville, Pa.

The artist has taught still-life painting and demonstrated his work throughout the area. The Garrett County Arts Council has retained him to instruct a workshop titled "Oil Painting for Beginners" in late July of this year, Reckner said.

The artist will be honored with a wine and cheese reception Saturday, March 27, from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Gallery Shop, 206 E. Alder Street, Oakland. The public is invited.

Bartlett Sponsoring Contest For Senior High School Artists

Congressman Roscoe Bartlett announced Friday that he is sponsoring the 2010 Congressional Art Competition, "An Artistic Discovery," for senior high school students who live in Maryland's Sixth Congressional District.

"I believe that this competition provides an excellent opportunity to showcase the talent of students in the Sixth District and acknowledge our nation's gifted young artists," he said.

Students are asked to submit their entries to one of Bartlett's four district offices before Thursday, April 15. His office for Allegany and Garrett counties is located at 1 Frederick Street, Suite 2, Cumberland, Maryland.

The winners in each of the seven categories and the Sixth Congressional District Best in Show will be announced on April 30.

The Best in Show winner from the Sixth District of Maryland will have his/her art work displayed in the Cannon Tunnel to the Capitol for one year and may be awarded an Artistic Merit Scholarship in the amount of $1,500 per year, by the Savannah College of Art and Design.

The Best in Show winner will be invited to attend a district reception in Frederick on May 10. The winner will also be invited to attend the ribbon-cutting ceremony and reception in Washington, D.C., with other Best in Show winners from around the United States.

Invitations to participate in the competition have been sent to the public and non-public high schools and home schooled students in the Sixth District.

Entries can be submitted in one of seven categories: paintings, drawings, collage, prints, mixed media; computer generated art, and photography. Further information regarding each category can be found online at bartlett.house.gov.

Each student may submit only one piece of art. Entries will be judged by an independent panel of volunteer art experts.

Entries must follow art competition guidelines and must be accompanied by a student information/release form. Each student must complete the form and attach it to the back of his/her artwork. The student's art teacher must also sign the form to affirm the entry's authenticity and originality.

Artwork must conform to these restrictions:

•Artwork must be two dimensional.

•Each piece can be no larger than 28 inches high, 28 inches wide, and 4 inches deep, including a frame. Framed artwork cannot weigh more than 15 pounds.

•Each entry must be original in concept, design, and execution and may not violate any U.S. copyright laws. Any entry that has been copied from an existing photo (not the student's own), painting, graphic, advertisement, or any other work produced by another person is a violation of the competition rules and will not be accepted. Work entered must be in the original medium (that is, not a scanned reproduction of a painting or drawing).

The artwork will hang in the Capitol complex for the entire year of the exhibition and cannot be returned to the students earlier. Students should, therefore, submit artwork they will not need for other purposes.

For further information, persons may call competition coordinator Brenda Frantz at 800-889-3012 (toll free).

BOE Meeting

that the Attendance Area Elementary Facilities Committee would do a study on all area elementary schools and not solely Southern area schools.

Personnel appointments and retirements were announced. Sgt. Andrew DiSimone will be a new JROTC instructor at Southern High School. Retirements effective July 1 are as follows: William Janoske, Southern Middle; Mary Susan Norris, Grantsville; Shirley Bittinger and Eleanor Moon, Yough Glades; Deborah Hinkle, Dennett Road; Roy Hinkle, Southern High; and Ruth Uphold, Accident.

Bloomington School, Crellin Elementary School, Dennett Road Elementary School, and Swan Meadow were recognized through the Maryland School Performance Recognition. Swan Meadow and Crellin schools were recognized for overall achievement, and Bloomington and Dennett Road schools were recognized for special education subgroup improvement.

The revised school calendar was voted on with a recommendation and approval to request the five-day waiver from the state. A total of 17 days were missed this year because of inclement weather. The noon dismissal previously set for March 19 will now be a full school day, and students will attend school on a regular schedule on Easter Monday as well.

With those revisions as well as the five-day waiver, students' last day is currently set for June 16. Teachers' last day will be June 17, and June 14–16 will be noon dismissals for students. Any additional days closed will extend this date. Graduation was approved for Sunday, June 6, with Northern's ceremony slated at 1 p.m. and Southern's at 4 p.m.

The Ratification of Employee Organization Contracts was also addressed, with negotiations conducted with Garrett County Education Association Support Personnel, Garrett Administrative and Supervisors Association, and Garrett County Federation of Teachers. It was discussed that all groups will reduce the duty days that would be required this year if the five-day waiver is approved. The issue of step increases was also addressed, with the decision to not grant step increases this year.

All 10- and 11-month employees will work five less days, and all 12-month employees will receive a combination of either five annual leave days or days off when offices are closed during inclement weather. Each of the four agreements was approved.

It was also approved that a budget meeting will be held on the third Tuesday of April (20) at the board office beginning at 6:30 p.m. Student board member Ian Aiken gave the student member report, and MABE topics were discussed. The meeting closed with the presentation of several school bulletins and brochures and the March school activities calendar.

Rams Win Md. Wrestling Title; Scheffel Is Four-Time Champ

One would think that successfully defending the Maryland State 1A/2A Wrestling Tournament championship this past weekend was going to be extremely difficult for the Southern High Rams, as only five members of the team even qualified to compete in the event.

But the Rams not only retained ownership of the state team title, they also blew away all 68 other schools represented in the competition by capturing four individual titles and one runner-up finish.

The tournament was held at Cole Field House at the University of Maryland, College Park.

"These five kids have worked so hard this season to get to the top," said Southern High head coach Dave Taylor. "At the state tournament, they performed at a level way above the competition and earned the state title with a dominating effort. Each one has a different personality and each possesses different skills, but last weekend they all came together with the common goal of winning the state title."

A highlight of the event was a fourth consecutive state title recorded by senior George "Brutus" Scheffel, placing him in a tiny, elite group of only four student athletes in the history of the state tourney to accomplish such a feat.

Scheffel pinned his first three opponents in the 152-pound division and cruised to a 10-3 decision in the title bout. His "victory lap" around the mat, which included a couple of handsprings and a back flip, was followed by a standing ovation in the 14,600-seat facility.

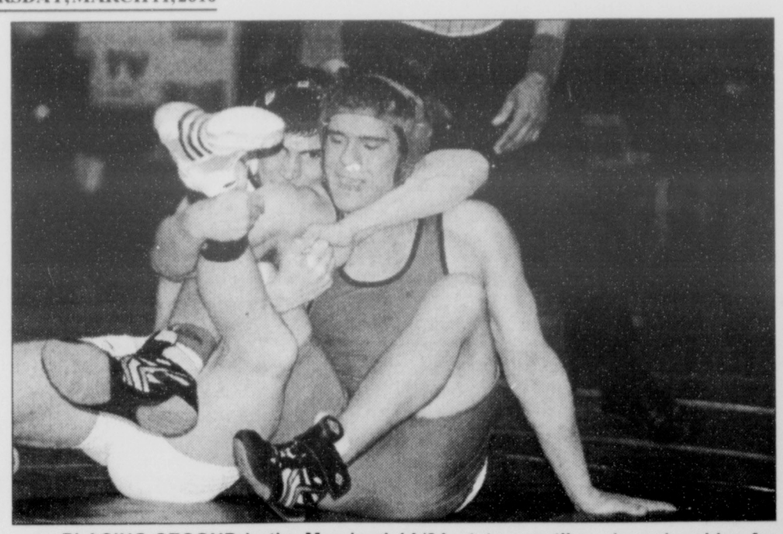
Also capturing state titles for the Rams were now two-time champions Jakob "Bubba" Scheffel and Lex Ozias, both juniors, along with senior Davey Stewart. Teammate Ryan Bennett, a junior, was a state runner-up for the second time, falling by decision in the title bout.

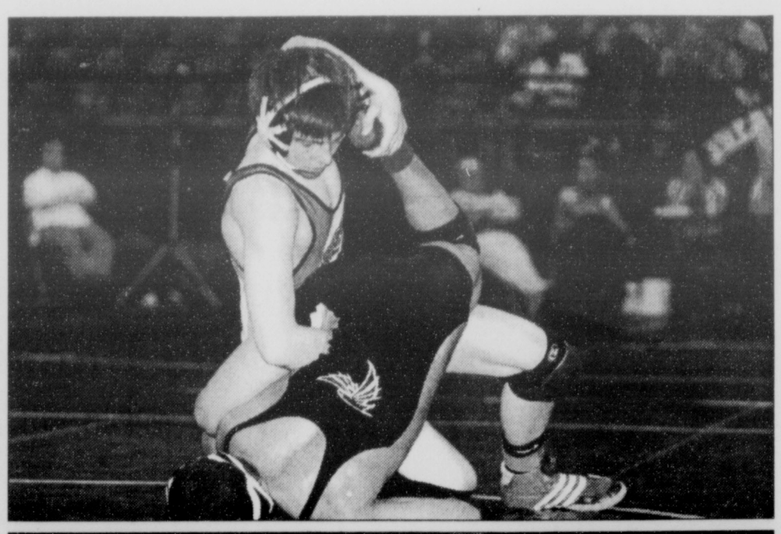
Northern High School also fared well, recording 42 points and placing 12th among the 69 schools. The Huskies were led by senior Adam Moranduzzo, who also captured a second individual state title.

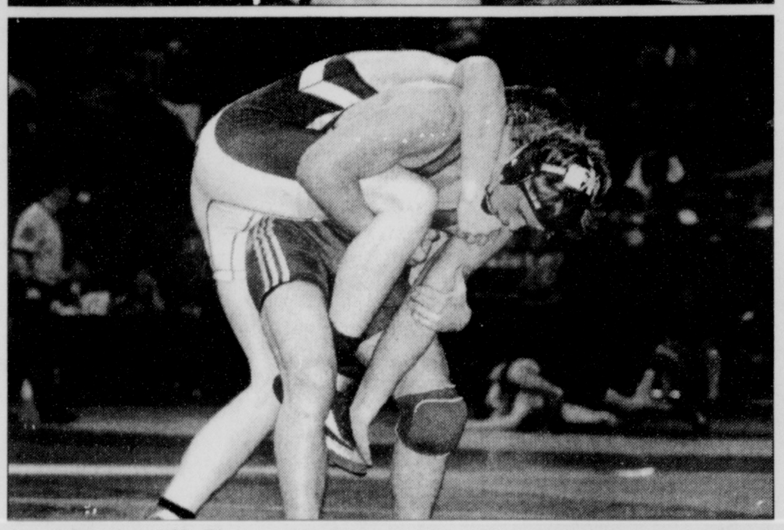
It was Glenelg High School that the Rams seized the team title from last spring, and it was Glenelg that vowed to take it back this year. However, the Rams amassed 135.5 points, and Glenelg placed a distant second with 104 points.

It was only the third time that a team finished with four individual state champions, with Garrett County having claimed the first two. It was in 2000 that the Northern Huskies had four state champs, and just last year that the Rams finished with four.

It was also the second year in a row that Southern had five state finalists, a feat accomplished by a single team only twice before – by Kent County in 2000 and Glenelg in 2008.







PLACING SECOND in the Maryland 1A/2A state wrestling championships for the Southern Rams was Ryan Bennett, pictured above (right), battling Zack Eure of Parkside in the 189-pound division final. Bennett's decision loss to Eure was his one and only defeat this season since returning to the mats following a serious leg injury sustained in football last fall. It was Bennett's second runner-up finish at the state event. His four teammates all won state titles, giving the Rams their second straight state team championship. Northern's Adam Moranduzzo also won a state crown, and his teammates Matt Thomas and Jason Opel also fared well at the tourney. Thomas, pictured above right tying up Keith Steine of Winters Mill, placed fifth in the 130-pound division. Opel, pictured below right working to get Ryan White of Landsowne off his back, finished sixth in the 171-pound division. Photos courtesy of Delos Carpenter.

WVU-bound Brutus Scheffel began this year's state tourney run with a pin of senior Alex Oxenberg (33-5) of Patterson Mill. He then pinned junior Malik Jones (23-4) of Newtown High and won his semifinal match via a pin of senior Stephen Seufert (33-3) of Easton.

The final match of Scheffel's illustrious high school career was against Glenelg senior Mike O'Leary, who came into the title bout with a 41-5 season record. Scheffel methodically controlled the match from the beginning, racking up 10 points and allowing only three. He finished his senior year with a 40-1 personal mark.

"I'm so happy for Brutus," said Coach Taylor. "I have been blessed to have such a hard-working, focused, and determined kid on the team, and he is a joy to coach. Great people do great things, and winning four state championships is a great accomplishment that has only been done three other times in history. It will be very exciting to see Brutus wrestle at the Division I collegiate level next season."

The only other high school wrestlers in the history of the tournament to earn four state titles were Aberdeen's Matt Slutzky, Steve Kessler of Owings Mills, and Hereford's Josh Asper.

Scheffel won the 103-pound division title as a freshman, the 125-pound crown as a sophomore, and the 140-pound division title as a junior. He concludes his high school career with a combined record of 154-7.

Bubba Scheffel, younger brother of Brutus, who won the state title in the 160-pound division, concluded his junior season with a perfect 39-0 record and stretched his unbeaten streak to 86 matches. His three-year record is 123-4, and his last loss was in the state tournament as a freshman.

He pinned all four of his opponents in the state tourney, first topping senior Ryan Williams (19-7) of Newtown in 1:29, nailing senior Billy Kuczarski (36-9) of Glenelg in 1:38, and pinning senior Franz Kappel (32-4) of Bohemia Manor in his semifinal.

Bubba's final opponent was Judd Ziegler, a standout sophomore from Middletown who came into the title bout with a record of 41-2. Scheffel pinned him in 4:39 to gain his second straight state title after finishing third as a sophomore.

"Bubba has developed into one of the best wrestlers the state of Maryland has ever seen," said Taylor. "With his second straight undefeated state championship season, he is poised to set state records of his own. His leadership qualities are strong, and I totally enjoy his upbeat, playful attitude that he displays even in the most pressure-filled situations."

Lex Ozias began his run for a second consecutive state championship, this year in the 140-pound division, by pinning senior Tim Cypull (19-13) of Loch Raven in just 52 seconds. He then recorded a technical fall over sophomore Brennan McAllister (37-5) of Parkside, followed by another technical fall over junior Kurt Buckingham (27-5) of Century.

Ozias concluded his season with a 7-3 decision over rising freshman Anthony Cimorosi (29-3) of Rising Sun to win the title and finish with a personal mark of 39-1.

"Lex is the complete package as a wrestler," said Coach Taylor. "He combined strength, speed, and outstanding technique to earn his second straight championship."

Southern's Davey Stewart, who arrived in College Park with a 26-2 mark in the 103-pound division, opened with a pinfall of sophomore Tyler Peck (24-10) of Southern (Anne Arundel) in just 1:23. Then he recorded a technical fall over North Dorchester senior Spencer Horseman (40-3), followed by a pin of Glenelg freshman Ryan Carter (34-9) to win a spot in the title match.

A 14-6 major decision over sophomore Zach Pilkington (29-3) of Patuxent, after rallying from a 4-0 deficit, gave Stewart the state crown.

"I am so happy that Davey was able to win the state title this year," Taylor said. "He is an enjoyable kid who has improved more than anyone on the mat this season."

Northern High's Adam Moranduzzo also repeated as a state champion, claiming the title this year in the 145-pound division.

He began his day on Friday with a technical fall of senior Ron Adato (27-8) of Rockville. He followed with another technical fall in the second round over senior Justin Lorber (35-8) of Bel Air, and a 9-3 decision of senior Joseph Rollins (14-0) of Surrattsville to gain a berth in the title bout. There he worked his way to a 7-4 decision over Logan Yox, a senior from Liberty who had a 39-2 record. Moranduzzo finished his senior year with a 31-3 record.

Southern's Ryan Bennett, who sustained a serious leg fracture during football season last fall, was not even sure that he would be able to wrestle at all this season. He made it back into action midway through the season, and proceeded to win 17 straight matches to put him in the 189-pound division title bout at College Park.

Bennett needed only one minute to pin senior Ryan Witt (20-9) of Lansdowne, and 2:59 to pin junior Anthony Chase (29-12) of McDonough. He then faced

She was just an old-fashioned mother.
She did not pretend to be "smart."
To care for her home and her dear ones
Was the wish that was first in her heart.

We were raised by old-fashioned methods,
So sparsely employed today.
And when we so richly deserved it,
We were "spanked" in the old-fashioned way.

She taught us the old-fashioned virtue,
"A good name is far better, she'd say,
"Than all the wealth of the nation,
And truth is the best any day."

She believed in the old-fashioned Bible.
She trusted in old-fashioned prayer;
She told us that Jesus would hear us
If we'd speak anytime anywhere.

Thank God for an old-fashioned mother,
For the Bible and old-fashioned prayer;
For the old-fashioned faith that is looking
For our Lord to appear in the air.

The Southern High School bowling team finished up its season last Saturday in the Showcase Tournament of the Allegany County Inter-Scholastic Bowling League which was held at White Oaks Lanes. The boys' team won the Adjusted Division, and the girls' team brought home something even more special: the Josh Aman Sportsmanship Award.

"For the girls to win this award, that really says something about the kind of kids they are," said Southern head coach John Sharpless. "We've had a great season, and I couldn't be more proud at how the teams have done."

This award is given annually in memory of Josh Aman, who bowled for Allegany, to the team that best demonstrates sportsmanship, as voted on by the coaches.

Caitlyn Virts of Southern's girls' team rolled a high game of 206, and was preceded by Fort Hill's Mystie Benson. Benson rolled the highest game in the tournament with 221, 232, 171 for a set score of 624.

SHS Girls' Basketball Team Knocked Out Of Playoffs By No. 2 Allegany

After a confident beginning to the playoffs with wins over Fort Hill and Northern, the Southern High School varsity girls' basketball team's season ended after it was knocked out of the Maryland Class 1A West Regional Tournament by No. 2 Allegany. The Rams made a comeback in the second half, but were unable to secure the win, losing 47-33 to the Campers.

Southern was forced to take most of its shots from long range, and trailed by nine points after the first period, 13-4. At the 4:04 mark, the Rams were down 24-4 until Heidi Welch scored on a drive with 3:42 left in the half. Allegany scored two more points to boost its lead, but Southern came back and scored the final 10 points of the half to trail by only 12 at the break, 26-14.

The margin grew to 17 points, 34-17, with 2:20 left in the third period. The Rams found their second wind and scored the next six points to go into the final eight minutes down by just 11 points, 34-23. A three-pointer by Welch and a foul shot by Alli Shaffer closed the gap to seven points, 34-27, with 5:35 left on the clock. Allegany took charge and had a pair of key buckets to make it 40-27, and then a six-point run sealed the win for the Campers.

"Allegany is well-coached and Jimmy O'Neal had his team ready for us," said Southern head coach Dan Bosley. "We didn't run our plays effectively, and you can credit their defense for that."

The only player in double figures for Southern was Welch with her 13 points. The Rams hit on only 11 of 39 field goal attempts, and were 9-for-15 from the foul line. Welch also hit the only two 3-point baskets for Southern, and was 5-for-6 from the free throw line.

Lindsie Linaburg hit 6 of 7 foul shots for a team-high 12 points and collected five rebounds to lead Allegany. Teammate Brooke Wharton finished with 10 points and provided four assists.

The Rams ended their 2009-2010 season at 16-7.

Rams Fall 50-34 To Top-Ranked Campers To End Season at 13-9

The Southern High School varsity boys' basketball team kept a steady pace through the first half to remain no more than eight points behind Allegany, but the Rams fell behind in the second half and suffered a 50-34 defeat by the Campers in the semifinal round of the Maryland Class 1A West Regional Tournament last Thursday.

The game opened slowly, offensively for both sides as the Rams trailed by three, 9-6, going into the second quarter. They had led early, 3-0 and 6-4, after some three-point shots. Allegany recorded nine points to Southern's four in the second quarter to lead by only eight points, but it all changed quickly in the third quarter as the Campers hit field goal after field goal, moving the 18-10 halftime lead to 28-10. Southern trailed, 40-18, with 1:30 left in the third period, but managed to score six more to Allegany's two to trail 42-24.

"They [Allegany] went 5-for-5 to start the quarter and we just couldn't recover," said Southern head coach Jon Hegeman. "They are so explosive that you just hope you can contain them. When they got up on us in the third quarter we had to get out of our delay type of mentality on offense, and look to score after the first pass or two, and that changed everything."

The Rams played hard to the finish, with Calvin Hilliard scoring 14 points and nabbing four rebounds to lead them. He hit six points in a 3-minute span in the fourth quarter to close in on the Campers, 46-32. D.J. Ritchie hit two key 3-pointers in the opening minutes of the game, but Southern went 0-for-15 on three-point shots the rest of the game.

"We wanted a game in the 40s or 50s, and to cut the number of possessions in the game from 50 to 55," said Coach Hegeman. "We had the tempo we wanted in the first half, but just turned the ball over too many times and missed some really good opportunities to score. Defensively I was really pleased, holding Allegany to 18 points."

Casey Roberts recorded a game-high 17 points to lead the Campers to victory. He also aided with six assists and three 3-pointers. Teammates Dustin Wharton finished with 13 points and Jordan Grady ended with nine points, 13 rebounds, and three blocks.

"You never feel like you're out of a game when you're down 12 or 14 points, but even if we had gotten closer, Allegany wasn't going to panic," said Coach Hegeman. "That's a great team. They are so confident in themselves, and they should be."

Lady Lakers Hold Off Potomac State; Ousted From Tourney By Baltimore

Even though the women's basketball team of Garrett College was down at halftime, it managed a quick turn-around to eventually hold off Potomac State for a 60-58 victory in the first contest of the Region XX Tournament at Frederick Community College last Friday.

The Lakers went on to face Baltimore City in the semifinal round on Saturday at Frederick, and suffered a 73-39 domination to be ousted from the tournament.

Against the Catamounts last Friday, the Lakers were down 34-30 by halftime. Garrett took over in the second half with its biggest lead of 12 points midway through the second half. The Lakers' lead was down to eight with three minutes left to play, and it was then tied with 24 seconds remaining. Garrett got two free throws to take a 60-58 lead with 11 seconds left. Potomac went for a three-pointer, but it was all rim.

Janay Collins was 4-for-4 from the foul line and sank 20 points to lead the Lakers. Teammate Tashara Van Alstyne finished with 11 for the win.

Potomac was led by Chelsea Holcomb's game-high 22 points, while Brittany Skyles and Aisha Short both scored 12 points. Holcomb and Short aided with five rebounds apiece, and Skyles finished with five steals.

In the loss to Baltimore on Saturday, Collins put up a game-high 20 points for the Lakers, and nabbed 14 rebounds as well.

For Baltimore, Shavon Scot had 18 points, while teammate Cierra Lucas added 15. Chanet Wallace finished with 12 points, Ashley Jones with 10, and Tanira McClirken with nine in the win.

Baltimore was up by 19 points at the break to lead into the second half 37-18.

Garrett finished its 2009-2010 season at 11-9.

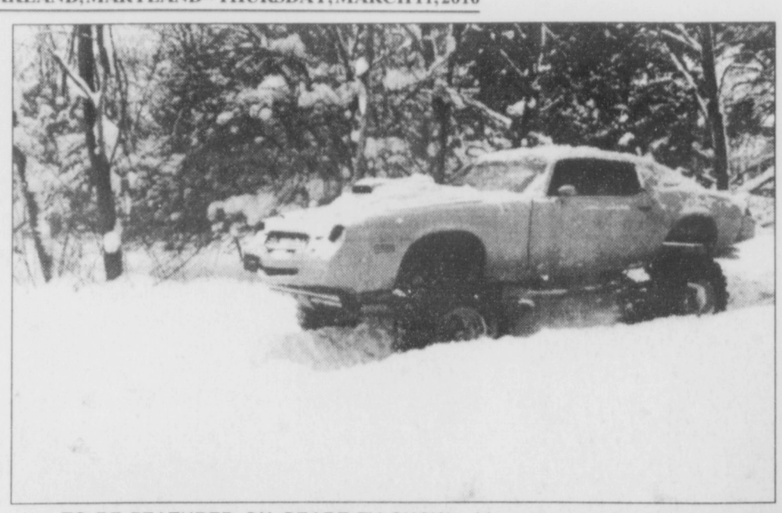
Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity since the passage of Senate Bill 566 in 2007," Beitzel added.

HB 791, in particular, has received broad bipartisan support, the delegate noted. The bill has received 22 cosponsors from all parts of Maryland.

"The support of this measure indicates to me that people are finally becoming educated about the need for some regulations regarding wind technology in Maryland," said Beitzel.

He added that he was an open and vocal opponent to the O'Malley administration's recent proposal to put wind turbines on state property. Beitzel also sponsored several wind turbine related legislative initiatives during the 2009 General Assembly session.

He encourages any individual who wants to provide written testimony for the March 16 hearing to call his office at 410-841-3435 or e-mail wendell.beitzel@house.state.md.us.



TO BE FEATURED ON GEARZ TV SHOW – It's not every day that someone from Garrett County is featured on television, but Saturday will be one of those days when Michael Gibbons of Oakland will be featured on the Speed channel's Gearz show during the "What are you working on?" segment, scheduled to air at 9 a.m. Gibbons built the "Beast," a 1979 Z28 4x4 Monster Camaro, and has won several trophies in Maryland and Pennsylvania. Gibbons has been featured on numerous car-related Internet web sites. He has presented to after-school programs across the county, as well as other community events, and was a participant in last year's Garrett County Autumn Glory Festival Parade. "This project took me five long years to complete, and I am so excited that it went from Oakland to the national spotlight," said Gibbons. "I would like to thank my friends, family, and local community sponsors Ours Auto Salvage, Loch Lynn Service Center, Glotfelty Enterprises, Amick Transmissions, High Mountain Off Road, Southern Auto Supply, and In The Skin Tattoo Parlor who helped make this dream a reality." Gibbons is seen above driving his Camaro through the snow, and below inside the vehicle. Persons interested in learning more about his vehicle or the show may visit the Gearz web site at www.gearztv.com. Gibbons is the son of Michael and Elizabeth Gibbons of Oakland.

duced this year by Beitzel and Edwards was intended to find a solution to malpractice insurance rates that threaten to cause the family doctors to stop delivering babies. The effort was coordinated with the Garrett County Health Department, local family practitioners, Garrett Memorial Hospital, the Health and Government Operations Committee, the Maryland Hospital Association, and the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene.

Representatives from Maryland trial attorneys spoke in opposition to both the Senate and House measures. Their concern is that the bill would include Garrett County family doctors into a provision in the Annotated Code that caps the amount of damages an attorney could seek in a possible lawsuit, Beitzel explained.

"It's back to finding a solution to this problem because the committee put the interests of trial lawyers before Garrett County's babies and their mothers," Beitzel said.

The delegate added that he and Edwards have spoken personally, and will continue to work on coming up with a solution on this matter, with members of the General Assembly, the governor's staff, and representatives from the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene.

Many electronics, like televisions and computers, continue to draw power even when they are switched off. In the average home, even when electronics and appliances are not being used, they continue to draw up to 75% of the electricity they need to run. But by using a power strip to turn them off, you can save as much as $200 a year.

Garrett College Students Give Back

by Melissa Parker

Garrett College athletes spend much of the school year playing ball. When they're not playing or practicing, they're going to class or doing school work. Any time left over is usually spent on sleep, or the occasional social activity. A student athlete's busy life doesn't leave much time for anything extra.

However, GC athletes still find the time to do more than just play ball, learn, and sleep. They have proven that by giving back to the community through charity and volunteer work.

For the past several years, the Garrett men's basketball team has been involved with the annual Snowflake Chase 5-Mile Run and 2-Mile Fun Run/Walk. This year, the team hosted the event, which benefited the David K. Martin Legacy.

The 2010 Snowflake Chase was held on January 16 at the Deep Creek Lake State Park. A large number of runners came out for the race.

"It's all for a great cause," said Dennis Gibson, head men's basketball coach, which is one of the main reasons the GC men's basketball team looks forward to helping out with the event each year.

"The Snowflake Chase is our premier charity event and has given thousands of dollars to local charities over the years," said Gibson. "The players brave cold winter conditions to help with the race, which attracts between 100 and 250 participants each year. It's important that our players meet and greet community members whenever they can, and they've given back to the community whenever possible."

The basketball team helped with everything from setup to cleanup. This is no problem for the players. In fact, they enjoy it.

"Volunteering at the Snowflake Chase was a really great experience," said Howard Ferguson, sophomore basketball player from Woodbridge, Va. "It meant a lot to me that people in the community really appreciated the things we did to help out."

The men's basketball team co-sponsored the event with Uno's Restaurant.

"This event would not be possible without the community efforts of Uno's Restaurant and organizers such as Dave Ritchie and Scott Winters," said Gibson.

The men's basketball team isn't the only group of GC athletes that gives back to the community. For the past three years, the GC baseball team has volunteered at the annual Deep Creek Lake Art and Wine Festival, which benefits the American Red Cross.

"We start the school year off with our team volunteering at the Art and Wine Festival," said Eric Hallenbeck, head baseball coach. "It's a great way to get the players interacting with the community from the start."

The baseball players help out wherever they are needed, from setup before the festival to actually working at the festival the day of the event, emptying trash cans, helping patrons get their purchases to their vehicles, and cleanup.

"We have a large group of players, so we can get a lot of work done in a small amount of time," said Hallenbeck. "Being involved with this event really makes our players feel like they're a part of the community, rather than just being part of a college team. They're able to work and be introduced to local businesses and community members."

The Garrett women's basketball team has also been involved with community outreach. This past October, the team was part of a large community effort to break the world record for the number of people dancing simultaneously to Michael Jackson's "Thriller."

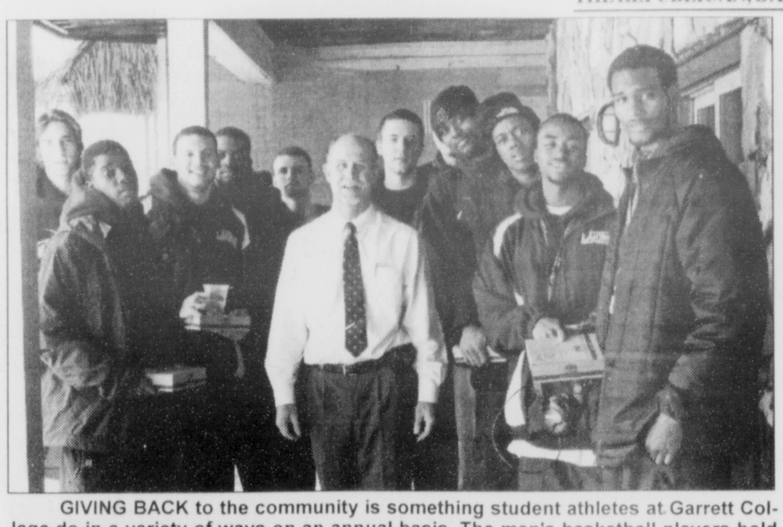
The community, and the Lady Lakers, were successful in the attempt to help set a world record. The Garrett County event was even more successful in raising funds for a local charity. Over $30,000 was raised for the House of Hope, an organization which helps individuals with emergency food and shelter needs, as well as fuel/utility and medical expenses.

Giving back and being a part of the community in which they live is an important lesson that GC coaches want to teach their athletes. Coach Hallenbeck's words can speak for all of GC's coaches: "It's very important for our athletes to volunteer and be a part of this community. I just wish we had more time to do it."

GC Scholarship Deadline Is Next Monday, March 15

The Garrett College Foundation Inc. has extended the deadline for the 2010-2011 scholarship applications to next Monday, March 15. Previously, the extension only applied to the supporting materials (i.e., transcripts, recommendation letters, information from guidance office, etc.) of the application. However, because of recent inclement weather, the foundation has decided to extend the deadline for the applications as well.

For additional information, persons may contact Kalie Ashby at 301-387-3100 or kalie.ashby@garrettcollege.edu.



GIVING BACK to the community is something student athletes at Garrett College do in a variety of ways on an annual basis. The men's basketball players hold the annual Snowflake Chase in cooperation with Uno's Restaurant, an event that raises funds for a number of local charities and programs. Pictured above are team members with Bill Ingram, manager of Uno's. Pictured in costume below are the members of the GC women's basketball team, who participated in the fundraising effort to set a world record number of persons performing Michael Jackson's "Thriller" dance, coordinated by Brenda Brosnihan.

The Garrett County Humane Society will offer the attire at a resale shop located in the Oakland train station today, Thursday, March 11, 11 a.m.–7 p.m.; Friday, March 12, 11 a.m.–7 p.m.; Saturday, March 13, 10 a.m.–2 p.m.; Sunday, March 14, 1–4 p.m.; Friday, March 19, 11 a.m.–7 p.m.; and Saturday, March 20, 10 a.m.–2 p.m. Only cash and checks will be accepted as payment for purchases.

about how I ran my class, including any grade they felt was unfair, I invited them to question my decision. But they needed to have very good arguments supporting their opinions.

Sunday, March 7, was the anniversary of a horrible chapter in the struggle for Civil Rights. A group of peaceful marchers crossed a bridge in Mississippi, and at the far end of the bridge, what awaited them? A big hate-filled gang of law enforcement people that savagely attacked the marchers, not just with their fists, but with guns. It was bad for them but good for the cause, since it happened in the television era. A groundswell of shock and distaste turned into a wall of support for Civil Rights, and led directly to the passing of the Voting Rights Act.

Yes, we did come a long way since Bloody Sunday, but we are still far from a post-racist society.

Maybe you can't blame the Republican Party for extreme and irrational behavior during the early days of Obama's administration. The state of the GOP was grim – practically finished without any clear leaders, and facing constantly shrinking numbers.

Wednesday evening midweek Lenten services were held this week at Emmanuel Lutheran Church. The series, based on journeying on the way of the cross, will continue next week at St. John's Lutheran Church (Meadow Mountain) with a service at 6 p.m., and soup and bread following the service. Pastor Randy Richardson invites everyone to attend.

Applications have been received in the Bittinger Parish for Camp Luther, which is planned for June 20 to 26. Camp Luther is open to anyone who has completed third grade through high school. For more information, or to pick up an application form, persons may see Pastor or Cindy Richardson.

Members of the Bittinger Parish continue to meet Tuesday mornings in the fellowship hall at Emmanuel. Comforters are being assembled, which will be donated to Lutheran World Relief or to local charity organizations. Everyone is invited to stop by the church on Tuesday and help with this ongoing project.

This course is intended for novice computer users interested in setting up a small network to share an Internet connection, files, and printers. Topics covered will include sharing a single Internet connection among multiple computers; sharing files among computers; using a wireless printer; and sharing a printer connected to a different computer.

"Basic computer and small network security are important components to this course," said a spokesperson. "Practical tips and tricks will be offered throughout the class."

Participants are encouraged to bring their preferred writing materials, such as pens, pads, notebooks, laptops, etc., as a great deal of writing will be done in class.

Cathy Paine, whose essays have been published in Contact Quarterly, New Moves, and In Touch, will be instructing the class. She has also written and presented over 30 solo performance works, interweaving personal stories, anecdotes, and world events with music, vocalization, and movement.

In addition, Paine has received six Individual Artist Fellowships from the Maryland State Arts Council.

Melting Snow

reverse 9-1-1 system, which will give you specific instructions.

A flash flood or flood watch means that flash flooding or flooding is possible within the designated watch area. Citizens are advised to be alert.

A flash flood or flood warning means that flash flooding or flooding has been reported or is imminent and citizens are advised to take necessary precautions at once.

An urban and small stream advisory means that flooding of small streams, streets and low-lying areas such as railroad underpasses and urban storm drains is occurring.

If you receive a flash flood warning, you may have only seconds to take the following actions:

•Get out of the area subject to flooding. This includes dips, low spots, canyons, and washes.

•Avoid already flooded and high or rapidly flowing areas. Do not attempt to cross flowing streams.

•If driving, be aware that the road bed may not be intact under flood waters. Turn around and go another way; never drive through flooded roadways.

•If the vehicle stalls, leave it immediately and seek higher ground. Rapidly rising water may engulf the vehicle and its occupants and sweep them away. Remember, it is better to be wet than dead.

•Be especially cautious at night when it is harder to recognize flood dangers.

•Do not camp or park your vehicle along streams and washes, particularly during threatening weather conditions.

•If you come to a flowing stream where water is above your ankles. Stop, turn around, and go another way.

•To report damage from flooding, you may call the Garrett County Public Safety 24-hr. hotline at 301-334-4444.

For more information about flooding, a joint publication of the Department of Homeland Security's Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and the American Red Cross is available. For a free copy of "Repairing Your Flooded Home," you can write FEMA Publications, P.O. Box 70274, Washington, D.C., 20024, or call 1-800-480-2520.

Additional information can be found on MEMA's web site at mema.state.md.us/MEMA/content_page.jsp?TOPICID=floods or at www.floodsmart.gov.

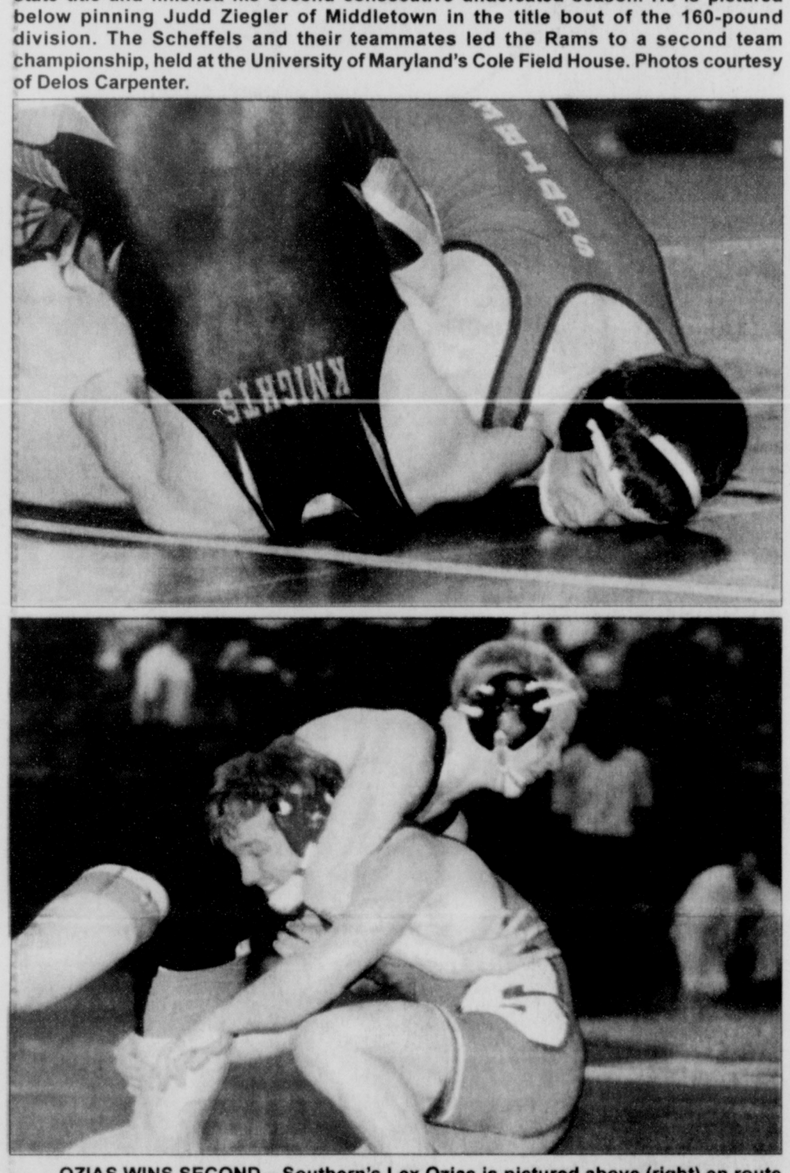
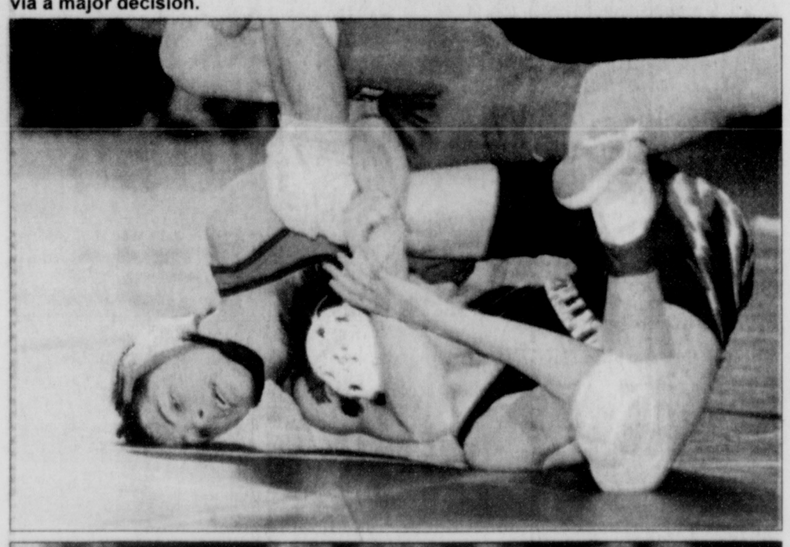
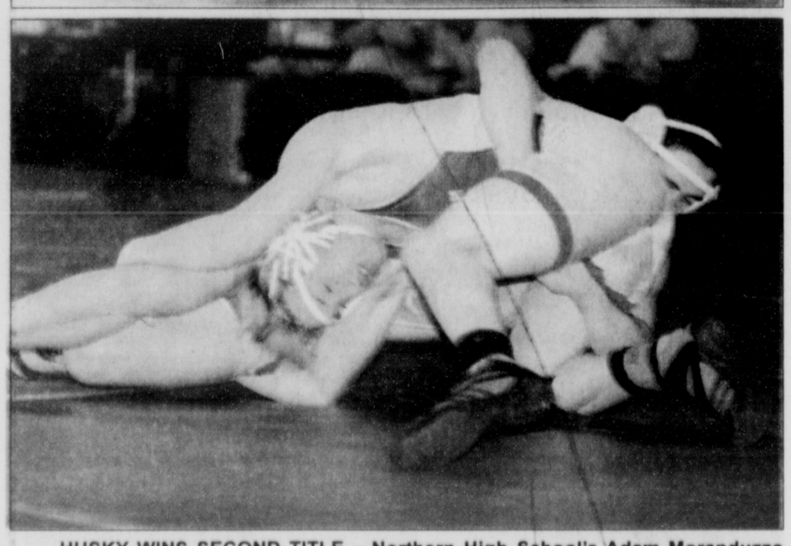
FOUR-TIME STATE CHAMP – There have only ever been four Maryland high school athletes who have won four consecutive state championships in wrestling, and the fourth one is Southern High School's George "Brutus" Scheffel, who is pictured above in the process of defeating Mike O'Leary of Glenelg in the title bout of the 152-pound division. Brutus' younger brother Jakob "Bubba" Scheffel won his second state title and finished his second consecutive undefeated season. He is pictured below pinning Judd Ziegler of Middletown in the title bout of the 160-pound division. The Scheffels and their teammates led the Rams to a second team championship, held at the University of Maryland's Cole Field House. Photos courtesy of Delos Carpenter.



OZIAS WINS SECOND – Southern's Lex Ozias is pictured above (right) en route to a 7-3 decision of Anthony Cimorosi of Rising Sun to capture the state championship in the 140-pound division. It was his second straight Maryland title. Also recording a state championship for the Rams was senior Davey Stewart, pictured below in control of Patuxent's Zach Pilkington in the 103-pound final. Stewart won via a major decision.





HUSKY WINS SECOND TITLE – Northern High School's Adam Moranduzzo claimed his second state wrestling title by earning a 7-4 decision over Liberty's Logan Yox in the 145-pound division final. Moranduzzo completed his season with a 31-3 record. As a team, the Huskies finished a commendable 12th place among the 69 1A/2A schools represented in the tournament.

Rams Win

junior Zack Eure of Parkside, who came into the title bout with a personal mark of 36-1. Eure emerged with a 9-4 decision, leaving Bennett with the runner-up trophy for the second straight year.

"Ryan Bennett overcame a major football injury to reach the state finals for the second straight year," said Taylor. "There is no telling how dominant he would have been if he had wrestled the entire season. Most people would be thrilled to be a state finalist, but Ryan will not settle for that. I expect him to come back with a vengeance next season, and I expect to see him in the state finals again, but with a different result.

"Even though only five made it to the state tournament, the success of Southern Garrett wrestling was created by the entire team," Taylor continued. "Everyone, from the varsity starters to the JV wrestlers and the entire coaching staff, pulled together to make this state championship a possibility."

Two other state qualifiers for Northern also earned points for the Huskies, as Matt Thomas earned a fifth place in the 130-pound division, and Jason Opel placed sixth in the 171-pound division.

Thomas, a junior, started with a 5-4 decision of Glen-elg senior Zack Gerber (35-5). He then dropped a 5-1 decision to senior Jason Robinson (31-5) of Rising Sun. He won his next two bouts in the consolation bracket, recording a 7-0 decision over Etienne Seldon of Oakland Mills and a 5-4 decision over senior Mark Massimini (33-7) of Harford Tech. He then lost by pin to fourth-place finisher Chris Antrobus (31-7), a senior from Century.

Thomas ended his season with a 25-12 record.

Opel, a senior, won his first match via an 8-1 decision over junior Joey Yarn (27-14) of Oakland Mills, then dropped to the consolation racket when he fell by a 5-2 decision to eventual state champ Jordan Gowe (43-1) of St. Michaels. Opel then gained a 7-0 decision over senior Jason Talbert (28-4) of Francis Scott Key, and followed that with a major decision (11-2) victory over Patuxent senior Mason Mills (28-8). He was then edged 3-2 by eventual third-place winner Sam Nuyss (37-4), a senior from Hammond.

Opel concluded his season with a personal mark of 24-6.

Placing third in the tournament was Winters Mill with 86 points, followed by Bel Air with 78, Rising Sun with 76, and South Carroll, the team that edged the Rams for the regional dual meet championship, with 74 points.

Rounding out the top 10 were three-time team champion Owings Mills in seventh place with 69 points, Century with 67.5, Middletown with 49, and Easton with 48.

Mountain Ridge placed 18th with 33 points, and Fort Hill tied for 33rd with 16 points.

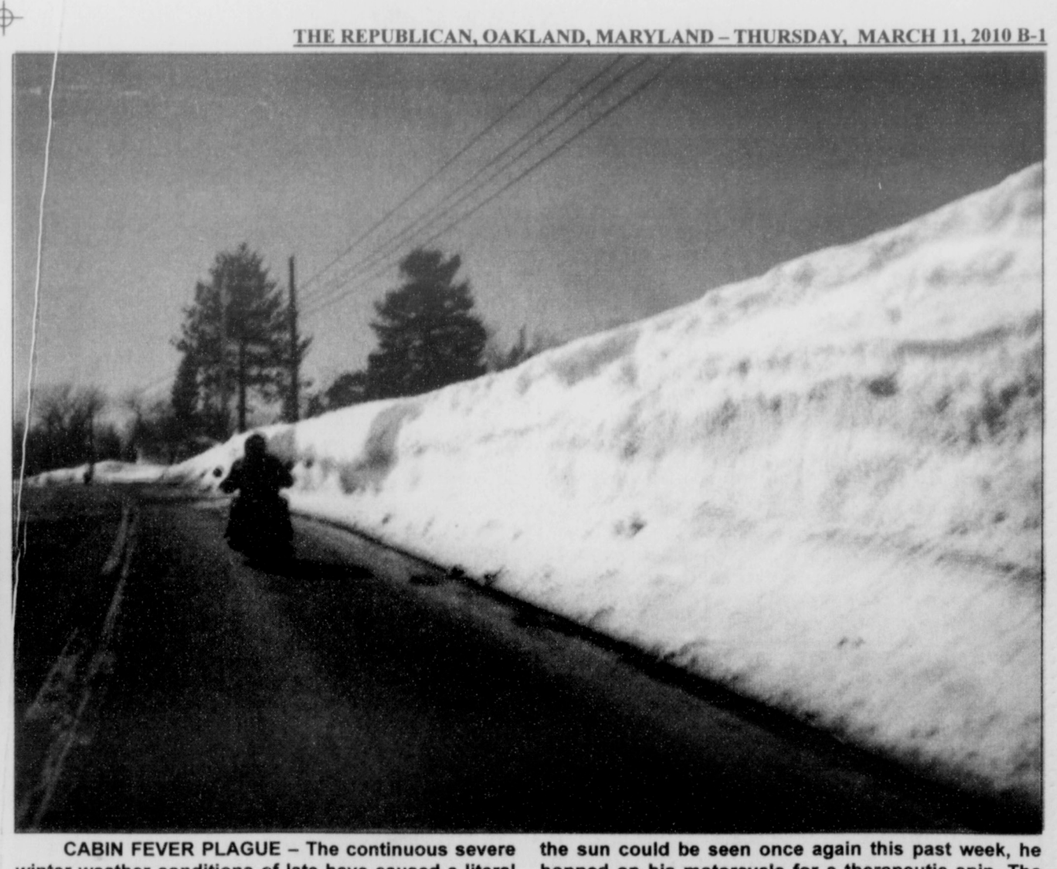
DRESSING FOR DINNER? The deer in Garrett County are having a hard time finding food this winter, as most of it has been buried in snow for months. These animals wandered into the yard of Ralph and Sheila Reams last month searching for some exposed ground, and perhaps the one in the front thought dressing up might help. The Reams couple said she showed up with the orange scarf around her neck and seemed somewhat tame, standing still for the photograph. Persons should of course not dress up the wild animals, as a scarf like this could become dangerous should the deer get tangled in branches or on a fence. Residents can help deer by clearing the snow from the animals' regular grazing grounds, if possible. Photo by Sheila Garrett Reams.



CABIN FEVER PLAGUE – The continuous severe winter weather conditions of late have caused a literal plague of cabin fever in Garrett County. Tom Swiger of Oakland (one of the pressmen responsible for the production of this newspaper) just couldn't take it any longer, so when the sky finally turned blue and the sun could be seen once again this past week, he hopped on his motorcycle for a therapeutic spin. The photo was provided by his wife Deb. Warmer temperatures and rain are predicted for the next several more days, greatly elevating the risk of local flooding.

DEFINING YOUR HEARING LOSS

There are two general categories of hearing loss. "Conductive" losses, involving the outer and middle ear, are usually treated with medication, surgery, or even earwax removal. So-called "sensorineural" losses, on the other hand, involve the inner ear, including the snail-shaped cochlea, the tiny hair cells inside the cochlea, and the auditory nerve leading to the brain. The most common problem associated with this latter type of loss has to do with the dying hair cells that result from aging or exposure to noise. Generally, when the hair cells die, the ability to hear high frequencies is lost first. If so, the use of a hearing instrument may help those with sensorineural loss hear sounds and better understand speech.

Many people throughout the world have problems with their hearing. And your ability to hear is as unique as your fingerprints—no two people have exactly the same impairment. That's why it is so important to meet with a hearing specialist who can custom design a solution to each individual's hearing needs. Optimize your hearing capabilities and call us at AUDIBEL.

P.S. Symptoms of sensorineural hearing loss include hearing sounds in a quieter, distorted, and less clear manner, as well as failure to distinguish consonants such as "s," "f," and "z" from one another.

PUBLIC NOTICE
for users of Deep Creek Lake

Deep Creek Hydroelectric is lowering the level of Deep Creek Lake in an effort to control the melting impacts of this year's record snow pack. The Maryland Department of the Environment, the Department of Natural Resources and Brookfield Renewable Power, owner of Deep Creek Hydroelectric, continue to closely monitor lake levels and weather conditions to coordinate actions to keep the public safe in the event of a rapid thaw.

Hazards always exist when recreating on naturally-formed ice. Residents and recreational users should USE EXTRA CAUTION when on or near Deep Creek Lake for the remainder of winter. Lower water levels and warmer temperatures may result in the following dangers:

- Ice that cracks or suddenly shifts as additional weight is applied
- Ice that shifts, lifts, and/or settles creating unexpected ridges
- Ice slabs that break off near the shoreline, creating open water between stable interior ice and the shore

Pennsylvania Man Found Guilty Of Theft; Sentenced To 30 Days

In recent Garrett County District Court proceedings, Steven Riley Oros, 53, Chestnut Ridge, Pa., was found guilty by Judge Leonard J. Eiswert of theft valued at less than $100, and was sentenced to 30 days and $57.50 in fines.

In January 2007, it was reported that the Maryland State Police received a call from an employee of Oester's Trucking. The employee was following a van at the time of the call, and the employee stated that the occupants in the van were just observed stealing items from the business.

Officers located the vehicle traveling on Rt. 219 at Keyser's Ridge and conducted a traffic stop. Upon making contact with the occupants, officers detected a strong odor of alcohol coming from the driver. Oros was a passenger in the van along with another adult, the driver, and a juvenile. Officers could see in plain view two tractor truck radiators in the van. The driver voluntarily admitted that they took two radiators from Oester's Trucking.

A search of the vehicle also revealed a small pick hammer, screw driver, large bolt cutters, a flashlight, and numerous empty beer cans. Oros along with the driver and the juvenile were placed under arrest and transported to the McHenry Barrack. No other charges were filed.

In another court hearing, Amy Christine Marple, 44, Oakland, pleaded guilty to a controlled dangerous substance (CDS) possession of marijuana charge, received a probation before judgment (PBJ) verdict, and was sentenced to 30 days with all being suspended, one year of unsupervised probation, and $257.50 in fines.

Garrett County sheriff's officers and members of the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force conducted a traffic stop in October 2009 on Marple for failure to use a turn signal at an intersection.

While officers spoke with Marple, a K-9 scan was initiated, which produced a positive alert for the presence of the odor of drugs coming from the vehicle. A search of the vehicle revealed a straw that had white powder residue in it. It was field tested positive for cocaine.

On the same day, three hours later, GCSO and members of the GCNTF executed a search and seizure warrant of Marple's place of residence. The search revealed a bag of marijuana, a metal container containing cocaine residue, bags containing cocaine residue, a pipe containing burnt marijuana, digital scales containing cocaine residue, and a mason jar containing marijuana. She was not prosecuted on charges of CDS possession not marijuana and two charges of CDS possession of paraphernalia.

Amber Elaine Bittinger, 21, Oakland, was not prosecuted on a second-degree assault charge, stemming from an incident with another adult in November 2009, where she was allegedly physically abusive to the adult.

State Educator Survey Results Are Released

Governor Martin O'Malley, joined by state and local education officials, principals, and teachers, this past week unveiled the results of the first-ever statewide survey of Maryland educators, an initiative titled "TELL Maryland." The survey was conducted to gather information about school conditions, teacher satisfaction, and opportunities for improvement in the teaching and learning environments throughout the state.

More than 43,000 educators participated in the survey, providing school-level data on more than 1,000 schools throughout Maryland.

"We know the recruitment and retention of quality, dedicated teachers has a direct impact on student achievement," said Governor O'Malley. "These data have the potential for both dramatic and subtle improvements in teaching and learning environments throughout Maryland, each with its own unique impact on student achievement. We honor our educators by listening to them, by including them in the process, and by engaging them so that we may continue to build upon our progress as the number one public school system in America."

The TELL Maryland survey stands for Teaching, Empowering, Leading, and Learning. The survey was a month-long initiative conducted in March of last year, available to all licensed educators in Maryland public schools, including pre-K–12 classroom teachers, vocational-technical educators, and special area teachers. All certified personnel were included in the confidential survey, including guidance counselors, speech and language therapists, occupational therapists, physical therapists, and special education team leaders. School-based administrators including principals and assistant principals were also included in the surveyed audience, with questions relating specifically to qualities such as working conditions, teacher and principal support, school leadership, community support, and professional development.

Data from the survey, including school-level results, are available online at tellmaryland.org.

Preliminary results were shared with schools in May of last year, and teachers and principals have reportedly already begun implementing many of the actions indicated as needed by the survey results.

"While test scores and other achievement data, state and national awards, etc., help to paint one picture of your school, the perception data helps to provide another perspective," said Tom Evans, principal of Eastern School of Technology in Baltimore County. "I would encourage principals to use the TELL Maryland data to begin conversations and to dig a little deeper into how to make their schools even better."

Highlights from the survey results include:

•Educators are generally positive about teaching in Maryland. Three-quarters of survey respondents agree that their school is a good place to work and learn, and four-fifths of teachers indicate they want to remain teaching in their current position. Nine of 10 educators believe the faculty is committed to helping every student learn. Educators were positive about community engagement, facilities, and resources and many aspects of professional development.

•Teacher engagement in decision making was consistently a significant influence on school level student performance. Teacher engagement in decision making exerted roughly the same influence on performance in secondary mathematics as the percentage of teachers working within their licensure area. About six of 10 Maryland educators agree that teachers are integrally involved in decision making and that effective processes exist for making group decisions. However, many educators do not feel empowered in certain areas. For example, educators report that teachers play a small role, or no role at all, in selecting his or her school's new teachers (79 percent), or in deciding how the school budget will be spent (71 percent). Levels of community engagement and perceptions of student conduct/safety were also significant in explaining performance at the elementary school level.

•School leadership was the most important condition affecting teachers' willingness to remain teaching at their school. Teachers who indicated that they plan to remain teaching in their school were twice as likely to agree they work in trusting and supportive environments. Leadership, decision making, professional development, and student conduct were significant in explaining teachers' future employment plans at the elementary level. At the middle school level, student conduct and community engagement were the most significant factors contributing to employment plans. While no single teaching condition was significant at the high school level, teaching condition variables in total explained 20 percent of differences in expected teacher retention rates across Maryland high schools.

•Principals are positive about most aspects of the support they receive from districts. Most principals in the state are positive about the resources they have available, their engagement in district-level decision making, and their professional development. Principals who report more positive leadership conditions are better able to provide teaching and leading conditions for their faculty in key areas. One area where concerns were noted by Maryland principals was that of time. Only half of principals agree that they have sufficient time to provide instructional leadership to their faculty.

According to a spokesperson for the governor, the purpose of the survey is to support sound educational policies and practices based on the views of teachers, principals, and other certified educators in Maryland's public schools. The TELL Maryland survey is supported by a coalition of education organizations, and was administered by the New Teacher Center at the University of California at Santa Cruz, a national organization dedicated to supporting the development of a high-quality teaching force.

In early January, Education Week magazine reaffirmed its ranking of Maryland's public schools as #1 in the nation. In addition, the College Board ranked Maryland's high schools #1 in the nation for Advanced Placement participation and achievement for the second year in a row.

"I have been struggling with my weight all of my life. My doctor had told me that exercise and a healthy diet were the key to controlling your weight. I guess I knew he was right, but I usually looked for the easy fix. Crash diets were not successful and led to binging and failure. I came to work at Curves two years ago. Thank You

My mother, Anna Hartka, passed away on Wednesday, February 17. Please allow me to thank a few people. Goodwill Retirement Community: She was in there since the end of October and was very happy there. Everyone who took care of her and worked with her instantly became her friends. They truly are caring and loving people and I thank them very much for all they did for her. This is a beautiful nursing home and they kept in touch with me all the time she was in the hospital. Northern Rescue Squad: who picked her up around 2am and took her to Garrett Memorial. I worked with Southern Rescue for 20 years so I know the dedication and sacrifice made by all those who unselfishly work for the rescue squads. Thank you for being there. Garrett County Memorial Hospital: From the gentleman who worked the phones that night, the emergency room personnel and particularly Curtis Duff. Their kindness and professionalism truly is appreciated. The third floor staff: Everyone on the nursing staff, the nurse's aides, the respiratory therapists and all who cared for mom were caring and wonderful. They not only took loving care of her, but also did all they could for me as I sat beside her day and night. What kind and considerate people they all are. They were so very gentle with her and they touched my heart deeply. Dr. Donald Richter, Dr. Margaret Kaiser and Dr. Mark Dominick who cared for her and did everything they could to keep her comfortable, and were there when we needed them. David Burdock Funeral Home: Through the beauty of his work he showed us our mom as we remember her, peaceful and beautiful. He and his staff were kind and so very considerate. We thank them for all they did. Julie Hardesty: Not only did she do my mother's hair for years and that one last time, but visited her in the nursing home. She loved you very much, as do I. Patty Battista and the Eucharistic Ministers who brought her Communion at home and in the nursing home. They were always there as she was not visited even one time by our clergyman. The family of Olive Puffenburg: You were all so very kind and took Mom into your family and into your hearts. Our mothers were roommates at the nursing home and now in heaven with our blessed Lord. My brother, my sister and I, along with all of our family members, thank you all so very much for your kindness. I pray for you every day and I thank you for your dedication and caring.

Ask The Everyday Scientist

DRAWING DOWN THE LAKE
by Dr. Tom Sheahen

Q. I read that they plan to lower the level of Deep Creek Lake now, ahead of a big spring runoff. How do they know the right amount to lower it by?

A. The best phrase might be "this isn't rocket science." An exact number isn't necessary or even possible, but reasonable estimates can be made, based on experience over many years in the past.

The underlying issue is that sooner or later most of the snow in our vicinity will flow as water past Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Memphis, and New Orleans. The goal of national planning for flood protection is to make sure it doesn't all get there at once. For the safety of those downstream, we want to shut off some of the upstream rivers at the peak of the spring thawing and runoff season. For the Youghiogheny River, which flows to the Monongahela, the Ohio, and the Mississippi rivers, it can't be completely shut off, but a finite dent can be put in its flow rate by shutting off the dam at Deep Creek Lake. A similar statement applies to hundreds of lakes and rivers on other tributaries, and with good coordination, major spring flooding of the lower Mississippi can be mitigated.

To shut off Deep Creek Lake later on, there has to be some available volume to hold more water, so the lake level must be lowered. Right now – early March – is an opportune time to get rid of water because the major rivers downstream can handle the extra flow now. Water that reaches the Gulf of Mexico in March is water that won't contribute to flooding during May.

The question of "how much" involves estimating, but the estimation procedures are fairly good. Ten inches of snow roughly equates to one inch of water; so a winter with 250" of snow converts to about two feet of water. That applies to every square foot of land in the entire area that drains into Deep Creek Lake. The depth of the lake would probably change by 8 or 10 feet if all that snow melted at once; fortunately, it won't. Even now, melt water is flowing into Deep Creek Lake and filling it up. The tricky part of estimating is to guess when the really major inflow will occur. The best way to get ready is to lower the level of the lake ahead of time.

Some percentage of all that water has already gone downstream, and the volume leaving the hydroelectric plant is known with precision. It is not hard to keep track of all the water released from Deep Creek Lake for the next month or two, and compare that with the known total snowfall. We can be entirely confident that the lake will be "full" once again before Memorial Day.

One minor issue in March is that the ice on the lake is going to move a little. There will not be a hollow zone underneath the ice where water drained away. Out in the center, the ice will continue to float right on top of the water, as the lake level decreases. But close to the shore, where the surface is frozen solid to a depth of a foot or more, the ice will crack and buckle. Expect to hear more noise as it does so. And watch your footing on the rugged blocks of ice.

Later in March, you'll need the same good judgment as in past years to decide when the ice thickness is starting to diminish and it's no longer safe.

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On March 17, 461 A.D., Saint Patrick — Christian missionary, bishop and apostle of Ireland — dies in Saul, Downpatrick, Ireland. The first St. Patrick's Day parade, though, took place not in Ireland, but the United States, when Irish soldiers serving in the English military marched through New York City in 1762.

• On March 19, 1842, French writer Honore de Balzac's play "Les Ressources de Quinola" opens to an empty house thanks to a failed publicity stunt. Hoping to create a buzz for the play, the writer circulated a rumor that tickets were sold out. Unfortunately, most of his fans stayed home.

• On March 20, 1920, French automaker Bugatti delivers its first 16-valve car, to a customer in Switzerland. A symbol of wealth and status, Bugatti automobiles were equipped with massive racing engines. The renowned American dancer Isadora Duncan was driving in a 16-valve Bugatti when her trademark long scarf caught in the rear wheel of the vehicle, and she was instantly strangled to death.

• On March 18, 1937, nearly 300 students in the east Texas town of New London are killed when a natural gas explosion levels their school. The school sat in the middle of a large oil and natural gas field dominated by 10,000 oil derricks.

• On March 15, 1954, the Chords record "Sh-Boom" and kick off a new era of "doo-wop" music. Doo-wop hits included "Earth Angel" by the Penguins, "In the Still of the Night" by the Five Satins and "Book of Love" by the Monotones.

• On March 21, 1963, Alcatraz Prison in San Francisco Bay closes down and transfers its last prisoners. At its peak in 1950s, "The Rock" housed more than 200 inmates at the maximum-security facility. Alcatraz remains an icon of American prisons for its harsh conditions and record for being inescapable.

• On March 16, 1977, author Alex Haley files suit against Doubleday, publisher of "Roots," for not promoting the book and failing to land a competitive paperback contract. "Roots" was made into a television miniseries, which attracted some 100 million viewers when it aired in January 1977.

Q. I have a Kodak No. 1-A Folding Pocket Camera that was sold by Kodak in 1915. Is there a way to determine its present value? — Georgetta, Albuquerque, N.M.

A. The Eastman Kodak company originally introduced its No. 1-A Folding Pocket Camera in 1899. After a design change in 1905, it continued to be manufactured until about 1915. It was an extremely popular camera and took fairly good pictures.

To find out its approximate value I checked eBay and discovered the same model as your camera being offered for sale with a minimum bid of $99. There were no bidders. I next checked with an advanced camera collector, who told me that the No. 1-A Folding Pocket Cameras manufactured during the teens generally sell in the $35 to $65 range in good to excellent condition.

No 'Lie': Tim Roth's Fox series will be back

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

Q: I was wondering what happened to the series "Lie to Me." –Karen Dreiling, Denver

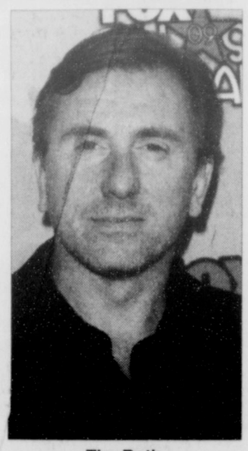
A: It'll be back, but maybe not until the end of the current television season. The Fox schedule became so packed between such winter returnees as "American Idol" and "24" and new shows including "Human Target" and the now-canceled "Past Life," the network decided to give the Tim Roth-Kelli Williams drama a rest. "Lie to Me" has yet to complete its full second season, and Fox expects to give it that opportunity in late spring or early summer.

Q: Is the movie "High Road to China" ever going to be released on DVD? – Rick Spray, Columbus, Ohio

A: As we like to say, "ever" is a very long time, and we only deal with the present and immediately foreseeable future. Any versions of the Tom Selleck-Bess Armstrong adventure advertised in America either are foreign versions (from Sweden, for instance) or "bootleg" copies.

Warner Home Video has the rights to the movie in the U.S., and as of this writing, no plans had been announced for its DVD release. There might be a better chance for it, now that the company has its "Warner Archive" initiative that lets consumers order certain titles directly from the studio – but that hasn't been announced for this movie yet either.

Q: I am interested in knowing if "The Mod Squad" will be released in a complete set instead of installments like it is now.



Tim Roth

–Sheila Sapp, Louisville, Tenn.

A: That's difficult to predict. Often, it depends on how well the individual seasons sold, which gives the company a read on whether it's worth putting the additional expense into a complete series set. Paramount Home Video – which has the "Mod Squad" rights – has done that before with such shows as "The Brady Bunch" and "The Wild, Wild West," but it likely will take getting to the completion of the individual "Mod Squad" sets to know. On DVD, that show is only through season two of its five-season run (with two separate sets per season), so it'll still be a while.

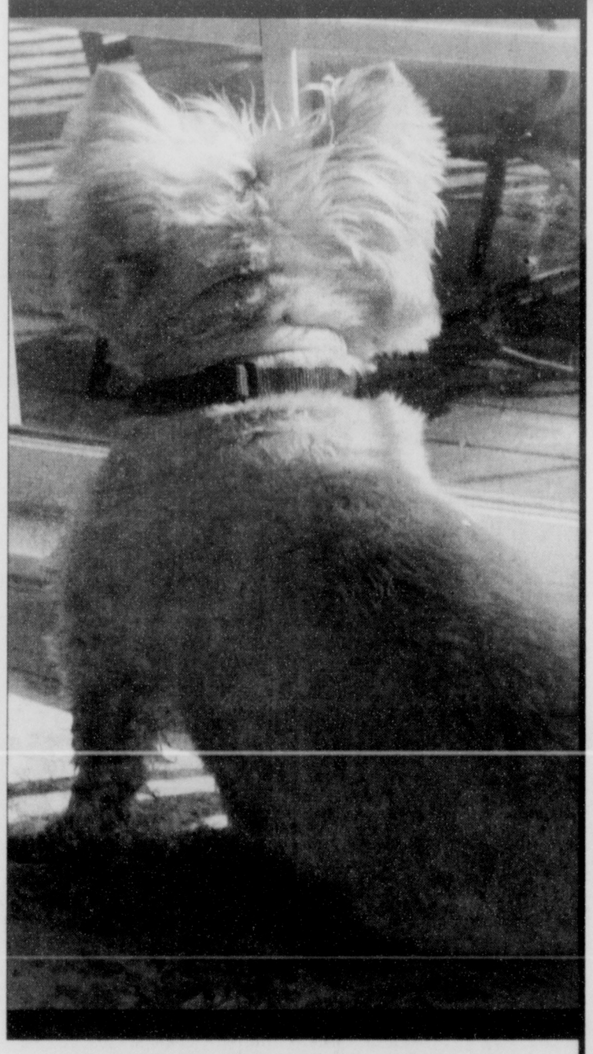
Never Alone



At times, we all feel alone. Perhaps we experience the loss of a close friend or relative; or we feel like nobody understands us. A serious illness or difficult life circumstances can isolate us from our healthy, "normal" peers.

There is, however, a fortress of support that can surround our soul. That support comes from our Heavenly Father, who is always with us and can give us a sense of companionship even in our loneliest times.

Don't you want to possess the peace and love that comes from faith in God? 1 Corinthians 14:33 assures us, "For God is not a God of disorder, but of peace." Won't you seek His companionship at your house of worship this week? The protection of His peace and love will surround you.

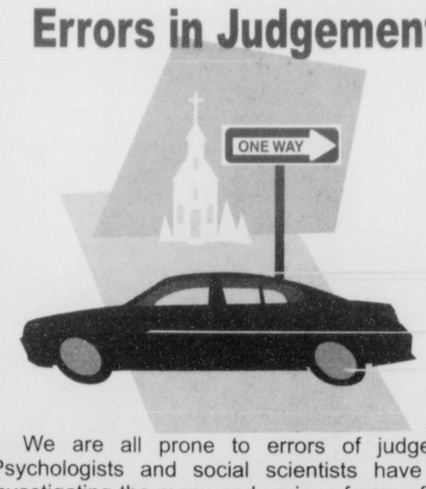
Treatment for Strep Throat Infections

Strep throat is an infection of the throat that is caused by the bacteria Streptococcus pyogenes. Signs and symptoms include difficulty swallowing, swollen glands, headache, fever, and stomachache. The condition is contagious, and can be transmitted through coughing or sneezing. If not treated, the condition may lead to other conditions, such as an ear infection, sinus infection, or tonsillitis. Although many sore throats are caused by viruses and cannot be treated with antibiotics, a diagnosis of bacterial strep throat should be treated with antibiotics.

Oral antibiotics are usually prescribed by a doctor after a diagnosis of strep throat has been made. Penicillin, amoxicillin, azithromycin or clarithromycin may be prescribed. Cephalexin is a cephalosporin type antibiotic that also may be prescribed. Pain relieving medications may also be used, including ibuprofen or acetaminophen for pain in the throat and fever reduction. A saline nasal spray also may be used to help moisturize nasal passages. Adequate rest and hydration are other non-medication therapies recommended for relief of symptoms. A humidifier also may be useful for relief of cough and nasal congestion.

Errors in Judgement



We are all prone to errors of judgement. Psychologists and social scientists have been investigating the many and various forms of these errors for decades. Some of these are virtually built into the very structure of our psyches. Almost everyone has a self-serving bias. For instance, we simply cannot understand how others could think and feel the way they do when it differs so radically from our own ways of thinking and feeling. At different times in our lives we are prone to particular errors of judgement. Prior to our brains being fully developed, which doesn't occur until the mid-twenties, we are not very good at risk assessment and more likely to be impulsive. Witness the high rate of car crashes among teenagers. At the other end of the age spectrum, older adults often place too much trust in their experience and thus they may fall prey to overconfidence in their judgements. The fact is, errors of judgement are a pervasive fact of life, and we would all do well to leaven our thinking with a moderate dose of humility. We have been wrong in the past and surely we will be wrong in the future, so we should not be too sure that we are not wrong now.

Do you see a man wise in his own eyes?
There is more hope for a fool than for him.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

AMENDMENTS TO THE GARRETT COUNTY WATER AND SEWERAGE MASTER PLAN
Overlook Ridge at Deep Creek Lake Condominium Subdivision
Thayerville Public Water System
Mountain Lake Water System Improvements

Notice is hereby given that the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, will hold a public hearing on Tuesday, March 30, 2010, at 9:30 a.m., in Room 209 at the Garrett County Courthouse located at 203 South Fourth Street, Oakland, Maryland, to consider amendments to the Garrett County Water and Sewerage Master Plan. Summaries of the proposed amendments are as follows:

Overlook Ridge at Deep Creek Lake Condominium Subdivision

Pete's Drive, LLC, developer of the Overlook Ridge at Deep Creek Lake Condominium Subdivision has proposed construction of a private water system to serve dwellings within the development. The property is located on Parcel 148 as referenced on Map 50 of the Maryland Department of Planning's property mapping system and on Map 58, Parcel 753 in the Thayerville area of Deep Creek Lake. The proposed development, upon completion of all phases, will consist of 36 residential dwelling units. The proposed water system will consist of two wells, treatment facility, distribution system and appurtenances. The total estimated daily withdrawal at full build-out is 9,450 gallons per day. The development is located within the Deep Creek Lake Sewer Sanitary District and sewage treatment will be provided by the Deep Creek Lake Wastewater Treatment Plant.

Thayerville Public Water System

In September 2005, the Board of Garrett County Commissioners received a petition from residents in the Mountainside and Thayerville areas requesting that the County obtain an engineering survey describing the feasibility and probable costs of providing public water service to the area. The engineering study, completed in April 2009, recommends construction of a public water system to include an adequate water source, treatment facility, booster system, storage tanks, pressure equalization, and a distribution system and appurtenances including fire protection.

Following a public hearing held on June 23, 2009, the Board of County Commissioners created the Thayerville Water Service Area upon determining that the proposed service area was necessary for the existing and future health, safety and welfare of the public in general and feasible financially and from an engineering standpoint. In January, 2010, the Board awarded an engineering contract for design and construction related services for the proposed water system.

Mountain Lake Water System Improvements

The Mountain Lake Water System is owned and operated by the Garrett County Sanitary District and serves the Towns of Mountain Lake Park and Loch Lynn Heights. In August 2003, the Maryland Department of the Environment determined that the primary water source for the system was under the direct influence of surface water therefore requiring an alternate water source or construction of a filtration treatment facility. Development of an alternate water source utilizing wells has been completed and connection of the new source has commenced. The project consists of raw water collection lines from the wells to the water treatment plant, flushing hydrants and sampling stations at each well site, installation of well pumps and appurtenances, extension of 3-phase electric service to each well site, water treatment plant improvements and construction of a new 500,000 gallon concrete water storage tank.

Complete text of the proposed amendments can be obtained from the Garrett County Department of Public Utilities located at 2008 Maryland Highway, Suite 2, Mountain Lake Park, Maryland. Interested persons will be heard at the public hearing on Tuesday, March 30, 2010, in order to determine if incorporation of the proposed amendments will promote public health, safety and welfare in the areas.

Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Interest to be paid on the unpaid purchase money at the note rate from the date of foreclosure auction to the date funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustees. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. Real estate taxes to be adjusted as of the date of foreclosure auction. All other public charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, condo/HOA dues, whether incurred prior to or after the foreclosure auction, and all other costs incident to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. If the purchaser shall fail to comply with the terms of the sale or fails to go to settlement within ten days of ratification of the sale, the Substitute Trustees may, in addition to any other available legal remedies, declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser, in which case the purchaser agrees to pay attorneys' fees of $1,250.00, plus costs, to the Trustees. The purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. If the Substitute Trustees cannot convey insurable title, the purchaser's sole remedy at law or in equity shall be the return of the deposit. The sale is subject to post-sale confirmation and audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of his deposit without interest. If Purchaser fails to settle within ten days of ratification, he agrees to pay attorneys' fees in the amount of $750.00, plus costs, if the Trustees have moved to resell the property. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of the sale. If Purchaser defaults under these terms, deposit shall be forfeited. The Trustees may then resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulted purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds resulting from said resale even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulted purchaser. If Trustees are unable to convey either insurable or marketable title, or if the sale is not ratified by the Circuit Court for any reason, the Purchaser's sole remedy, at law or equity, is the return of the deposit without interest. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement to the Seller's attorney for review of the settlement documents and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

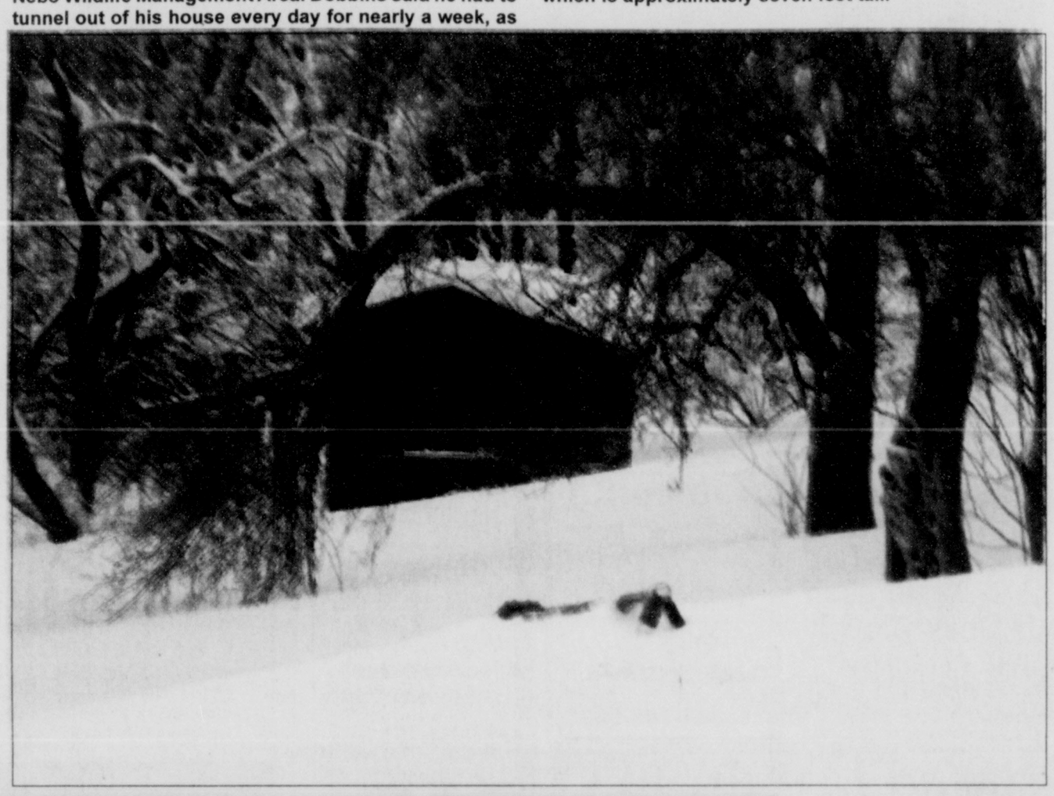
IT IS OBVIOUS from these two photos that Garrett County was positively buried in snow a couple weeks ago following several back-to-back storms, the last of which also featured high winds. In the massive mound of snow pictured above lies the house of Forrest Dobbins, which is located a mile or so just off U.S. Rt. 219 near the Mt. Nebo Wildlife Management Area. Dobbins said he had to tunnel out of his house every day for nearly a week, as the falling snow continued to refill the space in front of his door (barely visible). The snow measured 30 inches above his gutters. Below is a shot of the back yard of Jon Hamilton, located two miles south of Keyser's Ridge along Rt. 219. Taken by Jon's mom Ellie, the photo has in the foreground the tiptop of his children's swing set, which is approximately seven feet tall.



ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Alexis M. Storey, daughter of Marilyn M. Thanos, Oakland, and Timothy J. Storey, Swanton, recently enlisted in the United States Navy under the Delayed Entry Program at the Navy Recruiting District, Pittsburgh, Pa.

This program allows recruits to enter the Navy and take up to one year to complete prior commitments such as high school. Using recruiters as mentors, this program helps recruits ease into the transition from civilian to military life, according to a Navy spokesperson.

Storey will report for active duty to undergo basic training at the Navy's Recruit Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Storey is a 2004 graduate of Southern High School.

Hospice Schedules Volunteer Training Classes In April

Hospice of Garrett County Inc. has scheduled volunteer training classes for Saturdays, April 10, 17, and 24, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Hospice office, 69 Wolf Acres Drive (lower level), Oakland.

"We are in need of patient care volunteers who provide companionship to terminally ill patients and their families," said Brenda Butscher, executive director. "They may be asked to sit with the patient, run errands, or help in various ways."

Hospice also needs more volunteers for bereavement after-care, according to Butscher. The Hospice Bereavement Team stays in touch with the family for one year after the death of a loved one.

"We do mailings, home visits, and maintain a relationship with the family by telephone," Butscher said.

The topics for the first class will be "Overview of Hospice" by Butscher; "Welcome and Introduction" and "Working with the Volunteer Coordinator" by volunteer coordinator Debbie Workman; and "Signs and Symptoms of Death," "Personal Care," "OSHA," "Confidentiality," "Infection Control," "HIPAA," "Patient Privacy," and "Sexual Abuse" by Hospice director of clinical services Cheryl Scheffel.

The second class, "Family Dynamics," will be led by Nancy Elizabeth Nimmich, Hospice social worker. She will also teach "Stress Management" and "Listening Skills." Pastor Randy Richardson, Hospice chaplain, will discuss "Spiritual Aspects," and Lynn Newman, Newman Funeral Homes, will review "Funeral Home Aspects."

At the final session, physical therapist Audrey Kennedy, Garrett Rehab, will teach "Transfer Skills," and Shirley Fitzwater, First United Bank and Trust, will lead "Legal and Financial Planning. " "Grief Counseling Skills" will be taught by Mildred O'Haver, bereavement director, and Cindy Richardson, acting bereavement director.

"Hospice extends an invitation to local residents to become part of the Hospice team and to be a patient care volunteer or bereavement volunteer," Butscher said. "Volunteers will find working with the terminally ill and their families is very rewarding. Keep in mind that doing good for others is doing good for yourself."

To register for the training or to obtain more information, persons may call the Hospice office at 301-334-5151, in the Grantsville area at 800-521-5252, or TTY 800-735-2258.

Real Estate Facts by...

NOW THERE'S NO EXCUSE

It's the best news in real estate since last year's First Time Home Buyers Tax Credit: an estimated $22 billion will pump into our economy as a result of the government not only extending the tax credit, but including current homeowners, too.

The existing $8,000 maximum credit stays in place for first-time buyers. A "first-time" buyer is one who has not owned a home during the three years prior to the purchase. However, repeat buyers who have lived in their home for five of the past eight years may also qualify for up to a $6,500 tax credit on their purchase.

Unlike before, as long as the property is under contract by April 30, 2010, buyers will have an additional 60 days to close by June 30, 2010. The credit applies to single-family homes, condominiums, townhomes and co-ops.

The qualifying income limits have been increased as well, up to $125,000 for individuals and $225,000 for couples filing jointly. If an individual makes up to $145,000 or a couple up to $245,000, the credit can still be claimed, but at a reduced percentage. Any incomes over those amounts won't qualify.

If your tax credit totals more than your tax bill, you'll receive a refund! Approximately 2 million people are expected to take advantage of this buying opportunity, so jump to action before the April 30 deadline. Call your real estate agent today!

If you are thinking of buying or selling a home but feel "out of touch" with real estate, give me a call today.

Commissioners Ask Residents To "Take 10" In 2010

As the 2010 Census draws near, Garrett County government is partnering with the U.S. Census Bureau to encourage everyone to complete and mail back their census forms.

"Participation is important to the future our community," said a county spokesperson.

As a result, the Board of Garrett County Commissioners is issuing a challenge to everyone living in the county to "take 10" and beat the area's mail participation rate from the 2000 Census.

"Taking 10 minutes to complete and mail a census form is the easiest and most efficient method of participate in the 2010 Census," said the spokesperson. "For each census form returned by mail, the Census Bureau saves $60 to $70, or about $85 million for every 1 percent increase in mail participation."

As mandated by the U.S. Constitution, everyone in the United States must be counted in the census. This includes people of all ages, races, and ethnic groups – citizens and noncitizens.

Conducted every 10 years, the census is more than just a population count.

GC Delegation Working Toward Solution On Local OB Situation

Only days after legislative measures that would provide a solution for Garrett County's family practitioners providing obstetrical services failed to receive approval, Sen. George Edwards and Del. Wendell Beitzel have been in talks with the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DHMH), Garrett Memorial Hospital, and various other stakeholders to come to a solution.

"This issue is about equity," Edwards said. "Garrett County is the only county in the state without an OB (obstetrician), and we need help on this issue."

Prompted by the concerns expressed by both Edwards and Beitzel, DHMH Secretary John M. Colmers sent a letter addressed to Edwards.

In it, Colmers stated, "The county relies on the high quality obstetrical care provided by four family practitioners and enjoys some of the state's best birth outcome indicators."

Beitzel noted, "The four family practitioners have taken a unique and uncertain situation and continue to perform admirably. Others would have fled to West Virginia or Pennsylvania, but our doctors show what makes Garrett County such a great place to live."

Colmers continued in his letter by committing to a maternity clinic for women with primary or secondary Maryland Medical Assistance. However, Colmers continued that this solution would require the Garrett County Health Department to "supplement its administrative capacity in order to operate a maternity clinic."

The lasting solution, according to the secretary, is the functioning of a local federally qualified community health center (FQHC). Under this health center, the practitioners would see patients at the FQHC building.

Negotiations are currently under way, but federal approval would be required in order for the project to be fully implemented, Beitzel noted.

"Though this may be a solution on the horizon, both Senator Edwards and I will work hard to ensure that there is no disruption in the services provided to the mothers of Garrett County," the delegate said.

Edwards commented, "We could not have gotten this far without the assistance of a wide range of people from the various departments, but it's not over yet."

Edwards and Beitzel are slated to meet with representatives of the Mountain Laurel Medical Center this week. The center is a newly built FQHC located beside the Garrett County Health Department along Memorial Drive, Oakland.

The building is designed to accommodate a wide range of events, including commercial exhibits, entertainment acts, school and civic related functions, weddings, fundraisers, auctions, and more.

The building includes office space and a commercial kitchen in addition to a platform for performing groups. The facility is projected to accommodate seating for 4,000+ people.

Extreme Makeover Looking For Md. Families, Homes

Ty Pennington and his ABC Extreme Makeover: Home Edition crew have been all across the map and now want to drive their famous bus to Maryland. Producers, therefore, are looking for families to feature on upcoming shows.

"We are looking for the deserving people and inspiring families that America can really root for," said casting supervisor Rebecca Shumsky. "We're looking for those special people who have amazing strength of character and never give up, whether it's keeping their chin up in really tough circumstances or going out of their way to help others."

She added that producers want people whose stories have affected their community or made a big difference in other people's lives.

"There are a lot of people who are heroes to those around them because of the way they inspire others and quietly serve their communities on a daily basis," said Shumsky.

In particular, producers are looking for families whose homes desperately need to be rebuilt.

"We really want to help families whose homes present major problems for the TREKKING ACROSS DEEP CREEK – This herd of deer may be a little confused when the lake is no longer passable on foot (hoof?), which actually may be the case by now. The animals were seen and photographed by Vaughn Miller last Thursday as they made their way across the ice. Deer have had a rough time this winter, struggling to find food under so many feet of snow. But the grasses are beginning to rise up out of the remnants of the white stuff now, as the temperature has been far above freezing for several days, providing the first warm stretch the county has had in more than four months. Spring-like weather is to continue for some days, although there is a chance of snow on Monday. Such is March on the mountaintop.

SOON TO BE A REALITY is the long awaited, much anticipated Trade/Exhibit Hall at the Garrett County Fairgrounds, McHenry. Pictured is an architect's rendering of the finished product. High School FRC Team 1629 Receives Chairman's Award At Regional Event

by Cheryl Gnegy

Garrett County's High School FIRST (For Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology) Robotics Competition (FRC) Team 1629 received top honors at the FIRST Chesapeake Regional Robotics Competition in Baltimore. The event was held recently at the Baltimore Convention Center.

During the three-day event, team members competed with 49 other teams from Maryland, New Jersey, Delaware, Virginia, New Hampshire, New York, North Carolina, and Massachusetts. A total of 25 teams were from Maryland.

Teams were judged in many areas in addition to how well their robot placed during the competition in robot control and design awards, team imagery, spirit, and community impact. Of the awards, Team 1629 received the Chairman's Award, the most prestigious award that FIRST offers in its regional competitions.

In the view of the judges, the team receiving the Chairman's Award is the one that best exemplifies the mission of FIRST, which is to change the way young people regard science and technology, and to inspire an appreciation for the real-life rewards and career opportunities in these fields. The award reinforces the premise that FIRST is more than building a robot or winning a competitive event.

"The team has been working toward the Chairman's Award through its six-year history and is the culmination of all the hard work by past graduates and current members," commented Garrett County school superintendent Dr. Wendell Teets. "Earning the Chairman's Award is quite an accomplishment and is certainly something of which Garrett County as a whole can be very proud."

Garrett County's middle school's FIRST LEGO League (FLL) teams won top spots at the Maryland State FLL Championship in January, and the 4-H sponsored FIRST Tech Challenge (FTC) team won competitions in Maryland and Cincinnati. Teets concluded by expressing his gratitude to the students, teachers, mentors, and business partners for the diligence, support, and hard work.

In addition to winning the Chairman's Award, the team's robot was the sixth seeded one after competing in 11 qualification matches that earned the team the right to compete in elimination rounds, but was eliminated in quarter-final matches.

As a result of receiving the Chairman's Award, Team 1629 earned an invitation to compete at the FIRST Robotics World Championship in Atlanta, Ga., April 15–17. Prior to competing in Atlanta, the team will compete in another regional event in Cleveland next week. To prepare for the upcoming Atlanta trip, the team is planning a Shoe Shining fundraiser at the Board of Education building in Oakland on Friday, April 2, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and offering full-service gas pumping at Hartman's BP in Accident on two Saturday mornings, April 3 and April 10.

The FRC team consists of 19 students from Northern and Southern high schools and is partnered with Beitzel Corporation and Pillar Innovations LLC, Grantsville, as well as Garrett Container Systems, Accident. More about the team can be found at sites.google.com/site/team1629.

ROBOTICS TEAM RECEIVES DONTAION – FIRST Robotics Competition (FRC) Team 1629 advisor Chuck Trautwein recently accepted a donation from Brian and Jake Bramande. The donation is from Wilson Supply Inc. of Cumberland in the amount of $1,000 and will be used for traveling expenses while competing at two regional events, in Baltimore and Cleveland, Ohio, and at the World Championship in Atlanta, Ga., April 15–17. Brian, a senior at Southern High School, and Jake, a junior at SHS, have been members of the team throughout high school, and they are veterans of the FIRST LEGO League, a program geared for middle school students. For more information about FIRST (For Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology) and FIRST programs in Garrett County, persons should visit http://sites.-google.-com/site/team1629.

9th Annual FIRST Buckeye Regional Competition Set

More than 1,500 high school students from Ohio, Florida, Indiana, Maryland, New York, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin will compete in the ninth annual FIRST Buckeye Regional Robotics Competition for regional awards and an opportunity to advance to the FIRST (For Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology) Championship competition.

This years event runs Thursday through Saturday, March 25–27, from 9 am. to 5 p.m. at Cleveland State University's Woistein Center. Thursday is a designated practice day with qualifying rounds taking place all day Friday and Saturday morning. Final rounds will begin Saturday afternoon. Admission is free and open to the public throughout the competition.

FIRST combines extreme sports with engineering and technology to inspire young people's interest and participation in science, technology and engineering. The competition challenges high school students, while working with professional mentors, to design and build a competitive robot that measure the effectiveness of each robot, the power of collaboration, and the determination of students.

This year, 60 teams will face off in a new robotics game called "Breakaway," which includes two groups of three teams competing on a 27 ft. x 54 ft. field with bumps, attempting to earn points by collecting soccer balls in goals. Additional bonus points will be earned for each robot suspended in air and not touching the field at the end of the match. For a complete listing of the 60 teams, persons should visit www.oai.org/firstbuckeye/teams.htrn.

Since mid-January, student teams, along with their teachers and mentors, have worked with an identical kit of parts, but no instructions, to design, build, program, and test their robots to meet this season's engineering challenge.

"Participating in the competition gives students a glimpse of what engineering is all about and provides them the opportunity to gain experience in teamwork, time management, and problem solving," said a spokesperson.

The Buckeye Regional is sponsored by NASA's Glenn Research Center along with corporations and academic and nonprofit organizations throughout Ohio. It is one of 43 regional competitions across the United States, Canada, and Israel that lead up to the 2010 FIRST Championship at the Georgia Dome in Atlanta, April 15–17.

FIRST is a nonprofit organization founded in 1989 by inventor and entrepreneur Dean Kamen to inspire an appreciation of science and technology in young people, their schools, and communities. Based in Manchester, N.H., FIRST designs accessible, innovative programs to build self-confidence, knowledge, and life skills while motivating young people to pursue opportunities in science, technology, and engineering.

NASA's support of FIRST is one way the agency is engaging students in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics, which are disciplines critical to NASA's space exploration missions.

Friend, Harman, Herman To Be Inducted Into Women's Hall Of Fame

Debra E. Friend

Three women will be inducted into the Garrett County Women's Hall of Fame on Saturday, March 27. The Garrett County Commission for Women will host the ceremony to honor the following: Debra E. Friend, Gail N. Herman, and the late Helen L. Harman.

The induction will take place at the commission's annual Hall of Fame breakfast, to be held at Will O' the Wisp. Registration for the event will begin at 9:30 a.m., with the breakfast following at 10 a.m. For more information or to register, persons should contact Beverly Beard at 301-334-5987.

Debra E. Friend, Ph.D., is a lifelong resident of Garrett County. She earned a doctorate in administration and supervision, and she works in the speech pathology field and is a local entrepreneur. She owns Peak Rehab Clinic Inc., and is also the owner and operator of Stompers shoe store in Mtn. Lake Park.

Currently, Dr. Friend is the director for the League for Crippled Children in Cumberland, where she assists children of all ages. She is also the "Big Chief" of the Maryland 4-H All-Star Chapter. Friend is the first woman president of the Garrett County Fair Board. She has been acting president of the 24-member board for the last four years, and a member of the board for the past 10 years.

"It would be difficult to find many in Garrett County that have not been touched in some way by Dr. Friend's efforts," wrote Debra Barnard in her recommendation for Friend. "Any county resident who attends our county fair and wishes to see it maintained as one of the few agricultural based fairs left in the state has been touched by Debbie."

Helen L. Harman is being honored posthumously for her work in Garrett County. She lived in the area for 54 years until her death in July 2000. She was active in the county as a 4-H leader and volunteer for 40 years, a Sunday school teacher at the Zion Lutheran Church for 30 years, and a school cafeteria manager for 27 years.

As a cafeteria manager, she gave students opportunities to volunteer and build their job skills, a spokesperson said. At the Zion Lutheran Church where she was a Sunday school teacher, she also volunteered for the church's Vacation Bible School each summer.

Helen L. Harman

Gail N. Herman

With 4-H, Harman served in many roles. She was the leader of the North Star 4-H Club, teaching workshops and one-on-one sessions to interested students, and was on hand at the 4-H building at the Garrett County Fair every August for over 30 years.

"She was there to encourage, support, and congratulate each one of her students as they showed and competed," a spokesperson said.

Harman was a community service advocate. She was a volunteer for the March of Dimes in raising money and awareness, and she served on the Ruth Enlow Library board of trustees. She assisted in breaking ground for the Accident branch of the library in 1996. She was also a member of the Accident Community Housing Cooperative board of directors, which focused on senior housing.

Harman was a member of the Accident Cultural and Historical Society and the Garrett County Business and Professional Women's Club, which helped to implement the Young Career Woman program.

Reverend Dr. Wilfred L. Karsten nominated Harman for this honor.

"As I think of her now, I picture her sitting at a table surrounded by students working on a craft or lesson, with glasses precariously perched on the end of her nose and a smile on her face as broad as the panoramic vista of the Cove Overlook, from which one could see her home," Karsten wrote. "Helen was in her element when she was surrounded by youth."

Gail N. Herman, Ph.D. has been a resident of Garrett County for more than 24 years. She received her doctorate degree in curriculum and instruction, talent development, and evaluation from the University of Connecticut.

Currently, Dr. Herman works as an adjunct faculty member in the education department at Garrett College, teaching education classes focused on childhood education and the art of storytelling and dance, as well as assisting international students attending the school. Herman has been working with international students for 10 years and has assisted them in their travels to Garrett County. For some she has provided a place to stay.

According to one of her nominators, Virginia M. Grove, Herman has "worked actively and enthusiastically in bringing students to the college. She took an active role in 'parenting' each of these students for many years. These acts of love and dedication demonstrate Gail's contribution to society and the promotion of cultural diversity in Garrett County."

Herman is active in the Garrett County community as a member of several organizations, such as the American Association of University Women (AAUW), the Association for the Education of Gifted Underachieving Students, and the Garrett Reading Association.

As a member of the AAUW, she has founded and sponsored the Autumn Glory Tall Tale Festival, which has been held each year since 1991, headed up by Herman. She has been a member of the GFWC Civic Club of Oakland since 1986 and is the acting education chairperson.

"Through her various publications, awards, and presentations, Dr. Herman is known throughout Garrett County for her passion for storytelling and dance and her enthusiastic willingness to share it with all the adults and children in the area," a spokesperson said.

Tickets to the Hall of Fame breakfast are $16 for adults and $8 for children under 12.

The Garrett County Commission for Women is always seeking recommendations of outstanding women for induction into the Garrett County Women's Hall of Fame, the spokesperson noted. Nominees should be women who have made outstanding contributions to Garrett County and are role models for tomorrow's female leaders.

The commission is asking for nominations for the 2011 induction, and all area organizations or individuals are invited to do so. All questions about criteria and nominations can be submitted to: the Garrett County Commission for Women, c/o Garrett County Commissioners, 203 South Fourth Street Room 207, Oakland, Maryland 21550.

Under the guidance of the Garrett County Commission for Women, a selection committee representing a cross-section of citizens of the county reviews the nominations and makes recommendations to the commission. After final review and approval, the commission announces the inductees and the honored women are recognized for their contributions during a ceremony held each spring.

Man Charged By GCSO Following Traffic Stop

A Swanton man was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol after a traffic stop was initiated by Garrett County sheriff's deputies.

The stop was conducted on Edgewood Drive near the intersection of Maryland Highway. Todd Allen Tasker, 28, was identified as the driver. Further investigation led to his arrest, and he was taken to the Garrett County Sheriff's Office.

He is charged with driving on a suspended license, driving on a revoked license, DUI, DUI per se, and driving while impaired. He was released on personal recognizance.

Garrett Memorial Honors Wakefield On Dietitian Day

Garrett County Memorial Hospital recognized Wendy Wakefield last Wednesday on Registered Dietitian Day, March 10. Wakefield has been the hospital's consulting registered dietitian for the past seven years.

Prior to that time, she was the director of dietary service for GCMH for 25 years, making her tenure at the hospital 32 years total.

In addition to working with GCMH, Wakefield provides dietary consults at Dennett Road Manor and the Goodwill Retirement Community. She also approves the Garrett County Head Start and Garrett County Jail menus.

"I chose this career because I already had a degree in education and I thought that becoming a registered dietitian would be something that I would enjoy doing," stated Wakefield.

Registered Dietitian Day was created by the American Dietetic Association to increase the awareness of registered dietitians as the key providers of food and nutrition services and to recognize them for their commitment to helping people enjoy healthy lives.

"Take 10"

"The 2010 Census will present a new portrait of America, showing us how our nation has changed in the past decade, and helping to determine what our communities need for the next 10 years," the spokesperson said.

Census data provide numerous benefits to the people of this nation and the places we live. For example:

•Census data are used to reapportion seats in Congress and ensure proper district representation in state and local governments.

•Every year, the federal government distributes more than $400 billion to tribal, state, and local governments based on census data.

•Information from the census helps determine locations for childcare and senior centers, new roads, hospitals, schools, and community centers.

"These and many other benefits are possible with an accurate count in 2010," said the spokesperson. "Participation in the census is one of the best ways the people of Garrett County can contribute to society and make a lasting difference."

A Double Whammy...

Public schools all over the nation are in trouble, and while many schools systems are in much worse shape than Garrett County's, we are nonetheless facing some significantly difficult challenges over the next several years.

Our schools, and many others, are facing a double whammy – dropping student populations and shrinking financial resources. Garrett County's student numbers have been on the decline for at least the past five years, and there is currently no end of that downward slide in sight. Meanwhile, the current economic conditions of our state and nation are making it more and more difficult to meet the high cost of high-quality public education. At the same time, the expectations of our public educators continue to rise. Higher and higher standards are mandated by elected officials, but less and less money is being provided to meet them. Plus our schools are expected to not only better educate our children, but also to "fix" the myriad of social and behavior problems that are not being properly addressed where they should be – in the home.

Cutbacks are now under way in Garrett County, as teachers will see no raises or step increases in their salaries for the 2010-11 school year, and as the cutting of positions has already begun. A non-tenured music teacher has lost her job, and there will likely be others who will meet a similar fate, as attrition through retirements will likely not cover the necessary number of cuts. (How sad it is that, per usual, the arts are always the first to get hacked, despite the vast research proving that the study of music and other arts greatly enhances performance in math and the sciences.)

Another means of saving money that is currently under consideration by Garrett County school officials – undoubtedly one of the most controversial – is the closing of some of our elementary schools. As bitter a pill as this may be for the residents of our smaller communities to swallow, it seems almost inevitable that this will be among the hard choices that must be made in the near future. The elementary school is the very heart of some of our small towns, but from a strictly economic viewpoint, there is sound reasoning for closing at least a couple of them. The students and staff can be easily absorbed by our larger elementary schools, which are also experiencing a steady decline in student population.

Maryland's schools are among the very best in the nation, and the Garrett County system is consistently one of the best in Maryland. But without some relatively drastic moves within the next year or two, there is simply no way we will be able to continue that level of excellence.

Letters to the Editor

Writers of letters to the editor are reminded that letters will not be published if they exceed 400 words, do not include contact information, and/or are deemed to be libelous.

To the Editor:

I just forwarded you a health care reform article from Newsweek.com by Robert Samuelson. He tells it like it is. Health care reform is a lie.

Also, I just read another article earlier today stating that Social Security will, for the first time, spend more than it takes in this year. It will go downhill from there, bankrupting itself in about 2037.

We now work from January until June, or later, each year just to pay our taxes. Just for fun, sit down and list all the taxes and fees that you pay to town, state, and federal governments. It will be an eye-opener.

I could point fingers at one political party, but really both parties share equally in the harm being done. It is all happening because politicians are allowed to rerun for numerous terms in office. They should be limited to two terms per lifetime so that they will be more likely to do what is right for the country rather than what furthers their political careers. Career politicians tell people what they want to hear until elected and then do just about what they feel like. Our only hope is, starting this year, throw all of them out of office and elect new representatives who will impose term limits and act in our interests.

Lastly, I received my 2010 Census form today. When you receive yours, read what it says in the block on the front of the envelope.

John Williams
Oakland

To the Editor:

Official 2010 United States Census forms have begun arriving in Garrett County households. These 2010 Census documents are used to gather critical data that provide all levels of government with important information to help determine a number of important allocation issues.

These allocation issues include: (1) the number of representatives each state has in Congress; (2) the amount of government money returned to states, counties, and neighborhoods; (3) the level of supplemental funds available to support services for children and the elderly; and (4) the availability of funding to support infrastructure development such as roads and other specific state and local needs.

The latest census forms have been simplified to facilitate their completion. All answers will be kept confidential and will be used in the aggregate to profile a variety of demographic factors. The information that each household provides can be used only for statistical purposes and not for identifying any particular person or specific household. Federal law protects each household and person's privacy. The answers given to the Census Bureau cannot be obtained by law enforcement or tax collection agencies; they cannot be used in a court of law; and, they cannot be obtained with a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request.

Given the present state of the economy and the depth of the current recession, it is important that each Garrett County household complete the census form in a timely manner and return it via the postage-paid envelope provided to the Census Collection site in Essex. Your household information is essential to ensure that Garrett County receives its fair share of federal funding.

I implore every household in Garrett County to complete its 2010 Census form so that we can obtain a complete census count – a count that has direct financial consequences for our county and it municipalities.

The success of the 2010 Census is indeed in the hands of every local household. Let's work together for a 100% return of all 2010 United States Census forms in Garrett County.

Thank you for your assistance in this important civic endeavor.

Sincerely,
Donald D. Forrester
Chairman
Garrett Co. 2010 Complete Census Committee

To the Editor:

Last June I wrote a letter to the editor explaining that unless there is tort reform in the pending health care bill, the inevitable result will be rationing. There isn't going to be any tort reform in the bill now before the national Congress. Is rationing on the way? You betcha! Already in early 2010, per the circumstances laid out so clearly in your editorial of March 11, exactly that condition has come to Garrett County.

The enormous influence of the trial lawyers at the state legislature in Annapolis resulted in the defeat of a bill that would have provided the necessary financial relief to permit women to have their babies in Garrett County. As stressed by your italics, the reason for the defeat was because there would be a cap on damages awarded in court (implying, of course, lower lawyers' fees). That small inroad in the direction of tort reform was enough to vanquish the bill. The lawyers want to preserve their privileges and their lucrative industry; considerations of who gets hurt and why are "off the table" to them.

So now Garrett County citizens face this constraint: If you want obstetrical care and delivery of a baby, drive 50 miles to Morgantown or Cumberland. This is rationing, of a very strict, inconvenient, and dangerous form, as your editorial points out.

That is exactly what happens when lawyers get to dictate the structure of health care. What other variety of medicine will be next to be rationed? Or will Americans finally rise up and demand tort reform, the necessary prerequisite to avoid rationing?

To the Editor:

The Obama administration and the Democratic side of Congress simply do not get it. The greatest need in America is to create jobs. In the setting of over 8 million Americans out of work and many Americans underemployed, Congress and the Obama administration continue to kill job creation. The debate now going forward for an up/down healthcare vote in Congress is a disaster for small businesses.

The National Federation of Independent Business has researched Congressional House Bill number 3590 as the house bill is presently written, and reports:

The new federal insurance tax will result in each family insurance premium going up at least $500 per year. Most businesses share the cost of medical insurance – This will mean that in addition to the yearly rise in medical insurance premiums, businesses and individuals will pay at least $42 per person employed.

Any firm with more than five employees and a payroll over $250,000 will be required to provide health insurance to all employees. Great goal to provide medical insurance, but in these days and time, who will lose their job to pay for the other four so the four can have health insurance?

Every medical transaction over $600 will now have to be reported to the federal government. My last doctor visit and the two follow-up medical tests for routine need-to-know will require my company's human resources to file a report with the federal government. Surely all of these spurious new and enlarged reports to the federal bureaucracy will help businesses to control costs?

Health insurance coverage will be forced on businesses for part-time employees. This expanded federal employment entitlement, coupled with the state of Maryland soon-to-require unemployment taxes on part-time workers, will result in significantly fewer part-time workers being hired.

Contact politicians and the White House to make your feelings known that job creation is the number one priority, and federal solutions, such as House Bill #3590 that will cause small businesses to lay additional workers off, is not welcome!

Respectfully yours,
Gary Ruddell

To the Editor:

I have a suggestion for Mr. Thomas regarding his recent letter lambasting Fox News: Change the channel. After locating a channel to your liking, I'm guessing MSNBC, return to your seat and immerse yourself in that alternative universe called fiction. There you can overdose on all the spin, misinformation, distortion, misreporting, non-reporting, and vehemence to your liking. If they are not in a spittle-raging frenzy over conservatives or conservative ideals, they are in a fawning, awe-struck genuflecting state of euphoria whenever Obama is mentioned.

The targets of their deep-seated hatred not only include Republican and conservative politicians, but private citizens as well. Joe the plumber and the Tea Party folks come to mind. Instead of bashing in your TV, I'm sure that after watching a day's line-up of MSNBC, the urge to lovingly caress your TV might just be difficult to overcome.

"Blonde bimbos," Mr. Thomas? Perhaps you shouldn't have gone there, but the comment certainly fits the mold – Don't agree with what someone says and then resort to name-calling, a preferred practice of the left. Have you ever researched these women and looked at their qualifications? I think not. Provocative clothing aside, they do offer insightful political analysis and intelligent, considered opinion. The trick is to actually focus on what these women are saying and, difficult as it may be, not let your focus stray onto hair color or fashion choices.

"We do need to live up to our own expectations," Mr. Thomas? Strange comment coming from someone who apparently champions the socialist leanings of the left. But of course, "our own expectations" amounts to expectations of receiving increasing taxpayer-funded government handouts.

To the Editor:

Thanks, Bill Thomas. Your comments about Fox News ring true – really weird entertainment. But, I say McCain/Palin would have done better. After all, Roger Ailes runs Fox for the very purpose of warring against the Democrats. Let the country be destroyed for all they care, as long as they win that war. Why else would Fox News beat the fear drum endlessly?

Yes, where was Fox when President Bush was being led around the White House by Cheney and Rove, and our country was going down the tubes? And I want to know where were the tea party complainers then. Bush cut taxes and promised jobs would result – didn't happen. Bush funded wars and drugs for seniors without funding. Enron rose and fell, but only after its lessons of gambling and greed were learned by Wall Street. The list of complaints by Fox and Tea people matches easily what the Republicans brought us, while schools, health, and infrastructure went begging.

The Obama administration has turned much around, but with no real credit from the media. Doesn't anyone care about the history of the last eight years – or any civics? Isn't it time to build America back with constructive projects for a change?

And, I can't forget that Fox News has Glenn Beck and his foolish but destructive rants. Now he is accusing Jesus of being aligned with Communism and Nazism – Oh, I know that is a bit of a stretch, but it's just me being a bit foolish, too.

But, Beck has aligned churches who work/call for social and economic justice in just that way. And, as we know, Jesus was well known for his great work in the areas of social and economic justice. His actions, as reported in the Bible, show them to be central to his moral teachings. Who would have thought that people would use fear and distortion to give community service a bad name after having Jesus as a teacher and "Way Shower" for the cause of looking after the least of his people?

By the way, Fox News, the government is not trying to take everything over. They simply are the buyer of last resort as the rest of us are maxed out. We'd best not cheat on our taxes this year – our government needs money; it's maxed out, too.

God help us.

To the Editor:

March is Social Work Month, and I'd like to tell you more about how Allegany and Garrett County social workers are providing a wide range of supports and services for local families of all sizes and descriptions.

In today's society, family does not always mean the traditional model of married parents with biological offspring. In fact, less than half of America's children live in a traditional "nuclear" family. Divorced, separated, or unmarried parents who have individual or shared responsibility for children now factor into the family definition. So do grandparents caring for grandchildren, gay and lesbian couples with child responsibilities, and adoptive and foster parents. All these American family types come with special strengths, needs, and challenges.

Social workers define "family" as two or more people who assume obligations and responsibilities generally conducive to family life. As such, all families deserve support systems that include access to economic resources, health care, employment, education, housing, and social services.

Poverty, homelessness, drug and alcohol addiction, abuse, and neglect are key factors for families splitting apart. Social workers are equipped to help families cope with stresses of life and deal with problems associated with these situations. They work through support systems, counseling, coordinating resources, and advocating for clients.

Supporting families involves many functions, including:

•Counseling families to find working solutions to problems;

•Placing abused children in nurturing homes;

•Helping to find employment and housing for homeless families;

•Helping pregnant women, adoptive parents, and adopted children through states' adoption systems;

see dirt moving on this project," stated Dr. Debra Friend, president of the Garrett County Fair board of directors. "The building will be a great addition to the facilities on the fairgrounds. It will add significantly to the fair itself, in addition to making the grounds more conducive to other types of events that will benefit the community in many ways."

Commissioner Ernie Gregg, chairman of the board of county commissioners, added that the county is "very excited and pleased" that construction is beginning on the exhibit hall project.

"This facility and the associated infrastructure improvements will allow for greater utilization of the fairgrounds and increased economic benefits," he said. "We look forward to the many events and venues that will take place at the facility."

Funding for the building is provided by the Appalachian Regional Commission and Maryland Department of Business and Economic Development, with administrative oversight by the USDA, Rural Development Administration. Garrett County is also providing substantial funding for the building, along with parking and storm water management improvements.

Adorable Adoptables

RUFUS, THE LAIDBACK HOUND, is still at the Garrett County Animal Shelter awaiting adoption. "He deserves to have a good home," said a Humane Society spokesperson." Pictured at right is a black Lab that was picked up near one of the local Foodland stores last week. "He was wearing a collar, yet his owner hasn't come to claim him," said the spokesperson. "Hopefully he will be adopted by someone who won't tie him out all day, then not care when he runs away." Below is Buster, a 6-year-old tabby with white markings that was given up by his owner. "The shelter has plenty of dogs and cats to meet and greet," the spokesperson continued. "HART was able to alleviate some of the crowding by taking some of the dogs and cats out to rescues this weekend. Spring is upon us, so that means that your pets are more likely now to be out and about. If they are not spayed or neutered, you may end up with a pregnant animal, then a litter of pups or kits that you don't have homes for. So spay or neuter your pet before it is too late!" For more information, persons may call the shelter at 301-334-3553. Located along Oakland Sang Run Road, the facility is open Monday through Friday.

"I have been struggling with my weight all of my life. My doctor had told me that exercise and a healthy diet were the key to controlling your weight. I guess I knew he was right, but I usually looked for the easy fix. Crash diets were not successful and led to binging and failure. I came to work at Curves two years ago. I had never been a member before. I fell in love with the ease and flow of the circuit – the fact that the routine and machines are set up for you and you can work at your own pace. Plus they offer a nutrition and diet program that is easy to follow. You get out of it what you put in, and the support of the members and other staff have helped to keep me on track. Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

I continue to be shocked and appalled about the continuing misuse of my religion, Christianity. The belief of a few Christians is that being homosexual is a sinful choice. I know far more believe it is an unfavorable accident of birth. Regardless of that, God loves all his children.

Some extreme Baptists from Kansas misused their religion by going to the funeral of a homosexual who died in service to America and bringing signs that said things like, "Thank God for roadside bombs." They are forgetting, "Bless those who mourn because they will be comforted." But this grieving family, instead of being comforted, was assaulted with hate, only to gain publicity for their cause of keeping gays out of the military.

Why do people want to keep gays out of the military? They do not present any kind of threat to the military. Many nations welcome them in their service, and they perform a valuable service.

It's hard to tell how many homosexuals served in World War I and World War II, probably even in the Civil War and the rest of America's wars. But I don't believe God the Father looks favorably on the horrible behavior of those protestors, which does not fit into his teaching.

In God we trust? Yes, America did get many blessings from God. But I can trust God without trusting the sins of his extreme followers. These zealots are no different than the extremists of Islam. They also twist their religion in many ways, including practicing terrorist activities as a "Holy War" or Jihad. It is in no way holy, just as this cruel emotional assault of grieving families is nothing but terrorism.

I was moved by an ad for the Salvation Army. It was based on that wonderful hymn "Amazing Grace," which was my father's favorite hymn. The ad featured close-ups of humble people. In the Christmas season, do you just ignore those people standing in the cold holding a bucket and ringing a bell since you are loaded with lovely expensive gifts for your family and you don't have any spare change? I try to drop in at last a few one dollar bills or a five. Of course, I do not have many big presents in my hands.

Anything that can help a lost person become a found one is worth sacrificing a little bit. And finally, the ad said, "Your clothes and goods donations to the Salvation Army help so many people." The volunteers of the Salvation Army do God's work. It is something to think about.

Did you ever just hand over 10 or 20 dollars to someone because they looked like they needed it? I've done that many times. I'm not bragging, just making the point that it feels good.

Sometimes it comes back in a strange way. Like when we were in Germany and gave a $20 bill to a girl from Australia who we kept bumping into. This time she told us she was out of money.

We weren't broke yet when we arrived in Luxemburg to meet our plane heading for home. But when we arrived at the airport in New York City, we had spent just about every cent of our $10 per day. We were there for 45 days.

We found a little American change, enough that we took the bus into Manhattan where we had an old but very good friend from college days to stay with. And we knew a few other people living in New York City. Even so, it was not clear how we could get back home to Garrett County. I guess we could have borrowed enough cash from good ol' Steve Weinberg to have some money to hitchhike home or call around to find someone to come up to pick us up. We were not in as much of a scary or helpless position as that Aussie girl. But we were not in good shape.

But then God sent us our answer: Among the candy wrappers and cigarette packs on the sidewalk, I noticed something different – a crumbled bill. I thought, "Good, at least we have a dollar or a five." But no, God was much more generous to us. It was a $50 bill! Wow! It was almost enough to buy two bus tickets to Grantsville.

Obviously, we did not have a high-class trip...not on $10 per day. The only way we did it was to just make plenty of friends from all over Europe who warmly invited us to stay with them when we arrived in their country ... and sometimes we slept outside. We took a train only a couple of times. Most times, we hitchhiked, which led to meeting some very nice people.

Maybe the reason we did not have too much trouble getting rides was that many European people were eager to talk to some Americans, especially since it was 1976, a presidential election year. And we elected Jimmy Carter. Hooray!

One person who picked us up was a French woman with henna hair driving a little red sports car, which she drove very fast. She got a couple of tickets from the speed-monitoring cameras in Europe. She said, "Oh, no! I got another one."

We arrived at a friend's from Spain, and the family greeted us even though we looked like two drowned rats with a couple of dirty backpacks and a ton of dirty clothes. But the mother took care of that, plus served the most delicious meals, including a five-course breakfast. They were determined to show us a good time, including taking us on a train trip to the top of the Alps and buying some fancy cigarettes. And they took us to a wonderful sculpture exhibit on the shore of the lake.

But believe me, you don't want to plan a trip to Zurich without a fat roll of bills. It is horribly expensive. Ten dollars a day would not go very far there.

We met several kind people. We were along the Autobahn, and an elderly couple from England driving a Mercedes said, "We don't usually pick up hitchhikers, but you look so nice..."

And then there was a middle-aged businessman in Belgium who went out of his way to let us off at the best place.

There is one bright spot about our relationship with Iran. When three American hikers wound up in Iran by mistake over an unmarked border, they got arrested and detained for superstition of spying. But they were allowed to phone their families. That is the first piece of positive news about them. I can't imagine why they chose the region of Iraq bordering Iran to hike in. It is the last place I would hike.

Denver and Naomi Beitzel stopped in Harrisonburg, Va., to play with their sweet granddaughter. She now can do fun things like play "peek-a-boo." They are on their way to Florida, but they will stop in Alabama so Denver can go turkey hunting.

A couple of people warned that they heard we should have another big snow storm in March. Oh no. I'm hoping that winter is pretty much over. Maybe it will not happen. I do remember a huge snowstorm around the first of April.

It looks like maybe it's not a perfect time to go to Florida, especially in the central or northern parts of the state, because of severe weather with lots of tornadoes.

And of course the rash of earthquakes all over the globe is endless. One hit Turkey and another, Japan.

I am watching Turner Classic Movies, now showing a movie that I heard about from my father. "Buck Pirates" is an old movie dating from early World War II days, starring Abbott and Costello.

Dad said he suffered from a severe injury to his ribs in basic training. While still in pain, he got to go to this movie, and he said he had to leave in the middle because he laughed so hard it caused way too much pain in his ribs.

We are far luckier than lots in the Northeast. Many places had severe flooding and power outages. We don't have high winds. All we got were moderate rain and fog.

But I heard from Cyndi Kolbe that on Saturday she racked up many miles of driving just to find local roads that were not closed because of minor flooding. It is not surprising that Route 495 closed around 11 a.m. The Kolbes were the last to get through. All we had to contribute to flooding was lots of snow melt.

I can see my lane for the first time since early winter. But along the lane are tons of snow in big piles, and our farm's field is still covered. All of that will eventually go into our creek, which is part of the headwaters of the Casselman River – hopefully there and not into my basement.

I heard that the Washington, D.C., area has big problems with flooding. Even worse is southern West Virginia.

Speaking of West Virginia, West Virginia University for the first time has won the Big East Conference Tournament championship. The final game started at 9 p.m. on Saturday evening. When a game starts at 9, I am rarely able to see the ending. But this time, I made it. And it's a good thing, because the game against Georgetown went back and forth for the whole game. It was so close during the last five minutes that it looked like it might go into another overtime.

Madison Square Garden was filled with the sound of "Country Roads, take me home..."

There was little doubt that West Virginia would go to the national tournament, since during the final days of the season they held a steady ranking of sixth place.

The University of Maryland was not as lucky. I couldn't believe my eyes when Georgia Tech, not a powerhouse in the Atlantic Coast Conference, upset Maryland in the semi-final game on Friday evening. But that's what happened, even after the big victory over Duke during the final days of the regular season. It was such a close race for the winners of the ACC regular season championship, with Duke being the winner.

I hate all these time changes. I am so sleepy today, and not just because of the "spring forward." It was because I stayed up past my bedtime to watch the finals of the Big East. I couldn't go to bed without knowing who won that highly anticipated game.

I am pretty tired of hearing so much about how we must hold accountable our teachers, especially if their measure of success is a standardized test. Let's face it, all kinds of kids do not have the same abilities, or have the kind of home atmosphere to perform best. And many teachers try so hard to make up for those deficits. How can we measure that kind of care?

I talked to a fine teacher about these issues. Many teachers are getting tons of complaints about how much homework they are assigning, because many kids have so many extracurricular activities: sport teams, music lessons, driving lessons, etc.

Can you believe it? Police departments across the country are selling the guns that were confiscated after they were used in crimes to unregulated gun dealers. So there is no effort to restrict access to guns for convicted felons and the seriously mental ill.

Obama ran for president to change America and the world for the better. But of course no man, no matter how talented and filled with good will, can make much change, even if it is clearly in the best interest of the people plagued by serious problems.

Everyone is at risk for getting some new illness that qualifies as a pre-existing condition, and everyone is at risk of having their insurance canceled. And all Americans can't count on keeping their present jobs.

Look at the case of my college friend Carl. He was a brilliant student and went to MIT. He had a good job in telecommunications, but he lost it, which was not his fault. He also lost his insurance, which was terrible for him because he suffers from hemophilia, or excessive bleeding.

He was able to find a new job, which was not as well paid, but was better than no job. But what about insurance? He doesn't know yet. I can't see much hope that a new insurance company will cover him.

The present bill in front of Congress is certainly good enough. The only hope for a fair market for health insurance is the presence of a public option, and that doesn't mean paid by government. If you choose that, you must pay for it. And I would guess that millions of Americans would choose the public option, since it is not based on the pursuit of unreasonable profits and spending billions of dollars on lobbies for their customers.

Wednesday evening midweek Lenten services were held this week at St. John's of Meadow Mountain. The series, based on journeying on the way of the cross, will continue next week at Emmanuel Lutheran Church with a service at 6 p.m., and soup and bread following the service. Pastor Randy Richardson invites everyone to attend.

Holy Week services are planned for Maundy Thursday at St. John's, and a Good Friday service will be held at Zion Lutheran Church in Jennings, both at 7 p.m.

The Mutual Ministry team of the Bittinger Parish met Monday evening at the parsonage to work on plans for the parish retreat, which is scheduled for the afternoon of April 25 at Uno's. Another meeting will be held on April 19 to finalize plans.

Emmanuel's choir will practice following church services Sundays, March 21 and March 28, to prepare special music for the Easter Sunday service.

GLAF Hosting Second Bus Trip To See PSO Concert In Morgantown

Stephen Hough
Pianist

Conductor

Garrett Lakes Arts Festival (GLAF) has announced it will sponsor another fundraiser bus trip to the Lyle B. Clay Concert Theatre of West Virginia University, Morgantown, W.Va.

The Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra will be performing there on Saturday, April 10, at 7:30 p.m. The evening's performance is titled "The Human Spirit," and will feature Stephen Hough at the piano, with conductor Yan Pascal Tortelier. The orchestra will present Tchaikovsky's Piano Concerto No. 2, and Symphony No. 5 by Prokofiev.

"While he was living in a government-sponsored refuge for composers in the Soviet Union during World War II, Prokofiev composed this symphony to glorify the human spirit," a spokesperson said. "The ending of this piece will surely bring the audience to its feet."

The cost of the bus trip is $50 per person, which includes both the ticket to the performance and the bus transportation. Tickets may be purchased separately for $38 for those who wish to provide their own transportation.

Persons should call the GLAF office at 301-387-3082 by March 27 to make reservations. The bus will depart from the Garrett College McHenry campus at 5:45 p.m. Persons may call the GLAF office for more information.

Alderson-Broaddus Brass Choir To Give Local Concert

The Alderson-Broaddus College Brass Choir, under the direction of Garrett County native Timothy DeWitt, professor of music at the college, will present a concert at St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Oakland on Monday, March 29, at 7:30 p.m. St. Mark's is located at the corner of Second and Center streets, across from the Ruth Enlow Library.

The Alderson-Broaddus College Brass Choir is an 18-member ensemble which tours the Eastern United States, presenting concerts and ceremonial music for church services and civic events, as well as educational programs for school students.

Under DeWitt's leadership, the brass ensemble and its sub-groups (including the Brass Quintet, Trumpet Ensemble, and Tuba-Euphonium Ensemble) have in recent years appeared at the Washington National Cathedral, at the National Trumpet Competition as semi-finalists in several divisions, as an honor group for state and regional conventions of the Music Educators National Conference, as a featured ensemble of the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival's performance season, and in several concerts in Ontario, Canada.

A 2-week tour of Austria, Hungary, and the Czech Republic highlighted the 2002-2003 academic year, funded in part through the sale of the ensemble's first CD, titled Reflections in Brass. It features the music of Gabrieli, Strauss, Ewald, Ives, Ewazen, and Sousa.

Current and former members of the ensemble have been named finalists and winners in state, regional, and national competitions of the Music Teachers National Association, the Yamaha Young Performing Artists competition, the Kingsville (Texas) International competitions, the Shenandoah Music Festival Concerto competitions, in the WAMSO (Minnesota Orchestra Concerto Competitions), and the National Trumpet Competition during their studies at A-B.

Graduates have gone on into teaching and performance careers, and have performed with such ensembles as the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, the River City Brass Band, the Miami Symphony Orchestra, the United States Navy Atlantic Fleet Bands, the United States Air Force Band of Liberty (Boston), and the United States Marine Bands.

The concert at St. Mark's is open to the public. A free-will offering will be collected. For more information, persons may call the church office at 301-334-2668.

Blackwell Rogers Art Exhibit Open At GC Campus

Garrett College presents an exhibition of paintings by visiting artist Ruth Blackwell Rogers titled "Journey Through An Addiction." The series of paintings includes 22 panels, 65 feet in total length, and was created with mixed media of acrylic, oil pastel, colored pencil, and other collage elements on canvas and paper.

The exhibition is now on display in the large conference room in the Learning Resource Center (formerly the library) during regular college hours, 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m., Monday through Friday, through May 11. A reception for the artist will be held Friday, March 26, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the conference room. The public is invited to attend.

Ruth Blackwell Rogers has lived and painted in Randolph County, W.Va., for over 30 years. She holds a bachelor's degree in studio art from Randolph-Macon Women's College, and a master of fine arts degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

She has exhibited her work in more than three dozen solo shows and numerous group shows in museums, galleries, and conferences in the U.S. and abroad. She has also been a keynote speaker and/or presenter at a dozen art therapy, psychology, and social work conferences worldwide. She has taught English as a Peace Corps volunteer in Korea, and instructed art at the Dana Hall School in Massachusetts. She designed and helped build her studio and passive solar family home in Kerens, W.Va., and has been involved in environmental activism since the early 1990s.

"The 'Journey Through An Addiction' series was inspired by my response to what I felt someone dear to me was going through in the 1990s," said Blackwell Rogers. "This is not her journey per se. It is how I perceived her journey. Or perhaps it is my journey of watching her journey from a distance. I needed to paint the images to assuage my concern for her welfare."

The exhibit at Garrett College is the first public showing of this work.

The Journey series, begun in 1985, follows the pattern of myths, legends, and fairy tales: the story of a quest in which the hero meets difficulties that represent his fears, conquers them, and returns to help others along the way.

The first piece in the series, "Journey I," was inspired by Joseph Campbell's "The Hero With A Thousand Faces." That piece, as well as "Journey II," was rather allegorical in its imagery, Blackwell Rogers says, but "Journey Through a Depression," painted in 1989, depicts a more immediate experience inspired by a close friend's illness. That piece became a videotape with music scored for it.

"Four Worlds So Far: The Hopi Creation Story," 1992, painted on 210 feet of paper mounted as a scroll, became a 45-minute storytelling which the artist and her husband have performed hundreds of times in the U.S. and abroad. It was exhibited recently at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland.

"Primal Journey," 1991, and "Remembering," 2005, were drawn from the artist's journals and from shamanic journeying experiences.

"With all seven Journeys," the artist has said, "I realized we are always proceeding into the unknown, however bravely or timidly, and our pace is quite individual. And I saw the sometimes difficult, sometimes exhilarating journey toward self-discovery never ends, as in she lived happily ever after.' The journey continues. May we all be kind, courageous, and fearless as we continue our journeys."

This exhibition is made possible in part by a grant from the Garrett County Arts Council and the Maryland State Arts Council. For more information, persons may contact the Garrett College Art Department at 301-387-3024 or ron.skidmore@garrettcollege.edu via e-mail.

Camps will be as authentic to 1863 camps as possible, with little or no modern conveniences. Visitors are welcome to tour the campsites on Saturday and Sunday.

It was on April 26, 1863, that a handful of determined Union troops and Rowlesburg townspeople defeated the Confederate Raiders led by General W.E. Jones, handpicked by Robert E. Lee to destroy the B&O Railroad link to the Ohio. The bridges crossing Cheat River and Tray Run in Rowlesburg were critical to both sides because their destruction would halt rail traffic all the way to the Ohio. Jones was defeated at Rowlesburg, although his troops far outnumbered the small band of defenders.

More information about the re-enactment can be found online at http://www.wvra.org.

Arthurdale Proj. Receives $5,000 FOCUS Award

Arthurdale Heritage Inc. (AHI) has received a $5,000 grant through the 2010 FOCUS West Virginia Brownfields program to address barriers to redevelopment of the Arthurdale school buildings.

"The Arthurdale Revitalization Project seeks to conduct a community needs assessment and redevelopment visioning efforts to create a revitalization plan for the Arthurdale school buildings," said Sarah Barnes of AHI.

The Foundation for Overcoming Challenges and Utilizing Strengths (FOCUS) WV Brownfields program funds were awarded to AHI by the West Virginia Brownfields Assistance Centers through funding from the Claude Worthington Benedum Foundation. The program provides financial and technical assistance enabling communities in West Virginia to create a redevelopment vision for brownfield properties of strategic community interest.

The Arthurdale Revitalization Project was one of 11 projects awarded statewide to receive a 2010 FOCUS WV Brownfields grant.

Brownfields are abandoned or underutilized projects that have not been redeveloped because of real or perceived environmental barriers. Examples include former gas stations, glass factories, machine shops, manufacturing and processing facilities, dry cleaners, and mine scarred lands.

"The Arthurdale Revitalization Project provides an initial stepping stone for revitalization efforts in this New Deal community, initiating redevelopment progress and community involvement," noted Sera Zegre, FOCUS WV program manager.

The program was funded through a grant from the Benedum Foundation through the West Virginia University Foundation, a private nonprofit corporation that generates, receives, and administers private gifts for WVU.

Information about the FOCUS WV Brownfields Program can be found at wvbrownfields.com. The Northern WV Brownfields Assistance Center is located at the West Virginia Water Research Institute at WVU's National Research Center for Coal and Energy.

The WV Brownfields Assistance Center at Marshall University is located in the Center for Environmental, Geotechnical, and Applied Sciences.

Lakers Open With Loss To Trojans, Then Drop Three Of Four In S.C.

The opening week of the spring baseball season for the Garrett College Lakers and their coach Eric Hallenbeck has been a tough one, as the Lakers have managed just one victory in their first five games.

After opening their campaign with a 6-4 loss to host Allegany College of Maryland last Thursday, the Lakers headed south for their annual spring break "baseball marathon" in Myrtle Beach, S.C., where they recorded a 15-3 win over Morris College of New Jersey on Sunday, but then dropped games to Mercer (N.J.), 10-0, and Camden (N.J.), 11-9 on Monday, and were nipped by Iowa Central, 6-5, on Tuesday.

In last Thursday's game against Allegany, the Lakers took a slim 4-3 lead into the bottom of the seventh, but that's when the Trojans scored a pair of runs and took the lead for good. They tacked on a single run in the eighth and kept the Lakers scoreless the rest of the way.

Garrett scored all four of its runs in the top of the seventh, with Luis Hernandez driving in two of those runs via a single.

The tying run in the bottom of the seventh was scored on a hit by ACM's Kyle Sanders with two outs, and Kasey Clinton later came home on a passed ball to plate what would be the winning run.

Allegany's A.J. Robinson had a solo homer in the second inning.

The win upped the Trojans' record to 3-1.

In Sunday's contest against Morris, the Lakers capitalized on some key errors by their opponents, while Cam King and Jake Briley drove home five Laker runs with homers.

King's blast for two runs came in the first inning, and Briley's stroked a three-run shot in the fourth.

Garrett had only four hits, with starting pitcher Ryan Krumlauf getting a pair of singles to account for the other two.

Morris pitchers had trouble finding the strike zone, giving up a total of 11 walks, and hitting one player, Dan Warnick, who drew three walks and scored four times.

Krumlauf and relievers Peter Garcia and Colt Browne gave up a total of only three hits.

The Laker bats managed just four hits, including a triple by Will Fisher, in the shutout loss to Mercer on Monday.

Mercer finished with nine hits against four GC pitchers, with Joe Leone rapping a double and a single, and Matt Hill hitting a pair of singles.

Garrett recorded 14 hits against Camden, but it wasn't quite enough, as an eighth-inning rally fell just a couple of runs short.

The score was knotted at 6-6, forcing an extra eighth inning, which is when Camden erupted for five runs. The Lakers got three of them back in the bottom of the frame, but could get no closer.

Camden's eighth featured a two-run homer by Steve Trebelhorn, plus three doubles and a single.

The Lakers loaded the bases with no outs in the bottom of the eighth, and a pair of errors led to three runs.

Clint Whitman hit a double and scored the tying run in the bottom of the seventh. Fisher finished with a double and a single, while Joe Consolo had two hits and one RBI via a sacrifice fly.

Camden finished with 13 hits.

The Lakers also out-hit Iowa Central on Monday, 8-6, in a game that featured four runs scored by each team in the seventh inning. Camden held a 2-1 edge in the pitchers' duel going into the top of the seventh, and then upped its lead to 6-1 with four more runs. The Lakers' four-run rally in the bottom of the last inning once again fell just short.

After three runs were scored in the first inning, Laker Steven Peters and Iowa Central's Corey Buckley were locked in a scoreless pitchers' duel, until Peters got into trouble in the top of the seventh.

Two hit batters and a walk loaded the bases in the Tritons' seventh. Four runs were then scored on two hits and a sacrifice.

Carr Just Misses Earning Status Of All-American

Daniel Carr, a former standout wrestler for Southern High School, completed his first season wrestling for the University of Maryland, Baltimore County (UMBC), and just missed earning All-American status.

Carr, who competes in the 149-pound weight class, earned a spot in the National Collegiate Wrestling Association's national championship tournament, held March 11-13 in Hampton, Va. He qualified for the national event by placing third in the Mid-Atlantic Conference Championships, held last month.

At the national tourney, Carr finished with two wins and two defeats, falling just short of placing in the top eight in his weight class to achieve All-American status.

A 2007 graduate of Southern, Carr earned two consecutive state runner-up titles under Coach Dave Taylor. His season record at UMBC this year was 27-13. It was his first year of competition at the collegiate level.

UMBC placed ninth as a team at the national tournament.

Youth Basketball Tourney Set In Tucker County

The Tucker County Boys and Girls Middle School Basketball Tournament will be held March 26-28 at Tucker County High School.

The entry fee is $150 per team, and the number of teams will be limited to 10. Persons wishing to register a team and/or desiring more information may contact Kim Betler by telephone at 304-478-4911 or via e-mail at kimbetler@yahoo.com.

HUSKIES TO OPEN BASEBALL SEASON – Looking to defend its third straight Area Championship and its fourth consecutive league title is the varsity baseball team of Northern High School. The Huskies finished the 2009 season with a 16-2 record, and will be led by head coach Phil Carr, who enters his 21st season. Members of the varsity team, front row left to right, are Justin Shaw, Andy Umbel, Jacob McKenzie Bosley, Cody Rodeheaver, Alex Smith, Teddy Linton, Austin Tombley, and Andrew Sisler. In the back row, left to right, are Mike Rugola, Brian Umbel, Patrick Sines, Dylan Miller, Cody Humberson, Corbyn Browne, Steven Holtschneider, and Josh Bittinger. See story for more pre-season information.

NHS Boys' Baseball Team Looks To Defend League Title, Area Standing

The Northern High School boys' baseball team will be looking to defend its area standing in the 2010 season after it took home its third straight Area Championship as well as its fourth consecutive league title in 2009. The Huskies finished last season with a 16-2 record, and hope that this year will be just as successful.

Northern head coach Phil Carr enters his 21st season with a career record of 240-142, and he will be assisted by Jamie Workman, Ed Carr, Jeff Carr, Tim Stevens, and Kris Carr.

Northern will be looking to reload this season, as it lost eight seniors to graduation, including All-Area Player of the Year Trey Beasom. Only two full-time starters will return, and six other players will return from last year's roster. Others lost to graduation were Matt Watson, Zach Lipscomb, Tim Miller, Kyle Gillum, Thomas Holtschneider, and All-Area selections Dan Warnick and Brandon Beachy.

According to Coach Carr, the Huskies will be dependent on solid defensive play and being able to create runs.

"I feel we will be solid defensively, and will have a solid pitching staff," said Carr. "One of the concerns with the pitching, however, is the lack of varsity pitching innings."

Coach Carr says that senior Dylan Miller will lead the way. He was 2-0 last year, appearing in 8.1 innings, and was followed by junior Steven Holtschneider at 1-0, throwing 7.2 innings. Others seeing time on the mound will be seniors Andy Umbel, Andrew Sisler, and transfer Corbyn Browne, as well as junior Cody Humberson.

Returning position players will be senior outfielder Teddy Linton in centerfield, an Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference first team member, and Holtschneider at shortstop. Others fighting for positions in the infield will be senior Sisler and sophomore Pat Sines at third. Senior Browne will go for short, and senior Umbel and sophomore Cody Rodeheaver will vie for second along with senior Mike Rugola, while Humberson will go for first.

Looking to join Linton in the outfield will be seniors Miller and Umbel, and juniors Justin Shaw, Jake Bosley, and Austin Tombley. Catchers for the 2010 season will be senior Alex Smith and sophomore Josh Bittinger.

When asked about concerns for the season, Coach Carr stated that his biggest concern is the lack of the team's overall varsity experience.

"Championships are hard to defend and we have been fortunate to do that the last few years, but I think it will be a little harder this year," said Carr. "We have talked about it and we know we have to work extra hard because everyone will be out to knock us off. The weather and field conditions have definitely hindered us so far, but we have been having good indoor practices up to this point."

Offensively, Coach Carr expects a few of his players to pick it up a little. He hopes that the team will be able to manufacture some runs with bunting and to use the team's speed to its advantage.

The Huskies will face tough competition during the season, especially in the AMAC, but still look to improve with each game.

"I feel the conference will be very competitive this year," said Carr. "Mtn. Ridge, Southern, Frankfort, and Allegany all have good clubs, and Hampshire, Keyser, and Fort Hill all have improved. We will look to improve each and every game as we play through our schedule."

Northern's season will open with four away games, with its first on Tuesday against Keyser beginning at 4:30 p.m. The Huskies will face cross-county rival Southern in its first home game on Monday, April 5.

HE KEEPS ON WINNING – George "Brutus" Scheffel, who won a fourth consecutive Maryland high school wrestling championship about two weeks ago, was back in College Park this past Saturday as a participant in the Maryland State Wrestling Association's Senior All-Star Classic. He was named Most Outstanding Wrestler of the event after pinning Mike Mullins, a 3A/4A state runner-up, and then defeating Virginia AA place winner Peter Ormsby on points, 3-1. Scheffel, who is only the fourth Maryland high school wrestler in history to claim four individual state titles, will continue his academic and athletic career at West Virginia University this fall.

Glotfelty Named All-American On Mat, In Classroom

Brock Glotfelty, a junior on the McDaniel College wrestling team, has been named a Scholar All-American by the National Wrestling Coaches Association.

Glotfelty, a resident of Grantsville and a graduate of Northern High School, was one of 147 Division III wrestlers throughout the nation to earn the honor, which goes to individuals who have a minimum cumulative grade-point average of 3.2 and advanced to the NCAA championship.

An exercise science major with a 3.699 GPA, Glotfelty won his second straight Centennial Conference championship at heavyweight to advance to the NCAA tournament for the second year in a row.

Glotfelty finished the season with a 38-6 record and a team-best 17 pins.

Pair Of Lakers Awarded Post-Season Honors

Two members of the Garrett College men's basketball team received post-season honors for their outstanding play during the 2009-10 season. The Lakers finished the campaign with a 15-11 record.

Kory Gibson, a 6-5 freshman forward and Northern High School graduate, was named to the Region XX Division I first team and the Maryland JUCO second team.

Gibson averaged 15.4 points, 2.2 rebounds, and 1.78 assists per game. He led the team in scoring, three-point field goals made and percentage, draining 54 of 126 attempts (42.9%), and in free-throw percentage, making good on 44 of 55, or 83%).

"It was a tough year in terms of team chemistry and consistency, with a number of injuries and weather cancellations," said GC head coach Dennis Gibson. "Kory picked up our scoring after the loss of Shawn Greenfield, our scoring leader at the time, to a knee injury. His outside shooting forced teams to play him very aggressively, which opened up more for our post players.

"I appreciate the coaches in the Region and Maryland JUCO for recognizing Kory, despite his playing only 18 games after his return from a groin injury."

Fellow Laker Jordan Gipson was selected to the Region XX all-tourney team. The 6-4 freshman forward scored 21 points and pulled down five rebounds in the loss to Allegany College in the regional semifinal at Hagerstown.

"Jordan is a great kid, and a tremendously hard worker who deserves this recognition," said Coach Gibson. "He was one of the few players who gave it all, no matter the situation. If our team was behind or ahead in the score, he played the same way. He has been a real joy to coach and will only get better for next season with his work ethic."

Gipson originally hails from Australia, but holds dual citizenship, coming to Garrett via a referral from West Virginia University, where his father Donnie was a standout player.

GC Grad Returns To Campus As Coordinator Of Health Services

by Melissa Parker

Jamie C. Resh-Kamp is one of those people who just can't get enough of Garrett College. Not only did she graduate from Garrett after high school, but she also returned a few years later when she decided to change her career path. A few years after that, she applied for and was hired as the college's coordinator of health services.

The student-turned-employee says she is enjoying her new position at the college.

"I genuinely appreciate the small-community feel that Garrett College offers," said Resh-Kamp. "It appears that everyone on staff here genuinely cares about the students, as well as their coworkers. This was helpful to me when I was a student, and also now that I am an employee."

Born in Meyersdale, Pa., Resh-Kemp grew up in Grantsville and graduated from Northern High School in 1997. As soon as she graduated, she enrolled at Garrett in the agriculture management program. After she was awarded her associate's degree in 1999, she began working in the agriculture field, managing the Grantsville Agriculture Services.

After realizing that she could have more opportunity in the medical field, Resh-Kamp decided to switch gears in her life, and returned to Garrett in 2003 with her sights set on becoming a dental hygienist.

"I appreciated the fact that GC is affordable and conveniently located," said Resh-Kamp about her decision to return to Garrett. "I returned to Garrett partly because I really valued the small class sizes. In addition, faculty and staff go above and beyond to support the students."

After taking anatomy and physiology as a prerequisite for the pre-dental hygiene program, she realized that she was very interested in learning how the body systems worked. So, Resh-Kamp changed her major and enrolled in the pre-nursing program at Garrett instead. When she had completed her studies at Garrett, she transferred to Allegany College of Maryland (ACM) and graduated with an associate's degree in nursing in 2005.

"I was very well prepared to enter the nursing program at ACM because I had a thorough understanding of the sciences I took at GC," she said. "This was also helpful when I began the orientation process at West Virginia University Hospitals (WVUH). Understanding how and why things worked made me better abled to think critically. Carolyn Deniker, one of my professors at Garrett, was largely responsible for this."

After graduating with her nursing degree, Resh-Kamp landed a job with WVUH as a registered nurse in medical and surgical intensive care units. She serves on the nursing practice team and mentors new hires and nursing students.

JAMIE RESH-KAMP

One of the reasons she applied for employment at Garrett was because she wanted a job closer to home and one with better hours. But for now, Resh-Kamp is still employed by WVUH as well.

Even with a second job, Resh-Kamp says she is happy to be back at Garrett as an employee.

"It seems that everyone is truly concerned about the students and their success at Garrett," she said.

Resh-Kamp said that she hopes to see Garrett's Student Health Program grow, as she sees a real need for health services on campus.

"Medical emergencies happen, and it is beneficial to have someone present who is trained to handle these situations," she said. "Some students just need reassurance that they are managing their illnesses, such as colds and the flu, appropriately. We have been able to link out-of-town students with needed local organizations and offices."

Resh-Kamp currently lives in Addison, Pa., where she also operates a beef farm. She enjoys gardening, hiking, running, biking, cross country skiing, hunting, and most any outdoor activity.

"My family is always available to lend an ear or a helping hand," she said.

Her parents are especially supportive. "They watch my daughter so that I can work," she said.

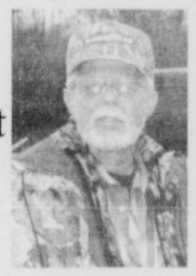
3-17-47 – 7-14-05



This is your 5th year in Heaven on your birthday.

It seems like only yesterday.

When I miss you like this, I close my eyes and think you're near.

I think of your arms around me and holding me close.

I remember the sound of your voice, and the feel of your hands.

You were the love of my life and still are.

But I know I will see you in Heaven again and that's the sweetest thought of all.

Happy Birthday

Love and Miss You,

Sandy

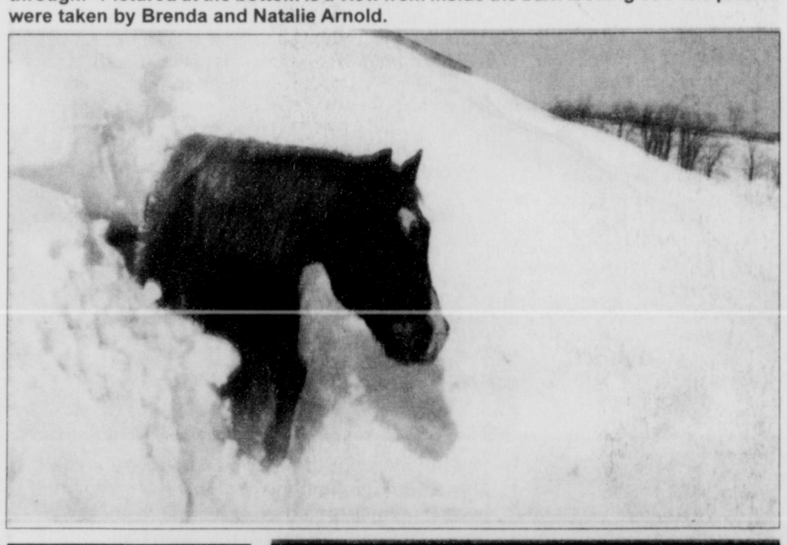
BECOMING A VIRTUAL SNOW CAVE was the horse barn of Mark and Brenda Arnold, located along Jasper Riley Road just south of Oakland, after February's series of snowstorms almost completely covered the structure. But the "residents" of that barn managed to tunnel their own way out. "Our horses decided they did not want to be cooped up, so they dug themselves out," said Brenda. "Their tunnel was not even large enough for us to stand up in, but they seemed to have no problem going through." Pictured at the bottom is a view from inside the barn looking out. The photos were taken by Brenda and Natalie Arnold.



4-H Club News

SNOWY CREEK
by Kendra Friend, reporter

The Snowy Creek 4-H Club held its monthly meeting on Thursday, March 11. There were 17 members and five adults present.

Club leader Wanda Guard held a youth gardening program discussing the parts of a plant that are eaten. Madi Gallagher brought a team building card game activity to share with the group.

Ann Sherrard also attended to hold UM Volunteer Training for the parents.

New business was discussed, and members were told who needed quality assurance for this year. Project materials were also handed out.

President Colton Grove reminded club members that Achievement Night will be held at Southern High on Saturday, April 10.

The next club meeting is planned for Thursday, April 8, in Accident at the GEARS building for a program.

Looking For family, those big issues that affect the family's quality of life on a daily basis," Shumsky said. "We want to find deserving people who just don't have resources, ability, or the time to fix those serious issues without our help."

To be eligible, a family must own their own single family home and be able to show producers how a makeover will make a huge difference in their lives.

Interested families are asked to e-mail a short description of their family story to castmaryland@gmail.com.

Nominations may be submitted by the family or by a member of their community. Each nomination must include the names and ages of every member of the household along with a description of the major challenges within the home. Anyone submitting a nomination should be sure to explain why the nominated family is deserving, heroic, and/or a great role model for their community.

If possible, a recent photo of the family should be included with the nomination form. All nominations must include a contact phone number. The deadline for nominations is Friday, April 2.

For more information on how to apply, persons may visit online at abc.go.com/primetime/xtremehome/index?ph=apply.

Each episode of Extreme Makeover is self-contained and features a race against time to complete a project that would ordinarily take at least four months, involving a team of designers, contractors, and several hundred workers who have just seven days to totally rebuild an entire property – every single room of the house, plus the exterior and landscaping.

"The lives of the lucky families are forever changed when they learn that they have been selected to have their home walls moved, their floors replaced, and ever their façades radically changed," Shumsky said. "The result should be a decorator's delight . . . if it can be done in time."

Each episode begins with team leader Pennington's well-known "Good morning!" wake-up call, when he and his design team surprise the unsuspecting family with news that their home has been chosen to receive a makeover.

"Viewers not only witness the unbelievable transformation of the house, but during the final and emotional reveal, they see how the home makeover has impacted the lives of the deserving families," Shumsky said.

In addition to Pennington the design team includes Paul DiMeo, Paige Hemmis, Michael Moloney, Ed Sanders, Tracy Hutson, Eduardo Xoi, John Littlefield, and Didi Ayer.

W.Va. Man Found Guilty Of CDS Poss.; Sentenced To Six Months

A West Virginia man was recently found guilty in Garrett County District Court for possession, stemming from a traffic stop in October 2009.

Levi Trevor Doman, 19, Fort Ashby, was found guilty by Judge Leonard J. Eiswert of controlled dangerous substance (CDS) possession not marijuana, and was sentenced to six months with five months suspended, two years of supervised probation, and $157.50 in fines.

Garrett County sheriff's officers and members of the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force conducted a traffic stop, and Doman was the front passenger in the vehicle. While officers spoke with the driver and other passengers, a K-9 scan was utilized which gave a positive alert for the presence of drugs in the vehicle.

A search of the vehicle revealed a cigarette pack which contained five capsules of heroin, an empty capsule with heroin residue, and two aluminum foil folds with heroin. Doman and the driver both stated they knew nothing about the heroin, and would not admit knowledge and/or ownership.

They were placed under arrest, and while Doman was being searched, a bag was found that contained three suboxone pills and a piece of paper with suboxone crushed up. Officers also found a bent spoon used for cooking CDS for ingestion. He was not prosecuted on charges of CDS possession of paraphernalia and CDS possession not marijuana.

In a separate court hearing, Larry Allen Coddington, 21, Oakland, was found guilty of failure to comply with a peace order, and was sentenced to 30 days with 26 days suspended, one year of supervised probation, and $57.50 in fines.

These charges were filed in October 2009 after Coddington contacted the victim of the peace order, which had been put into place earlier in the month. He continued to contact the victim via different cell phone calls. He was not prosecuted on a second charge of failure to comply with a peace order.

In another court case, Shawn Lee Gittere, 36, Terra Alta, W.Va., was not prosecuted on an October 2009 charge of violating a protective order. He was charged after he had allegedly gone to the home of the victim that had filed the protective order to take bikes and bike parts. No other charges were filed.

DUI/DWI HEARINGS

The following driving while under the influence (DUI) and driving while impaired (DWI) cases were heard in recent Garrett County District Court proceedings, with Judge Eiswert presiding.

Nevin David Crowe, 54, Fla., was found guilty for a December 2009 DUI per se charge, and was sentenced to 18 months with all but 10 days suspended, three years of supervised probation, and $357.50 in fines. He was not prosecuted on charges of DUI and DWI.

Daniel Jason Lancaster, 29, Md., was found guilty for DUI per se from December 2009, and was sentenced to one year with 11 months, 20 days suspended, two years of supervised probation, and $157.50 in fines. He was not prosecuted on charges of DWI and DUI.

Darren David Norris, 42, Md., was found guilty for DWI from June 2009, and was sentenced to one year with 11 months, 20 days suspended, two years of supervised probation, and $357.50 in fines. He was not prosecuted on a DUI charge.

David John Kutchman, 57, Md., was found guilty for a DUI per se charge from January, and was sentenced to one year with 11 months, 26 days suspended, two years of supervised probation, and $257.50 in fines. He was not prosecuted on charges of DUI and DWI.

William Compton Neild, 57, Md., pleaded guilty to DWI from January, received a PBJ verdict, and was sentenced to one year with one year suspended, 18 months of supervised probation, and $157.50 in fines. He was not prosecuted on a DUI charge.

Charlotte Ann Tichnell, 58, W.Va., pleaded guilty to an October 2009 DWI charge, received a probation before judgment (PBJ) verdict, and was sentenced to 30 days with all being suspended, 18 months of unsupervised probation, and $207.50 in fines. She was not prosecuted on charges of DUI and DUI per se.

Zachary William Barton, 20, Md., pleaded guilty to a December 2009 DWI charge, received a PBJ verdict, and was sentenced to 30 days with all being suspended, one year of unsupervised probation, and $257.50 in fines. He was not prosecuted on charges of DUI per se and DUI.

Travis Roger Skeweris, 18, Md., was charged in November 2009 with DUI and DWI, and his charges were placed on stet with conditions to obey all laws.

Gary Carl Moore, 51, Md., was not prosecuted on charges of DUI and DWI from June 2009.

Mini-Med School Will Be Held At Allegany College

Western Maryland Area Health Education Center (AHEC), Allegany College of Maryland, and the University of Maryland School of Medicine Bioethics Research Center will offer Western Maryland Mini-Medical School, a program for the public, on Tuesdays, May 4, 11, 18, and 25, from 6 to 9 p.m. at the Allegany College Theater in Cumberland. According to a program spokesperson, enrollees do not need a scientific background – just a desire to learn more about what is happening in the medical field.

This program, titled "Past, Present, & Future of Health: The Role of Research & Clinical Trials," will feature information on medical research and its role in enhancing treatment. Speakers will be from the University of Maryland School of Medicine.

Local physicians will also present their research. Mary E. Money, M.D., Hagerstown, will discuss irritable bowel syndrome, and Steven Klein, M.D., Cumberland, will present his studies on rheumatoid arthritis, osteoporosis, and osteoarthritis. Additional speakers will be announced.

The Mini-Med School is free and open to the public. Those who attend both lectures on at least three of the four nights will receive a Mini Medical School certificate for their participation.

Funding for this conference was made possible (in part) by an award from the National Center on Minority Health and Health Disparities. For more information, persons may contact Mary Spalding, program coordinator, Western Maryland AHEC, at 301-777-9150, ext. 116, or by e-mail at mspalding@wmahec.com.

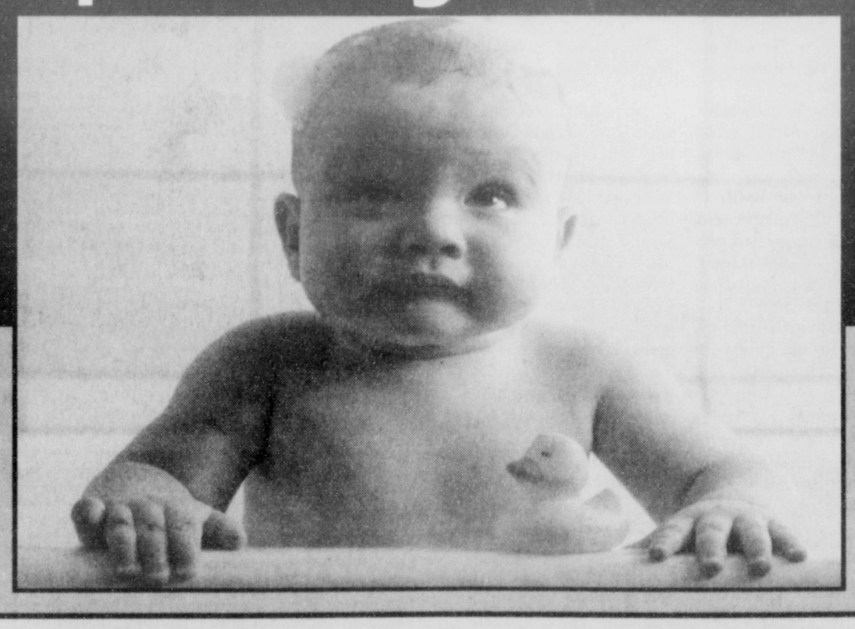
Squeaky Clean



Bath time is quite an event - the water temperature has to be just right, all the toys lined up, soap, shampoo and towel ready. All this for the actual bath that doesn't take that long! But isn't it worth it? How sweet is a freshly bathed baby!

As he becomes older, just as much care must be taken to keep not only his body clean, but his spirit as well. We can begin early to teach a child right from wrong. Psalm 24:3-4 says, "Who may ascend the hill of the Lord? ... He who has clean hands and a pure heart...."

All of us, not just our children, need to learn God's instructions for living a clean life. Won't you worship together as a family this and every week?

Moral Bravery

Bravery is knowing the right thing to do and doing it willingly in the face of considerable risk, and even fear, with the full knowledge of the risk. It is not fearlessness; being fearless in the face of danger is reckless or foolhardy and a man who does what he knows to be the right thing despite his fear is undoubtedly braver than the man who feels no fear. Many a brave soldier or firefighter has faced a hail of bullets or gone in to a burning building with great fear in his or her heart, but knowing it was the right thing to do. We usually think of bravery as involving physical risk such as injury or death, but there is also moral bravery, where we risk humiliation or the negative judgement of our friends, family or colleagues. For example, speaking an unpleasant but necessary truth, such as telling someone that what they are doing is wrong, as in blowing the whistle on illegal practices in the workplace. Doing the right thing frequently requires courage, because we are not always rewarded, and may even be punished or ostracized for doing so. St. Thomas Aquinas considered bravery to be crucial for the virtuous life precisely because a kind of moral or psychological courage is often necessary to carry out the other virtues. The good life requires fortitude and endurance because it is sometimes a long and hard journey, and one brave act does not make one brave.

I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith.

Variety of Drugs for Rheumatoid Arthritis

Rheumatoid arthritis (RA) is considered an autoimmune condition. It is characterized by joint inflammation and swelling. Fatigue, fever, and stiffness are common signs and symptoms of the condition. The smaller joints of the wrists, hands, ankles, and feet are likely to be affected first, followed by progression to larger joints, such as the shoulders, hips, and knees. The condition typically fluctuates between periods of flares and remissions. Genetics may make certain persons more susceptible to developing RA.

Medications are available to decrease inflammation and relieve pain, as well as damage to the joints. Nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs), such as ibuprofen and naproxen, are available over the counter for relief of inflammation and pain. Steroid medications, such as prednisone and methylprednisolone, decrease inflammation and pain, and slow joint damage. Disease-modifying antirheumatic drugs (DMARDs) work to slow the progression of rheumatoid arthritis. These drugs include methotrexate, infliximab, etanercept, adalimumab, and golimumab. Several medications may be prescribed at the same time.

Peaks and Valleys of 'Target' star's career

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

Q: I love the new show "Human Target," starring Mark Valley. Can you tell me if he formerly played Jack Horton on the soap "Days of our Lives"? –Kay Blackard, Decatur, Ala.

A: The character's name actually is Jack Deveraux (and Jennifer Horton is his true love), but yes, Valley did have the role on the NBC serial from 1994 to 1997. That was one of the many television jobs Valley had prior to his latest Fox show; others included "ER," "Pasadena," "Keen Eddie" and "Boston Legal." However, his favorite might have been Fox's "Fringe" – since that's where he met his wife, series star Anna Torv.

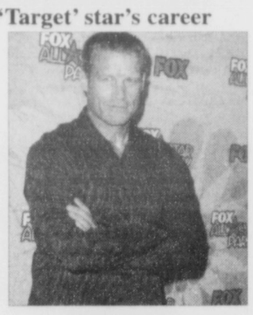
Q: Where did Russ Mitchell go when he left "The Early Show" on CBS, and under what conditions did he leave? –George Arthur, Buffalo, N.Y.

A: The "conditions" were twofold. When Erica Hill was made full time at CBS News, after her splitting duties between CBS and CNN, becoming the newsreader on the weekday "Early Show" – while retaining her co-anchor job on the Saturday edition – apparently was part of the deal. When she took over that duty from Mitchell, he was made national correspondent for CBS News while remaining the anchor of the Sunday "CBS Evening News."

However, Mitchell was off the air for a couple of weeks recently due to a bad break – literally. He suffered a broken ankle after slipping at home; he required surgery and had to stay off his feet for a while, or at least as much as possible.

Q: When will "Walker, Texas Ranger" be back on the Hallmark Channel? –Holly Allen, Milwaukee

A: We're not sure when – or if – the series might be back there specifically, but in the meantime,



Mark Valley

Chuck Norris' feet and fists are seeing action elsewhere. You can find a couple of marathons of repeats this week: Three back-to-back episodes are scheduled Wednesday, March 24, on USA Network, and lately, eight-hour festivals of Norris' long-running CBS series have been running Thursdays on cable's Sleuth channel.

Q: I recently rented "GoodFellas" and noted in the credits that the young Tommy was played by Joseph D'Onofrio. Is he related to Vincent D'Onofrio of "Law & Order: Criminal Intent"? –Patricia Akers, Fort Lupton, Colo.

A: It's easy to see where that leap might be made, but we actually can't find anything that links the two actors as relatives. Vincent has two sisters, Elizabetn (also a performer) and Toni.

"GoodFellas" wasn't Joseph's only screen credit in 1990. He also played Hoodlum No. 1 in "Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles," and he's gone on to such roles as Opinionated Cop (in the first "Spider-Man" movie), Mugger (TNT's 2004 version of "The Goodbye Girl") and Bloodied Patron ("We Own the Night").

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

• It was 18th-century French author and philosopher François-Marie Arouet, better known as Voltaire, who made the following sage observation: "It is forbidden to kill; therefore, all murderers are punished unless they kill in large numbers and to the sound of trumpets."

• It took between 75,000 and 80,000 workers to build the Panama Canal, linking the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans across the Isthmus of Panama.

• Pop star Prince may be best known for his hit "1999." After playing the song at a New Year's Eve party in 1999, he vowed he would never perform it again. Seven years later, however, unable to escape its perennial popularity, he started including the song in his performances once again.

• Pope Benedict IX held the office three different times.

• When the Barbie doll was first introduced in 1959, it was described in The New York Times as a "crushing bomb." So much for early reviews. Since then, more than a billion Barbies have been sold in more than 150 countries. Mattel, the doll's maker, claims that three Barbies are sold every second.

• It was Britain's Prince Albert who originated the boutonniere. It seems that while they were courting, Queen Victoria offered a small bouquet of flowers to her future husband. Prince Albert used his pocketknife to cut a hole in the lapel of his jacket and put the stems of the bouquet through it.

• A form of air conditioning existed as far back as ancient Rome. Wealthy citizens had piping installed in the walls of their homes through which water from an aqueduct would circulate, cooling the interior.

Moments in time

• On March 28, 1814, the funeral of Guillotin, the inventor and namesake of the infamous execution device, takes place outside of Paris. Guillotin had built the guillotine to show the intellectual and social progress of the Revolution; by killing aristocrats and journeymen the same way, equality in death was ensured.

• On March 23, 1839, the initials "O.K." are first published, in The Boston Morning Post. Meant as an abbreviation for "oll correct," a popular slang misspelling of "all correct" at the time, OK steadily made its way into the everyday speech of Americans.

• On March 27, 1912, in Washington, D.C., Helen Taft, wife of President William Taft, and the Viscountess Chinda, wife of the Japanese ambassador, plant two Yoshina cherry trees on the northern bank of the Potomac River, near the Jefferson Memorial. The event was held in celebration of a gift by the Japanese government of 3,020 cherry trees to the United States.

• On March 22, 1933, President Franklin Roosevelt signs the Beer and Wine Revenue Act. This law levies a federal tax on all alcoholic beverages to raise revenue for the federal government and gives individual states the option to further regulate the sale and distribution of beer and wine.

• On March 24, 1945, Billboard publishes its first pop-music chart for albums. The first No. 1 album was Nat King Cole's "King Cole Trio." Billboard had been publishing charts for single records since 1940.

• On March 25, 1958, Sugar Ray Robinson defeats Carmen Basilio to regain the middleweight boxing championship. Born Walker Smith, Jr., "Sugar Ray" got his boxing name when he borrowed his friend Ray Robinson's Amateur Athletics Union card to enter a boxing tournament at age 16.

• On March 26, 1987, responding to a 911 call, police raid the Philadelphia home of Gary Heidnik and find an appalling crime scene. In the basement of his dilapidated house was a veritable torture chamber where three women were found chained to a sewer pipe. Heidnik was one the inspirations for the Buffalo Bill character in "Silence of the Lambs."

Collecting

by Larry Cox

Q. I was given a small cast-iron toy cooking stove more than 50 years ago by a friend. I'd love to know how much it might be worth. I have enclosed several pictures for you. — Joyce, Corrales, N.M.

A. Little cast-iron stoves generally fall into one of three categories: a salesman sample, a toy or an outright fake. Since your stove has been in your possession for at least half a century, let's assume it is either a salesman sample or a toy.

A salesman sample is just that. During the early years of the past century, salesmen often traveled with small models of the stoves they sold, and when a customer purchased the large stove, they sometimes could buy or were given one of the smaller ones. Small cast-iron stoves were also popular toys and were sold through catalogs and in retail stores.

Larry and Carole Meeker are toy collectors who know a great deal about cast-iron toy stoves. They can help you determine the approximate age and value of your stove. Contact them at www.antiqbuyer.com, LCM@antiqbuyer.com, and 530-620-7019. There also is an excellent Web site at www.patented-antiques.com.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, DR. SEUSS! The Oakland branch of the Ruth Enlow Library recently celebrated Dr. Seuss' birthday with the help of 38 children, who enjoyed an evening of fun and games. The children listened to The Cat In The Hat read by Richard Stevens, principal of Kitzmiller Elemntary School, shown above, and to Oh, The Places You'll Go! read by Steve Knepp, kindergarten teacher at Dennett Road Elementary School. The Cat in the Hat, otherwise known as Brennon Crosby, made his appearance and engaged with the children, as seen below, working on a puzzle. Every branch of the Ruth Enlow Library is offering calendars to track a child's reading (or being read to by someone else) as part of the Read Across Maryland initiative to encourage reading for 30 minutes each day for 30 days in March. These calendars are also available at the library's web site at www.relib.net. Any child who reads for at least 20 days will receive a free book upon presenting the calendar to any library branch employee at the end of the month. For more information about this program, persons may check the library web site or call their local branch, or contact Keela at 301-334-3996, ext. 115, or by e-mail at keela@relib.net.

The Area Agency on Aging promotes the Garrett County Community Action Committee strategy of creating an environment where vulnerable GC residents have shelter, food, access to health care, and support on life skills, thereby increasing the number of families and individuals who are economically self-sufficient and able to live independently.

For more information, persons may contact Suzanne Carley at 301-334-9431, ext. 139, in Oakland or 301-895-5818 in Grantsville.

AT YOUR SERVICE!

From a consumer standpoint, no matter the quality and capability of a hearing instrument, it will not provide its full potential to the user if it is not properly fitted, programmed, and adjusted. Therefore, it is very important to select a hearing instrument specialist who can properly guide instrument users through every step of the evaluation, selection, purchasing, and fine-tuning process. It is also essential to establish an ongoing relationship with a hearing instrument specialist, similar to the way one does with an auto mechanic. Just as a vehicle owner wants the "right" car and wants to be able to rely on a dependable technician to maintain and update it, a hearing instrument user needs a reliable and knowledgeable instrument provider.

In order for you to receive the full benefit of your hearing aid, our relationship with you merely begins with its custom fitting. At AUDIBEL, we will also advise you on how to care for it; we'll inspect it periodically to be sure it is operating properly; and we'll provide repairs, adjustments, and access to batteries and other accessories you may need. In short, we are a full service hearing healthcare center at , with you, our valued customer, our main concern.

P.S. Medicare and most private insurance plans will pay only for the doctor visit to determine the need for a hearing aid, but not for the device itself.

Several Local Businesses Make Extra Effort Toward Recycling

by Brenda Ruggiero

In Garrett County, while businesses are not required to recycle materials, many companies throughout the county voluntarily recycle a variety of items.

"I think it is important to highlight the businesses in Garrett County that make a special effort to be more responsible by recycling, reducing waste, and helping the environment locally," said Kim Madigan, recycling coordinator for the Garrett County Solid Waste and Recycling Division.

The following is information from several county businesses about their recycling efforts.

Black Bear Tavern

Keith Handyside, owner of Black Bear Tavern in McHenry, noted that he started recycling at his business because it makes sense.

"By recycling, we not only help the landfill, but we save money by fewer pick-ups of our dumpster...and hopefully the county makes money on the products we take to recycling," he said. "It takes a little more of our time to stage and recycle the products, but I've been able to cut my dumpster costs in half."

Handyside reported that Black Bear sends all of its cardboard and liquor bottles to the Bumble Bee refuse and recycling site.

"If there were an efficient way for us to recycle aluminum beer cans and plastic bottles, I would do that as well, but it is currently difficult to do that kind of separation when busing tables," he explained.

The Black Bear staff breaks down all the cardboard boxes and stacks them into large boxes for easy transport.

"We stage the full boxes and when we get a full load, off they go," he said. "The liquor/wine bottles are handled much the same way. We put out empty boxes and the managers put the empty liquor/wine bottles into those boxes."

Handyside noted that each truckload contains six to eight 36-foot by 36-foot cardboard boxes full of cardboard and at least 40 to 50 liquor/wine bottles per trip. A pickup load is usually taken once a week, but during the peak seasons of winter and summer, two trips are made per week.

"That's once a week for six months a year and double these numbers for six months of the year," he said.

Handyside noted that he doesn't know why more business don't recycle.

"There are certainly enough locations within a reasonable distance to the high business areas," he said. "It just requires a mandate from management or owners to have the employees stage the material to be recycled rather than carry it out to a dumpster. The guys at the Bumble Bee location are great. They are very helpful and we have a great working relationship with them. It makes the entire process even easier!"

Lakeview Auto Parts

At Lakeview Auto Parts, owner Scott Rodeheaver reported that batteries and cardboard are recycled. In 2009, the store recycled a total of 59,621 pounds of batteries and about 5,000 pounds of cardboard.

"Since they started requiring a core charge on batteries, people have to pay $10 extra when they buy a new battery," Rodeheaver said. "When they bring the old one back, they get $10 back. It really helps to keep the cost down."

From the batteries, plastic, lead, and acid are recycled. A truck comes from Lion Station, Pa., about once a month to pick up the batteries.

Rodeheaver started recycling cardboard from his store about five years ago when Madigan approached him about it.

"We started recycling the cardboard that we would usually just put in the dumpster," he said. "If we just put it all in the dumpster now, it would require two dumps per week. By recycling the cardboard, we only have one dump. It saves us money."

Rodeheaver takes the cardboard about once a month to the Bumble Bee location, where it is placed into a compactor for recycling.

The core waste created by business activities there is cardboard and paper.

"We have contracted with an outside party that provides us with a cardboard bailer," Ruddell said. "As part of this contract, the company collects our cardboard bails as well as our paper and plastic shrink wrap recycling. Our broken pallets are collected by our pallet supplier. We take our aluminum cans and plastic jugs up to the county recycling site on Route 40."

The company was inspired further last year by a presentation by McCormick and Company about their recycling efforts at their Hunt Valley plant.

"They go to great lengths to reduce their energy consumption," Ruddell said.

He noted that Total Biz is lucky in the sense that the business activities do not generate great amounts of waste, and the waste that is created can be recycled easily.

Total Biz Fulfillment

At Total Biz Fulfillment in Grantsville, recycled items include cardboard, paper, plastic shrink wrap, broken pallets, aluminum cans, and both #1 and #2 plastic jugs.

"We began recycling because of environmental reasons as well as an effort to cut down on waste removal expenses," said Paul Ruddell, vice president of operations. "As we have increased our recycling activities over the years, we have been able to cut down on our waste removal expense by reducing the number of weekly dumpster pick-ups we require."

In 2009, Ruddell noted that the company recycled 46.56 tons of cardboard, 1.579 tons of paper, and 1.455 tons of plastic.

Thank You!

"Quality of Service Is What Sets Us Apart From the Rest"

Recycling Effort

ily.

"Our experience has shown that recycling not only helps us to be a good steward of the environment, but also saves money," he said. "In light of our experience, other businesses should do whatever they are capable of to support reducing its waste as well as recycling all waste that cannot be eliminated from their operating activities."

Garrett County Memorial Hospital

Sherry Helbig, who is part of the plant operations department at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, reported that recycled items there include aluminum cans, office and computer paper, old telephone books, corrugated cardboard, and toner cartridges.

"We started our recycling effort in 2005, and each year we try to outdo the last," she said. "In 2008, we recycled 200 pounds of aluminum cans, 30 tons of office/computer paper/old telephone books, 45 tons of corrugated cardboard, and one ton of toner cartridges."

Several recycling containers are available throughout the hospital for aluminum cans, which are then picked up by employees and recycled. Office paper, computer paper, and old telephone books are shredded in the mailroom by VIVA volunteers on a weekly basis, then bagged and taken off-site by one of the employees for cattle bedding on his farm.

Helbig also explained that a cardboard bailer is supplied by a recycling company in Chambersburg, Pa.

"Employees from various departments have been in-serviced on the bailer, and use it for all empty cardboard boxes on a daily basis," she said. "Once the bailer is full, plant operations personnel empty it and bail the cardboard for pick-up from the recycling company.

All used toner cartridges from all departments are boxed and taken to the general stores department. From there, they are picked up by Office Max and recycled in Elkridge.

"We started recycling in 2005 after realizing that it would reduce wastes sent to the landfill, save energy, and sustain the environment for future operations," Helbig said. "We will continue to recycle to the best of our ability and hope to keep adding to the items that we currently recycle."

She also encouraged other businesses to recycle as well.

"They can start by contacting the numerous recycling companies out there to get help in their recycling needs," she said. "Most companies I have contacted provide cardboard bailers and pick-up free of charge. Recycling bins for aluminum cans, plastic, and newspapers can be purchased at an inexpensive cost."

Wal-Mart

George Jones, manager of Walmart in Oakland, reported that recycled items there include cardboard, plastics, paper, glass, aluminum, oil, batteries, tires, and fryer grease from the fryers.

"We're taking less to the landfill and getting credit for as much as we possibly can," he said. "We probably take it to another level more than other stores. The company is trying to come up with ways to become a green store."

Jones noted that the store creates bales for recycling. Some contain only cardboard, and others are "sandwich bales" with two inches of cardboard on each end and plastic, zip ties, and other recyclable items inside.

"We go through different avenues, and all the companies come and pick the items up and haul them away," Jones said. "We do roughly somewhere between 10 and 15 cardboard bales a week and two to three plastic bales."

Jones noted that the store is always looking for new ways to help out. There are bins in the front of the store for customers to recycle their plastic shopping bags, and also sell a new reusable cloth bag for $1 that can be brought back and used again and again.

"Recycling benefits everyone," he said. "We're not only keeping the planet green and not filling the landfills and keeping the forests and streams around for our children, but from a business standpoint, it also helps put money right back into the profits of our store," he said.

Wisp Resort

The Wisp Resort in McHenry began recycling in December 2007 as part of the National Ski Areas Association's Sustainable Slopes Program, according to Jerry Geisler, vice president of facilities and public affairs.

"It is the responsible and civic thing to do," he said. "It reduces waste going to the county landfill, helping to extend the life of the landfill. It is simply wasteful to not try to reuse things such as glass and vegetable oil."

In 2009, the company recycled 9.97 tons of cardboard, 1.1 tons of office paper, 1.42 tons of magazines, 5.95 tons of mixed glass, 1,650 gallons of vegetable oil, and nearly 100 wooden pallets.

The resort's web site outlines its efforts. It reads in part:

"Wisp Resort is our mountain home. We respect the beauty of our environment and recognize the need to apply moral and ecological ethics to the stewardship of our natural resources. Wisp Resort... is committed to preserving the character of the mountains. We continually update and implement new techniques and technologies that assist in our efforts to protect and enhance the natural state of our geographic surroundings, as well as to conserve our resources and reduce energy consumption."

The company encourages energy conservation throughout the resort through replacement of appliances and lights with newer, more efficient models. One example has been the purchase of energy-efficient copy machines for the offices.

In addition, storage water is converted from a liquid state to frozen snow. During the spring melt, the water returns to the lake and groundwater for future use.

Garrett County Health Department

Philip Austin Smith, AmeriCorps member at the Garrett County Health Department, reported that most of employees' recycling consists of paper. However, they also recycle cardboard, magazines, newspaper, and plastic bottles.

"They have been recycling for a long time here," he explained. "There are recycling bins in each office of the health department. Other members of the AmeriCorps team and I go around and collect the bins of recycled paper and magazines. Then, we take all of it down to where we load it into our cargo van and take it to one of the recycling places."

Sincell Publishing/ The Republican Newspaper

Sincell Publishing Company, printer of The Republican newspaper, also does its part to recycle.

"We send about 26 tons of waste newsprint out for recycling per year," said Don Sincell, editor. "The fresh rolls of newsprint that we purchase consist of about 30% recycled content. An estimated 1,300 pounds of aluminum [printing plates] are sold for recycling, and we also sell probably 500 pounds of used negatives for silver recovery."

The company also recycles all returned newspaper copies from the newsstands and all cardboard boxes and paper from inserts. The paper is also printed with soy-based ink, which is biodegradable.

In addition, office items such as paper and aluminum cans are collected and recycled as well.

Recycling Information

Madigan commented that in 2008, Garrett County residents and businesses succeeded in attaining a recycling rate of 47.95%.

"When we recycle, we divert waste from the landfill," she said. "Businesses like these being featured are making a positive impact in our county and are an inspiration to residents and businesses alike who want to make a difference by reducing waste at the source and by minimizing the loss of natural resources locally.

Madigan noted that the businesses featured are just a sampling of the many businesses in Garrett County that participate in recycling programs.

"However, these businesses exemplify outstanding efforts by exceeding their recycling totals reported each year and by looking for ways to expand their existing recycling programs," she said.

Madigan encouraged other businesses to join the effort as well.

"Any business or resident in Garrett County can start a recycling program, and we are here to help you get involved. It is our mission to promote, encourage, and educate the residents and businesses on how to participate in the convenient recycling programs offered here in the county."

For more information, persons may contact Madigan at kmadigan@garrettcounty.org or call 301-387-0322. Information can also be found online at www.garrettcounty.org/GeneralServices/Recycling.aspx.

THE SIGN OF AN EXCEPTIONAL SALES ASSOCIATE.
SOLD
My association with Jamie came about purely by accident. She was the on-call agent when I happened to telephone the agency. Jamie exceeded my expectations in the amount of "legwork" she was willing to do for me. As an out-of-state buyer, I depended on her to be my eyes and ears in the house-hunting process. I would give her an MLS# and ask her to check it out. Not long after, I would receive an e-mail reply with about 40 attached photos. She did this repeatedly. Other than the amount of "legwork" Jamie was doing for me, I was also very pleased with her promptness in responding to my e-mails and phone calls, and her ability to answer questions about the real estate transfer process in the state of Maryland. I would recommend Jamie to anyone needing a real estate agent. She is very attentive to details, prompt, and courteous. You really could not ask for more in an agent.

Students At NMS Make Donations To Charity Groups

Northern Middle School students have been involved with various charity efforts during the school year. Students started with a food drive for a local pantry just before Thanksgiving and most recently participated in Hoops for Heart.

They have continued their efforts with the encouragement of the Positive Behavior Intervention and Support Team (PBIS), Student Council, and the Physical Education Department.

Students in Carolyn Tice's homeroom coordinated the collection of canned goods for the local food pantry. They created a food sculpture on the cafetorium stage to display the collection to the entire student body during their lunch shifts.

Students who brought in a non-perishable food had the opportunity to attend a faculty vs. student volleyball game.

It was estimated that the cash value of the food collected exceeded $300. Crystal Williams, office secretary, donated her time and the use of her pickup truck to deliver the food to the Bittinger Food Pantry just before Thanksgiving.

In December, NMS students donated cash to the House of Hope in Oakland, and spectators of a staff and student basketball game each contributed $1. A total of $305 was raised at this event, which was sponsored by the NMS PBIS Team.

In January and February, both the student council and PBIS Team raised money for Haiti relief efforts. The Student Council, under the direction of teachers George Lander and Lorie Burdock, collected loose change during the lunch shifts.

The PBIS Team hosted an after-school dance and donated the $300 proceeds to Haitian relief through the Friendsville Foundation. The Student Council split its earnings between two groups already established to offer earthquake victims relief: the American Red Cross ($394.09) and Heifer International ($300).

The Friendsville Foundation matched the $600 from NMS students' fund drives and forwarded a check for $1,200 to Heifer International, which already had a permanent presence in Haiti and could further direct the funds appropriately. Heifer International is a non-profit organization whose goal is to "help end world hunger and poverty through self-reliance and sustainability."

The Friendsville Foundation is a 501(c)(3) charity whose seven-member board of directors is charged with administering funds generated through interest and donations. They are an outgrowth of the Lions Club and typically provide grants to aid persons in the 2153_ ZIP code region.

Most recently, the physical education classes and health classes teamed up to raise money for the American Heart Association. Students who participated in Hoops for Heart raised a total of $3,361.10. This was $1,200 more than last year's total.

The most money was raised by sixth grade, with a total of $1,563. Seventh grade raised $1,204.10, and eighth grade raised $774.

When Evaluating Investments' Performance, Avoid Common Mistakes

As an investor, you might think it's easy to evaluate your investments' performance. After all, the bigger the gain, the better, right? This statement is true enough, but as an investment strategy, it's complete — and, if followed rigidly, it could lead you to make some mistakes that could hinder your progress toward your financial goals.

What are some of these potential mistakes? Here are a few to consider:

• Evaluating performance over a short period of time — if you measure an investment's performance over a relatively short period of time, you may be more tempted to invest emotionally — that is, you'll buy more shares of an investment when you "feel good" about it because its price has risen, and you'll sell more shares when you "feel bad" because the investment's price has fallen. This behavior is the opposite of the classic piece of investment advice "buy low and sell high." Try not to make investment decisions based on short-term performance. Instead, look at an investment's long-term track record. While it's true, as you have no doubt heard, that "past performance can't guarantee future results," it's nonetheless useful to see how an investment has fared in different market environments.

• Neglecting the impact of contributions and withdrawals — if you put more money into an investment, it will be worth more — until the price drops — and if you take money out of an investment, it will be worth less — until the price rises. Yet many people mistakenly attribute their investments' performance to these inflows and outflows.

• Failing to distinguish between "growth" and "income" investments — To help achieve your long-term goals, you'll need a mix of growth- oriented investments, such as stocks, and income producing vehicles, such as bonds. However, bonds will typically not add much growth to your overall portfolio, so keep this in mind when you look at the year-to-year change in value on your investment statements.

• Maintaining unrealistic expectations — In 2009, the Dow Jones Industrial Average rose nearly 19%, while the S&P 500 jumped more than 23%. But if you anticipate such unusually high returns annually, and you base your investment strategy on them, you'll likely be disappointed and have trouble meeting your goals. For a variety of reasons, most investment experts foresee relatively modest returns in the financial markets over the next few years, so you'll want to plan accordingly.

Comparing investments to benchmarks — Try not to compare the performance of your investments to benchmarks such as Dow Jones Industrial Average or the S&P 500. If you've chosen an aggressive investment mix, your returns may show wide swings, beating the benchmarks substantially in some years, while trailing them significantly in others. On the other hand, if you're a conservative investor, your returns may consistently lag the major benchmarks, but you'll probably experience less volatility.

Once you know what to expect from your investments, you'll be less likely to be disappointed at your returns — and you'll be better prepared to create and follow an investment strategy that works for you.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR DRINKING WATER
Town of Oakland Has Levels of Disinfection Byproducts Above Drinking Water Standards

Our water system recently violated a drinking water standard. Although this is not an emergency, as our customers, you have a right to know what happened, what you should do, and what we are doing to correct this situation.

We routinely monitor for the presence of drinking water contaminants. Disinfection byproducts are formed by a chemical reaction of chlorine with the organic material in the water, such as leaves and algae. Testing results show that our system exceeds the standards, or maximum contaminant levels (MCL) for Total Trihalomethanes and Haloacetic Acids. The standard for Total Trihalomethanes is 80 parts per billion (ppb), and Haloacetic Acids is 60 ppb.

The average level of Disinfection Byproducts over the prior year (January 2008 to December 2008) was: Total Trihalomethanes 84 ppb; Haloacetic Acids 85 ppb.

What should you do? You do not need to use an alternative (e.g. bottled) water supply. However, if you have specific health concerns, consult your doctor.

What does this mean? This is not an immediate risk. If it had been, you would have been notified immediately. However, some people who drink water containing total trihalomethanes and haloacetic acids in excess of the MCL over many years may have an increased risk of getting cancer.

What happened? What is being done? Recently, the State of Maryland, Department of the Environment has made the byproducts limitations more stringent. Oakland has been working to lower the levels of total trihalomethanes and haloacetic acids over the past couple years in anticipation of the new requirements. Unfortunately, we have not been able to bring the levels down to meet the new guidelines. As a result, we have completed a study on our water system to determine what changes or improvements as necessary to bring our system into compliance. We are planning to advertise for design work in the very near future and then we will be able to make the necessary improvements. It is the Town of Oakland's goal and expectation that this should be completed by the end of 2010.

For more information, please contact Randy Sharpless, Oakland Water Superintendent, by phone at 301-334-3836, or his mailing address is: Oakland Water Department, 15 South Third Street, Oakland, Maryland, 21550.

NOTE: Please feel free to share this information with all other people who drink this water, especially those who may not have received this notice directly (for example, people in apartments, nursing homes, schools, and businesses). You can do this by posting this notice in a public place or distributing copies by hand or mail.

This notice is being provided to you by the Town of Oakland, State Water System ID # 011-0008. 3/18

AMENDMENTS TO THE GARRETT COUNTY WATER AND SEWERAGE MASTER PLAN
Mountain Lake Water System Improvements

Notice is hereby given that the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, will hold a public hearing on Tuesday, March 30, 2010, at 9:30 a.m., in Room 209 at the Garrett County Courthouse located at 203 South Fourth Street, Oakland, Maryland, to consider amendments to the Garrett County Water and Sewerage Master Plan. Summaries of the proposed amendments are as follows:

Overlook Ridge at Deep Creek Lake Condominium Subdivision

Pete's Drive, LLC, developer of the Overlook Ridge at Deep Creek Lake Condominium Subdivision has proposed construction of a private water system to serve dwellings within the development. The property is located on Parcel 148 as referenced on Map 50 of the Maryland Department of Planning's property mapping system and on Map 58, Parcel 753 in the Thayerville area of Deep Creek Lake. The proposed development, upon completion of all phases, will consist of 35 residential dwelling units. The proposed water system will consist of two wells, treatment facility, distribution system and appurtenances. The total estimated daily withdrawal at full build-out is 9,450 gallons per day. The development is located within the Deep Creek Lake Sewer Sanitary District and sewage treatment will be provided by the Deep Creek Lake Wastewater Treatment Plant.

Thayerville Public Water System

In September 2005, the Board of Garrett County Commissioners received a petition from residents in the Mountainside and Thayerville areas requesting that the County obtain an engineering survey describing the feasibility and probable costs of providing public water service to the area. The engineering study, completed in April 2009, recommends construction of a public water system to include an adequate water source, treatment facility, booster system, storage tanks, pressure equalization, and a distribution system and appurtenances including fire protection.

Following a public hearing held on June 23, 2009, the Board of County Commissioners created the Thayerville Water Service Area upon determining that the proposed service area was necessary for the existing and future health, safety and welfare of the public in general and feasible financially and from an engineering standpoint. In January, 2010, the Board awarded an engineering contract for design and construction related services for the proposed water system.

Mountain Lake Water System Improvements

The Mountain Lake Water System is owned and operated by the Garrett County Sanitary District and serves the Towns of Mountain Lake Park and Loch Lynn Heights. In August 2003, the Maryland Department of the Environment determined that the primary water source for the system was under the direct influence of surface water therefore requiring an alternate water source or construction of a filtration treatment facility. Development of an alternate water source utilizing wells has been completed and connection of the new source has commenced. The project consists of raw water collection lines from the wells to the water treatment plant, flushing hydrants and sampling stations at each well site, installation of well pumps and appurtenances, extension of 3-phase electric service to each well site, water treatment plant improvements and construction of a new 500,000 gallon concrete water storage tank.

Complete text of the proposed amendments can be obtained from the Garrett County Department of Public Utilities located at 2008 Maryland Highway, Suite 2, Mountain Lake Park, Maryland. Interested persons will be heard at the public hearing on Tuesday, March 30, 2010, in order to determine if incorporation of the proposed amendments will promote public health, safety and welfare in the areas.

Naylor's Named Vision 21 Platinum Retailer By Corp.

Naylor's Ace Hardware of Oakland has been named a "Vision 21 Platinum" retailer by Ace Hardware Corporation, an honor bestowed on the brand's "top-performing" stores. Only 272 out of approximately 4,500 locally owned Ace Hardware stores achieved this honor in 2009.

Ace's Vision 21 retail achievement program provides initiatives, guidelines, and goals designed to help Ace stores improve sales and overall store performance. Of the three levels of Vision 21 achievement a store can achieve, platinum level is the highest, and represents the top 6% of all Ace stores.

According to a corporate spokesperson stores at Ace's platinum-achieving level take on a number of initiatives aimed at improving the store environment and the staff, all in an effort to improve the customer experience in-store. Ace's platinum-achieving retailers were invited to take part in a three-day retail conference in February, where they received a plaque identifying them as a Vision 21 Platinum achieving store. Later this month, these stores will be honored in New Orleans at the company's spring convention.

STRENGTH IN NUMBERS

Selling your home in anything other than an active market can seem challenging, but what do you do when yours is only one of many homes in your neighborhood with For Sale signs? Surprisingly, there are actually some advantages to marketing your home in this situation.

More buyers are drawn to neighborhoods where they can preview more homes at once. More buyers means more opportunities for your home to be seen and to attract an offer, so make your listing stand out against your competition.

Price your home aggressively after reviewing the comparable sales figures provided by your real estate representative. Don't give your neighbors the advantage of looking like a bargain compared to your listing - take it yourself and show buyers what a great value you're offering. If you're competing against foreclosure listings, having your home in "move in" condition helps, because foreclosures often need lots of repairs.

With this much activity in the neighborhood, make sure that your home is available for showing on literally a moment's notice. Buyers who come to look at other listings may spot yours and want to see it right away to make comparisons. Be prepared for "impulse" prospects with good housekeeping and an escape plan for unexpected showings.

Finally, don't worry if your neighbor sells first - that just makes for less competition in your market!

If you are thinking of buying or selling a home but feel "out of touch" with real estate, give me a call today.

Three years ago, we lost someone very special to us. Every day, every minute Tiffany fills our thoughts and minds as we are reminded of her beautiful laugh, smile, and one-of-a-kind personality. Tiffany was a true blessing to all who knew her, and although is now gone to a much better place, the short time we had with her was something we all hold dear to our hearts. She will never be forgotten, as her beautiful spirit lives on and shines through anyone who was ever blessed to have met her. We love and miss you, Tiff.

Commissioners Award Bids For Local Projects

The Garrett County commissioners approved two bid proposals on Tuesday. One pertains to the Cherry Glade Access Road Project, while the other involves the Garrett County Landfill Rubble Cell Capping Project.

Purchasing agent Brian Bowers, Garrett County Purchasing Department, told the commissioners that 17 companies responded to the county's RFP (request for proposals) for engineering services for the Cherry Glade Access Road initiative. The county's Selection Committee reviewed the proposals, and an overall evaluation summary was developed.

Based on such criteria as past experience, understanding of the entire project, current workload, and depth and variety of staff disciplines, the committee recommended the commissioners approve Highland Engineering's $74,832.20 bid.

Commissioners Ernie Gregg and Fred Holliday approved the Oakland firm's bid. Commissioner Denny Glotfelty did not attend the meeting, as he had another commitment.

The Cherry Glade project involves the demolition of an administration building at the former Garrett County Roads Department site, located along Rt. 219 in Oakland, and the creation of a road across the site from Rt. 219 to Fourth Street.

A new Roads Department garage was recently built at the county's Public Works Center near Mtn. Lake Park. Construction of a new administration building at the center has been deferred until the economy improves.

Until then, Jay Moyer, general roads superintendent, and his administrative staff will be located at the Purchasing Department building, located across from the courthouse in Oakland. Bowers and staff will relocate their offices to the courthouse.

So far, the county has sold two lots to businesses at the old Roads Department property. A Dairy Queen is near completion, and construction of a Clear Mountain Bank will begin in the near future. The Cherry Glade Access Road will enable motorists to get to various businesses there from either Rt. 219 or Fourth Street.

The engineering portion of the project is being funded by the county, which has budgeted

"WHAT'S HAPPENING?" seems to be on the mind of 1½-year-old Trenton Smith, who was visiting his grandmother Melisa Carrico along Eagle Rock Road this past week. Immediately across the road from the Carrico house, which is the background of the photo above, was a dense forest, but many acres of that ground were clear-cut last week. The area is being readied for a high-voltage substation that will accommodate 28 wind turbines to be erected nearby, the first such turbines in Garrett County. Carrico and other residents said they received no warning that the massive machines were moving in last week, and took many concerns to the Garrett County commissioners. The Constellation Energy project was brought to an abrupt halt this week, however, when alleged violations were reported by an Eagle Rock resident who happens to be a contractor. The Maryland Department of the Environment acknowledged the violations and did halt the project temporarily. See story below, plus additional photos on page A-20.

Clear-Cutting Project For Wind Turbines Abruptly Halted By MDE

Work began in earnest this past week in clearing forest land near Eagle Rock just south of Deer Park for the erection of over two dozen 400-plus-foot wind turbines, the first to be erected in Garrett County.

The project calls for the placement of 28 turbines along that section of Backbone Mountain, with an additional 17 in the Roth Rock area of the same mountain ridge, just south of Red House.

Startled residents in the Eagle Rock area, some located within just 15 or 20 feet of the project, used words such as "shocked" and "horrified" when they were awakened by the sound of chainsaws, trucks, dozers, and massive excavating machines felling thousands of trees adjacent to their properties. Several acres of forestland timber were leveled within a matter of a few days.

The project, however, came to an abrupt halt Tuesday after one of the residents – who happens to be a contractor – suggested that the work was being done in a manner that was not in compliance with state environmental law.

"I don't think they counted on someone living up there who knows all about such things as excavation and building permits," said Eric Robison, who recently constructed his own new home close to the site.

Evidently Robison's concerns were legitimate, as the Maryland Department of the Environment (MDE) ordered Constellation Energy and the contractor, All Construction Inc., Mt. Storm, W.Va., to immediately cease any further grading or disturbance activities, take corrective action to eliminate the discharge of sediment-laden water, and submit to the Garrett Soil Conservation District a revised erosion and sediment control plan to address the current plan's sediment control deficiencies.

More specifically, according to MDE information office spokesperson Jay Apperson, a super silt fence was not properly installed at least eight inches below the ground surface, and consequently sediment laden water was flowing under and around the fence.

In addition, he said, the volume of water flow on the site appears to be much greater than the controls required by the current erosion and sediment control plan can effectively handle to prevent significant sediment flow off site.

Melisa and Justin Carrico, who reside directly across the street from the site where a high-voltage substation is to be constructed for the wind farm, contacted the Garrett County commissioners, requesting that they come out to the site to observe what was taking place. The commissioners declined the invitation, but agreed to meet with the Carricos at the courthouse Tuesday morning.

Among those present besides the Carricos were Commissioners Ernie Gregg and Fred Holliday, county administrator Monty Pagenhardt, and Robison, a neighbor of the Carricos.

"I feel as though I have lost all faith in the government to protect me," Melisa Carrico told the commissioners in a prepared statement. "To know that what happened to me will happen to many other families, neighborhoods, and environments in Garrett County is absolutely unacceptable."

She criticized the commissioners, saying that what is happening to her and her neighbors is an "act of destroying my safety, my environment, my property, and my community."

"Yet you act as though you had no idea, and that you are sorry for about being part of a county government that obviously doesn't protect its citizens," she said.

Robison estimated the value of his new house to be at least $400,000, but ac-

Deep Creek Level Back To Normal; Officials Praise Public's Compliance

The Maryland Department of the Environment (MDE), the Department of Natural Resources (DNR), and Brookfield Renewable Power, the owner of Deep Creek Hydropower, have announced that early preventive action, combined with favorable weather conditions, have alleviated the threats associated with the spring thaw of the region's record snow pack at Deep Creek Lake. Deep Creek Hydropower is now operating within the rule band established by MDE's Water Appropriation and Use permit, a spokesperson said.

The officials commended the public's compliance with alerts and warnings, as well as the local community's willingness to spread the word about the dangers.

Representatives of MDE, DNR and Brookfield first met in February to review the ramifications of the melting of this winter's record snow pack. At that time, MDE approved a request from Brookfield to bring the lake level below the lower limit of its permitted rule band in order to provide sufficient storage to contain the melting snow pack without damaging or overflowing the lake and dam.

Brookfield also brought in seven "ice eaters" (special machinery) to break up and remove ice and reduce ice pressure on the spillway. The agencies worked closely with Brookfield to monitor lake levels and the water content on the snow pack, as well as the ice conditions against the 720-foot-long concrete spillway, the effectiveness of the ice removal at the spillway, and the potential for downstream flooding.

The extensive monitoring was necessary to constantly balance storage needs for the spring melt and water needs for the upcoming recreational season, the spokesperson said.

During this period, the lake reached its lowest level on March 11 at 2,453.06 feet, which was 3.59 feet below the March lower rule band limit of 2,456.65.

The analysis of water content in the snow pack

GC Agencies May Get Reimbursed For Storm Costs

Local agencies may be eligible for federal disaster declaration funding to cover part of their recent snow removal costs, Director Brad Frantz, Garrett County Department of Public Safety and Emergency Management, told the county commissioners on Tuesday. The county received more than 262 inches of snow this winter.

Frantz said it does not appear that the county will be eligible for funding for the Dec. 18-19, 2009, winter storm. Only eight Maryland counties are expected to receive cleanup reimbursement for that weather event.

"However, it does look like we will be eligible for some reimbursement for the period of Feb. 5 through 14," Frantz said about one of last month's many storm systems.

County departments and towns will be asked to submit data to Frantz's office pertaining to costs involved during that period. He and planner Virginia Smith will then compile the information into a spread sheet and forward it to the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA)

FEMA representatives will then visit the county, review the original documents, and determine if the claims are valid.

Frantz noted, however, there are two thresholds that the county has to meet before it can qualify for the funding: snow amount and cost per capita. The director indicated there may be some debate over the snow

Garrett College Board Of Trustees Announces Presidential Finalists

The Garrett College board of trustees has announced the names of three finalists for the president's position at Garrett College. They are Dr. Dennis Golladay, vice chancellor for community colleges for the State University of New York (SUNY) system; Dr. Richard MacLennan, vice president of student services at Olympic College in Bremerton, Wash.; and Dr. James Richardson, president of Wenatchee Valley College, Wash.

Golladay previously served as president of Cayuga Community College in Auburn, N.Y. He began his career as a high school teacher, earned his M.A. and Ph.D. in American history from the University of Virginia, and moved to the college setting as a professor at Pensacola Junior College, where he eventually became dean of the School of Liberal Arts.

He served as vice president for academic affairs at Anne Arundel College before moving on to the New York presidency. Golladay has been president of the Association of Presidents of Public Community Colleges in New York and vice president of the National Council of State Directors of Community Colleges.

He was also chair of the board of the Cayuga County Chamber of Commerce, served on the Auburn Memorial Hospital board of directors and the Cayuga-Cortland Workforce Investment Board, and in 2003 was honored with the NAACP Auburn-Cayuga Chapter Millennium Award.

MacLennan served previously as associate dean for student life and associate dean for student services at Chesapeake College, and before that was dean of students and admissions at Our Lady of Holy Cross College in New Orleans, La.

He earned his M.Ed. in student services administration from Oregon State University and his Ed.D. from Wilmington University, Del., with a concentration in educational innovation and leadership. His dissertation focused on the enrollment patterns of adult students in community colleges.

MacLennan has been an evaluator for the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities and president of the Washington State Student Services Commission. He is chair of the board of directors of Kitsap Community Resources, a community action agency, and co-convener of the West Sound Education Leadership Council of college and school leaders.

Richardson was president of Southeastern Community College in West Burlington, Iowa. He received his M.A. in speech communications from the University of Wisconsin-Superior and his Ph.D. in education, with a specialty in adult education, from Capella University.

Prior to his presidencies, Richardson was provost for student and academic affairs at Northeast Iowa Community College and dean of general education at Gateway Technical College in Wisconsin. He taught for two years in South Korea at Daejeon Junior College and has been an exchange professor at Beijing Foreign Studies University.

Richardson is currently board president-elect of the Performing Arts Center of Wenatchee and vice president of the Public Facilities District Board. He has also been president of the management board of Downtown Partners Inc. in Burlington, Iowa, and president of the Iowa Association of Community College Presidents.

NRP Warns That Upper Potomac Should Be Avoided

The Maryland Natural Resources Police (NRP) has announced that boating and other recreational use of the Upper Potomac River, including its creeks and streams, should continue to be avoided based on information received from the National Weather Service and the Maryland Emergency Management Agency (MEMA). This advisory has been extended through tomorrow, Friday, March 26, and will be updated next week if necessary.

Because of recent precipitation, river levels are hazardous for recreational use on the entire main stem of the Uppor Potomac River from Kitzmiller to Little Falls. Hazardous stages are water levels which pose a threat to non-white-water vessels, tubers, swimmers, and other recreational users and are caused by wave action, water velocity, and treacherous currents. This condition may exist on tributaries of the Potomac as well.

This warning does not apply to professionally guided river trips. The public is reminded that river travel involves risks. Water and boating safety should be practiced always. Fitness Experts Form Panel At GC Health Fair Lifetime Fitness will be the topic of discussion for a panel of experts that will speak at the Garrett County Health Fair scheduled for Saturday, April 17, at the Wisp Resort in McHenry. Panelists will include Andrea Bender, MS, LAT, ATC, Audrey Kennedy, MEd, PT, and Dr. Thomas Johnson, local family practice physician.

"The key to achieving and maintaining lifetime fitness is prevention," said Bender, who is a certified athletic trainer (ATC) with both a bachelor's and a master's degree in athletic training.

According to Bender, athletic trainers are allied health care professionals who are the leading experts in identifying and accurately managing risk factors which lead to injuries and illness in active populations. Whether it is tendonitis or eating disorders, ATCs are trained to recognize not only mechanical predisposition for injury but also behaviors that contribute to unhealthy lifestyles.

Bender is currently the clinical education coordinator and lecturer for the Athletic Training Education Program at the University of North Carolina, Wilmington.

"From the Little League type to the weekend warrior, athletic trainers provide an important service to our community members through risk management, acute care, and patient education always with the goal to promote lifetime fitness and healthy living," said Bender.

Kennedy will address the importance of staying fit and active and how this can help to prevent injuries. She will discuss steps toward preparing for fitness or specific sporting activities and what to do if a person is unfortunate enough to experience pain or injury.

Kennedy holds a bachelor's degree in physical therapy, a master's degree in exercise physiology, and is highly skilled in the areas of athletic/sport injuries, orthopedics, joint-protection programs, joint replacements, and pediatrics. She is involved in youth sports and in developing programs for younger athletes during their off-season.

Dr. Johnson advocates that pursuing physical fitness is a must in order to obtain wellness.

"A person cannot be truly 'healthy' without routine exercise," said Johnson. He explains that while the most appropriate activities depend on an individual's age, current conditioning, and underlying medical condition, studies show that the lack of exercise contributes to a long list of illnesses, including heart disease, stroke, diabetes, lung disease, Alzheimer's disease, hypertension, and many forms of cancer.

Johnson developed an increased interest in the value of exercise years ago in a post myocardial infarction (heart attack) patient.

"As more information about exercise physiology became available, it became obvious that daily exercise is a benefit to everyone," said Johnson. "If the benefits of exercise were available as a pill, it is a pill we all should take."

Activities at this year's Health Fair will begin at 8:30 a.m., with the panel discussion scheduled to begin at 10:15 a.m. Other activities include various health screenings, guest speakers, informational booths and displays, and prizes. The event, sponsored by the Garrett County STEPS Committee, is open to the general public free of charge.

Three Arrested By NTF On Numerous CDS Charges

The Garrett County Narcotics Task Force made an arrest of three individuals on Tuesday for controlled dangerous substance violations according to sheriff Gary Berkebile, spokesperson for the NTF.

Members of the task force, assisted by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office SRT Team and uniformed troopers from the Maryland State Police McHenry Barrck, executed two search and seizure warrants at an apartment complex on Close Road, McHenry. As a result of the search and investigation, a marijuana plant was recovered along with marijuana, Ecstasy, Alprazalam, Oxycontin, and related CDS paraphernalia. Jordan Stackpole, 21, Pine Grove, W.Va., Shane Charley, 23, Wheeling, W.Va., and Adekite Segun Parker, 22, Silver Spring, were all taken into custody.

Stackpole is charged with possession of marijuana, possession of Oxycontin, possession of Alprazalam, and possession of CDS paraphernalia. He was released from the Garrett County Jail after posting a $2,000 bond.

Charley is charged with manufacturing marijuana, possession of marijuana, possession of Oxycontin, possession of Alprazalam, possession of Ecstasy, possession of CDS paraphernalia, and possession of manufacturing equipment. He is currently being held at the Garrett County Jail on $5,000 bond.

Parker is charged with possession of marijuana. He was released on personal recognizance after appearing before a District Court commissioner.

Driver Found In Possession Of Marijuana, Pipe

A Washington, D.C., man was arrested by Maryland State Police last Sunday after a traffic stop was conducted on I-68W near Finzel Road.

The driver, identified as John D. Jordan, 19, was stopped for traveling 80 mph in a 65 mph zone. When contact was made with Jordan, the trooper noticed a glass smoking pipe in his glove box. The pipe was found to contain suspected marijuana residue. He is charged with speeding, possession of marijuana, and possession of paraphernalia.

Jordan was released on personal recognizance with a trial pending.

Driver Cited For Failure To Control Speed

Garrett County sheriff's deputies responded to the area of National Pike/Rt. 40 and Meadow Mountain for a reported motor vehicle accident with injuries.

Investigation revealed that a vehicle driven by Dewayne Anthony Holli-day had failed to stop behind a vehicle making a right-hand turn. Holliday struck the vehicle, which was being operated by Patricia Ann Durst. He was cited for failure to control speed to avoid a collision.

G-FORCE Attends STEM Launch Event In D.C.

by Arlene Lantz

Garrett County's local 4-H FTC (FIRST Tech Challenge) G-FORCE team 2818 was recently invited to participate in a Science, Technology, Engineering & Math (STEM) launch event at the National Academies of Science and Engineering in Washington, D.C.

The students were honored guests, as this event was all about their future place in the workforce. Team member Levi Lantz spoke about his 4-H and FIRST robotic experiences and why he plans to be an engineer. The team members and mentors had the opportunity to speak with many business leaders, such as Norman Augustine, author of the Gathering Storm report, and Richard Stephens, a senior official at Boeing and a founding member of the group.

"This is an unprecedented coalition of employers," said Stephens, "We strongly believe that we need to take aggressive and unified steps together in order to ensure that in 2020 our workforce is prepared to keep our nation strong and competitive."

The U.S. workforce of 2020 is in trouble as current statistics show that students are falling behind. For example, the 2009 National Assessment of Educational Progress math tests found that fourth graders showed no signs of progress for the first time in many years, and eighth graders showed modest progress. Internationally, the 2006 Programme for International Student Assessment, which is the latest data available, found that American students ranked 21st out of 30 in science literacy and 25th out of 30 in math literacy. This coalition plans to work together to make positive changes.

More than 40 business and industry organizations representing more than 20 million employees have joined together to form this STEM Coalition to address the challenges for America's workforce through a number of actions. Advisory members from the federal Defense, Education, and Homeland Security departments, which also face shortages of highly skilled tech workers, joined the business community. The Business and Industry STEM Coalition announced its commitment to doubling the number of graduates with a bachelor's degree in science, technology, engineering or mathematics (STEM) from 200,000 to 400,000 by 2020.

Representatives Bart Gordon, chair of the House Science & Technology Committee, and Vern Ehlers, ranking member of the Research & Science Education Committee, were honored at the event for their strong support of and commitment to science, engineering and math education.

"The students left the event inspired to excel and spread their enthusiasm about science, technology, engineering, and math with others," said a spokesperson. Following this event, the team traveled to Baltimore to demonstrate their FTC robots at the Chesapeake FRC (FIRST Robotics Competition) regional event. They then went to Fort Meade to do a robotic SuGO program for their Teen Tech group. That afternoon, they returned to the FRC event. As FIRST Ambassadors, the boys also talked with spectators about their FTC competition robot, FIRST programs, and 4-H.

G-FORCE extended congratulations to Garrett County's FRC Team 1629, who won the prestigious Chairman's Award.

A 4-H Robotic Open House will be held at the GEARS Center, Accident, on Sunday, April 11, from 2 to 6 p.m. Young and old are invited to come have a day of hands-on fun with a variety of robotic platforms.

FTC TEAM ATTENDS REGIONAL TOURNEY – The local 4-H FTC team G-FORCE was recently invited to demonstrate its FTC robot at the FRC Chesapeake regional tournament in Baltimore. The team built a demonstration robot so youth of all ages could enjoy driving around trying to pick up and move objects, pictured above. As FIRST Ambassadors, the boys also talked with spectators about their FTC competition robot, FIRST programs, and 4-H. Below G-FORCE team members Nathan Tichnell and Mikail Perrine worked with youth at the Fort Meade Teen Center on the Army base in Baltimore. The boys helped the youth build LEGO SuGO bots and then held a SuGO competition. Tichnell and Perrine lead the program for the bi-monthly Fort Meade 4-H technology event. See story.

Injured Driver Arrested After Overturning Car

A motor vehicle with injuries led to the arrest of a man by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office. Deputies responded to the intersection of Garrett Highway and National Pike/Rt. 40 at approximately 8:30 p.m. last Friday evening.

Investigation revealed that a Ford truck operated by Luis Perez Monrroy had been traveling north on Garrett Highway, when he failed to stop at the intersection. The truck collided with the guardrail and overturned. Monrroy was transported to Ruby Memorial Hospital, Morgantown, W.Va., by the Maryland State Police helicopter, Trooper 5.

The following day, Monrroy was located in Garrett County and placed under arrest. He is charged with driving without a license, negligent driving, unlawful use of a motor vehicle, and unlawful taking of a motor vehicle. He was also wanted on an outstanding warrant for fourth degree burglary through Washington County. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail in lieu of a bond.

He is also being detained on immigration charges through the Immigration & Naturalization Service.

Arrested On Court Warrant For Assault

An Oakland man was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies on the strength of a District Court warrant.

Jamie Dee Stanton is charged with first degree assault and false imprisonment. The warrant was obtained by the victim. He was taken into custody to await a bond hearing.

The Garrett County Board of Education will holds its fourth Advisory Committee on Education (ACE) meeting for the 2009-10 school year on Monday, March 29, at 7 p.m. The meeting will be held in Room 215 at Garrett College. The agenda topic is the orientation session for the study of elementary school facilities. The public is invited to attend.

Motorcyclist Injured After Flipping Bike On Broadford Rd.

A local man was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital as the result of a motorcycle accident on Broadford Road.

Investigation revealed that Samuel Van Hess Butler III, 53, had been traveling south on his 2005 Harley Davidson bike, when he crossed across the north-bound lane while navigating a curve. His bike struck a ditch and flipped several times, ejecting Butler from it. Southern Rescue Squad transferred him to GCMH at approximately 2:30 a.m. this morning.

Oakland Volunteer Fire Department also assisted at the scene. The incident is still under investigation by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office.

Male Juvenile Injured In ATV Accident

Garrett County sheriff's deputies responded to Garrett County Memorial Hospital in reference to an ATV accident.

Investigation revealed that a male juvenile had been riding a 2006 Suzuki LTR-450 on private property, when he struck a tree. He was thrown from the vehicle. No citations were issued.

An Absolute Tragedy...

The actual ripping and tearing of Garrett County land to accommodate wind turbines began with a vengeance last week. The wind industry developers have won, and some residents of Garrett County have sustained major losses in the course of just a few days. A once serene, forested location exists no more for the residents along Eagle Rock Road. The value of their homes plummeted literally overnight, and their quality of life has been significantly diminished.

Thanks to about eight years of almost total inaction by the Garrett County commissioners with regard to wind turbines, these folks were completely unprotected and basically thrown to the dogs. At this point, there does not seem to be a single thing that the commissioners can do to help them. They themselves admitted that fact on Tuesday when one of the distraught sobbing Eagle Rock residents passionately begged them for help. She pointed out that one of their very basic responsibilities as commissioners is to protect the residents of the county, but that they have failed to do that. It is difficult to disagree with that assessment.

Besides refusing to do much of anything in the way of regulating the wind industry in Garrett County, the commissioners continue to not even breathe the word "zoning." The debate over countywide zoning is never-ending, with proponents stressing the protection that it provides to property owners, and opponents hammering away on the notion that an owner should be allowed to do whatever he wishes with his property.

Well, a quick trip up to Eagle Rock, to see an actual, dramatic, devastating result of zero protection, strongly endorses the need for some kind of zoning throughout Garrett County. Zoning works amazingly well, for the most part, in the Deep Creek Lake watershed and in many of our municipalities.

Yes, there are some zoning plans in some areas of the country that are too rigid, too restrictive, too unfair to private property owners. But that does not have to be the kind of plan adopted for Garrett County. Out of the thousands of counties throughout the country, there has to be at least one zoning plan that would be fair and work well for Garrett County. It's a bit complicated, but it is not rocket science. It's already "invented."

This is an absolute tragedy for the Garrett County citizens who reside near Eagle Rock. The fact that it was entirely preventable makes it even more tragic.

Letters to the Editor

Writers of letters to the editor are reminded that letters will not be published if they exceed 400 words, do not include contact information, and/or are deemed to be libelous.

To the Editor:

I love to read the letters to the editor; some are so good, others are so funny.

The one the woman wrote about drivers with no headlights on when required was good. I tell my husband every time I see one that if they got a $500 fine they would not forget the next time out. Thanks for the letter.

The one about the blonds on Fox News was funny. They know what a mess we are in right now and who got us there. We are on a one-way road going the wrong way fast.

Fox News tells both sides and is are the only news network that does. Some people just can't take the truth. We need to forget this party thing and start being a country again. We need to forget this health care trash and start thinking about the need for jobs.

And while I'm at it, would someone in Oakland or McHenry think about opening a family steak house? If you check way back, I asked this one other time.

To the Editor:

March is Social Work Month, and this year's theme is "Social Workers Inspire Community Action." Although social workers are an integral part of our community, the general public's understanding of what social workers do is still limited.

A social worker's responsibilities are varied, depending upon the employment setting, but a social work goal, no matter what the setting, is to engage patients/clients and family members in problem solving, based upon each unique situation. Social work values, both from an educational and personal standpoint, show a commitment to fairness. Professional social workers have a bachelor's, master's, or doctorate degree in social work, and are guided by the NASW Code of Ethics.

Although I now work in a hospital setting at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, I have worked in other professional settings and even in non-social work jobs. What I have found out: Social work skills and perspective are part of who I am.

I am fortunate to work in a small community and am glad GCMH has so much to offer our patients – emergency services (both medical and psychiatric), excellent acute care and surgical services, as well as a valuable sub-acute unit which builds upon a patient's strengths to enable him/her to return home.

We, as social workers, chose this career because we believe we can help make a significant impact in the lives of others. So, ask a social worker, "What do you do?"

To the Editor:

I am the community manager for the American Cancer Society. We are now in the 2010 Relay For Life season for Garrett County.

The relay this year is going to be on June 11 and 12 from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. on the Southern High School track. We are now in the process of trying to recruit more teams for the relay. We need as many teams as possible to make the event as successful as it can be.

At the moment, we are focusing on getting team captains or possible team captains/teams to attend the team meetings. We have not had a very good turnout, and we believe this is because the word is not getting out as it should be.

The team meetings help teams to get fundraising ideas and to learn more about the relay and what it has to offer. We would love to make this relay the most successful one yet!

The next team meeting is scheduled for Monday, April 12, at 7 p.m. at Garrett College. There will be a Relay Committee meeting held that same day at 6 p.m. Thank you!

To the Editor:

While Marcellus shale natural gas drilling opportunities seem lucrative, the process of gas extraction is not without severe risks and dangers. The Savage River Watershed Association (SRWA) contends that the clean surface and ground waters of Garrett County should not be threatened on or beneath public lands.

There are many problems associated with drilling, including increased air and noise pollution, and the introduction of invasive species. But SRWA's main concern is the negative impacts to water resources from Marcellus shale gas production, as reported by the U.S. Geological Survey:

Water supply – Deep-well drilling and hydraulic fracturing require up to three million gallons of water per treatment. Under drought conditions or in areas with stressed water supplies, obtaining this water will impact local water supplies. Since surface and ground waters are ultimately connected, this means potential impacts to stream and lake levels, as well as residential and agricultural wells.

Transporting fluids and supplies – moving large amounts of heavy equipment and supplies, as well as drill pad and pipeline construction, can cause erosion and threaten streams with sediment. In addition, there is potential for spills or leaks of industrial fluids and chemicals into water bodies as these are used and transported.

Wastewater disposal – To obtain gas from the shale, nearly all the water originally used to stimulate production must be recovered, treated, and disposed of. The wastewater from a three-million-gallon hydrofrac process contains roughly 15,000 gallons of chemicals. The recovered wastewater also contains a variety of substances that can make treatment difficult and expensive. These include brines, heavy metals, radio-nuclides, and organics at concentrations significantly exceeding drinking-water standards. High salinity in some Appalachian rivers has already been linked to the disposal of Marcellus shale brines.

Is Maryland prepared with regulations and staff to monitor drilling activities? How will chemically tainted wastewater be treated and where will it be released? Who will pay to monitor potential impacts to private wells near lands being drilled to ensure that drinking water for humans and livestock is not being impacted? Who will ultimately pay when wells and streams are contaminated?

The quality and quantity of Garrett County waters must be protected. Do not allow shale gas drilling and/or associated infrastructure on or beneath Maryland forest and park lands. The risk to fragile stream ecosystems, wells, and springs is simply too great. For more information, view Bryan Swistock's water resource webinars at http://naturalgas.psu.edu.

SRWA Board of Directors
John Bambacus, Kenny Braitman, Annie Bristow, Mike Dean, John Fritts, Ed Gates, Carol McDaniel, Liz McDowell, Rich Raesly

To the Editor:

I'm a consumer resident of Garrett County and go to the Harvey House Wellness and Recovery Center in Oakland, as do my children on so-called "family days" on Saturdays.

Wellness and recovery are not what we have received at all there. Last April we were promised not once but twice to go to Pittsburgh Zoo as a family outing, but pay our own fee for the trip. We still have not taken that trip.

The children were also promised a Thanksgiving dinner and a Christmas dinner at Smiley's, which also did not happen.

It's our center, but when we give opinions we get told we are mixed up, it will be taken care of, it will be looked into. This isn't the case at all.

The building itself is very small, and the only breaker box is located in a small crawl space underneath. The floors have bad spots, and the hot water tank is ready to go through the floor at any time. Part of the kitchen has been roped off because of the floor. There is no fire exit door in the back. In the summer time there are snakes that surround the building.

It is a Garrett County funded center, yet the program director is from Allegany County. No activities are ever held there other than whatever we can find to do ourselves. There are no support groups held on Fridays like they said we were supposed to have. The only support group meets on Wednesdays, and that is just for women.

The director and staff seem to want to keep things hush-hush so they can sit back and collect the state funding money. It's not a wellness and recovery center; it's only a state-funded building that is an unsafe environment for consumers and staff, where mental health consumers get promised things and lied to.

When is someone going to step up to the plate and do something about all these issues at Harvey House? Why can't it be run like it's supposed to be? After all, it's state funded for the purpose of wellness and mental recovery, not the opposite.

Consumers of Garrett County need the center. It seems that either the director and staff do not realize that or just plain don't care.

Concerned consumer,

amount qualification, but the county would have no problem reaching the per capita threshold.

"There's the state per capita, I think, of $6.8 million that has to be met to get a federal declaration, and then there's a county, based on population, threshold," Frantz said. "Ours is $96,000+ that has to be met. We'll have no problem reaching that for that period (Feb. 5-14)."

After FEMA verifies the documents, the county will host an applicants' briefing to review filing procedures. Departments, agencies, and towns will be asked to look at their paperwork and determine what days during the declaration period they incurred the most costs.

"Whatever the greatest expense they had for any 48-hour window will be what's eligible for reimbursement," Frantz said.

Therefore, for example, the Garrett County Roads Department's request period may differ from Loch Lynn's.

Commissioner Fred Holliday asked if the discrepancies could hurt the county's chance of getting funding.

"No," Frantz said. "That actually helps us maximize what's eligible for reimbursement."

While the director sounded optimistic about agencies receiving cleanup funding, he was not hopeful that local individual homeowners would get any reimbursement for winter storm damage.

After the most recent snow storm, Frantz had requested residents who had damages call his office and provide details about the problems. He stressed Tuesday that the information was gathered to see if there were enough damaged homes in the county to meet a federal threshold. Just because someone provided the information did not mean that he or she would automatically receive reimbursement, the director noted.

"There just wasn't that threshold out there," he said. "So, it does not look like we will be eligible, at least through FEMA, for individual assistance."

In order to be eligible for even a Small Business Administration loan, he noted there has to be major damage to at least 25 businesses.

But Frantz has been looking at other funding options, including such area nonprofit organizations as Mennonite Disaster Relief and Camp Hope.

The contact number for Camp Hope is 301-389-0444. Home owners will be asked to fill out an application and provide proof of income.

"I'm just beating the bushes for anything I can find to help," Frantz said about alternative sources for individuals.

Commissioner Ernie Gregg said it was fortunate there was not more damage in the county, but what did occur was significant.

Frantz concurred. "We accumulated 25 to 30 different people who called in and left information about significant damage, but, again, it's just not going to meet any threshold for any assistance that's out there that I'm aware of," he said.

He said the problem is that some items qualify in certain categories and some items qualify in other categories, but the cumulative amount is not enough to put the county over certain required thresholds.

"A lot of these folks had a lot of loss," the director said about local storm damage. "Some of these places look like a bomb went off."

The commissioners next scheduled meeting is Tuesday, March 30, beginning at 9 a.m. and the lower-than-expected rainfall as a result of the recent nor'easter made spring flooding this year highly unlikely, the officials said.

"At one point, it was determined that the lake would only be able to accommodate 40% of the snow pack sitting in the watershed," said David Barnhart, general manager for Brookfield's mid-America operations. "The quick action and exceptional collaboration with MDE and DNR, not to mention a bit of luck from Mother Nature, helped us avert a potentially serious situation."

Carolyn Mathews, manager of the Deep Creek Lake Recreation Area, said the outcome was the best they could have hoped for.

"Not only were we able to avoid conditions that could have negatively impacted our recreational season, but the general public used good judgment when recreating on the lake during the fluctuations, and stayed safe," Mathews said.

Deep Creek Lake levels are a balance of inputs from precipitation (including snow melt) and outputs, or water usage, as permitted by Water Appropriation and Use permits from the Maryland Department of the Environment.

Under Deep Creek Hydroelectric Station's permit, Brookfield is able to utilize water from the lake to generate hydropower while constantly analyzing data to maintain lake levels within an established "rule band" with upper and lower limits, Barnhart explained. In this way, the Deep Creek Hydroelectric Station is able to control lake levels except during times when inputs are greater than the station's ability to utilize the water.

Lake levels are posted at www.deepcreekhydro.com.

Daughters of Promise Conference & Concert

Christine Wyrtzen

Saturday, April 17, beginning at 8:30 a.m.

Luncheon included

Christine Wyrtzen is a best-selling author, speaker, musician and host of Daughters of Promise, a nationally syndicated radio program for women heard daily on over 500 outlets. Her best known recording is For Those Who Hurt. It is an album offered to those who are experiencing pain, and the perfect way for them to hear God's whispers is through music.

Come and explore the new birth. Come and learn how to harness the reality and joy of a new identity. Christine will take you to familiar Bible passages: Jesus is the door to the kingdom; His Word is the key. Daily, we can put on our kingdom shoes and live in heaven's reality instead of Earth's drudgery. Whether we're recovering from our past, seizing our life's calling in the present, or dreaming of a future, it all awaits inside the gates of God's kingdom. We were made to live in it. We were also made to languish without it. Which side of the fence are you living on?

You are a daughter of promise. The sky is the limit, but it's up to each of us to learn how to experience Jesus, eat His Word, and apply it in such radical ways that we will never look the same to anyone again, not even to the face looking back in the mirror.

Registration for the day is $5.00

Award Bids

$150,000. Construction of the project's Phase I is being funded with Appalachian Regional Commission money in the amount of $750,000.

Highland Engineering's work will include the study and preliminary design phase, final design phase, and a traffic study.

Bowers said the firm anticipates that design work will be completed late this fall. Construction of the road itself is expected to be finished by summer 2011.

Holliday and Gregg noted that Highland's bid was not the lowest one submitted and questioned why the committee preferred its proposal over others.

Bowers said Highland's bid included a $12,039 stream restoration plan. The firm will be subcontracting with the Canaan Valley Institute to restore Cherry Glade Run.

Bowers said the stream is currently running through a culvert underground. He said Highland felt it would be more cost effective and more likely to receive the Maryland Department of the Environment's approval to restore the stream than it would be to put in another underground culvert.

The commissioners also awarded BYCO Enterprises' $187,032 bid to cap the Garrett County Landfill rubble cell. The Grantsville company had the lowest bid of the eight submitted.

"All eight bids received for this project were below the engineer's estimate of $258,700," Bowers said.

The county allocated $380,000 for the project in its Fiscal Year 2010 budget.

BYCO has 120 days from "notice to proceed" to finish its work, which includes clearing and grubbing, subgrading, stalling culverts, and seeding and mulching.

March 29, April 5, and April 12. Besides discussions with Garrett College trustees, faculty, students and staff, each candidate will meet leaders of local government, business, cultural and service organizations, and district schools at a community reception.

"We are pleased to recommend these excellent candidates to the board of trustees," said Duane Yoder, chair of the Presidential Search Advisory Committee, made up of college and community representatives.

Assisted by consultants from the Association of Community College Trustees (ACCT), the national search attracted more than 50 candidates from among whom the finalists have been selected. The board of trustees will meet in closed session on April 20 to arrive at the hiring decision. The new president is expected to take office in July and will replace Dr. Jeanne Neff, president emeritus of the Sage Colleges, N.Y., who has served as interim president of Garrett College since May 2009.

OFF LIKE A SHOT!
While the public is increasingly becoming aware that accumulated exposure to loud noise will lead to hearing loss, it also pays to remember that a single exposure to an extraordinarily loud noise can instantaneously produce the same disastrous effect. Those who hunt and shoot firearms or work in blast zones should know that exposure to a sudden intense noise, known as "acoustic trauma," produces immediate symptoms including a sense of fullness in the ears and tinnitus. Even if hearing improves somewhat after experiencing such trauma, there may be a degree of permanent hearing loss which will be a function of the intensity and duration of the noise. A test to assess the extent of this loss is advised.
Unfortunately, many people don't realize they have exposed their hearing to dangerous sound levels until it is too late. If you or a loved one has suffered hearing impairment due to excessive noise, injury, disease, or the aging process, remember you've got a friend at AUDIBEL, where our goal is a straightforward one--help the hearing impaired through our expertise, personal service, and the latest technology.
P.S. Unsupervised and careless use of fireworks is one of the most common causes of acoustic trauma leading to permanent hearing loss.

She also noted that mixing one's own ingredients may vary for personal needs and preferences. Ressie passed the granola mix she had made while explaining its basic use and possibilities for various uses. She also found in her study that homemade mixes are less expensive.

She now lives in Uniontown, Pa.

Cards were sent to Bonnylin Lantz, Dan Liston, and Bernard "Buzz" Arnold. The meetings for both January and February were canceled because of inclement weather. Dale Harsh was chosen as March Senior of the Month. It was also decided that the club will not plan for shopping or meals in Terra Alta until later in the spring.

Preston County EDA Launches New Web Site

The Preston County Economic Development Authority has been working with Asayo Creative, a web design company, to update its web site.

The web address is still www.prestonwv.com, but the site has a fresh new look with much more data available, according to EDA director Robbie Baylor.

"Web sites are an essential marketing tool in economic development," she said. "They must have all the information site selectors need about a location. Our goal was to make our site very functional for site selectors, while also providing information for existing businesses and Preston County citizens."

Industries, site selection information, available sites and buildings, maps and resources are all features of the web site. Pages will be updated on a regular basis, Baylor noted.

Persons who have a location for development to add to the list are asked to let the EDA office know. Information forms to complete are available.

"You can include a picture of your land or building," Baylor added.

The office is located at 330 East Main Street, Suite 100, Kingwood.

"The office worked hard to collect the data and to polish this site for a more professional image," the director said. "Asayo Creative is still adding embellishments to improve the look and accessibility of the site."

The Arts

CIVIC CLUB ART SHOW WORKS EARN HONORABLE MENTION – Two local student artists received honorable mentions for their white charcoal drawings, which were first entered in the GFWC Civic Club of Oakland's annual Youth Art Show in January. Any pieces that received a first, second, or third prize on the local level were then taken to the GFWC/MFWC Western District Youth Art Show in LaVale, which took place on March 20. Southern High School students Kaylee Sisler and Ian Jobe earned the honorable mentions for their still-life drawings, shown above. Sisler's was titled "Heart Pendant" and Jobe's was "Pocket Watch." Pictured with the entries, from left, are Civic Club members Anne Forrester, Western District president, Helen Earles, Dorothy Cathell, and Betty Ellington. Anyone interested in obtaining information about the Civic Club of Oakland may contact the membership chairperson at 301-509-9440.

Choral Society Presenting "Sweet Music, Sweet Harmony" Concert

The musical creations of composer Ralph Vaughan Williams will be the focus of the Garrett Choral Society's next concert, which will be given on April 10 at 7:30 p.m. and April 11 at 2 p.m. at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Oakland. The concert is titled "Sweet Music, Sweet Harmony."

The choral society, which includes singers from across Garrett County, is under the direction of Julie Turrentine. The group will be accompanied by Lynn Grimm.

Patricia Fanara Wolfe, a professional soprano, will sing as soloist with the group in Five Mystical Songs. A feature story about Wolfe will be published in next week's issue.

Ralph Vaughan Williams (1872-1958) was an English composer of symphonies, chamber music, opera, choral music, and film scores. He was also a collector of English folk music and song; this also influenced his editorial approach to the English Hymnal, for which he composed several folk song arrangements set as hymn tunes, in addition to several original compositions.

In Albion: The Origins of the English Imagination, Peter Ackroyd wrote that the composer's music is "ostensibly familiar and commonplace, yet deep and mystical as well as lyrical, melodic, melancholic, and nostalgic, yet timeless." Ackroyd quoted music critic John Alexander Fuller Maitland, who was an editor for second edition of Grove's Dictionary of Music and Musicians around 1911, as having observed that in Vaughan Williams' style "one is never quite sure whether one is listening to something very old or very new."

His style expresses a deep regard for and fascination with folk tunes, a spokesperson said, "the variations upon which can convey the listener from the down-to-earth to the ethereal."

The Garrett Choral Society will present a number of Williams' works, including "O Clap Your Hands," "O Taste and See," "The Dark-Eyed Sailor," and several other pieces. Solos in these works will include Carolyn Deverse, Don Sincell, and Dave Callis. Flutist Lindy Moebs will accompany a presentation of "Greensleeves."

Serenade to Music, a musical setting of a scene from Act V of Williams Shakespeare's play The Merchant of Venice, will be presented and will feature the following soloists: Beth Moore-Mankin, soprano; Mary McEwen, mezzo soprano; Jim Tong, tenor; Gary Wotherspoon, baritone; and Wayne Callis, bass.

The tickets for the program are $10 for adults and $5 for youth 18 years and younger. One dollar from each ticket will be donated toward Haiti relief via Heart to Heart International, a global humanitarian organization. Persons may learn more about the organization at www.hearttoheart.org.

Tickets are available from any choral society member, or at the door.

THE ROSEDALE CHORALE will be in concert at Cherry Glade Mennonite Church along Accident-Bittinger Road, Accident, on Sunday, April 4, 10:30 a.m., and at Maple Glen Mennonite Church along Maple Glen Drive, Grantsville, at 7 p.m. the same day. The chorale, directed by Kenneth Miller, is a select group of 34 students from Rosedale Bible College, an Anabaptist/Mennonite junior Bible college located in Rosedale, Ohio. The program, which consists of selections ranging from the masters to contemporary, is free and open to the public. For more information, persons may call 301-245-4580.

Oakland Resident Among Top 10 In Photo Contest

A portrait image by Oakland photographer Jim Crabtree with model Kasey Bell of Oakland was recently picked as a top-10 winner in an international portrait photography competition.

The yearly competition was a showcase event called Fresh Faces – Stars of the WPPI. The contest was open to all photographers involved with the professional organization called Wedding & Portrait Professionals International (WPPI).

"This competition is considered one of the 'super bowls' of international photography, for WPPI and Rangefinder magazine," Crabtree said. "The professional stage of the contest is complete and most important. The rest is basically determined by the most popular photographer who collects the most votes."

Crabtree's image of Bell, titled "The Mummy," was shot as a greeting card concept, but with the idea of professional competition in mind when shooting.

The contest was held during WPPI's recent annual international convention in Las Vegas, Nev., and was conducted in association with Rangefinder and After Capture magazines and sponsored by Adobe Systems Inc.

The contest was open to all international photographers and had over 1,000 entries from approximately 10 countries. A professional judging team then narrowed the field down to the 20 top images, based on technical skills, creativity, and impact.

The 20 top images were considered by the judges as having first place winning and magazine cover potential. The contest was then open to the public and professionals to vote online for their personal favorites.

According to Crabtree, he had a definite spot in the top 10 at the convention closing, with the possibility of moving up higher as the final votes were tabulated. (The final contest standings could not be obtained at press time.)

Over 77,500 votes were cast for the people's choice portion of the competition.

All top-20 winners will be featured in Rangefinder or After Capture and possibly as magazine covers later in the year.

"Just being in the top 10 is satisfaction enough and fine with me," Crabtree said.

He has placed high in similar competitions in Rangefinder and in Photographer magazine cover competitions for the past four years.

Crabtree is also a member of the National Association of Photoshop Professionals and is now a confidential beta tester for Adobe Systems Software. He is also a contributor and beta tester for Topaz Labs Imaging, a video and still image enhancement software company.

Dairy Insurance Meeting Planned

An informational meeting about Livestock Gross Margin (LGM) Dairy Insurance will be held at the Garrett County Extension Office in Oakland on Wednesday, March 31, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Don Spickler, an insurance agent, will be available to explain how LGM Dairy Insurance works.

Persons wishing to attend should call the Extension office at 301-334-6960. The meeting is free, and a light lunch will be provided.

The USDA created the new type of crop insurance last year. It is aimed at helping dairy farmers protect against high feed prices and low milk prices.

LGM Dairy protects against loss of gross margin (market value of milk minus feed costs) on milk produced from dairy cows. The indemnity at the end of the 11-month insurance period is the difference between the gross margin guarantee and the actual gross margin (if positive).

The policy uses future prices and state bases for corn and milk to determine expected and actua! gross margin, and may be tailored to any size farming operation.

LGM Dairy is different from traditional options in that it is a bundled option covering the price of both milk and feed costs. Producers can sign up 12 times per year and insure up to 240,000 cwt per year.

DCP AND ACRE ENROLLMENT DEADLINE APPROACHING

Eric McCartney, executive director of USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA) in Preston County, reminds producers that June 1, 2010, is the deadline for the 2010 Average Crop Revenue Election (ACRE) Program or the traditional Direct and Counter-cyclical Program (DCP). This is a mandatory deadline for all participants, and FSA will not accept any late-file applications.

"It is critical for producers to begin the enrollment process as soon as possible," McCartney said, noting that there were 86 Preston County farms enrolled in DCP during 2009. "To date, 64% of the eligible farms have been enrolled in 2010 DCP/ACRE programs. There are 36% eligible Preston County farms remaining to enroll by the June 1 deadline."

All signatures of producers receiving a share in DCP/ACRE payments are required by the deadline. It is important that producers who have not enrolled contact the Preston County FSA office before the June 1 deadline.

For more information about the DCP/ACRE programs, persons are advised to visit the Preston County FSA office, located in the Corner Mall of the Kingwood Plaza, telephone 304-329-1923, or visit online at http://www.fsa.usda.gov.

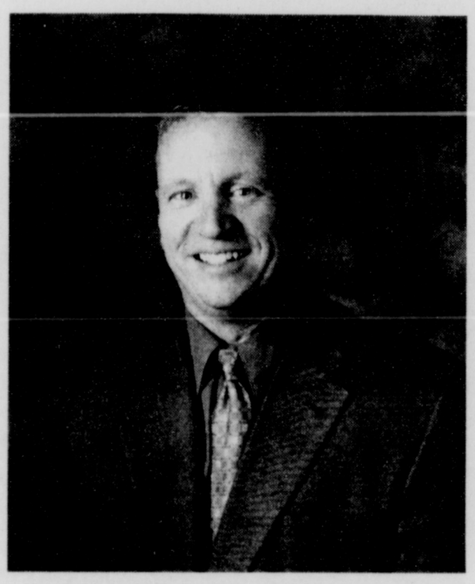
A message from your candidate for Sheriff



Over the course of the last several months, I have been approached by individuals who would like to know what my plans are for the Garrett County Sheriff's Office if I were to be elected Sheriff. It is easy to answer these questions one by one; however, it is difficult to get the message to everyone who would like to hear it. My plan is simple: I will operate the Garrett County Sheriff's Office just as I operate my career now.

First and foremost, the Sheriff needs to be respectful. I have always believed that a deputy who is respectful to the public is better looked upon than one who comes across arrogant or distasteful. I know too well that we, as Sheriff's Deputies, have a job to do and most often times we are looked down upon by individuals who may not benefit from decisions that we have to make. To these folks I can say only this, as Sheriff's Deputies, we have a responsibility to you as well as to all citizens in Garrett County to perform our duties in a fair and impartial manner and on some occasions we are forced to make decisions that may not be to your individual benefit. These decisions are often rendered unfair or biased; however, it is our duty to handle matters according to the law. This most often makes our positions as "Police Officers" an unpopular one.

I know first hand that everyone makes mistakes, myself included, but I believe that we are still owed a certain amount of respect from law enforcement. As Sheriff, I will not tolerate officers disrespecting, degrading or intimidating citizens of our county. With that being said, I will not tolerate a citizen who unjustly disrespects, degrades or intimidates your deputies. I believe that is a fair trade, but one that is often overlooked.

I believe a sheriff should be readily available to the public. If elected as Sheriff, it is my intention to continue chairing numerous drug and alcohol committees, presenting educational programs to state and local agencies as well as schools, senior centers and youth groups. I will continue to be involved with what I have worked so hard to build in our communities. I will afford the time to personally attend town meetings to hear your concerns and work with councils and citizens to resolve any problems.

Do not believe for a moment that as Sheriff I will spend my entire day behind a desk. I am just as valuable on the road and in your neighborhoods as any uniformed patrol deputy. In my 15 years as a patrol officer, I have handled almost every imaginable complaint and will continue to assist the patrol officers whenever needed. I intend to be visible in all aspects; therefore if you have a question, complaint, or concerns, do not hesitate to approach me.

Lastly, I expect the citizens of this county to hold me accountable for my actions. My decisions will not always be favorable ones and I, like each of you, will make mistakes. I assure you that these mistakes will be learned from and the knowledge they provide will make me a better Sheriff for you in years to come.

I want the citizens of this county to know that you have a voice and it is my duty to listen to it. I may not always agree, nor you with me, but I will be honest and I will listen. If you believe that these are the traits that you would like to see in your next Sheriff, then I urge you to take a stand and vote for me, Robert Corley, on Election Day, September 14, 2010.

Over the course of the next several months, I will outline my plans for the future of the Sheriff's Office in several newspaper and radio advertisements. I want you, the citizens of this county, to know where I stand and what I stand for. As a candidate for Sheriff, I owe each of you that.

I hope that this may have answered any questions that you may have had regarding my campaign for sheriff. If you still have one that needs addressed, ask me personally. I will be glad to answer it for you.

I would also like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has contributed to my campaign through financial donations or the purchase of fundraising raffle tickets, and would like to congratulate Hayden McLaughlin for being the winner of the recent spring turkey season raffle.

Rams Focus On Goals For Season; Claim 8-3 Season Opener Victory

Each year a sports team opens a new season, the goals tend to remain the same: Win the region and make it to the state championship. For the Southern High School varsity baseball team, these goals are still in play, but the team adds another expectation and that is to improve every day.

The Rams finished last season with a 12-3 record, and have opened the 2010 season with a promising outlook. Southern rolled to an 8-3 victory over Hampshire last night in Romney.

The Rams lost seven players to graduation, but returned four key starters to the field this year. Seniors Nathan King and Jeremy Sharpless return as starting pitchers, and junior Corey Helbig comes back as Southern's catcher. Junior Jakob Scheffel takes the short-stop position for another year, and senior Ben Myers will take his spot in the outfield for one last season.

King was the leading vote-getter among the first-team infielders in the 2009 season. He was also named to the All-Area first team, and led the Rams in batting, getting 25 hits in 55 at-bats for a .455 average. He also scored 14 runs and shared the team lead with Helbig with six doubles and 17 RBI.

King was one of only three area pitchers with at least four wins to go undefeated. He was 5-0 with a 3.16 ERA with just 10 walks and 38 strikeouts in 31 innings pitched.

Helbig captured a second place in the Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference, and scored a place on the All-Area first team as well. He batted a .431, and got 22 hits in 51 at-bats. He scored a team-high 21 runs, shared the team lead with six doubles and 17 RBI, and belted a pair of home runs.

Scheffel, a sophomore infielder at Southern, batted .422 with 19 hits in 45 at-bats. He had one double, one home run and seven RBI, and struck out only four times in 48 plate appearances.

According to head coach Dan Holler, because of these returning players, the team will get off to a good start.

"The main concern is the youth of the team," said Holler. "With only three seniors, we will have to grow up in a hurry. Thankfully we have two strong starting pitchers returning, and they will hopefully help us get through the early games until we can get some experience."

And get them through they did, as Sharpless and King combined to allow just six hits from the Trojans. The Rams' 6-run second inning and 10-hit attack made all the difference in the game. The final runs came in the sixth and seventh innings.

Hampshire managed one run in each the second and third innings, and recorded its final run at the bottom of the sixth. Isaiah Chaney and Josh Moreland had a double, single, and an RBI to make up the Trojan offense.

Southern junior first basemen Sean Rollman, Helbig, and King all finished with a pair of singles. Rollman and Helbig both had two runs batted in, while junior pitcher and first baseman Ryan Bennett hit an RBI double.

The line-up for the 2010 Rams will be pitchers King and Sharpless, Helbig as catcher, Bennett and Rollman as first base positions, Cody Myers on second base, Calvin Hilliard on third base, Scheffel at short stop, Ben Myers and Shane Peck in left field, Hunter Haskiell in center field, and Tyler Sweitzer in right field.

The team will be coached by Holler, assisted by Shawn Nesselrodt, Cork Sweitzer, and Steven Skipper.

Southern is scheduled to travel to Allegany tonight, and will head to Keyser this Friday. The Rams will finish up with an away game against Fort Hill on Tuesday. See the schedule for all of the Rams' season games.

POSSIBLY RECORDING A SINGLE is Southern High School junior catcher Corey Helbig during the varsity baseball team's game against Hampshire last night in Romney. The Rams cruised to an 8-3 defeat of the Trojans, and Helbig recorded two singles as well as two RBI in the victory. Jeremy Sharpless, Southern's starting senior pitcher, is below about to send in a fast one to a Trojan opponent. He and senior pitcher Nathan King allowed just six hits from Hampshire in the season opener. See story for more information. Photos by Jim King, sports editor for the Hampshire Review.

SHS Softball Team Opens Season With A 16-1 Domination

The Southern High School varsity softball team had quite a start to its 2010 season as it opened with a 16-1 domination of host Bishop Walsh last night in its first game. The Rams were led by returning junior pitcher Kendra Hardesty and senior catcher Lyndsey Glotfelty.

Hardesty recorded four strikeouts and allowed just three singles in the five-inning contest. At the plate she came through with a double and three singles. Southern standout sophomore Alycia Horner managed four single hits for the Rams, while Glotflety and Katie Eggleston posted two singles each.

Southern got one run in the first inning, and broke open in the second to lead 5-0. The Spartans' only run came in the third inning off a Becca Winner single. The Rams answered back with a 7-run fifth inning, and added four more in the final.

Southern is scheduled to be on the road to Petersburg tonight, to Hampshire on Saturday, and to Frankfort on Wednesday. See the schedule for all of the Rams' season games.

THE PRESSURE COOKER

Phew! After four years of declining home sales, the numbers appear to be finally turning back upward, with closed sales and pending contracts at above-normal increases. In particular, first-time buyers helped buoy the market by taking advantage of low prices and interest rates, as well as the $8,000 tax credit offered by the federal government.

At least for now, home prices remain attractively low, and mortgage payments as they relate to income are very comfortable. All the information seems to point to the fact that home prices have actually overcorrected downward. What does that mean? It indicates that many markets may experience a price "snap back," with values increasing a lot more than the historical average of 4% appreciation per year.

Some factors may continue to make buyers cautious, mostly declines in retirement savings and a lukewarm economic recovery with unemployment hovering around 10% nationally. Now is not the time to hesitate, however, as mortgage interest rates are expected to rise in 2010.

We can expect the momentum of home sales to continue, especially with the extension of the tax credit through April and the fact that qualification is no longer limited to just first-time buyers. Prices and interest rates will rise this year, so buyer confidence should be at an all-time high. The pressure cooker of pent-up demand is about to blow its top!

Huskies Shutout By Hampshire In Season Opener

The opening game for the varsity softball team of Northern High School didn't go well, as it fell to Hampshire, 2-0, last night in Romney. Pitcher Taryn Brenneman and catcher Miranda Beasom did all they could for the Huskies, who matched the Trojans hit-for-hit, 5-5, but were unable to bring any player home.

The Huskies will be on the road for the next three games beginning with a game against Keyser on Saturday. Northern will travel to Frankfort on Monday and to Mtn. Ridge on Wednesday. See the schedule for all of the Huskies' season games.

Northern Tennis Teams Open Season With Losses To Allegany

The 2010 tennis season opened for Northern High School last night in Cumberland with a match against Allegany, but with pour weather conditions not allowing for much outside practice, the Huskies suffered losses. The boys' team was swept 7-0 by the Campers, and the girls' team was edged 4-3.

"We have a strong team with three of our top five seeds returning," said the girls' head coach, Linda Wengerd. "Several players attended camps and took lessons during the off-season to prepare. Once the season really gets under way, our play will improve."

Junior Cara Stough, senior Chelsie Custer, and junior Morgan Brosnihan return to the Northern girls' team as the top three seeds, respectively, who finished last season at 6-6. The Huskies lost Lacey Swauger to graduation.

Stough, Custer, and Brosnihan all fell in their singles matches, but senior Jordyn Milton claimed the first win for Northern with a 9-7 defeat of Allegany's Katey Roberts. The Huskies' Ashley Miller, a sophomore, posted the second win with an 8-1 domination of Maria Monteleone.

Northern's doubles team of Cassie Doerr and Lauren Adams defeated Allegany's team of Uba Dayalan and Morgan Walbert, 8-1. Stough and Custer fell 8-3 in their doubles match against Amber Beckman and Olivia Umpierre.

Dan Beitzel was the closest to taking a match for Northern, but fell 8-5 to Allegany's Zach Ruppert.

The Husky boys' and girls' teams are scheduled to host Fort Hill this evening, and will then travel to Mtn. Ridge on Monday. They will finish up their week with a home match against Allegany on Tuesday. See the schedule for all of Northern's season matches.

REAL-LIFE LEARNING – Local personal trainer Jennifer Sober, who is currently instructing the "Training for a Half-Marathon" class at Garrett College, accompanied three of her trainees to the St. Patrick's Day 5K race in Uniontown, Pa. All four McHenry women finished with impressive results. Sober, said to be practicing what she preaches, won her age division and was the 2nd fastest female out of a field of 65 competitors. Andie Devens, finished second in the 30-34 female division, and the 40-44 female age group was dominated by McHenry residents Kellyann Green with a 1st place finish and Heather Kileen who finished 2nd. "Our results are the direct result of Jen's guidance and training plan," said Green, who has been training with Sober since 2007. "No matter what level you are, or what your goals you have, Jen knows how to take you to the next level." Steve Green and Sean Sober, also both of McHenry, finished in the male 40-44 age groups with a 4th and 6th place. In the photo, from left, are Jen Sober, Green, Deven, and Kileen.

Cardboard Box Racers, Spectators Have "Beachin'" Time To Help Lions

by Ed King

The Deep Creek Lake Lions Club Cardboard Box Derby was just one event of the recent Beachin' Weekend sponsored by Wisp Resort. The 65 degree temperatures and lots of sunshine were complementary to the name. In fact, many of the several hundred spectators were dressed in shorts and T-shirts. Several of the hearty were even reported skiing in bathing suits.

The derby was a family affair, with moms and dads helping build the boxes and delivering them to the Bear Claw Tubing Park. There the entries were judged for their design and creativity prior to the race against the clock down Lane One of the park.

Along with the perfect weather, there was a festive atmosphere making the day a "10 plus,' said a spokesperson. The music of DJ Jonny Rock filled the air, along with many helium balloons floating up into the blue sky.

Doug McClive, along with several other Lions Club members, prepared and served a variety of foods, including delicious gourmet hot dogs.

Vicki Buckle of Wisp Resort had a complete bar featuring drafts, Bloody Marys, and several rum cocktails. In fact, corporate Bacardi Girls were there featuring rum drinks.

As the judging for the design category began, the members of each team stood beside their entry trying to impress the judges with the unique features of their boxes. One team had a 20-person cheerleading team who tried to persuade the judges with rhymes, song, and favors.

At the conclusion of the judging, entrants began the ascent to the top of the tubing park with their cardboard creations for the race.

"This is a great spectator event, and if you haven't attended, you must next year," the spokesperson said.

The age group of 11 years and younger went first to race against the clock. If the design was not well constructed or too short or too top heavy, that spelled trouble with a capital "T." Spills and upsets were quite common, which was all fun and laughs except for those participants who crashed. Most of the box designs were successful in completing the run down the tubing park.

Next came riders of ages 12 and above. Company entries were last and in most cases built more for speed.

There were cash prizes for the first-, second-, and third-place winners, and there were seven categories of prizes. The winners were as follows.

Design – Ages 11 and under: 1st, Brittany Stable in Brittany's Dragster; 2nd, Bear Mead in U.S.S. Mead Tank; and 3rd, Adriane Spiker in First Day of Spring

Design – Ages 12 and older: 1st, Team Scooter in Batman Bobsled; 2nd, the Smiths in Brick Racer; and 3rd, James Phillips in Dune Buggy.

Design – Companies: 1st, Total Biz Fulfillment in TBF Tank; 2nd, MP Air in School Bus; and 3rd, Wisp Resort Ski School in Smokey Speed – Ages 11 and under: 1st, the Campbell family in The Tank Engine, 23:65; 2nd, Shiann Lynch in 3 Kids in a Tub; and 3rd, B Bobbitt in Football.

Speed – Ages 12 and older: 1st, Rick Marklin in Tuboggan; 2nd, Trevor Green in Fighting Irish; and 3rd, the Hannah Girls in Scream Cheese.

Speed – Companies: 1st, the Hannah Girls in Scream Cheese; 2nd, Long & Foster in "Bob" Sled; and 3rd, MP Air in School Bus.

Judge's Choice: 1st, the Hannah Girls in Scream Cheese; 2nd, Shiann Lynch in 3 Kids in a Tub; and 3rd, Maryland School for the Blind in Bee Hive.

"Thanks are extended to all who participated with a cardboard box entry and all spectators who came out in support of the Deep Creek Lake Lions Club fundraiser," said the spokesperson.

Sponsors of the event were Wisp Resort, Rob Michael of State Farm Insurance, Bill's Marine Service, Ridgeview Valley, Team One Auto Mall, Deep Creek Marina, Railey Realty, Underwater Wear, SilverTree Marine, Greenscapes, High Mountain Sports, Coldwell Banker Deer Creek Realty, and Long & Foster Real Estate.

A TANK, GIANT WVU FOOTBALL, DRAGSTER, AND OTHER CREATIONS were seen racing down the Wisp Bear Claw Tubing Park during the Deep Creek Lake Lions Club Cardboard Box Derby last Saturday. Prizes were awarded in design, speed, and judge's choice categories. Proceeds benefit the club's Blind Skiers and other programs. See story. Committee Hears Beitzel's "Made In America" Bill

A measure, sponsored by Del. Wendell R. Beitzel (R-Dist. 1A), which would require that state agencies purchase American-made uniforms, as well as safety equipment and protective accessories, was heard before the House Health and Government Operations Committee on Tuesday.

"This is a jobs bill, plain and simple," Beitzel said. "With state unemployment rates over 8 percent – that's 243,323 Marylanders who are out of work – we need to do something to foster jobs."

According to the delegate, there are at least 20 states that have some form of "Buy American" purchasing preferences. Beitzel's legislation was an adoption of a Minnesota law that was passed in 2009. Most recently, the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act, also known as the "Stimulus Bill," also included certain provisions that required the use of American made steel, iron, and manufactured goods.

Beitzel's introduction of the bill stemmed from a request from Fechheimer Manufacturing, located in Grantsville. Fechheimer employees 150 workers in Garrett County that make uniforms for state employees in states around the country that have Buy American requirements.

The primary reason Fechheimer is manufacturing uniforms and other items in Grantsville is because other states have the Buy American requirements, according to Beitzel.

"This is why it is important that we help keep jobs in Maryland," he said.

Beitzel also offered a number of amendments to the measure, similar to the Stimulus Bill, that provide an exemption to the bill's requirements if the quality, quantity, or cost of the American made product provides a hardship on the department participating in the procurement process.

"These amendments recognize the budgetary constraints in which the state agencies now find themselves, while keeping the overall purpose of the bill still intact," commented Beitzel.

Sen. George C. Edwards (R-Dist. 1) has a companion bill in the Senate. There has been no hearing scheduled for his bill.

JRL Maryland, WV Boat Ramps To Open April 1

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has announced the kick-off of the 2010 recreation season at Jennings Randolph Lake on Thursday, April 1, at 8 a.m., when the Corps boat launches on both the Maryland and West Virginia shores of the lake will be opened.

The Maryland ramp is managed by the Maryland Department of Natural Resources, and is located along Mt. Zion Road off Maryland State Route 135 near the salt shed on Backbone Mountain.

The Maryland DNR service charge will be $5 for launching a boat. The 2010 Maryland State Forest and Park Service All-Season Pass can be purchased for $75 for Maryland residents, or $100 for out-of-state residents. The pass can be purchased at all Maryland state parks. The pass offers free day-use entry for everyone in a vehicle (up to nine people) to Maryland's state parks and Cedarville State Forest, free boat launching at most facilities, and a 10% discount on state-operated concessions and boat rentals. For parks with honor box systems, the pass covers entry service charges.

Both the Corps annual pass and the Maryland All-Season pass are valid at either boat launch on Jennings Randolph Lake.

The West Virginia launch is located alongside Howell Run, just off West Virginia State Route 46, three miles north of Elk Garden, W.Va.

The Corps charges visitors a $3 fee for launching a boat from its ramp. An annual pass that will allow an unlimited number of launches at all Corps parks is on sale for $30 at the Corps park office.

The park office is located on the West Virginia side of the lake.

GC Web Page Gets A Facelift

by Melissa Parker

No longer will the Garrett College web site be considered difficult to navigate. The site is getting an upgrade, and the college will launch the new site next Tuesday, March 30, complete with a link to its new Facebook Page.

"The college web site is currently experiencing, on average, approximately 3,000 new users a month," said Ann Wellham, dean of marketing and enrollment management at Garrett. "This really made it clear to us that it was essential for our site to be attractive and user friendly. We spent a great deal of time obtaining feedback about our current web site and feel that we have made very positive changes to assist individuals in finding information."

Aside from the new, improved look of the web site, it will be trouble-free to find needed information.

"Our improved navigation will make it easier than ever to find what you need," said Linda Stevanus, GC's web master. "We've added a search feature to make finding relevant information easier and faster."

The new web site will also contain all dynamic data, which will make it easier to maintain up-to-date information.

The front page will include college and local events to keep students informed of entertainment options, as well as social and cultural events both on and off campus. The front page will also include a listing of upcoming college sporting events.

On the same day as the new web site launches, Garrett will also launch an official college Facebook Page in order to communicate effectively and efficiently with current and prospective students.

"Social media sites such as Facebook are increasingly being used to communicate with college students," said Wellham. "The college is starting a Facebook Page in order to keep in line with the ever changing world of technology and innovative communication methods."

The GC Facebook page will keep current and prospective students up to date on campus and community events. In addition, it will act as a forum for students to share their thoughts, ask questions, and communicate with each other.

To learn more about the new web site or to become a fan of Garrett's Facebook Page, visit www.garrettcollege.edu beginning March 30.

Coach Gibson Records 500th Win

DENNIS GIBSON

Dennis Gibson, Garrett College's head basketball coach, reached a milestone in his coaching career this season. In a game against the 6th-ranked Gryphons of Division 3 Montgomery College of Germantown, the Lakers recorded an impressive 100-88 victory, marking Gibson's 500th career win.

"Hitting 500 wins really indicates how fortunate I've been to have had people around me who have helped me be successful," said Gibson. "It's really indicative of the type of player we've been able to bring into Garrett. Obviously, you can't win without good players in this league."

Gibson's basketball career began at Garrett College. Despite never playing the sport during his high school years, he made Garrett's first team and became a starter by his sophomore year, helping lead the Lakers to a 17-9 record.

In 1974, he transferred to Bridgewater College in Virginia to play basketball and study physical education. At Bridgewater, he earned Second-Team All-ODAC honors.

Professionally, Gibson had a short stint with the CBA team Baltimore Metros and received invitations to play overseas.

Life's circumstances brought Gibson back to McHenry before he graduated from Bridgewater. He decided to finish his degree close to home, and earned a bachelor of arts at West Virginia University.

Gibson took his first job as the assistant coach for Garrett basketball team in 1978. Although he didn't know it at the time, Garrett would be the first and, according to him, will be the last place he'd ever coach.

"I've always been happy at Garrett," said Gibson. "It's been a great place to work. There are a lot of great people here whom I've enjoyed working with."

After six years as assistant, Gibson landed the head coaching job of the Lakers, where he's been for 25 years. During that time, he also coached the GC women's team for seven years in the '90s. And in 1994, Gibson started a golf team at the college in an attempt to help local students who wanted to play collegiate golf, but didn't want to go away to school. He remains the golf coach for the college today.

His basketball coaching career has certainly been a successful one. Gibson has had 14 seasons with 20 or more wins. He's won two Region XX championships and one Maryland JUCO championship. His coaching has produced eight All-Americans.

Gibson's overall career record is 506-256, with his best season mark being 28-7. He's had only one losing season in his 25 years as head coach, and he has been named JUCO Coach of the Year three times.

"I definitely have the players to thank for my success," said Gibson. "They deserve most of the credit for the wins, as do my assistant coaches."

Gibson says he has many others to thank for his accomplishments.

"I really appreciate all the people who have helped me over the years," he said. "Specifically, [Dr.] Steve Herman, Garrett's former president, gave our program a lot of chances to be successful.

"My wife has also been very supportive over the years," he continued. "She's let me spend a lot of time in this gym."

Although Gibson didn't always want to be a basketball coach, he says he's always enjoyed it.

"I've always loved the game and always wanted to be around it," he said. "This was the best way of doing that."

There are many benefits to being the head basketball coach, but Gibson has his favorites.

"The best thing about this position has been the relationships I've developed over the years with the players and opposing coaches," he said. "In fact, many of the players still stay in touch with me by e-mail."

Another truly special perk to coaching, at least in the past few years, has been coaching his son, who enrolled at Garrett in the fall of 2008.

"It's been a great experience," Gibson said. "He had some other opportunities, but we thought it would be nice for him to stay here so that we could be close and spend some time together, since you never know how long you have. We really felt this way after the death of my assistant coach, David Martin, who was a lifelong friend of mine."

Until next season, Gibson is keeping busy coaching the golf team and recruiting. He's looking forward to having yet another successful basketball season next year.

Garrett County Non-Profits:

The Work They Do, The People They Serve

GARRETT COUNTY HABITAT FOR HUMANITY

This column, sponsored by the GFWC Civic Club of Oakland, is the second in a series of articles on local non-profit organizations. The purpose of this series is to inform citizens about the services offered by the organizations, and to let them know the volunteer opportunities available within these organizations.

This week's feature:
Garrett County Habitat for Humanity
Executive Director: Doug Riley
Address: PO Box 363, Oakland, MD 21550
Telephone: 301-533-0600
Web Site: www.garretthfh.org
E-Mail Address: habitat@garrettcac.org

Who is Garrett County Habitat for Humanity?

Garrett County Habitat for Humanity was organized in 1983 and incorporated in the state of Maryland in 1984. Since 1983, the local organization has built 63 houses.

"Including our rehab and repair work in conjunction with other agencies, we have touched the lives of 200 families in Garrett County," said Doug Riley, executive director. "Our building rate, based on houses built for every 10,000 people, is above both the median and average in our region."

How Does It Work?

Homes are built using tax-deductible contributions of land, materials, and money, plus the labor of volunteers, and the "sweat equity" labor of homeowner families. Volunteer labor is used almost exclusively in the construction of these projects.

Each family must donate 250 hours of labor per adult in the household. This sweat equity can be applied to the construction of their own home, the construction of homes for others, assisting the office in mailing projects, and other Habitat projects.

Homes are sold to families at cost with a no-interest 30-year mortgage loan. Families are selected on the basis of housing need, willingness to partner with Habitat, and ability to repay the loan. Mortgage payments received from homeowners are recycled directly into a revolving fund used for the construction of additional homes in Garrett County.

Who can apply for a Habitat home?

There are three selection criteria used to objectively make selections: 1. the need for adequate shelter, 2. the ability to pay; and 3. the family's willingness to partner. The applicant must live or work in Garrett County.

The selection of families who purchase homes from Habitat for Humanity is completed by the Family Selection Committee using these criteria in a way that does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, age, handicap, religion, national origin, family status or marital status, or because all or part of one's income is derived from any public assistance program.

Garrett County Habitat for Humanity will partner with families below 60% of the average median income for Garrett County.

Volunteers are always needed.

The organization has a full-time executive director and a full-time administrative assistant.

"It takes many other volunteers to keep our affiliate on the move," Riley said, "such as an additional 250+ volunteers who work on committees, at the site, fundraisers, supervisors, food, housing, etc."

"Habitat for Humanity is a nonprofit, ecumenical Christian housing ministry that seeks to eliminate substandard housing from the face of the earth," Riley said.

To request an application or more information, persons may contact the local Habitat office at 301-533-0600.

Special Services Of Holy Week Set At St. Mark's

St. Mark's Lutheran Church of Oakland has announced plans for special Holy Week and Easter worship services, beginning with Palm Sunday events and culminating on Easter with both a special sunrise service atop Wisp mountain and a service of Holy Communion at the church. Services are slated throughout the week at St. Mark's, which is located at the corner of Second and Center streets in Oakland.

Palm Sunday, March 28, will feature the traditional palm procession at the beginning of the 10 a.m. service. Special music will be provided by St. Mark's choir, directed by Susan Peterson, and handbell choir, directed by Lynn Grimm. A "palm parade" is planned for the children during the Sunday school hour, which begins at 8:45 a.m.

The Alderson-Broaddus College Brass Choir will perform in concert on Monday, March 29, at 7:30 p.m. The award-winning group from Philippi, W.Va., is under the direction of Oakland native Dr. Timothy Dewitt. Organist Muriel Franc will accompany the brass choir on a featured selection, "Grand Chöeur Dialogue," composed by Eugene Gigout. This concert is free and open to the public. A freewill offering will be taken to help offset travel expenses for the group.

Maundy Thursday worship on April 1 will feature a reading of the Passion narrative, beginning at 7 p.m. This will be a service of Holy Communion, which will also include special music from St. Mark's choir and handbells.

St. Mark's will hold its traditional Tenebrae service of music and scripture on Good Friday, beginning at 7 p.m.

"'Tenebrae' means 'darkness,'" said Pastor C. Scott Robinson. "This service, which has its roots in the 8th century, is a worship experience that ends in total darkness. It retells the story of Jesus' last moments on earth in a way that is very spiritual and quite moving."

Special music that evening will include solos by tenors Jim Tong and Pastor Robinson.

Easter Sunday's Festival of the Resurrection of Our Lord will begin at 6:30 a.m. atop the mountain at Wisp Resort for the third annual Easter Sunrise Service. Hymns will be accompanied by a brass quartet.

Robinson noted that persons may drive to the top of the mountain, or ride chairlift number 1, which will begin operation at 6 a.m. A continental breakfast will be served in the lodge following the service.

Back at the church that morning, an Easter egg hunt will be held for children beginning at 8:45 a.m.

The traditional Easter celebratory worship service of Holy Communion is set for 10 a.m. It will also feature St. Mark's choir, handbell choir, and brass ensemble.

The public is welcome at all Holy Week events at St. Mark's, which is a member of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA). For more information, persons may call the church office at 301-334-2668.

Dove Center To Receive Oakland Elks Bingo Profits

The Oakland Elks Club has announced that it will donate the proceeds from its bingo on Sunday, March 28, to the Dove Center's Capital Campaign for its new shelter and counseling center.

"The Business and Professional Women's Club recently made a $1,000 donation to the Capital Campaign, and issued a challenge for the other civic clubs and community organizations to do the same," said Donna Broadwater, Elks Bingo chair. "The Elks' motto is 'Elks Care, Elks Share,' and the Dove Center is a true community benefit organization, helping families and individuals in crisis, and we are proud to be able to accept this challenge and hopefully exceed it."

The bingo is set to begin at 1 p.m., with doors opening at noon. In addition to the regular games, there will also be door prizes and raffles for some Easter goodies.

"We are grateful for the Elks' support of the Dove Center," said Suzanne Nicolas, Dove Center board member, "and bingo is a fun way to donate to a good cause, and even someone who has never played has the same chance to win."

The Family of

would like to send a note of thanks and appreciation to everyone who shared their love and friendship during this very difficult time. Thank you for keeping our family in your thoughts and prayers. The acts of kindness so many people have shared with us will never be forgotten. The cards, food, flowers, and monetary donations were greatly appreciated. Thanks to Cody's nurses for the love and care you have given him over the past year. Thanks also to close friends Val, Gale, Connie, Melanie, Barb, and Jane, who helped at the house with food, cleaning, and love and support. Thanks to everyone who stood in the long line to share their grief with us during the viewings.

A special thanks to faith Evangelical Free Church and Pastor Jeff Kroll for making our family and friends feel welcome at your church. Thanks also to the ladies for providing an outstanding meal after the funeral. Not only was the food delicious, but the decorations in Cody's honor were incredible. The fellowship with family and friends allowed for many reflections of Cody's life to be shared, which was very comforting to our family. We would like to thank Burdock Funeral Home for the professional care given to Cody and our family, David Martin for the beautiful and moving service, Debbie Weeks and Darryl, Elliot, and Robbie Glotfelty for the special music, and those who worked the sound system. We also want to thank Mark Weeks and his family for putting together a touching video presentation of Cody's life with family and friends. We were so very blessed to have Cody in our lives and proud to know how many people he touched in his 20 years here on Earth.

May God bless each of you in a special way. Cody will be missed dearly, but our memories of him will be cherished forever.

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

It is sad to see how wrong people were on Jan. 20, 2009, when they stated that America is entering a new era, a post-racial era. I didn't believe it when I first heard it, because at the same time I remember hearing some scary, hateful remarks directed at our new president. A local college student said, "Don't worry, someone will kill him."

Then there were claims from strange people that he wasn't a real American, that he was an illegal immigrant. They said he was born in "a slum in Kenya." They asserted that he was really Kenyan after he kept on trying to win the battle for health care for all Americans. Someone said, "It must be his Kenyan blood that keeps him going. Look at Kenya's long-distance runners. They are in a class of their own in long distance races."

His father was a full-blooded Kenyan who legally came to America to pursue higher education. He met and married a girl from Kansas, and they had a son in Hawaii. And that is part of the USA.

Once he said, "Yes, I am a mutt." I guess most of us are. I guess that's what I always believed. White or Caucasian is a race. But American is not a race. It is a nationality. Those who changed their census form by crossing out white and replacing it with American are totally misunderstanding what race means. Maybe most Americans are somewhat of a mutt.

My Buckle grandfather's mother was half Shawnee Indian. It's not much, but it is enough to claim that I am a legitimate American. The rest of Americans who don't have a drop of American Indian blood are just foreign invaders, including our founding fathers.

I heard that Wall Street doesn't trust the accounting methods of the Congressional office that evaluates the cost of any bills. That's a good one. Would anyone be so foolish as to trust Wall Street's accounting methods? They are able to use novel methods to hide the truth about their firms' wealth, with absolutely no kind of penalty, just billions of dollars in bonuses. And there is absolutely nothing we can do about it.

This evening I saw first-hand what a powerful force our country's television advertising is. I saw several ads by various insurance firms saying, "You can depend on us, we have been part of American life for 200 years. Protect what you have and your future so you can live the life you want." They practically made it seem like they were wonderful parents for us. But you know, many seemingly good parents actually abused their children in many ways.

Another from a health insurance company claimed that only a tiny portion of the sky-rocketing cost of health care is insurance. They placed the blame on doctors and hospitals. I wonder why? You know as well as I do that it is because they are facing reform and putting control on their worst abuses.

Only very few doctors entered their professions primarily to make lots of money. There are plenty of routes to wealth. Look how much time and money is spent on medical school. Most of the doctors I know personally are motivated by a sincere desire to help people.

It's hard to see how we can solve all the big problems like immigration reform, financial reform, educational reform, and energy policy.

These require bold leadership and governmental actions. Does anyone really believe that the big financial world can regulate itself? Maybe many people wish that they could go out and shoot all immigrants. But they can't.

The best solution to me is that all the Right Wings and Tea Party followers move to Texas and declare independence. That would be my dream.

I feel the same way that the blonde woman does who is dressed in camouflage, sobbing, "I want my America back." I remember for most of my life America was a pretty decent place to live. The scourge of segregation was gone, and rampant racism was hidden. Civility prevailed most of the time.

Wow! That was a big thunder clap! Just when I was enjoying watching my first summer birds. I saw some kind of little sparrow, but I'm not good at telling those various kinds of sparrow apart. And the big flock of starlings is back right on time. They usually left around the first day of fall, and they come back right around the first day of spring.

As usual, Boo is freaked out about the thunder. She always plasters herself against my leg and does lots of heavy breathing.

Well, here comes the rain, but not a downpour.

My Caitlin and Meredith took a trip to a statewide conference of Young Democrats. They met some legislators from West Virginia and voiced their concern about cutting off the top of the mountains to get the coal inside. It is a terrible policy and terrible for the environment with the run-off from those beheaded mountains that is loaded with dangerous chemicals. That's bad for a state known for its beautiful mountains.

The Bittinger Lutheran Parish will hold a Maundy Thursday service on April 1 at St. John's of Meadow Mountain, and a Good Friday service on April 2 at Zion in Jennings. Both services start at 7 p.m.

An ecumenical Easter sunrise service will be held at the Bittinger fire hall on Easter Sunday (April 4) at 6:30 a.m. The service will be followed by a community breakfast. The service is sponsored by the Bethesda Church of the Brethren, the Bittinger Lutheran Parish, Glade Mennonite, and Meadow Mountain Mennonite. Pastor Randy Richardson will deliver the message this year. An invitation is being extended to everyone to attend, and to bring along neighbors and friends.

Adorable Adoptables

The event will feature a keynote address from Maryland's former governor Robert L. Ehrlich Jr. and an appearance by Maryland Republican Party chair Audrey Scott.

The event includes a dinner beginning at 6 p.m., followed by an address by Ehrlich. Tickets are $25 per person, and program sponsorship is also available. For more information or to request tickets, persons should e-mail brandon_butler@hotmail.com or edclemons-jr@yahoo.com.

Master Gardener Training Course Offered At GC

A Master Gardener training course will be offered at Garrett College on Tuesdays and Thursdays from April 6 to May 20 from 1 to 4 p.m.

Interested persons should call the Continuing Education and Workforce development division of Garrett College at 301-387-3069 to register.

Students will receive a handbook and activity supplies. The course will cover soil building, nutrient recycling, integrated pest management, and other topics related to sustainable gardening.

Participants may take the course for background information only or to work toward certification as a Master Gardener. Questions may be directed to the extension office at 301-334-6960.

The Maryland Master Gardener program was started in 1978 as a means of extending the horticultural and pest management expertise of University of Maryland Extension to the general public.

The program is designed to train volunteer horticultural educators for University of Maryland Extension, the principal outreach education unit of the University of Maryland.

Participants receive 40 to 50 hours of basic training from University of Maryland professionals and then agree to work in their communities to teach Marylanders how to cultivate garden space and manage landscapes sustainability using research-based information. The environmental horticulture approach reduces fertilizer and pesticide use resulting in improved soil and water quality.

Master Gardeners typically work in group-directed teams and committees with trainees matched to senior Master Gardeners.

LOOKING NORTH AND SOUTH along Eagle Rock Road, just south of Deer Park, these photos are "after shots" of an area that just two weeks ago was densely forested, but is now being readied for Garrett County's first 400-foot wind turbines. Twenty-eight of the monster towers are planned for the area, and another 17 are slated to be erected along the same mountain ridge at Roth Rock, just south of Red House. Three Eagle Rock residents met with the Garrett County commissioners on Tuesday, begging for some kind of assistance and claiming that the project has destroyed their "safe, quiet, pristine neigh-borhood" and vastly devalued their homes. Photos courtesy of James "Smokey" Stanton.

Project Halted

knowledged that this figure is now greatly diminished because of the project.

"Numerous groups have suggested many times that safety precautions, as well as environmentally sound practices, be implemented," Carrico continued. "It is evident that we, the citizens of this county, were not protected. On every occasion nothing was done. You had seven years to stand up and protect us. That is your job."

Justin Carrico said that among the reasons they purchased their house, valued at nearly $200,000, where it is was because of its quiet, pristine location, and the beauty of the forests.

"It's certainly not quiet anymore," he said, "and the forest right across the road, where I enjoy turkey hunting, has been leveled."

Concern was also expressed about the damage to Eagle Rock Road, with Robison saying that it is literally being destroyed by the heavy equipment.

"That road really does not have an adequate base under it anyway, and there's not going to be much of it left," he said.

Reportedly, Constellation Energy will be responsible for repair and/or replacement of the road, according to the commissioners.

Melisa Carrico repeatedly asked the commissioners what they were going to do to help her and her neighbors, but Gregg and Holliday did not respond initially. Finally, Commissioner Gregg said, "I don't know, Melisa. I don't know."

After hearing about the alleged violations at the site, the commissioners did say they would immediately contact the various permitting agencies involved, as well as John Cook, enforcement officer for the MDE.

Cook later confirmed that the project had been shut down, at least temporarily, and referred the matter to Apperson at the information office.

When asked what the next step would be for the contractor to be able to resume work at the site, Apperson said that he would have to install the super silt fence properly, devise and implement corrective action to eliminate the discharge of sediment-laden water as soon as possible, and have an engineer submit a revised erosion and sediment control plan to address the current plan's sediment control deficiencies to the Garrett Soil Conservation District for review and approval.

He said that if the revised plan is not approved by April 5, the contractor would have to stabilize the entire site and not disturb earth until a revised plan is approved and implemented.

In addition, he would be required to submit copies of self-inspections for the site.

"MDE is reviewing the situation at the site to determine if the stream of water discharging from Eagle Rock Road should be considered to be state waters," Apperson said, "in which case a waterway construction permit with additional requirements will be needed."

When asked if fines were impending for the alleged violations, Apperson said, "MDE's Compliance Program plans to require corrective actions as outlined above, and penalties for the alleged violations (sediment pollution and failure to install the super silt fence properly)."

David Wagner, manager of the Commercial Analysis Group with Constellation Energy, acknowledged receipt of the MDE's notice of violation and said that the company will "proactively address it until it is resolved."

"We (Constellation) pride ourselves on following the letter of the law when it comes to our projects," Wagner said in a telephone interview this morning. "The project will not be continued until the matter is resolved," which he expects to occur "by the end of this week."

In a related matter, three pieces of legislation that would regulate the wind industry in Garrett County/Maryland all received unfavorable reports this week in the Maryland House of Delegates' Economic Matters Committee. Those were:

•House Bill 390 introduced by Delegate Wendell Beitzel to grant the county commissioners the authority to enact ordinances for setback and decommissioning wind turbines;

•House Bill 791, requiring the Public Service Commission and the Maryland Department of Natural Resources to develop jointly specified general performance standards for wind-powered electric generating turbines erected in the state, and requiring the commission to adopt specified standards by regulation; and •House Bill 1013, requiring the Public Service Commission to establish a surcharge on wind-powered electric generating facilities in the state with a generating capacity that does not exceed 70 megawatts, requiring the comptroller to collect the revenue from the surcharge and deposit it into the Maryland Wind-Powered Electric Generating Facility Decommissioning and Restoration Fund, and authorizing a wind-powered electric generating facility to post a bond or other security acceptable to the commission in lieu of the surcharge.

"Our Tribute to Jimmy"
James Vernon Spiker
August 4, 1971 – March 31, 2008
It's been two lonely years since God took you home,
Sometimes the void has left all of us feeling very much alone.
Each day we remember your loving embrace,
Your sweet voice and your smiling face.
We never will forget the love you left behind,
For you were always so good and so kind.
Our hearts have told us that you had to have a rest,
Even though it's hard to accept, we know God's plan is always best.
Once more we'd love to hold you and show our love to you,
But we have to trust God to heal our grief as only He can do.
We never will forget the Joy you gave to us back then,
It will forever remain in our hearts until we meet again.
We Love You
You are missed and loved so much by Amanda, Annie, Riley, Mom, Mammaw and all your aunts, uncle and cousins.

Party activities will include visiting the "MTH Travel Agency," taking the "Test Your Tree IQ" test, and creating fairy tree houses, edible tree houses, and a life-size tree house to decorate and play in.

"Children can design their wildest fantasy dream house before the party and then bring their drawings to share with the other participants if they wish," said the spokesperson.

"LET'S TALK, HEALTHY CONVERSATIONS FOR SAFER HEALTHCARE" was the theme for this year's National Patient Safety Awareness Week, March 7–13. "Patient safety awareness is an initiative that Garrett County Memorial Hospital has worked diligently to promote through its Safety Puzzle campaign that started in 2009," said a GCMH spokesperson. Patient Safety Puzzles are posted in every patient room as a reminder that patients and community members can also play a role in patient safety. "This means learning about preventing illness and injury, understanding the role we each play in managing our care, and feeling free to ask questions when something isn't clear," the spokesperson said. "For example, one simple way to prevent infections is by practicing hand washing and asking healthcare providers to do the same." Additional information about patient safety can be found at marylandpatientsafetycenter.org. Pictured is a display that was set up at GCMH during National Patient Safety Awareness Week.

Garrett County SKIES

By Dr. Bob Doyle
Frostburg State Planetarium

APRIL SUN – As April begins, the sun is in front of the stars of Pisces moving a degree a day eastward relative to the stars. On April 19, the sun enters the star group Aries, where it stays through May 13. Both of the above star groups are lost in the sun's glare in April. The star group Taurus is behind (east) of the sun, so it sets after the sun, appearing low in the southwestern dusk. The star group Aquarius (to the west of the sun) rises before the sun and is visible low in the southeastern dawn. In early April, sunrises in Oakland are about 7 a.m., while sunsets are about 7:42 p.m. (12.7 hours of daylight). Around the end of April, Garrett County's sunrises are about 6:20 a.m. and sunsets occur about 8:08 p.m. (13.8 hours of daylight). So during April, the stars are last seen around 5:30 a.m. (early dawn) and then reappear about 9 p.m. (late dusk).

APRIL MOON – There was a full moon on March 28, so there will be a little late evening moonlight on April 1 and 2. After April 3, the moon rises after midnight and is best seen at dawn. On the morning of April 6, the moon appears half full in the southern dawn sky. A slender crescent moon will appear near the bright planet Jupiter on Sunday, April 11, low in the 6 a.m. southeastern dawn. On April 14, the moon swings from the morning to the evening side of the sun (new moon). On April 15, the moon reappears low in the 8:15 p.m. western dusk just to the right of the planet Mercury. On the next evening, the crescent moon appears above the brilliant planet Venus. On April 21, the evening moon appears half full, offering the best views of its craters and mountain ranges with a telescope. Along the moon's left or straighter edge, the raised rims of the craters and the mountain peaks will first catch the sun's light. On that same night, the moon appears near the yellow planet Mars. On April 25, the nearly full moon appears underneath the planet Saturn. The moon is full on the evening of April 28, appearing in the star group Libra.

APRIL PLANETS – The five nearest planets are easily seen by eye, four of them shining steadily in contrast to the twinkling stars. Of the five, Mercury is usually the most difficult to see, at a low angle to the sun and seen very close to the horizon at dawn or dusk. Mercury can be seen low in the western dusk in early April, appearing below the brilliant planet Venus. The planet Jupiter crept out of the sun's glare in March and now can be seen low in the southeastern dusk (look for it about 6 a.m.) The planet Mars in the southern evening sky appears to the left of Pollux and Castor, Gemini's bright stars. The other evening planet is Saturn, appearing to the left of Mars in western Virgo. The brilliant planet Venus greatly improves in visibility in April as its setting time after the sun increases from 95 minutes to 130 minutes. In early April, it will be possible to see four planets at dusk: Saturn in the southeast, Mars in the south, and Venus and Mercury low in the west.

APRIL STARS – The Big Dipper is upside down high in the north. The two leftmost scoop stars point down and left to the North Star, a modest star about halfway up in the north. Orion is striking in the early evening western sky. Orion's belt points rightward to the bright orange star Aldebaran and the 7 Sisters (Pleiades) star cluster. Orion's belt points left to Sirius, the night's brightest star. Follow the Big Dipper's handle outward to a bright golden star named Arcturus, high in the east.

APRIL PROGRAMS – The Frostburg State Planetarium's program for April is "Quick Intro to the Stars," reviewing the basics of stars, including the sun. The free public programs are on the Sundays of April 11, 18, and 25 at 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. in Tawes 302. Free star maps are available for visitors. After a brief intermission, planetarium visitors are invited to tour the Science Discovery Center, where a large collection of preserved animals from five continents are on display. Persons may telephone 301-687-7799 and leave name and address, and a free planetarium bookmark (includes small campus map showing planetarium and easy parking areas) will be sent to callers. Persons may also visit the Frostburg State web site, where there is an area devoted to the planetarium (http://www.frostburg.edu/planetarium).

Dr. Doyle writes this column for those who like to identify the brightest stars, planets, and sights in their backyards.

Grants Available For Garrett Co. Homeschoolers

Toby's Trust – a local, nonprofit Christian organization – will award $200 grants to three Garrett County homeschooling families this year for the purpose of purchasing homeschool curriculum materials for grades K-12 for the 2010/2011 school year. The deadline to apply is May 1.

"In these difficult economic times, many local families are having to work harder to balance their budgets," said a spokesperson. "In some cases it can be difficult for families to find the funds needed for the high cost of homeschool materials. It is our desire to see homeschooling continue to be an option financially for those who currently homeschool and are feeling strained economically."

Applications are available at Pleasant View Baptist Church, 8931 Garrett Highway, Oakland; Emmaus Road Christian Bookstore, Sand Flat area; and Ruth Enlow Library, Accident and Grantsville branches.

"We received some feedback last year from area homeschool families and administrators who felt the application process for the grants was overly complicated," the spokesperson noted. "In answer to those requests, we have simplified the application significantly."

Grant recipients will be selected from among all qualifying applicants based upon need and demonstration of "exceptional" homeschool teaching quality.

To qualify for consideration for a grant, families must:

- Complete and submit a grant application by the deadline
- Demonstrate financial need
- Have proof that they have a child or children enrolled in homeschool for the 2010/2011 school year in grades K-12
- Reside in Garrett County
- Be planning to purchase qualifying homeschool materials for the 2010/2011 school year from a qualifying vendor for one or more children living in their household.
- Meet all eligibility requirements.

Grant money may be used to purchase student curriculum workbooks, teacher manuals, reading books to be used as part of the curriculum, devotional books to be used as part of the curriculum, and curriculum aids specifically designed to be used in conjunction with a student's planned course work. All materials purchased must be part of a legitimate homeschool curriculum by an approved publisher.

Grant money cannot be used for basic school supplies (such as paper, crayons, and glue) or for equipment, furniture, computers, sports apparel, sports equipment, fees, music lessons, sports lessons, or any other unapproved materials.

It also cannot be used to purchase used items from other individuals, and it cannot reimburse the costs of materials already purchased.

Grants will be paid directly to the qualifying vendors where recipients are purchasing their curriculum supplies. Qualifying vendors include bookstores, curriculum publishers, and other legitimate mail order vendors.

Grants may be divided and used at up to three qualifying vendors as long as they are used to purchase materials for the child's planned curriculum for the 2010/2011 school year.

Grant money does not need to be repaid unless the child for which the grant was given does not complete the full 2010/2011 school year in homeschool.

Families can only receive one homeschool curriculum grant from Toby's Trust in any given year.

"All Garrett County homeschooling families who find it challenging to afford the costs of curriculum materials are encouraged to apply," said the spokesperson.

Last year, the organization gave grants to two local families, according to the spokesperson. For more information, persons may call 240-321-1345 and leave a detailed message with a contact phone number and address.

GARRETT MENTORS ESTABLISHED AT KITZMILLER – Kitzmiller Elementary is the most recent Garrett County school to join Garrett Mentors Inc. New mentors are being welcomed to join the team of teachers and Principal Richard Stevens "to enhance the learning of our wonderful children," said Tricia Cheesman, director of the mentoring organization. Currently Kitzmiller has two mentors visiting Study Buddies once a week at the school. They eat lunch together, read aloud, study spelling words, or go over math facts. At other times, Cheesman said, they chat or play a board game. Pictured from left are mentor Bill Cheesman, Study Buddy Austin Lytle, and Stevens. Austin and "Mr. Bill" spend their hour each week having lunch, reading a chapter or two of a Goosebumps story, practicing spelling words, and playing chess. Recently Bill accompanied Austin at the Special Olympics at Wisp, where Austin earned two silver medals in downhill skiing events. The other mentor currently volunteering at Kitzmiller is Peggy Tasker. Persons interested in becoming mentors may contact Tricia Cheesman at 301-334-1783.

T. Cheesman To Speak At GGBA Monthly Meeting

Tricia Cheesman, director of Garrett Mentors Inc., will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the Greater Grantsville Business Association (GGBA). The meeting will be held at Penn Alps in Grantsville on Wednesday, March 31, beginning at 8 a.m.

Cheesman will speak about the Garrett Mentors organization and the need it fills in the community.

Garrett Mentors Inc. is a non-profit, all volunteer organization committed to providing mentors to Garrett County elementary school students. There are currently 80 children being mentored in Garrett County, but more than 20 children are on the waiting list. A mentor is a "study buddy" who meets with a child once a week to demonstrate the motto "inspire by example."

Cheesman explained that a volunteer mentor is one who will be a friend and a listener, and who will not only instill the importance of good grades, but instill values and build confidence as well.

Cheesman noted that she saw a need and founded Garrett Mentors in 2008. She resides in Swanton with her husband Bill.

The GGBA meets monthly to promote the Grantsville community, to foster local businesses, and to support the growth of the business community.

The March 31 meeting is open to all who are interested in learning more about GGBA and Garrett Mentors. For more information, persons may call 301-895-5488.

Driver Cited For Failure To Yield To Oncoming Traffic

A juvenile was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital on Sunday following a motor vehicle accident at the intersection of Garrett Highway and Maryland Highway.

Investigation revealed that James Kennedy Greenbaum had been traveling south on Garrett Highway, and while making a left-hand turn, he failed to yield right of way to oncoming traffic. Southern Rescue Squad transported the juvenile from the 5 p.m. scene. Greenbaum was cited for the accident.

Thank You!

I would like to thank the following people who helped tremendously on February 6, 2010, to get me medical attention: Kenny and Craig Collins from the Deer Park Vol. Fire Dept., along with two paramedics from Northern Garrett Rescue Squad (I wish I knew their names, along with Teresa Friend) who walked up my driveway through deep snow to get to my house. Thank God for Jim Schmidt for being in the area with his farm tractor to blow a path for me to ride down on a 4-wheeler to get to the ambulance; and most of all my husband Rick for applying pressure to the injury and being supportive and reassuring me that I would be ok through this episode. Also, GCMH, Dr. Coughlin and his staff, Anne Marie, Shannon, Darcy and Anthony for their expertise in treating medical issues. Just saying thank-you doesn't seem to be enough for all the thoughtfulness and care I received during this time.

Personal Best

What is your "personal best"? The answer varies according to individual backgrounds and capabilities as well as how determined you are to succeed. The Tour de France champion's personal best as a cyclist is certainly better than that of the biking enthusiast who only gets out on weekends. But both are glorifying God by using the gifts they have been given.

The most qualified and determined of us can experience tragedy and loss that jolt our capacity to perform daily tasks and reach our goals. But that effort required when we do our best can prepare us for handling adversity. God can help us in times of difficulty, too.

No matter what, we need to focus on God as the inspiration for our "personal best". When we give Him our best as we worship each week, He returns it to us with added strength and peace. Won't you give God your all this week as you worship Him?

Wisdom

Wisdom is a quality that is hard to define, though we usually know it when we see it, and almost always recognize its absence, which is folly. While it is often associated in literature with bearded, white-haired gurus who give sage advice, wisdom is essentially about having good judgement and perspective. Older people seem to have it simply because they have had more experiences, and they have been through the trials and tribulations of a long life. We sometimes say that young people are "wise beyond their years," but in reality no one who has not weathered the storms of time can truly be wise. But is it necessary to have suffered through sickness or the deaths of loved ones and various misfortunes to gain a deeper perspective on life, or do the ordinary stresses of a challenging career and relationships suffice to give one the necessary perspective that is considered wisdom? It is reported that Freud was once asked what a normal healthy person should be able to do, and he answered "to love and to work." Perhaps the growth and maturity that comes from a life of loving and working is enough for most of us to develop that intangible quality we call wisdom.

Happy is the man who finds wisdom, and the man who gains understanding.

Antibiotics Prescribed for Cystic Fibrosis

Cystic fibrosis is an inherited condition that affects the lungs, pancreas, and other parts of the body. This condition is characterized by thickened secretions that come from the lungs, pancreas, intestines, and other major organs. Respiratory symptoms include a persistent cough, difficulty breathing, and chronic bronchitis. Staphylococcus aureus, haemophilus influenza, and pseudomonas aeruginosa are bacteria that likely live in the airway of a person with cystic fibrosis.

Antibiotics are used to treat respiratory episodes in persons with cystic fibrosis. They are usually prescribed to be taken by mouth for several weeks for a mild episode caused by methicillin sensitive Staphylococcus aureus (MSSA). The list of antibiotics commonly prescribed include dicloxacillin, amoxicillin-clavulanate, cephalexin, trimethoprim-sulfamethoxazole, and doxycycline. For methicillin resistant Staphylococcus aureus (MRSA), vancomycin or linezolid may be prescribed. Tobramycin (TOBI), an aminoglycoside antibiotic, or colistin are antibiotics given by inhalation for those infected with Pseudomonas aeruginosa. Severe cases may require ceftazidime, cefepime, aztreonam, tobramycin, or amikacin.

• If you're up on your Biblical standards of measurement, you probably already know that a handbreadth equals 3 inches, a span is 9 inches and a cubit equals 18 inches.

• Before horror author Stephen King became famous for novels such as "Carrie," "The Stand" and "The Shining," he wrote four novels and 60 short stories that failed to be accepted for publication.

Ten days later, the westbound rider completed the approximately 1,800-mile journey and arrived in Sacramento, beating the eastbound mail's arrival in St. Joseph by two days.

• On March 31, 1889, the Eiffel Tower is dedicated in Paris. Tower designer Gustave Eiffel, a noted bridge builder, was a master of metal construction and designed the framework of the Statue of Liberty, which had recently been erected in New York Harbor.

• On April 2, 1902, the first American theater devoted solely to movies opens in Los Angeles. Housed in a circus tent, the venue was dubbed "The Electric Theater." Admission was 10 cents for a one-hour show.

• On March 29, 1927, Major Henry O'Neil de Hane Segrave becomes the first man to break the 200-mph barrier. Driving a 1,000-horsepower Mystery Sunbeam, Segrave averaged 203.8 mph on the course at Daytona Beach, Fla.

• On April 4, 1933, the dirigible The Akron crashes in New Jersey, killing 73 people. A miscommunication by crewmembers sent the Akron directly into a storm instead of around it. The storm's winds caused the ship to plunge nearly 1,000 feet in a few seconds.

• On April 1, 1970, President Richard Nixon signs legislation officially banning cigarette ads on television and radio. Nixon, who was an avid pipe smoker, indulging in as many as eight bowls a day, supported the legislation at the increasing insistence of public-health advocates.

• On March 30, 1981, President Ronald Reagan is shot in the chest outside a Washington, D.C., hotel by John Hinckley Jr., a deranged drifter. Reagan, apparently unaware that he'd been shot, was shoved into his limousine by a Secret Service agent and rushed to the hospital. In an impressive feat for a 70-year-old man with a collapsed lung, he walked into George Washington University Hospital under his own power.

Q. I have an antique doll that was manufactured by Simon & Halbig. It has a bisque head, a fully jointed body and is dressed is its original clothes. What can you tell me about it? — Stanley, Albuquerque, N.M.

A. According to Dawn Herlocher, author of "200 Years of Dolls" (Krause, $29.99), the Simon & Halbig porcelain factory was located in Germany and was founded in 1839 by William Simon and Carl Halbig. It began producing dolls during the 1860s. The company not only produced dolls under its own brand, it also made them for various other manufacturers, including C.M. Bergmann, Carl Berger, Fleishmann & Bloedel, and Boullett & Decamp.

Since the value of collectibles, including dolls, is determined by condition, rarity and demand, you will have to contact a good appraiser to establish the current market value of your doll. A free appraisal is worth what you pay for it. Since your doll could be quite valuable, hire a professional and don't be hesitant to ask for references. You can find a certified appraiser in your area at www.appraisersassoc.org and www.appraisers.org.

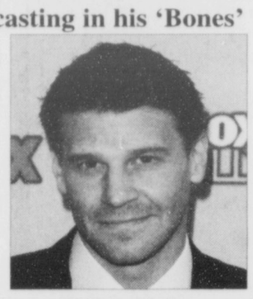
Boreanaz has broadcasting in his 'Bones'

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it



David Boreanaz

Q: I am a big fan of the series "Bones." I grew up in Buffalo, N.Y., watching Dave Thomas. Is the actor who plays Booth the son of Dave? And where can I write the actor? –Michele Colatosti, Kenmore, N.Y.

A: If you mean the Dave Thomas who was the host of several local television programs in Buffalo, yes, actor David Boreanaz is his son. Dad's real name also is David Boreanaz, and – as "Dave Roberts" – he went on to become a longtime weathercaster on Philadelphia's WPVI-TV, from which he retired at the end of last year. You can write to actor Boreanaz in care of 20th Century Fox Television, 10201 W. Pico Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90064.

Q: I missed the last episode of "Dexter." Are there, or will there be, reruns? –Neil Rosenblum, Palm Beach Gardens, Fla.

A: There surely will be. The fifth season of the Showtime drama – starring recent Golden Globe and Screen Actors Guild Award winner Michael C. Hall – presently is set to start in September, meaning weekly repeats of the previous round should begin in June or July.

However, if Showtime on Demand is included with your subscription to the premium channel, you may be able to go there and watch the past season's finale right now. And we speak from experience here: Try not to let anyone tell you what happens before you get there yourself.

Q: What happened to "Conspiracy Theory With Jesse Ventura"? Will it be back? –John Oram, Oklahoma City

A: TruTV only commissioned a seven-episode first season of the series hosted by the former wrestler and Minnesota governor, so that round ended in mid-January, when it was intended to. An official renewal for a second season hadn't been announced at this writing, but such a pickup wouldn't be a surprise, given that the show had the highest-rated premiere of any new series in the history of the network (which formerly was Court TV).

Q: I was watching "Human Target," and I think one of the actors in it played a cigarette-smoking punk in "The Bad News Bears." I think his name is Jackie Earle Haley. Am I right? –Jules Kwiatkowski, Palm Coast, Fla.

A: You are. The former teen star has been having a renaissance as an adult performer in recent years, not only encompassing his latest television role on Fox's "Human Target" but also his Oscar nomination for the 2006 drama "Little Children."

Haley's other recent film credits have included "Semi-Pro," "Watchmen" and director Martin Scorsese's "Shutter Island," and he soon will be making an iconic role his own: He's the new Freddy Krueger in an update of "A Nightmare on Elm Street," set for a late April release.

FEAR NOT! YOUR LIGHT BULB IS SAFE

by Dr. Tom Sheahen

Q. I saw on TV that those coiled up light bulbs (compact fluorescent light bulbs, CFLs) are filled with mercury, which is toxic. Are they dangerous?

A. "Filled" is hardly the right word. A fluorescent bulb contains less than 4 milligrams of mercury. As a comparison, an old-style fever thermometer contains about half a gram of mercury, which equals 500 milligrams, or about 125 times the content of a CFL. If you eat a tuna sandwich, the number of atoms of mercury going into your system will be about like what you'll breathe in if a CFL breaks right in front of you.

Why is the mercury there? In the process of manufacturing any light bulb, first it is necessary to pump a very good vacuum inside the glass tube. Then a tiny amount of some gas is allowed in. In the case of ordinary good old incandescent light bulbs, that filler gas is argon, which is completely inert. In the case of any fluorescent bulb, mercury vapor is used.

Mercury vapor is the best element for the purpose of getting the bulb to light up. An electrical discharge is set up inside the bulb, and the current flowing through the gas drives mercury atoms into a high-energy state that makes them give off ultraviolet light. That light strikes a phosphor coating on the inside of the glass, and that in turn gives off white light, illuminating the room. Manufacturers haven't found any better element to serve that function (although they're constantly trying). That's how a fluorescent bulb works, regardless of whether it's in a straight line or a curlicue coil.

It's important to understand that a compact fluorescent lamp (CFL) and a standard linear fluorescent bulb work in the same way, and both contain mercury. We have had fluorescent bulbs in schools, hospitals, offices, etc., for most of a century.

A compact fluorescent lamp is just one more fluorescent bulb, but twisted into a coiled shape and attached to a base that screws into a light fixture designed for incandescent bulbs.

For many decades, janitors in commercial buildings have changed fluorescent bulbs. There have long been standard operating procedures in place for proper disposal, and building managers had their workers follow those procedures. Every now and then a bulb would break. No big deal; sweep up the glass and get on with the day.

CFLs were invented about 20 years ago, and nobody got excited about them. They didn't sell well, because of the high initial expense, but CFLs did in fact save energy (and money, too, over the lifetime of the bulb). But shoppers mainly left them on the shelf at the stores.

CFLs may actually reduce the amount of mercury released into the environment. By saving electrical energy, they reduce the amount of coal burned at generating plants. Burning coal releases mercury, and the amount of coal-burning mercury pollution that's prevented by using a more efficient CFL exceeds the mercury in the CFL.

To get people to save energy, a new law was passed in 2007 mandating the use of CFLs after several more years. Big mistake! There was instant widespread resentment of federal intrusion into our lives. Groups looking for an excuse to oppose CFLs latched onto the word "mercury," and before long there were state legislatures passing laws to restrict, regulate, or outright ban the use of CFLs.

The most important take-home message for consumers is that CFLs are just like conventional (linear) fluorescent bulbs. When you go to the grocery store, look up at the ceiling and realize that there is mercury up there in the lighting, and ask yourself if the food is edible. And as your small child goes off to school, realize that all day long she's going to have mercury right over her head. In short, whether you use the coiled kind or the long tube-like fluorescent bulbs, you're as safe as you've ever been.

COME DYE SOME EGGS! The Western Garrett County State Park Volunteers Inc. will host its annual natural egg dyeing program at the Discovery Center, Deep Creek Lake State Park, on Saturday, April 3, between the hours of 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Children and their parents are invited to come to the center anytime during those hours to color hardboiled eggs with natural dyes from material found in the home and in nature. Oakland Man Sentenced In Burglary Case

A 29-year-old Oakland area man was sentenced in Garrett County Circuit Court this week to five years in the Division of Corrections for a second degree burglary charge. All but 18 months of the sentence was suspended, and Jamie Allen Ferguson will be on probation after his release from the Garrett County Jail.

Ferguson was charged by Maryland State Police last April with burglary and attempted theft, which occurred in November 2008 at the Deep Creek Pharmacy.

Troopers from the McHenry Barrack responded to an alarm call and determined that the business had been entered. Ferguson was developed as a suspect, and investigators were able to obtain a search and seizure warrant for a sample of DNA from Ferguson. He was arrested after the crime lab reported DNA from evidence inside the pharmacy matched Ferguson's DNA.

Ferguson pleaded guilty to the charge in December. Judge Jim Sherbin ordered that a presentence investigation be conducted before this week's sentencing.

In an unrelated case, Amanda Lynn Hinebaugh, 22, Oakland, was sentenced to 18 months in the Garrett County Jail for possession of heroin. Fourteen months of the sentence were suspended, and Hinebaugh will be on probation after release.

She was arrested and charged by officers with the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force in October. A vehicle in which Hinebaugh was a passenger was stopped for traffic violations, and a drug-detection dog gave a positive alert when scanning the car. A quantity of heroin was later found on Hinebaugh's person.

In other court proceedings this week, David Richard Armstrong, 37, Kitzmiller, was sentenced by Sherbin to six months in the Garrett County Jail for a second degree assault charge. Five months of the sentence were suspended, and Armstrong will be on probation after serving his sentence.

Armstrong was charged by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in March 2009 after his spouse reported an event that had occurred at their residence for which she sought medical treatment at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

TO COMPETE IN NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS –Colin Lynch, a freshman honors student at Southern High School, is headed to the USA Snowboarding National Championships at Copper Mountain, Colo., April 1-10. With nearly 2,000 competitors, the championship is the largest snowboarding and freeskiing competition in the world. Every U.S. Olympic Team athlete got a start in the United States Snowboarding Association (USASA). Lynch is currently ranked fourth overall in the nation in his age group (the largest age group in the competition). Additionally, he is one of only six youths who have qualified for and been invited to compete in all five disciplines: giant slalom, slalom, boardercross, slopestyle, and halfpipe. To qualify, Lynch competed in 20 events during the regular season in Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and Virginia. This is his third appearance at the national competition, but the first time he has been invited to compete in all five events. Lynch is a member of the Deep Creek Winter Sports Team and competes in the Appalachian region of USASA. He is sponsored locally by High Mountain Sports. His national sponsors are Nitro Snowboards and Bern Helmets. At Southern, Lynch is also a member of the boys' soccer team and the boys' track team.

HARD TO BELIEVE THE CHANGE in the weather over the past few weeks, as the conditions have run the gamut. One month ago, residents were still digging out from February snows, wondering if this year's relentless winter would ever move on. But of course Mother Nature keeps her promise, and spring does arrive, and the flowers do indeed bloom, giving to all a new sense of hope and cheer — and perhaps a little time to sit and read a good book, like the cherub pictured above in the garden of Stan and Lynn Grimm in Oakland. Of course more snow may visit, but spring seems to have the upper hand now, much to the relief of all. Spring also marks the most important time of the year for the world's Christians, who are now observing Holy Week, and will celebrate Easter Sunday on what is predicted to be a beautiful sunny day. Dormant Mineral Act Passes House, Senate Chambers

The Maryland Dormant Mineral Interests Act, introduced by Del. Wendell Beitzel and Sen. George Edwards, has cleared a key procedural hurdle this week that had prevented the bill's passage in previous sessions.

The act, which adds Maryland to the list of states that have passed the Uniform Dormant Mineral Act, has unanimously passed both chambers.

The House measure was unanimously supported in 2009, but failed to even receive a hearing in the Senate.

"This is critically important legislation that must move forward for landowners in Garrett and Allegany counties," Beitzel said.

Though it is a statewide bill, this legislation is important to both Garrett and Allegany counties, where there is evidence that a large amount of natural gas is located in the Marcellus shale, the delegate noted.

This year's measure has even garnered the support of the Maryland Department of Natural Resources, he added.

The bill provides a procedure for property owners to clear up any discrepancies related to the ownership of minerals under the surface of their land.

The House unanimously supported Beitzel's measure on March 11, while Edwards' companion bill was

Biker Flown To Ruby Memorial By Trooper 5

A West Virginia man was flown to Ruby Memorial Hospital Tuesday afternoon following a two-vehicle accident on I-68 involving a motorcycle and a passenger vehicle.

Investigation revealed that Brian Edward Guthrie, 34, Piedmont, had been traveling west on a 2006 Honda Shadow, when his vehicle drifted toward a 2008 Lincoln MKX traveling in the next lane. The driver of the Lincoln, John William Thurston, 60, Lexington, Ky., slowed his vehicle and attempted to move into the same lane in which Guthrie was traveling. While doing so, Thurston's vehicle struck Guthrie's cycle from behind, ejecting Guthrie from the bike.

Woman Charged With Intent To Distribute Heroin

A Loch Lynn woman was arrested on Wednesday for controlled dangerous substance violations according to Garrett County state's attorney Lisa Welch, spokesperson for the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force.

Member of the task force conducted a traffic stop on a 2000 Ford Escort, driven by Carla Jo Songer, 40, along Paul Street, Loch Lynn. During the course of the stop, a K-9 scan was conducted on the vehicle, which resulted in a positive alert. A search of the vehicle revealed 28 capsules of heroin, a hypodermic needle, and a crack cocaine pipe. She was also served a warrant by Garrett County sheriff's deputies for driving on a suspended/revoked license. Police also seized the Ford Escort.

Songer is charged with possession with intent to distribute heroin, possession of heroin, possession of cocaine, possession of CDS paraphernalia, possession of a hypodermic needle, driving on a suspended/revoked license, and failure to drive right of center. She was taken into custody to await a bond hearing.

Local Resident Voices Support For Turbines

A Bethlehem Road resident voiced his support for wind turbines during the Garrett County commissioners' public meeting on Tuesday.

"I think having wind mills is a good decision," Marvin White said. "It's going to produce clean energy, and its going to produce jobs, good paying jobs."

Constellation Energy contractors started work on March 16 to make way for 28 of the electricity generating structures in the Eagle Rock area of Backbone Mountain. The preliminary work involved clearcutting timber and construction of access roads at a substation site.

Three residents who live near that site met with the commissioners last Tuesday, voicing their objections to the company's methods and questioning its sediment control plan.

After hearing about the alleged violations, the Maryland Department of the Environment temporarily halted the project.

Some of the turbines will be built on property that has been in the White family for at least 70 years. White acknowledged that changes would occur in order to accommodate the turbines, including timber being cut. But, he noted, timber has been cut in the county since "day one."

He said the nation and world are in an energy crisis.

"We don't have enough, and the country's still growing," White said. "We're going to have to produce some somewhere."

He added that energy is going to be made "right here in Garrett County."

White said some people are against turbines. "But do you want to build a big nuclear powerhouse up there?" White rhetorically asked about the Eagle Rock area. "A coal powerhouse? What would you rather see?"

Commissioner Fred Holliday indicated White's opinion was "refreshing."

White said he was a foreman and helped build all of the wind turbines in the Mt. Storm, W.Va., area.

"You read a lot of negative things," White said about turbines. "I think the press blew it out of proportion a little bit."

He said the Eagle Rock turbines will not be 400 feet tall, as has been reported.

"That's a big myth there," he said. "They're only 250. Nobody's going to go over and throw a big measuring stick on one to figure that

GC Commissioners Approve Four New Water/Sewer Master Plan Amendments

The Garrett County commissioners on Tuesday unanimously approved the inclusion of four new amendments to the Garrett County Water and Sewer Master Plan. They pertain to the Overlook Ridge subdivision, Thayerville Public Water System, and Mountain Lake Water System.

Following a public hearing on the amendments, the commissioners signed a resolution to include the additions in the master plan. No members of the general public voiced their support for or objection to the amendments at the hearing.

Garrett County Public Utilities director Linda Lindsey said Pete's Drive LLC, developer of the Overlook Ridge at Deep Creek Lake Condominium Subdivision, plans to construct a private water system to serve dwellings in that development. The community will consist of 8 family dwellings, 6 duplex units, and 16 townhouses for a total of 36 dwelling units.

The project will be constructed in three phases, which will begin with the single family homes.

The proposed water system will consist of two production wells, a raw water line from the wells to the control building, and potable distribution lines and appurtenances within the development.

Lindsey noted that the system will include three 2,500 gallon fiberglass storage tanks, and the total estimated daily withdrawal at full build-out is 9,450 gallons per day.

Construction, operation, and maintenance will be borne by the developer, and operation and maintenance of the system will be financed by the condominium association through its annual budget.

The project is located within the Thayerville Water Service Area, which was created last June. Upon Sincell is currently practicing in Garrett County in the areas of family and criminal law. She serves as the chair of the Garrett County Bar Association's Pro Bono Committee, which focuses on improving legal access to low-income members of the community.

She is the daughter of Ben and Beverly Sincell of Oakland.

Both Drivers Injured In Two-Vehicle Accident

A two-vehicle accident at the intersection of Pysell Crosscut and Sand Flat roads resulted in the transport of both drivers to Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Investigation by Garrett County sheriff's deputies revealed that Debra Lynn Baird, 55, Deer Park, had reportedly been traveling east on Pysell Crosscut Road in a 2009 Honda SUV, when she turned onto Sand Flat Road, failing to yield right of way to oncoming traffic. Her vehicle was struck by a 2002 Chevy sedan, driven by Robert Grant Callis, 42, Oakland. Callis had been traveling north on Sand Flat Road.

Both were taken to GCMH by Southern Rescue Squad. Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department also assisted at the 6 p.m. scene. Baird is charged with failure to stop at intersecting highway stop sign and yield right of way.

'10 Census Forms, Help Available At Local Sr. Centers

The Garrett County Community Action Committee has 2010 Census forms for those who did not receive them. In addition, help in filling out the forms is available through the organization's Area Agency on Aging.

"Please obtain a replacement census form at any of the Garrett County senior centers, town halls, Perkins Restaurant, or Grantsville library."

Persons who have questions about the census are asked to visit the Questionnaire Assistance Center closest to them. The following are Area Agency on Aging locations and times when a census person will be available to answer questions about the forms.

A two-vehicle accident in Oakland on Wednesday resulted in the transport of a Mtn. Lake Park woman to Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Oakland Police responded to the 11 a.m. scene.

Investigation revealed that Jessica Shylow Ayers, 27, had been traveling north on Third Street in a 1999 Saturn, when her vehicle was struck from behind by a 2000 Peterbilt tractor trailer, driven by Brian Lee McKinney, 52, Mentone, Ala. Ayers was taken to GCMH by Southern Rescue Squad for treatment of her injuries.

McKinney was cited for following a vehicle too closely.

Passenger Taken To GCMH By Southern Rescue

Jamie D. Stanton, 28, is charged with two counts of failure to follow conditions of probation and one count of failure to obey orders of the court. He was taken into custody to be held without bail.

COURT COMMISSIONER JACKSON SWORN IN – Edward A. Malloy Jr., administrative judge of District 12 (Allegany and Garrett counties) of the District Court of Maryland, has appointed Travis D. Jackson, Frostburg, as a District Court commissioner. Pictured is Sondra R. Buckel, Garrett County Circuit Court clerk, administering the oath of office last Wednesday. Jackson will serve in the District Court's Oakland location. He earned a degree in law and society from Frostburg State University. His prior work experience includes 1½ years with the state's Department of Parole and Probation. For the past six years, Jackson coached high school soccer at both Beall High School and Mountain Ridge High School. He will join two other commissioners staffing the Oakland office: Managing Commissioner Charles E. Pariseau and Commissioner Douglas E. Buckley. Administrative Commissioner Annetta Lamonica oversees the commissioner operations in Allegany and Garrett counties, and she is based in the Cumberland office. District Court commissioners are judicial officers involved in conducting initial appearances, issuing charging documents, summonses and warrants, setting and accepting bonds, or determining conditions of pre-trial release for arrested persons. Additionally, when court offices are closed, a District Court commissioner may accept petitions for Interim Peace Orders and Interim Protective Orders. Commissioners are appointed by the administrative judge of the assigned district, with the approval of Chief Judge Ben J. Clyburn.

It's Census Day (No foolin')...

Today is not only April Fools' Day (don't miss our Nacilbuper edition on the back of this section), but it is also Census Day all across America.

The U.S. Constitution mandates that a census be taken every 10 years, and there are good reasons for that mandate. Census data are used to distribute Congressional seats to states, to make decisions about what community services to provide, and to distribute $400 billion in federal funds to local, state, and tribal governments each year.

Just about everyone in Garrett County who has a valid address should have received their census forms a couple weeks ago, and since it takes less than 10 minutes to complete, theoretically we should have 100% compliance by now.

Some are concerned about sharing personal information in this way, alleging that the census is an invasion of privacy and fearing that it may be used for unscrupulous reasons; however, federal law does not allow the Census Bureau to divulge that info to would-be abusers.

And let's face it – With the Internet and the electronic age in which we live, almost no personal information is unavailable to the entire world anyway. Addresses, telephone numbers, and credit reports, among various other pieces of "private," personal information, can be retrieved by just about anyone within seconds.

The Census Bureau has been criticized of late for its great expenditure of money to send out the millions of advance letters and postcards prior to mailing the form itself, and for the production of relatively expensive television advertising that encourages people to fill out the forms and mail them in. With our economy so fragile, and the never-ending need to eliminate government waste, it seems almost outrageous that the bureau has gone to such lengths. Yet research shows that higher percentages of people receiving the mailed census questionnaire return a completed form after they receive the advance letter compared with those who receive merely the census form with a simultaneous request to return it. The letter also provides a way to protect the American public from scams that use the census to exploit people.

To reduce this to actual figures, the bureau is spending about $1 per person on combined promotion and outreach efforts. But it costs taxpayers $25 per person to send a census taker door-to-door to collect the same information if they don't mail it back.

Also, for every 1 percent increase in mail response in 2010, the census will save $85 million that would otherwise have to be spent on door-to-door follow-up with households that don't respond.

So it seems only logical and prudent that all of us fill out our forms and get them mailed back. Not doing so results in a far bigger waste of our hard-earned tax dollars, not to mention that it places our own state and county at risk of losing much needed funding.

Letters to the Editor

Writers of letters to the editor are reminded that letters will not be published if they exceed 400 words, do not include contact information, and/or are deemed to be libelous.

Editor's note: The following three letters were written by fifth grade students at Broad Ford Elementary School.

To the Editor:

Did you know that over 30% of people who smoke die each year from complications from smoking cigarettes? Some smokers spend over $336 a month, or $84 a week, on cigarettes.

If people would quit, they would sleep better, have stronger bones, and whiter teeth. Also, they could spend money on special occasions with their families.

I hope you take what I write and live a healthy life.

Tyler Lantz

To the Editor:

Think about what it would be like to be homeless. Thirty-five million Americans don't have a place to call home. According to Carrie Getson at Community Action, over 85 families and 120 single people in Garrett County don't either.

You may have a job, money, and a warm place to sleep at night, but many people don't Most of you probably have stuff you don't need. Well, I'm sure they could use it. You can donate to help. You can make life different for a homeless family.

I feel that we should build more homeless shelters in each town. They are forced to live on the street, in an abandoned car, a tent, or empty building because there aren't enough shelters, or they are embarrassed to let people know they are homeless.

You say there isn't enough room. Well, we could renovate old, broken-down buildings or use some unoccupied homes to create places for these people to live.

So don't just sit around and not worry about what's going on around you. Change some lives. Make a better life for those who need one.

Brooke Miller

To the Editor:

Youth Hunting Day gives kids like me an opportunity to experience the outdoors. It gives us the chance to be like real hunters.

There were around 5,000 kids who attended the youth hunt in 2009. Youths must have an adult 21 years or older present to be able to hunt legally. We also have to have a hunter safety card to be able to hunt on state ground.

However, I believe that Youth Hunting Day needs to be longer than one day. One day just isn't enough time to harvest a deer. Sometimes parents are just not available to take us hunting, so it would benefit us and our parents to have more than one day to choose from.

If you are concerned about the deer population, well, 28% of the deer population decreased due to car accidents, as 60,000 deer were hit by cars in 2009.

So adding an additional day to the youth hunt won't decrease the number of deer as much as cars do.

In conclusion, I hope you believe that there isn't enough time for youths to kill a deer on Youth Hunting Day.

To the Editor:

A new document is part of the orientation package for local students who need protection from bullying. The student submits the form to the principal, who contacts the Board of Education for an investigation. This new policy is meant to address and resolve the cruelty that some students think is fun before it gets out of hand.

Students have every opportunity to learn respect for others from their teachers, administrators, and other students, regardless of what they may have learned at home. A teacher recently chose to share some of her own conclusions about black people with her students. For instance, she told her class that by the time they were grandparents, black people could be enslaved again. She repeatedly looked at a biracial student in the classroom and kept saying, "No offense" or "Please don't take offense to that." She would also assure him that she knew that his family didn't do any of the things she was talking about.

He became quite the spectacle in the room. She went on to suggest that he may not want to hear her next comments. He offered to leave the room, but she said that wasn't necessary. She then told the students that many slaves raped the white slave owners' daughters so they would have black babies.

Now it's just about all I can do to write this down, let alone understand why in the world this teacher would say things like that! When you teach students about the Holocaust, do you have the Jewish children leave the room? Do you have to exclude Asian students when you talk about World War II?

A fellow student knew this was wrong and went home and told her mother. This responsible and compassionate parent reported the situation, and the teacher was allegedly reprimanded.

The school handbooks repeatedly emphasize the right of each student to a safe environment at school. Does she have a clue as to the damage she caused this individual's self-esteem, social networking, and overall sense of well-being? She is one of the people we rely on to be a positive influence in our children's lives. How do our children protect themselves from the bullying this teacher inflicted?

Although certainly an exception to the efforts of our wonderful teachers in Garrett County, this type of lesson in disrespect will have a lifelong effect on all of the children in that classroom.

Ellie Paugh

Editor's note: The writer of the following letter to the Garrett County Board of Education requested that it appear in this column.

Dear Garrett County Board of Education Members:

This letter is in response to the public meeting held at Northern Middle School on March 30 pertaining to Finzel area students attending Allegany County schools.

I regret not fully expressing my views when given the opportunity at the meeting. What greatly disturbs me, however, is that no one from the board stepped in when the lady who spoke immediately following me was treated with hostility by the crowd as she spoke in favor of the proposed policy change. Each person was allowed to voice his/her own opinion, devoid of heckling or interruption, excluding her. The level of disrespect she received was vehement and should have been addressed by any one of the board members or the board lawyer managing the meeting.

The board also should have been more prepared with statistics concerning bus ride times of affected families to Northern, Mt. Savage, and Mountain Ridge schools. I believe the presentation of these numbers would have put to rest the notion that the bus ride to Northern takes substantially more time.

Some of those who voiced their opinion at the meeting also spoke in a tone of hostility towards Garrett County schools in general. The presentation of these complaints was not warranted in this venue and tainted any valid arguments that were presented. Garrett County has consistently provided a quality public education that rivals that in any Maryland county.

The current policy allowing eastern Garrett families the Allegany County school choice began as a result of the Garrett County school consolidation in the early 1950s, closing many of the community schools and transforming others into elementary schools. The construction of Rt. 48 (now I-68) in the late 1970s and the recent opening of Mt. Savage Middle and closing of Beall Jr. High School have significantly changed the argument made years ago.

The trip to Mt. Savage Middle School traverses a much more dangerous route via Rt. 36 than the trip to Northern by means of I-68 and Rt. 219. From the I-68 Finzel exit, I would argue that the trip to Northern Middle is safer than the one to Mt. Savage Middle, with no time difference.

In summary, I believe Garrett County families should send their children to Garrett County schools. This encourages a sense of community and fraternity among citizens of an otherwise rural and geographically disconnected county. It is time to make the change.

Sincerely,
John Brobst

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Manta Ray Swim Team, I would like to thank the Wisp Resort for saving our summer swim season. We had already sent out flyers getting ready for our third year at the Kingwood pool when we learned that they had significant roof damage because of the heavy snow in February. They wouldn't be open until June, halfway through our season and long past our April 10 start date.

The Manta Rays needed a pool and the Wisp Resort answered that need. They are letting us use their pool until the C.A.R.C. pool at the college is completed in the fall of 2011.

We are very happy to be back in Garrett County and hoping to see some new faces from the area. The Manta Rays are excited to have one of our own retuning as head coach. Krista Hollingsworth is fresh from a winning season swimming for Franklin and Marshall College, bringing her talent and knowledge of college level competition with her.

Anyone interested in joining our team should visit our web site at: www.manta-ray.org for more information. Hope to see you at the Wisp!

Sincerely,
Sue Thomas

To the Editor:

Does the Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park area have enough police staffing to monitor our neighborhoods by driving through on a random basis?

Pittsburgh Avenue in Mtn. Lake Park and its adjacent streets have become streets of speeding vehicles and vehicles not stopping (not even pausing) at stop signs. This creates a high potential for accidents. I am sure there are other streets with this same problem, but I can only speak for my area.

Drivers would like to enter and exit intersections safely. Residents would like to exit their driveways safely. Walkers would like to feel safe while walking along streets.

School will soon be out for the summer. While adults are generally focused on walking, the younger generation is not always focused on traffic while walking. I would like for our children and tourists to be safe in our neighborhood.

Persons expect vehicles to stop at stop signs. Obeying the speed limits will allow a vehicle time to stop versus hitting something (person, animal, or item) in the street or along the street, and accommodate the entering of vehicles onto various streets.

I thought that writing to The Republican might have more of an impact than just contacting the police. It is brought to the attention of all residents in Mtn. Lake Park, Oakland, and other local areas.

Norma Garlitz

To the Editor:

It is exciting that April is here, spring has sprung, and all the snow has melted. However, it seems that there is a lot cropping up along the roadsides besides colt's foot and jonquils! I have been quite dismayed by all the exposed trash along the roadsides.

On the bright side, it is a good time for roadside clean-ups, as things can be seen easily. I would like to encourage those who might be walking on a nice day to take a garbage bag along and help make the county roads look a little better.

It seems as a nation we may need to have a new national "No Littering Campaign"; if not nationally, at least county-wide. People seem to have forgotten that littering is an eyesore and illegal. I don't ever remember having seen so much visible trash, and that includes the road in front of my own home.

Last spring, while walking one mile on my road, I collected 10 large garbage bags of trash! I would hope that those who might be tempted to throw that fast-food bag of trash, soda bottle, or beer can would think twice about the act. I also think that picking up roadside litter would be a great community-service project for individuals needing to complete those hours.

Earth Day is April 22. How about those of us who are able each fill at least one large garbage bag to help beautify our county roadways. It might also be a good time to activate or join the "Adopt-a-Highway" program.

Let's all get together, try to improve this situation, and really enjoy those spring walks along our beautiful Garrett County roadways.

To the Editor:

The first wound to the landscape of Garrett and Allegany counties was a scar on Eagle Rock Road by the Constellation Energy Company, a wind turbine company (photos on front page and page A-20 in the March 25 Republican) showing the clear cutting of timber and devastation of the landscape.

Over 70 years ago the eastern coal barons started stripping coal without any planning or restrictions whatsoever, until former Delegate B.O. Aiken's legislation that required back filling and reclamation of the disturbed top soil was passed. Later, former Senator Ed Mason successfully pushed legislation that restricted mining on a slope greater than 20 degrees.

Today the eastern wind barons are devastating our landscape without regulations or control. This is just the beginning – from here on it's "helter skelter" to erect these abominable 400-foot monstrosities. Shame on the county commissioners for allowing this to continue, and shame on the Maryland legislators for rejecting Delegate Beitzel's legislation to allow the commissioners to establish some controls, such as boundary setbacks – a day late and a dollar short. Finally, shame on us for allowing the eastern wind barons to bamboozle the citizens of both counties.

It may be too late, but a good try may pay off. Call the commissioners and the representatives and express your concerns or disappointment about the continued rape of our beautiful Garrett County.

In closing, I was against the destruction of the Garrett County courthouse, I was against the prisons in Allegany County, I am against the Rt. 219 Oakland bypass, and now I'm against these infernal wind turbines.

Never Wrong,
DeCorsey Bolden

To the Editor:

Our Town Theatre will be holding auditions next week for Eve Ensler's marvelous play, Necessary Targets, which is tentatively scheduled for the middle of May. Comprising a seven-woman cast, the play examines the war in Bosnia and Herzegovina and the effects of the ethnic cleansing on five Bosnian women.

It is not an easy production to direct. The production will be a thought-provoking experience, and is not for children or for those "who just want to be entertained." It is a challenge to produce, act in, and watch. It will inform you and show you that in today's modern world, we are not so far removed from barbaric behavior. It will break your heart, yet it will also give you a renewal of faith in the strength and perseverance of human kind.

Please check today's Arts page in this section for audition times and more information.

Thank you,
Jane B. Avery

To the Editor:

Because of current political events, I have heard much talk concerning the loss of our freedom.

First, I would like to say that any political (or physical) freedom is a privilege. Compared to much of the world, we are more than blessed with a sufficient amount of political freedom. For this we should be more than grateful.

Here is an idea we may want to ponder rather than focusing on supposed political "bondage." We could have all the political freedoms we could ever want and still not experience the freedom that is most important – emotional and spiritual freedom. We actually deny ourselves true freedom through selfishness, discontent, close-mindedness, negativity, addiction, and ignorance. Our actions are too often dictated by desires, cravings, and attachment to things, ideas, and warped senses of ourselves and others. We are often attached to resentment as well (refusing to forgive), which keeps us from enjoying the freedom to move on past yesterday.

Perhaps true freedom will be gained when we learn to find freedom within our own souls. Letting go of notions, releasing our grip on grudges and negative concepts, seeing instead of submitting to the constant guilty in December after a court trial before Judge Sherbin, after which he ordered a presentence investigation report be completed for the sentencing hearing.

Also in Circuit Court this week, Kelly Renee Corby, 33, Cumberland, admitted to violating her probation. Sherbin then reimposed Corby's previously suspended sentence of four years and eight months. The judge suspended all but six months of the sentence, and Corby will be on probation again after serving that sentence in the Garrett County Jail.

In August 2009, Corby was sentenced to five years in the Division of Corrections for conspiring to commit felony theft of a television from the Oakland Wal-Mart. She served four months and was released to probation. While on probation, Corby tested positive on a drug test and failed to report to her probation agent, the state's attorney noted.

Jeffrey Vincent Corby, 41, Cumberland, also admitted to violating his probation. Sherbin then reimposed Corby's previously suspended sentence of two years to the Division of Corrections.

Corby had pleaded guilty to conspiracy to commit robbery for an event that had occurred in September 2007 and was sentenced to three years in the Division of Corrections. He served one year of that sentence before being released and placed on probation.

While on probation, Corby failed to attend his specified treatment program, moved without permission of his probation agent, and failed to report to his probation agent, the state's attorney said.

drive to seek, opening our minds to learning, connecting with "God," ourself and others throughout the world through the energy of true compassion -- these may be some of the steps toward finding the freedom we are really looking for.

You will know you are free when no matter what extrinsic circumstances you encounter, you can be happy, grateful, accepting, forgiving, and full of compassion for yourself and others. We must stop focusing so much on political freedom we think we deserve and focus on freeing ourselves from the bondage that we inflict upon our lives.

May all souls be free!

BROKEN GOVERNMENT: WHERE IS OUR QUALITY OF PLACE?

by John N. Bambacus

In the case of the recent devastation and destruction of the Eagle Rock community on Backbone Mountain, our county commissioners did what they always do when confronted by citizens who seek their protection from limited liability industrial wind turbine developers: Nothing – said there was nothing they could do to protect the safety and well-being of their citizens – the same "nothing" broken record they've been playing for more than 8 years.

Garrett County Commissioners Gregg, Glotfelty, and Holliday would not accept any degree of responsibility for the gravity of their acts. Gregg's response to a question from an affected citizen was dismissive, bureaucratic, and self-exculpatory. His statement, and the usual and expected silence of Holliday and Glotfelty, was a violation of the public trust the residents of Backbone Mountain placed in them. Saying there was nothing he could do after years of doing everything in his power to create this situation is sanctimonious and disingenuous nonsense.

Our forests and mountains in many ways define our quality of place – they're part of who we are.

Did the commissioners ensure that clear-cutting Eagle Rock would be done in a manner that would do no harm? Why did the Maryland Department of the Environment shut the project down? Did they visit the destruction as requested by area residents? Does Constellation Energy have an obligation to inform residents of their plans to wreak havoc on our endangered species, ground water, landscape, property values, recreation, and tourism industry, and, indeed, our way of life? Questions. More questions. And no answers.

Eagle Rock homeowner Melisa Carrico put it best when she said to the commissioners, "I feel as though I've lost all faith in government to protect me." The commissioners have participated in ... "an act of destroying my safety, my environment, my property, and my community."

Rather than hiding under their desks and denying any responsibility for their complicity with the Clipper/Criterion/Florida Power & Light/ Constellation Energy crowd, the Maryland Public Service Commission, and the Maryland Department of Natural Resources, the commissioners need to step up to the plate, stop their defensiveness and institutional self-protection, and for once explain to the people of Garrett County why our forests and mountain ridges should be placed at risk by massive industrial wind facilities and not to be valued as a legacy for our children and grandchildren as the county's own Heritage Plan maintains.

Is it not reasonable to ask, "When will the commissioners provide compelling evidence showing how a massive industrial wind presence in Garrett County will do anything other than junk up our electricity supply in the process raising costs for rate and taxpayers?" Perhaps their silence is evidence that they don't even know what they don't know.

While many Garrett Countians oppose the industrialization of our ridges, it seems few are willing to get out of their comfort zones and actually do something to protect the way of life all of us cherish. Yes, astoundingly, many of our citizens seem not to take note or even care.

Even as I write this, after eight long years, it just may be too late. But all should be reminded that the responsibility for this devastation rests squarely with Garrett's commissioners and their key staff.

Good people should not abandon their neighbors on Backbone Mountain who are fighting to preserve our way of life.

Mr. Bambacus is a former state senator representing Garrett and Allegany counties.

GC Health Department Challenges Residents To Adopt Healthy Habits

National Public Health Week is April 5-11, and the Garrett County Health Department is initiating a "Healthy Habit Challenge" to the local community in keeping with the year's theme: "A Healthier America: One Community at a Time."

As the national debate surrounding health reform continues, public health leaders across the country are calling on Americans to commit to making the country a healthier nation, one community at a time, a health department spokesperson said.

The Healthy Habit Challenge is being used as a way to show individuals that becoming healthier is accomplished by making healthy choices. The challenge asks participants to complete at least 10 health habits from a list of 25 in the designated week.

"Garrett County residents can make a real difference if they commit to healthy behaviors for themselves, their children, and their families," said Garrett County health officer Rodney Glotfelty. "We will find real change when we shift from a health system of sick care to one focused on the prevention of disease and injury. Individuals and communities must adopt public health policies and practices that keep us all healthy."

Challenge participants who complete at least 10 health habits and return their forms to the Garrett County Health Department by Friday, April 16, at 5 p.m. will have their names entered into a drawing for a wellness gift. Participants completing 15 health habits will have their names entered into the drawing twice.

The complete Healthy Habit Challenge form is printed in this edition of the newspaper, or can be printed from the health department web site, located at www.garretthealth.org.

"Along with the individual health habits that we work on, we need to also realize that public health happens on a much larger scale," said Glotfelty, "from the air we breathe and the water we drink to the laws that protect us from injury and the vaccines that help us stay healthy."

Georges C. Benjamin, MD, executive director of the American Public Health Association, said the ultimate goal is to make America "the healthiest nation in one generation."

"We envision our nation as a place where everyone has access to health care and service, and a healthy lifestyle is celebrated," Benjamin said. "We want to make it easy for communities to make healthy choices every day. If we each commit to promoting good health in our communities, we can create a ripple effect across our neighborhoods, our cities, states and, hopefully, our nation."

For more information about National Public Health Week or the Health Habit Challenge, persons may contact the Garrett County Health Department at 301-334-7730 or 301-895-3111, or visit www.garretthealth.org.

Farming On The Mountaintop

Milk Producers Federation Sets Local Meeting

An informative workshop will be held at Garrett College at 7 p.m. on Friday, April 9, to help dairy farmers better understand the efforts made to promote milk consumption and issues related to milk prices. Speakers Jerrel Heatwole and Danna Brooks will explain the efforts of the National Milk Producers Federation.

Heatwole and his wife have been in dairy since 1984. They also have a poultry operation. He is a member of the DFA executive committee and chairman of the Northeast Area Council. He also serves as treasurer of the Mid-Atlantic Dairy Association and is a member of the United Dairy Association, National Milk Producers Federation, and Dairy Management Inc. boards.

Brooks is vice president of government relations for the National Milk Producers Federation. She is a native of Arkansas, worked on the 2008 Farm Bill, and is currently working on the 2012 Farm Bill. Prior to joining NMPF, she worked for the Florida Farm Bureau and American Farm Bureau. She also worked as a legislative assistant for Rep. Marion Berry (D-Arkansas) and Joann Emerson (R-Mo).

The National Milk Producers Federation, established in 1916 and based in Arlington, Va., develops and carries out policies that advance the well-being of dairy producers and the cooperatives they own. The members of NMPF's 30 cooperatives produce the majority of the U.S. milk supply, making NMPF the voice of more than 40,000 dairy producers on Capitol Hill and with government agencies.

NMPF provides a forum through which dairy farmers and their cooperatives formulate policy on national issues that affect milk production and marketing.

"Even if you do not ship milk to a cooperative that participates in the NMPF, this session will be very informative," said Willie Lantz, extension educator. "A discussion will also be held about the future of dairy production in Garrett County. The Garrett-Preston Rural Development Coalition is currently collecting information from dairy producers to formulate a strategic plan for agriculture. The strategic plan will help guide educational efforts, government, police, and economic development activities related to agriculture. Your participation is vital to helping shape the future."

The meeting will begin with pizza from Domino's in Keyser. Dairy producers, through their check-off investment, are partnering with Domino's Pizza to launch a line of six specialty pizzas that use up to 40 percent more cheese than a regular Domino's pizza. The potential additional cheese sales for these pizzas total more than 10 million pounds of cheese annually, using more than 100 million additional pounds of milk.

Ice cream will also be served later in the meeting.

The meeting is open to anyone. To register or receive more information, persons may call the Garrett County Extension Office at 301-334-6960.

4-H Participants Compete In State Skillathon Event

The 2010 Maryland State Livestock Skillathon was held in conjunction with the Maryland Cattle Industry Convention on March 6 in Hagerstown. Seventeen members of the Garrett County 4-H program were among over 120 participants in this year's competition.

The competition tests the members' knowledge of many areas of beef, swine, and sheep production. Participants must be able to identify breeds of livestock, feeds, livestock equipment, parts of the animal, and retail meat cuts. The contest also has three classes for evaluation of hay, wool, and meat cuts.

All participants can also take a written test and complete a quality assurance problem.

The contest is sponsored by the University of Maryland Extension and the Maryland Cattlemen's Association. Each year, the top 20 placing individuals are recognized in each of the categories of junior, intermediate, and senior.

For Garrett County in the junior division, Sheyenne Tichnell placed 15th, Isaac McCrobie placed 18th, and Jacob Hauser placed 19th. In the senior division, Levi Lantz placed 13th.

Katelyn Gnegy also helped with the contest. She was on last year's Maryland State Livestock Skillathon team that placed third at the National 4-H Livestock Skillathon Contest held in Louisville, Ky. during the North American International Livestock Exposition.

Annual Livestock Sale To Be Held At Fairgrounds

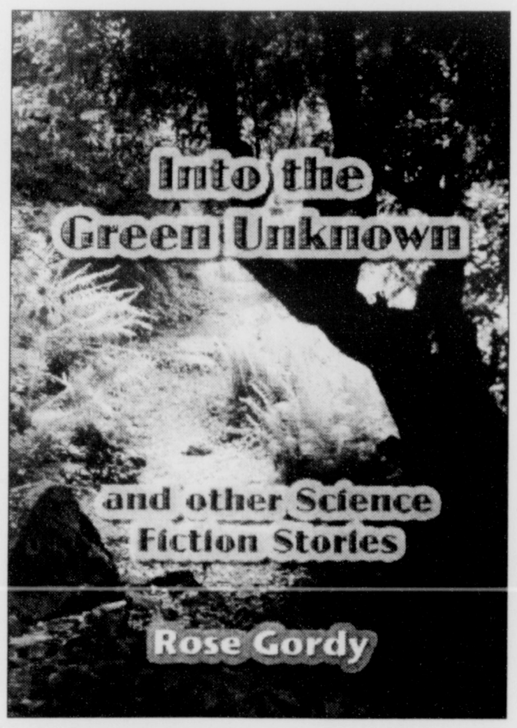
Local Writer Rose Gordy Publishes Book



Local writer Rose Gordy recently self-published her first book. It is titled Into the Green Unknown, and is a collection of science fiction stories and poems. Many have been previously published in the fanzine Pablo Lennis, out of Indiana, and on the web at surprisingstories.dcwi.com.

Gordy will host a book sale/signing/social at her home in McHenry on April 10, beginning at 7 p.m. The public is invited to attend. Persons may RSVP online at rosegordy@comcast.net, where they may also obtain directions to her home, as well as access her web page, located at www.rosewords.com, for further information.

Gordy is a retired English teacher, having taught for many years in the Pittsburgh area before moving to Maryland, where she continued teaching in Montgomery County.

She and her husband Ed, who died last September, bought a house in the Deep Creek area nearly three years ago. She has resided at that home and at her house in Silver Spring since that time. She plans to move to Garrett County full time in the near future, she said.

Gordy is the mother of three sons, Steve, Patrick, and Brendan. She belongs to the Writers' Group in Oakland, and is a member of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce. She is the sole proprietor of Rosewords, a writing, editing, and tutoring service.

In addition to being published in Pablo Lennis, Gordy has had a number of her stories and poems accepted for publication in magazines such as the Maryland English Journal, The Critic, The Merton Seasonal, and The Journal of Poetry Therapy.

A short story titled "My Honey Darlin'" was accepted for inclusion in the local literary journal Ginseng, which will be released soon.

Currently Gordy is working on the final revision of her first novel, which she said she expects to be out in May.

Beginners Jewelry Making Course Slated In G'ville

Garrett College has scheduled a course titled "Beginners Jewelry Making" for four consecutive Mondays, beginning April 19, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Northern Outreach Center, Grantsville. No previous experience is required.

This course will start with a beginner project of making earrings with beads and wire. The second class will be on making links and clasps. Class three will be on necklace construction, and the last class will involve making wire rings with an accent bead.

Several techniques will be introduced in the course, including use of beads, head pins, eye pins, snap sets, and wire manipulation. Students will have the opportunity to ask questions regarding techniques they are interested in, which may be incorporated into class projects.

"There is plenty of individual expression packed into this course," said a spokesperson. "Students will finish the course with their hands full of jewelry that they have made."

To register for the course, persons may call the Continuing Education and Workforce Development office at 301-387-3069.

For additional information, one may contact Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center coordinator, at 301-895-4700 or terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

Our Town Holding Auditions For Necessary Targets

Auditions for the seven-woman play Necessary Targets will be held in the basement of Our Town Theatre on April 5 from 7 to 9 p.m. and on April 6 from 4 to 6 p.m. The show will be directed by Jane Avery.

Persons who wish to audition but cannot make these times may contact Avery at 301-334-5640, ext. 3, to arrange an appointment for an audition.

Avery said the play is about two American women, a Park Avenue psychiatrist and a young writer, who travel to Bosnia to help women refugees confront their memories of war.

"Though the two have little in common beyond the methods they use to distance themselves from their subjects, they emerge deeply changed as they confront their own fears in the face of violence, resiliency, and war," Avery said.

The play is based on interviews conducted by Eve Ensler with numerous women who survived the civil war in the former Yugoslavia. Avery said she feels Necessary Targets is a "timely reminder of how America struggles to define its relationship to the rest of the world."

"I have never thought of myself as a pessimist, but the news and the media have given me cause to view my world with a certain alarm," she said. "I'm worried about the treatment of people around the world, and considering the things that are said to and about our government. I am concerned about the actions and treatment of the people in my own country and my own community.

"It is important to me to fight the indifference that many of us have towards our present situations. For me, directing a play about it is one way in which I can fight it. Empathy can be a powerful tool against apathy," Avery said.

The band comprises twins Darryl and Elliott Glotfelty (both guitar/vocals), older brother Rob Glotfelty (bass), and David Valenta (drums). All of the band members reside permanently in Garrett County and have played extensively in western Maryland. In addition to playing locally, The Lake Effect has a large following in the Baltimore area, where they have played at many venues. Right, By Accident offers musical selections that can appeal to a wide range of audiences, as it draws upon many different musical influences. "It truly captures many genres and influences, while still maintaining a cohesive sound with driving rock riffs mixed with pop-influenced melodies," said a spokesperson. For more information on the band, show dates, or CD orders, persons may visit www.-tleband.com.

Ballroom Dancing Course Scheduled At Oakland Studio

Garrett College will offer ballroom dancing lessons beginning on April 14 and continuing once a week over eight weeks. The class will run Wednesday evenings from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

The college has partnered with Jennifer Christophel of Balanced Body Studio, Oakland, to offer this dance series.

"This introduction to social dancing styles will cover East Coast swing, foxtrot, and rumba dances.

"These styles are appropriate for weddings and other social occasions," said a spokesperson. "Ballroom dancing has been shown to have many benefits, including conditioning the body, building and increasing stamina, strengthening and toning the legs and body, increasing flexibility and balance, aiding in weight loss, and relieving stress."

Christophel, executive director of Maryland for Dancing Classrooms, a member of the National Dance Council of America, and competitor in international Latin and ballroom dancing, has more than 10 years of experience teaching dance.

Ballroom dance shoes are required for this course. Students may call the Balanced Body Studio at 301-387-7585 for information regarding shoe purchase.

Trust God's words, ancient prophets told the Jewish world so long ago.
They heard the words, but misunderstood, for sin seemed blessed and the righteous tested, for what earthly or heavenly good?
Then Jesus came, teaching in God's name, humble obedience and love.
Earth's not your goal, he taught his fold.
Don't be tied to wealth, power, or grudge.
Choose God first and you'll be blessed;
you'll be free in God's heavenly home.
Christ died on a cross to show no stress on Earth's too great to be borne.
Then he rose from the dead and showed, indeed,
we can look to him and trust God's words.

Patricia Wolfe, USAF Soprano, To Be Soloist In GCS Concert

Chief Master Sergeant Patricia Fanara Wolfe, a professional soprano retired from the United States Air Force, Singing Sergeants, will perform as a guest soloist with the Garrett Choral Society in its next concert, which will be given on April 10 at 7:30 p.m. and April 11 at 2 p.m. at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Oakland. The concert is titled "Sweet Music, Sweet Harmony," and will feature the musical creations of composer Ralph Vaughan Williams (1872-1958).

Wolfe will perform in Williams' choral work, Five Mystical Songs.

The choral society, which includes singers from across Garrett County, is under the direction of Julie Turrentine, and is accompanied by pianist/keyboardist Lynn Grimm.

Prior to joining the USAF, Wolfe earned both bachelor's and master's degrees from the Catholic University of America, Benjamin T. Rome School of Music, where she performed in numerous operas and in several small choral ensembles. She went on to perform with the Washington Lyric, Chesapeake, and Wolfe Trap opera companies. She was the first female cantor at the Basilica of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, D.C. Before entering the USAF, she toured with a USO show to support U.S. troops in Greenland.

After a few months of entertaining at a restaurant in Reston, Va., with a now-retired Singing Sergeants' baritone, Wolfe was invited to audition for the USAF Band. Upon winning the audition, she became the eighth woman to join the Singing Sergeants. In her first decade with the chorus, she performed throughout Europe, Turkey, and China.

While on a historic tour to the People's Republic of China, she said she was struck by the Chinese people's love of western music.

"Music is a universal language, a common language of all people, which speaks directly to the heart," Wolfe said.

She was one of the pioneers of entertaining in the quarters for senior military and government leaders as they hosted foreign dignitaries. These high level performances continue today. Her extensive and varied repertoire meant that she was the "go to" vocalist on call at a moment's notice to fulfill a performance request, a spokesperson said.

On one occasion while sitting at home in the evening, she received a phone call asking her to sing for then-vice-president George Herbert Walker Bush. Over time she became Secretary of Defense Casper Weinberger's "singer of choice" and sang frequently for Gen. Colin Powell during his time as the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

In 2004, Wolfe sang a verse from "America the Beautiful" during the Capitol Rotunda funeral service for former President Ronald Reagan. This was viewed by millions around the globe, the spokesperson said, and "USAF men and women were well represented by such a superb performance."

She was a 25-time soloist on over 25 recordings duringher 26-year career, and was the recipient of the 1997 USAF Band Senior Noncommissioned Officer of the Year.

On the anniversary of September 11, 2001, in a globally televised event, she sang "God Bless America" before President George W. Bush and then-Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld, and a live audience numbering tens of thousands.

She served as the manager of the Singing Sergeants for five years. After 26 years in the service, she retired. She now is continuing where she left off during her military career, singing as a guest soloist for charity events, local churches, and most recently as a recital soloist for a dinner given in honor of Supreme Court Justice Antonin Scalia.

In addition to the presentation with Wolfe, the choral society will present a number of Williams' works, including "O Clap Your Hands," "O Taste and See," "The Dark-Eyed Sailor," and several other pieces. Flutist Lindy Moebs will accompany a presentation of "Greensleeves." Serenade to Music, a musical setting of a scene from Act V of William Shakespeare's play The Merchant of Venice, will also be presented.

Tickets for the program are $10 for adults and $5 for youth 18 years and younger. One dollar from each ticket will be donated toward Haiti relief via Heart to Heart International, a global humanitarian organization. Persons may learn more about the organization at www.hearttoheart.org.

Tickets are available at Gregg's Pharmacy and Jan Florist in Oakland, as well as from any choral society member or at the door.

GLAF SUPPORTS GARRETT MENTORS – The Garrett Lakes Arts Festival recently made a contribution to the Garrett Mentors program by donating season tickets for a raffle. Master Plan completion of the proposed public water system that will serve that area, the Overlook Ridge development will be required to connect to the public system and abandon the private supply.

Overlook Ridge developers also plan to construct a sewage collection system. This project will be completed in two phases and will include sewer lines, a 9,000 gallon emergency holding tank, and a sewage grinder pumping station.

The cost of constructing this infrastructure will also be borne by the developer. Operation and maintenance of the on-site system will be financed by the condominium association through its annual budget.

Sewage treatment will be provided at the Deep Creek Lake Wastewater Treatment Plant, Lindsey noted.

The third amendment provides for the inclusion of the Thayerville Public Water System into the master plan. On Jan. 19, the commissioners awarded a contract to Rummel, Klepper & Kahl, which will provide design and construction phase engineering services.

The county has applied for financial assistance through the Maryland Department of Environment for the proposed system. For the purpose of the funding application, the total project cost – which includes administrative, engineering, construction, land, rights of way, and contingencies – was estimated at $11,229,000.

The fourth amendment pertains to recent improvements made to the Mountain Lake Water System. The system is owned and operated by the Garrett County Sanitary District and serves the towns of Mtn. Lake Park and Loch Lynn Heights. Four new wells, lines, pumps, appurtenances, a 500,000 gallon concrete water storage tank, and other improvements have been added to the system.

Its primary water source had been a series of springs lying in a mountain gap watershed referred to as Landon's Dam.

"By developing alternate ground water sources, the district can discontinue usage of springs as a water source," Lindsey said. "This will eliminate the possibility of a public health risk of contamination of the water source because of surface water influence."

The Huskies finished up their week with a home match against Hampshire yesterday. The boys' team suffered another 7-0 defeat for the week, while the girls were edged 4-3.

Tennis Season Brings Old, New Players To Courts; Rams Play Sentinels In Debut

A new sports season brings new players along with returning athletes having the experience and skill to excel. The tennis teams of Southern High School have gained new players and welcomed back old ones for the 2010 season on the courts, and hope that the slate will lead them to the regional championships.

The Rams made their debut last Thursday with an away match at Fort Hill. The teams dropped in both matches to the Sentinels, with the boys losing 6-1 and the girls being swept 7-0.

Senior Jake Bramande claimed the only win for the Southern boys' team as he defeated Fort Hill's Rock Evans, 8-4. Bramande is one of seven returning seniors that make up the team this year, along with four juniors and three freshman. The boys' team did not lose a single player to graduation.

Other seniors are Andrew Mowbray, Cory Murphy, George "Brutus" Scheffel, A.J. Storck, Dylan DiGioia, and Dakota Workman. According to head coach Jack Riley and assistant coach Jeff Murphy, these seniors have become the strength and the weakness of the team.

"The number of seniors on the team is a strength because they have been playing all four years and have the experience, but at the same time it's a weakness," said Riley. "They will graduate and that's a lot of skill out the door. But regardless, we will continue to work toward a winning season. We also hope to win the Bi-County Championships, and have athletes go to the Regional Championships."

The boys' team had some wins in the exhibition category with doubles teams of Mowbray and DiGioa defeating Fort Hill's Scott Proietti and Cody Self, 8-3. Workman and junior Jarad Arnold teamed up to defeat Emerson Kennedy and John Clark with an 8-0 sweep. Freshman Cody Murphy and Mowbray blanked the doubles team of David Humbertson and James Kline, 8-0.

In the girls' match, no Southern player won a singles or a doubles match, but Chloe Anderson picked up a singles exhibition match with a 6-0 win over Taylor Tomczewski. Before her, doubles team of Erin King and Sara King claimed an 8-1 victory over Sara Dignan and Tryston Talley.

Diana Ashby returns as the Rams head coach for another season, and believes in a "one game at a time, one girl at a time" philosophy when it comes to her team.

"We have five new players and five returning players, which is our weakness and strength," said Ashby. "The five returning players love to play tennis, and along with their experience, this should help them win since tennis can be a head game. The five new players have never played tennis before, but they have learned quickly."

The Rams lost their top player, Kaytie Riley to graduation, but top returning players for Southern's girls' team are Paige Carr, Caitlin Simpson, and Patty Sherrard. They will be looked to in order to lead the young team.

Leading in the singles will be Abby Wildesen, Erin King, Carr, Simpson, and Sherrard. Anderson and Sara King will be playing as the No. 2 doubles team.

Both Riley and Ashby have stated that the toughest opponents for the 2010 season will be Fort Hill and Allegany, which they have predicted correctly in their first match.

Southern moves on to an away game against Bishop Walsh tonight, and will then face Mtn. Ridge on Tuesday at Frostburg State University. See the schedule for all of the Rams' season games.

SHS Track And Field Season Under Way; Up To Coaches To Make Right Choices

The track and field 2010 season is under way, and with many decisions to make, Southern High School's girls' track team coaches Steve Cosner and Jill Bosley understand it will be up to them to make all the right choices for a great sports season.

"We have a lot of first time members on the team," said Cosner, "and while they all look very strong and will contribute, we as coaches have got to have the time to figure out where to best use them. The weather this spring has put us behind in that regard, but as the season progresses we should be able to put these girls where they will be contribute to the overall team."

Southern lost four girls to graduation, one being Krista Hollingsworth, a standout long-distance runner. She competed at the state level in the 2-mile run, finishing seventh in 12:17. Alyna Raynovich, Jennifer Cosner, and Emily Lipscomb will also be missed this year in the throwing and long-distance events.

The team won't be without leaders, however, as Samantha Taylor returns in the hurdling events, Rachel Flinn returns in the sprinting and pole vault events, and Lindsey Smith and Katie Gindlesberger return in the long-distance events.

Taylor made it to the finals of the 100m hurdles at the state level, finishing sixth place as a junior with a time of 17.10. Smith and Gindlesberger were the leaders of Southern's 2009 cross country team, who finished sixth at the state level.

"We should be very strong in the mid to long distance, hurdles and the jumping events," said Cosner. "We have some very promising new members, especially freshmen Cara Brack, Tess Watson, and Karisa Weissgerber and junior Claire Wilkinson, who should move right in and make these events stronger than we have had for a while. I look for our relay teams to be some of the best in the area this year."

Cosner also said that the team hasn't competed as well as they wanted to at the regional level in the past couple of years, but one of the goals of this year is to improve on that. "I know we have the girls to do it – now the coaches have to do the right stuff to make it happen."

Southern will face some difficult opponents this year, ones that have proven tough in the past. According to Cosner, Hampshire is seen to be strong in the Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference, as well as Frankfort and Keyser.

"There should be a lot of new kids in all programs this year, and while I think we will have some of the better new kids, you never know who will get the special athlete this year," said Cosner. "When we get to the regional meet, Williamsport is always tough, but they have lost some big athletes this year. I think Smithsburg may be the one to watch this year as well as new school Manchester Valley."

The Rams opened their season today with a meet at Preston for the Preston Border Clash Relays. They will then host their first meet on Tuesday at 4 p.m. against Northern and Frankfort.

Huskies Suffer Two Losses In A Row; Enthusiasm Not Stifled

Six innings went by with not a single run during the Northern High School softball team's game against Keyser on Saturday, until the Tornados posted a single run in the seventh to win 1-0 over the Huskies. Northern was later handed a loss, 16-1, by Mtn. Ridge last night in Frostburg, and is now 0-3.

Regardless of the rough start to the season, head coaches Carol Humberson and Debbie Brenneman said the girls are eager to play hard and to give 100%.

"We are a young team, but we have tons of enthusiasm," said Humberson. "There is a lack of varsity experience, but these girls have experience from being on the junior varsity team and summer leagues. This group of girls are hard workers and really enjoy the game, which will make a difference this year."

Humberson also said that these girls play well together and the team has shown some good defense. In addition, the Huskies will depend on their strong pitching and the desire to give their all at practice and at games.

Against Keyser, pitcher Taryn Brenneman allowed just three singles from the Tornados, and also recorded eight strikeouts and two walks. The Huskies were able to get a runner to third base in the fourth and fifth innings, but saw the runner stranded each time. Northern left a total of six runners on base while Keyser left eight.

"We didn't get to play Keyser last year due to scheduling," said Humberson. "It was a tough game on Saturday. It came down to the seventh inning and Keyser won on an unearned run from a squeeze bunt that we fumbled and couldn't get the runner out."

Keyser pitcher Megan Anderson allowed three singles from Northern as well, and had five strikeouts and two walks. Teammate Katelyn Ray was credited with the win when, with two outs in the seventh, she walked and advanced to third on a throwing error in the infield. She scored when Brooke Mangold reached first base safely on a bunt single.

Returning players for the 2010 season are sophomore pitcher Taryn Brenneman, who made All-Area second team last year; sophomore outfielder and pitcher Lauren Yeager; sophomore infielder and catcher Miranda Beasom; and junior infielder Kaitlyn Fratz, who made All-Area honorable mention last season.

Humberson and Brenneman will be assisted by Sheila Butler and Terry Brenneman, and all hope to expand on last season's 3-9 record.

"We are hoping to improve with each game and become a stronger team," said D. Brenneman. "We are definitely building a group that is looking forward to the future, and we are excited for what's in store for these fine young athletes."

In last night's game against the Miners, the Huskies opened the first inning with one run, but didn't see another player cross the plate. Brenneman had an RBI single for the Huskies, who were out-hit, 18-3, by the Miners.

Taylor Llewellyn had a double, two singles, three RBI, and three runs scored to lead Mtn. Ridge. Heather Shipe tripled and singled, while Stephanie Fazenbaker finished with two singles and scored three times.

"Mtn. Ridge is definitely one of our toughest opponents, as we saw last night, and Allegany will be difficult as well," said Humberson. "But I think that we will become a team that has other coaches finally looking our way and thinking 'yea, that Northern team – they are definitely contenders.'"

In the JV match, Kelsey Durst had two singles for Northern, who lost, 12-2, to the Mtn. Ridge jayvees.

The Miners had a big night with a 5-run first and a 5-run second inning to boost their lead to 10-1 to start the third. Two more runs came in the third inning, and an additional four in the fourth for the win. Megan Beal and Amanda DuVall doubled and singled, and Kaitlin Lemmert had a pair of singles. Ally Hawkins smacked a triple, while Kennedy Logsdon doubled.

Northern will host the next three games, with the first tonight against Berlin at 4:30 p.m. The Huskies will then entertain Keyser on Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. and Mtn. Ridge on Thursday at 4 p.m.

NHS SOFTBALL SEASON UNDER WAY – With a young but enthusiastic team this year, the softball team of Northern High School hopes to become "a team that has other coaches finally looking its way." Head coaches Carol Humberson and Debbie Brenneman believe that this could just be that year. The Huskies faced Keyser and Mtn. Ridge this past week, and fell to both opponents. Varsity team members are, front row left to right, Taryn Brenneman, Kiersten Butler, Lauren Yeager, Breanna Mallow, Whitney Miller, and Kaitlyn Fratz. Standing are, left to right, Hannah Fike, Miranda Beasom, Tabi Beasom, Brittany Mallow, and Taylor Sines. Below is the junior varsity team, front row left to right, Kristen Howard, Kayla Porter, Ashley Edmonds, Hannah Smearman, and Jessica Yutzy. In the back row, left to right, are Ashley Brenneman, Airica Paugh, Tori Devine, Kelsey Durst, Kirsten Rayner, and Sonya Thomas. See story for more details of the games.

SHS Softball Team Posts Second Win, But Then Suffers First Losses

After having a successful start to the season, the softball team of Southern High School posted another win last Thursday as it edged Petersburg, 4-3. The Rams suffered their first loss by one run, 10-9, to Hampshire on Saturday, and were then dominated by host Frankfort, 12-2, last night.

Southern went up 1-0 in first inning against Petersburg last Thursday when Ayla Fulmer scored on a Lindsey Glotfelty double. The score remained until the fourth inning when Petersburg scored three runs on a past ball and a Southern error.

The Rams rallied in the fifth to score three runs on four straight hits, and Glotfelty finished the game 4-for-4 with a triple, a double, and a pair of singles.

W. Lough pitched for Petersburg, striking out five, allowing 10 hits and no walks. Alycia Horner got the win for Southern by striking out 14, allowing three hits and four walks.

The Rams didn't put up their first run until the fourth inning. The Trojans scored first at the bottom of the first inning with one run and then recorded three more in the third. Southern picked up its game in the sixth with four runs, but Hampshire answered back with six to make it 10-5. The Rams made their final attempt at capturing a win in the seventh inning by scoring four more runs, but were halted by Trojan pitcher Kasey Patterson. Southern out-hit Hampshire, 11-8.

Lindsay Lipscomb finished with four singles, Horner had a triple and two singles, and Glotfelty had a pair of singles for the Rams.

Kendra Hardesty pitched a little over six innings, striking out seven in the process, and giving up just six hits and three walks from Hampshire. Horner relieved her in the seventh and struck out one. She allowed only two hits and two walks.

The Trojans were led by Kayla Keckley's double, two singles, and three RBI. Tori Corbin drove in three runs on a double in the sixth inning, and teammate Autumn Chaney hit two singles and scored two runs.

Southern trailed through the first two innings in last night's game against Frankfort. The Falcons recorded two runs in the first inning, and then added another four in the second. The Rams managed one run in the third inning and another in the fourth, but saw no further action. Frankfort brought home another five runs in the bottom of the third inning and tacked on a final run in the sixth for the win.

Horner doubled, and Lipscomb had two hits for the Rams, who were out-hit 10-4.

Leading Frankfort was Allie Lantz with her two-run double, while Jasmine Morgan had two singles and scored two runs. Lantz and Taylor Rice pitched three innings and combined for five strikeouts.

The Rams are scheduled to travel to Keyser tonight, and will then host Petersburg on Monday. Southern will wrap up its week with an away game against Mtn. Ridge on Wednesday.

On your birthday;
And not just then, but every minute,
Since you went away.
You were the center of our lives
Before your soul passed on;
It's just so hard for us to believe
That you are really gone.
But we celebrate the life you lived
And all the things you gave us;
Our wonderful memories of you
Are the things that will comfort and save us.
Please think of us, as we think of you
With hearts so full of love;
We're looking up at you,

Great Season Start For NHS Baseball Team; Trounces Mtn. Ridge, Keyser

The Northern High School varsity baseball team has had a great start to its 2010 season, trouncing on host Mtn. Ridge, 10-4, in the season opener last Friday, and then on Keyser, 10-5, in a make-up game on Saturday in Keyser.

The Husky junior varsity teams have also had successes with a 7-3 victory over the Miner jayvees and a convincing 16-1 win over the Tornado junior varsity.

Neither Northern nor Mtn. Ridge could send a batter home in the first two innings, but the Miners managed to take a 1-0 lead in the third. The Huskies answered back in the fourth with a single run, but Mtn. Ridge added one run in the fourth and fifth. Northern then took the lead at the top of the sixth, 4-3, but Mtn. Ridge tied it. The Huskies broke away with a 7-run seventh inning for the victory.

Northern's Steven Holtschneider and Alex Smith each collected a double and a single, while Teddy Linton and Andrew Sisler collected two singles apiece.

Dylan Miller had five strikeouts in the win, and between him and Holtschneider, allowed just four hits from the Miners.

Leading Mtn. Ridge was Adam Stowell with his three hits, a double, and two singles, and teammate Cody Hovatter doubled. Pitcher Ryan Redinger had eight strikeouts in six innings in the loss.

In the junior varsity game, Aaron Broadwater doubled, singled, and knocked in three for Northern, while Cody Rodeheaver singled twice. Rodeheaver and Pat Sines combined to hold Mtn. Ridge to three hits, striking out seven.

In Saturday's victory over Keyser, the Huskies opened the first inning with four runs, and kept the Tornados to zero hits through the second inning. Northern collected four more runs at the top of the third inning, but Keyser followed with two runs to make it 8-2. Neither team scored in the fourth inning, and the Huskies were kept from making any runs in the fifth and sixth. Keyser, however, drove home two runs in the fifth and one in the sixth to get within three runs of the Huskies. Two final runs from Northern came in the seventh inning for the win.

Andy Umbel hit a grand slam in the opening inning of the game, and added a double to aid in Northern's early lead. Linton and Justin Shaw posted two singles each, and Sisler and Corbyn Browne drove home two-run doubles for the Huskies. Jake Bosley provided a two-run single in the win.

Northern starter Holtschneider struck out nine Keyser opponents and walked two for the win. The Huskies were allowed eight hits to the Tornados' nine.

Dylan Simone led Keyser with his two singles and RBI, while Jamison Jones collected two RBI with a double and a single. Teammate Zach Cummings added an RBI single in the loss.

Cody Rodeheaver finished with two doubles and a single with four RBI to lead the Northern jayvees in the win over the Keyser junior varsity. Josh Bittinger added an RBI double, Josh Mason contributed two singles with one RBI, and Aaron Broadwater singled three times in the win. Patrick Sines worked four innings as the starter and allowed one run.

Northern is scheduled to play at Allegany this evening, and will then participate in the Musselman Eastern Tournament on Saturday. The Huskies will then host cross-county rival Southern on Monday with game time at 4:30 p.m., and will then travel to Fort Hill on Wednesday.

Pair Of Homers Boost Rams Over Campers; Fall By One To Sentinels

Nathan King and Ryan Bennett each sent one over the fence to lead the varsity boys' baseball team of Southern High School in its season opener against Allegany last Thursday, aiding in the Rams' 8-2 victory over the Campers. Southern suffered its first loss soon after as it was edged 12-11 by Fort Hill on Tuesday in Cumberland. The Friday game against Keyser was postponed to a later date.

The score was 0-0 through the first two innings of the Allegany game until Nathan King hit a two-run homer at the top of the third. He also picked up a two-run double in the Rams' five-run fifth, and Ryan Bennett hit a three-run homer as well. He drove in a run in the seventh and final inning.

King pitched a five-hitter, and struck out 11, walked one, and hit one.

For Allegany, Steffen Bonnett went 2-for-2 with a single and a double. Teammate Seth Thompson had an RBI single, while Drew O'Neal brought one in with a sacrifice fly.

J.D. Hook struck out seven in a little over four innings of play, and allowed eight hits from the Rams.

Against Fort Hill on Tuesday, Southern pulled ahead after bringing in a run in the first and second innings. The lead went to the Sentinels, however, at the bottom of the inning when they posted six runs. The Rams scored two runs in the third inning but were matched with two from Fort Hill in the fourth.

Southern dished out a 4-run fifth inning to tie it 8-8, and Fort Hill got one run at the bottom of the inning to inch ahead. Neither team scored in the sixth inning, and then the Rams brought in three runs at the top of the seventh to take an 11-9 lead. Fort Hill countered with a game-winning rally in the bottom half of the inning.

Southern's Sharpless and Sweitzer combined to allow just eight hits from the Sentinels. Sharpless finished with two hits, a single and a double, and two RBI. Teammate Calvin Hilliard had two hits and three RBI, while Cody Myers collected two hits and one RBI. Cory Helbig managed three hits for the Rams, who finished with 13 hits.

Leading Fort Hill was Travis Miller, who went 4-for-5 with singles and knocked in five runs. Mark Kelly followed with a single and triple for two runs, and then also scored two runs for the Sentinels. Mike Moyer scored three runs, while Chris Martin singled twice.

Southern is scheduled to travel to the Tucker Co. Tournament this Saturday, and will then travel to cross-county rival Northern on Tuesday. The Rams will then host Allegany on Wednesday, with game time at 4:30 p.m.

Drama Club To Host Steelers In Basketball Event

The Northern High School Drama Club has challenged the six-time Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers to a basketball competition at the school gym.

Two contests are scheduled, with one set for Saturday, April 24, at 8 p.m., and the other on Sunday, April 25, at 2 p.m.

The Steelers will be represented by a team consisting of 6 to 10 first and second string current Pittsburgh Steelers football players.

Northern will be represented first by the NHS faculty team, which will play the Steelers on Saturday evening, and the NHS Drama Club students, who will continue the competition on Sunday afternoon.

The pro football team was recruited by Nathan Marshall, an English and theater teacher at NHS who heads the drama club.

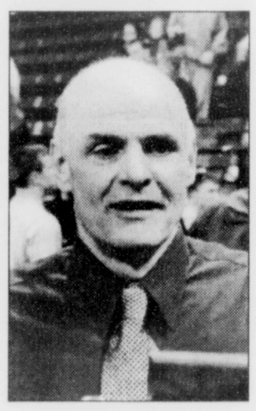
"We are very excited for this opportunity," he said. "It is truly a privilege for our faculty and students to take on professional athletes such as these."

Tickets for each game are $10, and the proceeds will benefit the NHS Drama Club. The club uses fundraising throughout the year to support high school theatrical productions (such as Thoroughly Modern Millie, which is planned for May 6 to 8 at 7 p.m.), the annual Broadway theater field trip to New York City, and various other drama club events.

Tickets are currently on sale, and can be purchased at the high school. Seats are limited, and the event is subject to a sell-out. No reservations or preferential seating will be taken.

The event is co-sponsored by Deep Creek Realty and Archie's BBQ.

Rams' Taylor Named State Coach Of Year



The National Wrestling Coaches Association recently awarded Dave Taylor, head wrestling coach at Southern High School, the 2009 Coach of the Year Award for Maryland after he led the Rams to the 2009 state team championship.

Taylor began with Southern in the 2001/2002 season, when the Rams won only three of their 14 matches. Taylor and his squad then began to rise to the top. In each of the next eight seasons, the Rams won at least 10 matches and qualified as a team for the Regional Dual Meet Tournament in all eight seasons.

The climb culminated when the Rams captured both the State Dual Meet Championship and the State Tournament Championship in 2009. They successfully defended the state 1A/2A team championship this year, and finished as the state runner-up in the dual championships.

The official MSWA rankings have had the Rams listed as the #1 public high school wrestling team in the state for the past 2½ years.

Under Coach Taylor, the Rams have recorded 131 team wins and 34 defeats, for a winning percentage of just under 80%.

During Taylor's nine-season tenure, individual SHS wrestlers have reached the state finals 18 times, with 12 individual state titles recorded. As a team, Southern also won the Bi-County tournament six times, the Regional tournament four times, the Regional Dual Meet tournament twice, the Maryland State Tournament twice, and the State Dual Meet Championship once.

"Coach Taylor has earned the respect of the Maryland wrestling community through his outstanding leadership and the incredible success the Southern Garrett wrestling team has achieved under his direction," stated an MSWA spokesperson. "Because of this, the National Wrestling Coaches Association is proud to present Coach Dave Taylor with the 2009 Coach of the Year Award for Maryland."

Lakers Drop Twinbill To Harford, Then Records Victory Over Hawks

After dropping both ends of a doubleheader against host Harford last Friday, 13-3 and 4-2, the Garrett College Lakers bounced back Tuesday to record a big baseball win over talented Hagerstown, 11-8.

The results left the Lakers with a 3-10 overall record and a 1-5 mark in Maryland JUCO contests.

The Lakers had a 3-0 lead going into the bottom of the second inning in the first game against Harford CC on Friday, but the home team knotted the score with three runs of its own in that frame, and then pummeled the Lakers with eight more runs in the bottom of the third to basically put the game away.

Harford added two more runs in the fourth, and the game was called in the fifth via the 10-run rule.

Jake Briley led the Lakers' six-hit effort with a double and a single, plus one RBI, while Clint Whitman contributed a run-producing triple.

Woody Woldarczyk rapped a double and a single for Harford, and Jordan Heller had two singles and two RBI.

The Lakers never led in the second game, which featured a pitching duel between Garrett's Bryan Maxfield and three Harford hurlers.

Maxfield allowed six hits, but gave up no earned runs in going the distance. He struck out five batters.

Alex Riley recorded half of Harford's hits with three singles, and Pat Liberatore chipped in with an RBI double.

Will Fisher hit a run producing single for the Lakers, who were held to just three hits by the trio of Harford pitchers.

In Tuesday's contest with Hagerstown, the Laker bats produced 13 hits and were led by Will Fisher, Brett Martin, and Cam King.

Fisher had three hits – a double and two singles – which brought home four runs. Martin and King matched that effort with a double and two singles apiece.

The Lakers took a 1-0 lead in the first inning and never trailed, up 2-1 after two complete frames and ahead 6-4 going into the top of the eighth, when they added five more runs. The Hawks rallied for four runs in the bottom of the eighth, but could get no closer.

Getting the win on the mound was Brandon Noe, who pitched the first six innings. Gaining a save was reliever Ryan Krumlauf, who tossed a scoreless ninth inning.

Leading the Hawks offensively was Travis Slugger, who stroked a two-run homer and a two-run double.

The loss dropped Hagerstown to 17-6 overall and 4-2 in JUCO games.

The Lakers will return to action this Friday with a doubleheader at Westmoreland, and will finally make their home debut on Saturday in a JUCO twinbill with Prince George's CC. The first game will get under way at noon.

Coach Eric Hallenbeck's squad will host Allegany College of Maryland in a single game next Wednesday at 4 p.m.

DNR Finalizes Proposed Regs On Hunting, Trapping

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Wildlife and Heritage Service has finalized the hunting and trapping season and bag limit regulation proposals for the 2010-2011 and 2011-2012 seasons. Opportunities for the public to comment on the proposals began in February and included a stakeholder meeting, two public meetings, and the DNR's Internet forum.

"We are very pleased with the outstanding level of thoughtful input we received during all aspects of the public comment period," said Pete Jayne, DNR associate director for game management. "It's always productive for us to hear from so many passionate supporters of Maryland's rich wildlife resources. Overall we received more than 450 comments on the proposals."

DNR initially met with a group of key stakeholders, including hunters, trappers, chasers, non-hunters, media, and even representation from those opposed to hunting and trapping. Once that process was completed, the proposals were presented for broader public input. The proposal process concluded last week when the Wildlife Advisory Commission approved all but two of the proposed regulation changes. The proposals will now move to the final regulatory phase.

The final proposed regulations are summarized as follows:

•Crossbow use – DNR will allow crossbows to be used to hunt any game species during any open season where a vertical bow may be used (excluding waterfowl and certain furbearers). This proposal would permit the use of a crossbow during the entire deer bow season in all counties.

•Bobwhite quail – On public land, DNR will shorten the season to end on January 15 and reduce the bag limit from six to three quail per day. No

GC Lakers Softball Team Controlled By Potomac State In Double-Header

The Garrett College women's softball team managed to score just three runs in two games against Potomac State last Saturday in Keyser, but the Lakers remained under the Catamounts' control as they fell 14-0 in the first and 11-3 in the second. Garrett was to play Westmoreland on Sunday and CCAC South last night, but details were not received.

Garrett got off only three hits in the first game against Potomac, who had 15. The Lakers trailed 3-0 after the first inning, 5-0 after the second, 13-0 after the third, and 14-0 after the fourth.

Potomac's Brittany Kolb hit a three-run home run in the third inning, and Haylie Harper added a two-run homer later in the inning. Lisa Barry was the team's leading hitter with three hits, while Taylor Butts had three singles and was credited as the winning pitcher. Aaryka Anglin finished with two hits including a double for the Catamounts.

In the second game, Garrett opened with two runs that were later answered by two runs from Potomac. The Lakers recorded another run at the top of the third, but the Catamounts broke open with seven runs for the lead. Another two runs came in the fourth inning for the win for Potomac.

Aldri Miller picked up a double, two singles, and an RBI to lead the Lakers. Teammate Kaitlin Spear added two singles for Garrett, who finished with six hits.

Kayla Stickel finished with an RBI double, and struck out six in two innings for Potomac. Watts and Tiffany Biggs each finished with two RBI, while Watts also recorded a double and Biggs added a base hit.

The Lakers are scheduled to host Beaver College this Friday at 3 p.m., and will then host Potomac State on Wednesday at 3 p.m.

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

I heard a good, understandable explanation of the procedure for the healthcare process. If you were looking for a house and you saw one that was just what you wanted, but the roof was in terrible shape, you would sign a contract saying that you will buy it if they fix the roof.

Of course, the Senate didn't sign a contract that they will accept the necessary fix. The House has its word, which is a risky thing to trust. How can we reform the big problems we are facing with the current Senate? It will be a fight to the death just to make it act on anything.

It is a shame that our defense personnel are all far away fighting for freedom and defending the American people. So who will have no defense? The American people when they face a dreadful homegrown danger.

Those "Christian militia" are just domestic terrorists, even if they label themselves as Christian. America is not supposed to be a place that allows one group to kill another group who may believe in a different version of America.

Just because they call themselves militia, they believe they are covered under the Second Amendment. But that part of the Bill of Rights says, "The right to keep and bear arms as part of a well-regulated militia." How will they be regulated if they are killing policemen?

Why do some Christian groups in the Midwest need a militia to prepare for the Apocalypse or the second coming of Christ? Or something about the Anti-Christ? Why are good guns needed at the end of the world? They will attack local police stations. Then they will kill all the many police after they begin their battles. I don't get it at all.

How are their plans justified by anything in the Bible? Where does Christ's love fit in this madness?

April is a big month for homegrown terrorist activities. April 19 is the day when Waco, Texas, exploded, and the same day when Tim McVeigh attacked Oklahoma City and murdered hundreds of people. If these grown up little boys want to play with guns, why not join the military and really fight.

I hope the far right remember the size of the crowd on Jan. 20, 2009, on the Mall celebrating the hope returned to America. Of course, they didn't have lots of guns, because they tend to be supporters of Martin Luther King's nonviolent resistance.

But even in the worst days of the KKK, they were not armed with such extreme weapons. And the crazy leaders of those militias claim that their enemy is any member of government, from the police, representatives of local government, and on up to the White House where they believe the anti-Christ is. I wonder where they got that idea? Who else can protect America from al Qaeda or the robber barons of Wall Street?

I don't think it is overreaching when our government acts strongly against very bad problems, and even to assure that all people are able to live a decent lifestyle. And also protect America's interests in the international world. It's not necessary to declare war. We can join with our allies in powerful sanctions against a rogue nation. But we are still living in the Nuclear Era, with all nations of the world working to prevent a nuclear war. Would you rather have someone in charge like Hillary Rodham Clinton or some lunatic with automatic guns?

The solution for the cash-strapped states is not little tax sales against a particular product. It requires serious income redistribution of America's wealth. The only way that our economy can work properly is that all Americans should have a fair part of America's wealth. But nothing will improve as long as only the top 2 percent of people control 95 percent of America's wealth. I have often said that. But does it make any sense at all?

The majority of our billionaires and millionaires live in New York and California. Those states probably have the most financial problems. Of course, you can add Michigan because most Americans don't have enough money to buy new cars to support a viable automobile industry. But that kind of wealth distribution can't work for most Americans, because they would be labeled "socialists."

I just saw a sign carried by a Tea Party person that read "Don't blame me, I voted for America!" I did too, and I am very proud of my vote.

"They" were saying that something smelled fishy and Duke did not belong in the Final Four in the NCAA tournament. I didn't see Duke vs. Baylor, so I don't know if anything smelly happened in it. The only thing I know is that West Virginia will meet them in the next game.

Duke is almost unbeatable most of the time, but Maryland did beat them this season. And they did not win the national tournament, but they do win many. Maybe too many. They do have an unusually talented coach.

Some years Duke has one player who is almost unbelievably talented. They rarely depend on that totally but apparently this year they have a big man who is very important to the team. And I guess he fouled out early yesterday against Baylor.

I can hardly believe that this little team upset a team that is always the top team in the country. But it is possible. Every game has a unique character. It depends on how the assets of each team work with the assets of the other team. You never know what will happen in any game. You know what is likely, but that doesn't always happen.

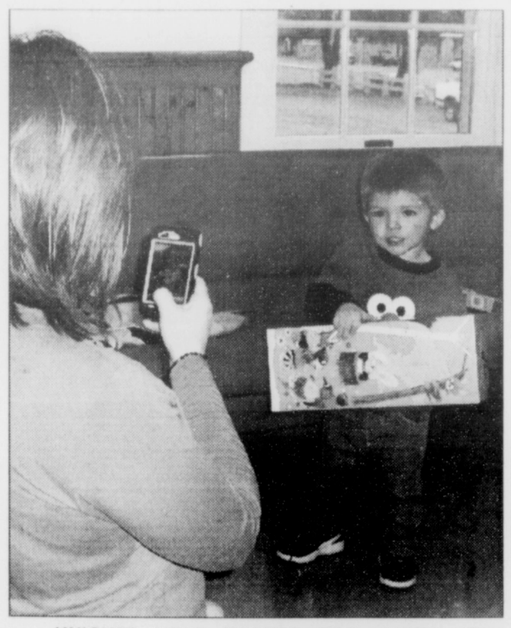
I am a past victim of an unlikely upset. I would have won the local benefit Garrett County basketball program. I led the pack, and I picked ULVN against I don't remember which team in the semi-final game in the Final Four. I was very disappointed, and my students were, too. They followed my progress with much interest.

My cousin Courtney is in a strange position about the Final Four battles, because he always hated Duke very much. But his new girlfriend picked Duke over WVU in her bracket. If that happens, she will win the whole pool. I am sorry, but I still will root for WVU.

Holy Week services were planned for today, Maundy Thursday (April 1), at St. John's, and a Good Friday service will be held at Zion Lutheran Church in Jennings on Friday.

A community Easter sunrise service will be held at the Bittinger fire hall this Sunday, April 4, at 6:30 a.m. Each of the churches in the Bittinger Parish will have Easter services at the regularly scheduled time.

A Vacation Bible School planning meeting has been scheduled for Sunday, April 11, at 5 p.m. at the Bittinger parsonage. The parish VBS is planned for June 27 through July 1, with the theme of "Crossroads."



KNIGHTS HOLD EASTER EGG HUNT – The Knights of Columbus, Council 1771, Oakland, conducted their annual Easter egg hunt outside St. Peter the Apostle Church parish hall on Sunday. More than 50 children in preschool through grade eight participated in the hunt. Dan Clark, past Grand Knight, chaired the event, with the help of many Knights and parents. Raffles were conducted after the hunt, and various treats were awarded. The grand prize, a large chocolate rabbit, was won by Shane Sisler, 3, Oakland, who is shown having his pictured taken by his mother Kelli.

DNR Finalizes

changes were made for private lands.

•Wild turkeys – DNR will extend hunting hours until sunset for the last two weeks of the spring turkey season and on the Junior Hunt day, statewide. Separate bag limits will be created for the fall and spring turkey seasons. The new bag limit would be one either-sex bird in the fall season and two bearded birds in the spring.

•White-tailed deer – Region A boundary will be moved into Washington County to include the portion of the county west of Clear Spring and Big Spring.

•Sika deer – The bag limit will be changed to two sika deer and one antlered deer for each season (bow, muzzleloader, and firearm). Also, sika deer can now be taken during the antlerless-only early muzzleloader season and during the two-day January firearm season.

•Raccoons – The season will be extended to close with the muskrat season (March 15) in counties where this currently does not already occur.

The Wildlife Advisory Commission did not approve two of the regulation proposals. The proposal to extend the bow season to open on September 5 was not approved and has been withdrawn by the Wildlife and Heritage Service. Likewise, a proposal to extend fox season for shooting-only was also withdrawn after not being approved by the commission.

The final proposed seasons and bag limits for 2010-11 and 2011-12 may be viewed online at: http://www.dnr.state.md.us/wildlife/2010_2012_Final_Hunt_Proposal.asp.

TREE PLANTING VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT – The Savage River Watershed Association (SRWA) is looking for adult volunteers to help plant 1,000 red spruce trees on Thursday and Friday, April 15 and 16, from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., and Sunday and Monday, April 18 and 19, from 1 to 4 p.m. "Red spruce will be planted along high-quality streams in the Savage River State Forest in an attempt to maintain conifer cover," said a spokesperson. "By shading streams, evergreen trees such as hemlock, pine, and spruce help keep water temperatures low, a critical factor for native brook trout survival." He added that, unfortunately, native hemlocks, Tsuga canadensis, are being killed by an exotic invasive insect called the hemlock woolly adelgid. It is hoped that these native red spruce seedlings will ultimately fill in gaps where hemlock trees are lost. For more details or to volunteer, persons may e-mail SRWAcoordinator@gmail.com or call Ron Boyer, SRWA red spruce planting coordinator, at 301-895-3686. Pictured is Tsuga, unofficial mascot of the SRWA red spruce planting project, overseeing the planting of a tree.

out, but I've been to the top, the tip of a rotor blade at its highest point to the ground a turbine would measure 415 feet.

White said he has heard a lot of negative things about turbines, including that they kill bats and birds.

"I was over there (Mt. Storm) for almost two years and never saw one bird, one bat," White said.

He said a bird might fly into a turbine now and then, but they are not as dangerous as people think they are.

"As far as landowners go," White added, "everybody wants to complain, but the people who are complaining, they only own an acre or two. How does that work? How can I dictate to you what you can do on your property? Well, you're not allowed to cut a tree. You're not allowed to plant a flower. You know, that's not very fair. I can do whatever I want on my own property, as long as it's within the law."

Commissioner Ernie Gregg thanked White for expressing his opinion.

Work resumed at the Constellation work site on Tuesday. The company representative said the crew has implemented the Soil Conservation District's recommendations. A silt fence, rock berm, and other sediment control measures have been taken to bring the project back into compliance.

"Mean" Commissioners Re-Zone Site In Oakland For Wind Turbine

In a development that has shocked Oakland elected officials and a couple of business owners, the Garrett County commissioners have exercised a little-known legal clause to force the rezoning of a block in downtown Oakland.

The area that is bordered by Second and Third streets on the west and east, and Green Street and Bankers Lane on the north and south has been rezoned by the commissioners to permit construction of a wind turbine on the site, with all other uses being deemed as non-conforming. Currently located on that ground, which measures about one acre, is Simple Publishing Company, publishers of The Nacilbuper, Proud Tootsie's Pharmacy, and offices of the First Untied Bank & Trust.

Despite their protests, the owners of those businesses have just 30 days to vacate their properties or face stiff fines, as well as a strong tongue lashing by the commissioners.

According to commissioner chairman Earning Greg, the moment that the properties are vacated, the buildings will be razed to clear a spot for a 1,000-foot-high wind turbine, to be constructed by Constipation Energy.

A spokesperson for the company said that the construction phase will generate jobs for 50,000 people, the energy produced by the massive tower will electrify every single home in the state of Maryland plus Low's parking lot, and the county will receive $50,000,000 per year until well into the next millennium, "assuming the world is still in existence," the spokesperson added.

"I can hardly wait," quipped Commissioner Dinny Glotfelter.

"I can't hardly wait neither," said Commissioner Phreddy Gollyday.

Oakland Mayor Pegleg Jamsession was upset that the commissioners went over her head and that of the Oakland Town Council to "seize control" of this piece of land.

"They are mean," she elaborated.

Some believe the move is more an issue of sour grapes than anything else, as the commissioners have been self-proclaimed lovers of wind turbines for years, while Dahn Simple, editor of The Nacilbuper, has ranted and raved against them in editorials.

"They (the commissioners) are mean," he said. "Just for that, we are not ever again going to publish another proclamation picture of them in our paper!"

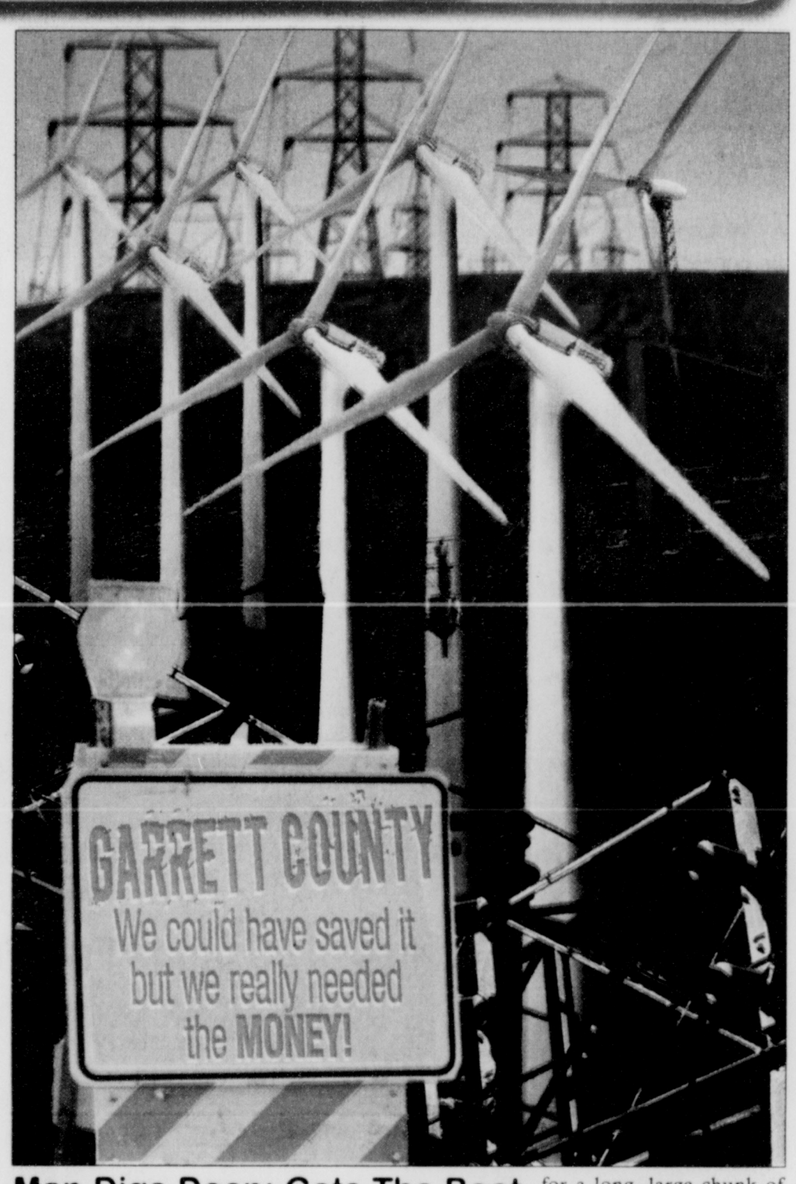
Simple said that he was "not going to take this lying down," claiming that he is a personal friend of Dr. Phil, who is expected to arrive this afternoon to discuss the matter with the commissioners on Simple's behalf.

"I can hardly wait," quipped Commissioner Glotfelter.

"I can't hardly wait neither," said Commissioner Gollyday.

Meanwhile, Proud Tootsie's pharmacist Militant Proud Tootsie remains holed up in the rear of the building, reportedly heavily armed with various muzzleloaders, bazookas, and hand grenades. At presstime this morning, Oakland police chief Jon Signs was attempting to negotiate with him.

All spokespersons for First Untied Bank were unavailable for comment, as all were reportedly playing golf.



Freddie Says: "More Snow Comin'!"

Garrett County residents, business owners, municipalities, and agencies are finally recovering from the more than 22 feet of snow that the area received this winter. Motorists can get into their driveways, children can play on their swing sets, and wind turbine companies can finally start ripping out trees. Hooray!

But look out. Old Man Winter is not through torturing us yet!

At least 100 more inches of the white stuff will hit this weekend, according to Oakland weather prognosticator "Fast Freddy the Gopher." Freddy saw his shadow this April Fool's morning while on his way to Cindy's Grill to pick up coffee for Dahn Simple, editor of The Nacilbuper.

"If Freddy saw his shadow, that's a sure sign that more snow is on its way," Simple said before dashing off to Roylan's Hardware to purchase a new snow shovel.

The Gopher has been forecasting local weather conditions for nearly 50 years now, and county residents have come to rely on his pinpoint, Doppler radar like accuracy. In fact, with a 99.9 percent accuracy level, Fast Freddy is probably better than radar and, most certainly, more reliable than Pennsylvania's famous groundhog, Punxsutawney Phil.

"Oh, that old rodent, big deal," Freddie said. "Phil crawls out of a hole once a year, makes a prediction, goes back to sleep until spring. Me? I'm here 24/7. I'm more famous! I'm more accurate! But where are my cameras, where are my TV crews, where are my ...."

Garrett County road crews immediately began gearing up for yet another winter blast after receiving word about Freddy's shadow viewing. Salt shakers were loaded into dump trucks, snowplow blades were sharpened, and night vision goggles were Windexed.

"We can always count on Freddie for accurate and entertaining information," said roads superintendent May Joyer. "I'm glad to get the heads up."

The Baltimore Moon reported that the eastern part of the state will get pounded this weekend with 2 inches of snow, or, as one weather reporter calls it, "the white death." In anticipation of the madness to come, all schools, businesses, and government offices east of Washington County are shut down until further notice.

"You're on your own up there, guys. We're going to have our hands full down here," said one state official. "So, don't expect any help from us."

"I predicted he would say that!" Freddie shouted.

Sorry, Freddie, but we all saw that one coming, and we didn't even need a shadow.

Note: A Baltimore Sun weather reporter did call snow "white death." We're not making that one up!

Man Digs Deep; Gets The Boot

R.U. Hipdeep, Kitzmauler, recently made a startling discovery during a February snowstorm. Hipdeep waded through blowing and drifting snow to get the mail from his mailbox. When he finally arrived where he thought his mailbox should be, all he found was a 4-ft. snowdrift and 1 snowboot alongside the road.

"Well, dang it!" declared R. U., "that's a real nice snowboot. I wonder if the other one is around here somewhere? And while I'm digging I guess I'll look for my mailbox."

Mr. Hipdeep trudged back to his house, gathered up his grain shovel, pickaxe, and garden rake, then bundled himself up to go and excavate his mailbox. He called to his wife Shees that he was leaving for a mite, but if she replied he couldn't hear her on account of his earmuffs, wool hat, and the scarf that was wrapped around his head.

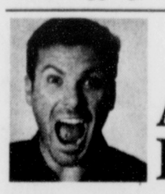
Several hours later, after much digging, R. U. had uncovered his mailbox, 2 beer bottles, a fast food bag full of trash, an old Stillers' ballcap, and other assorted litter. "Well, I never did find that other boot and the mailbox is empty (R. U. hadn't heard that the Post Office was closed for the past two days), but I guess I'll dig for just a few more minutes and maybe that boot will turn up."

It was then that Mr. Hipdeep saw the toe of a boot peeking out of a large drift to his left. He hurriedly cleared the snow away with his hands and grabbed the boot and tried to yank it out of the snow. After a few minutes of tugging, the boot came off and R. U. exclaimed, "Well, by golly, there's a foot!" He began furiously digging with his hands and finally uncovered most of what appeared to be a giant snowman wrapped in layers and layers of winter clothing. Mr. Hipdeep gently brushed away the snow that covered the face of the snowman except for a long, large chunk of ice that hung from the snowman's mouth. He thought that the snowman looked kind of familiar and after clearing away more snow, he realized that it was his wife Shees.

"Well, for Pete's sake, Shees, whatcha doin' jes lyin' around? Git'cha that ther' rake and help me find our mail!" Shees rubbed the icicles from her eyelids and carefully broke off the large piece of ice near her mouth and stowed it in her pocket. Except for a little stiffness and the loss of her voice, Shees seemed fine — she was a tough old bird — and she helped R. U. dig around for awhile.

When they were both exhausted — still no mail for R.U. or voice for Shees — -they trekked back to the house for dinner. After peeling off their layers of outdoor clothing, they set about fixing dinner, R. U. keeping up a constant stream of comments and questions, none of which Shees could answer. She, meanwhile, was busy at the stove heating something in a saucepan. As the pan heated up Shees tapped R.U.'s shoulder and motioned for him to look inside the pan. When he leaned over the pan, R.U. could see that big chunk of ice that had been hanging near Shees's mouth when he uncovered her. It was melting as he watched, and when it had fully melted his ears were pierced by the sound of Shees screaming from the depths of the pan, "The Post Office's been closed for two days, you old buzzard!"

Apparently, Shees heard R.U. coming to shovel out the mailbox and yelled at him from under the snowbank. The snow was so deep and cold however, that her words froze right there as they left her lips. As the pan heated, the ice sentence melted and as the shout reverberated through their tiny house, Shees's voice was restored!



Ask the Everyday Linguist

Q. I notice that today's Nacilbuper is lousy with something called "Satire." What is Satire and how can I blame Washington for it?

A. As much as our first president loved a good laugh, he cannot be blamed for satire. It dates back to Roman times. Satire is a literary device that is used to point out faults, defects, abuses, and shortcomings by the use of irony and wit. Subsequently it is considered a high form of humor and is misunderstood by most people. Notorious examples of satire were found in the British magazine Punch and later in Mad magazine and The National Lampoon. These publications went to great length—through exaggeration, half-truth and downright falsity—to create an illusion of reality. Today these satiric devices are used in the popular cable television shows The Daily Show, The Colbert Report, and Fox News. If you find you do not "get" most of the articles and features in today's Nacilbuper, perhaps satire is not the right cup of tea for your tea party, so to speak. For those readers who require a lower form of humor, The Nacilbuper will, as a public service, hit you in the face with a pie. Requests may be addressed to the Slapstick Program, in care of this paper.

Lawsuit Filed

Miss Ima Mess of Garden Hoe Street, Accident, has filed a lawsuit against her GPS navigational system, stating that it refused to properly communicate with her because of her bad breath.

Miss Mess claims she was directed to aisle 7 (mouthwash products) at a nearby drug store when she had programmed for directions to a local singles club.

No comment was made by GPS. Apparently, it has decided to plead the Fifth by using its mute feature.

Letters To The Nacilbuper Editor

To the Editor:

How come you don't give us free stuff online? How come I have to pay a flippin' 19 cents a week to look at your web site? What is wrong with you? Who raised you? Did you grow up with wolves? Are you a cave dweller? Do you have opposable thumbs? Are you so poor you have to charge money for what you do for a living? Man. This world is a mess. I want free stuff. I do not understand why you don't give me that. You are rude.

Perplexed,
Grabby McWhine

To the Editor:

My tater patch is going to be enormous this summer. Please come get a picture. I've asked before and you have only come one time. Why? I have the best potatoes.

And I would like to say that it's a little too hilly here in Garrett County. Just a little too hilly. So someone should fix that. And there are too many rocks in the dirt. It makes it very hard to plant potatoes. But I do it anyway. And they are the best.

Yours,
Blenda Fussbudget

To the Editor:

OMG! IDK what's going on, but IMHO it has to stop. Even though it sometimes it makes me ROTFL, I usually just get all :-(So let's get together and make it better. TTFN! TTYL!

Garrett County Board Of Education Cuts Sports Programs In GC Schools

The Garrett County Board of Education announced today that it will be cutting all of the sports programs in Garrett County schools, effective immediately. The decision was made after pressure was put on the board by parents that felt that the money allocated to the schools should be put toward more useful programs.

"We just felt that complaining and harassing the board was the only way to make sure money went to the right places," said a disgruntled parent. "We want money going to the arts and music programs at the schools, since they have much more of an effect on the students well-being than just playing sports."

This decision won't come without fire, however, since Garrett County has produced some outstanding athletes and teams.

"Its understood by all the board members that this decision is going to really make some people mad," said a board spokesperson. "Just know that we are taking all things into consideration, but ultimately the most important thing is the students. We are taking their best interests to heart."

It was estimated that the GC school system would receive $4.1 million dollars for their 2010-2011 funding, and an agreement was made that $3 million of that would go toward the arts programs at every school.

"I can't begin to tell you how often we get shafted because of sports!" said Lilly Loopy, art teacher at Brakford Elementary School. "Finally, the board of education is making a decision that will help and not hurt the students."

The programs receiving more money are as follows:

- Music classes, marching bands, concert bands, and after-school music activities
- Theater classes, drama clubs, productions, and after-school theater activities
- Visual arts classes, exhibits at local galleries, and after-school activities

Other areas that the board is hoping to fund will be field trips for the arts, and the development of dance programs and classes at each school.

"We've done the research and we've consulted with professors that have confirmed that the arts play a major roll in a student's educational walk," said a spokesperson. "It was a hard decision for me since I love watching the children excel at what they do, but it is our hope that the football players will even learn to love ballet."

No Murders Reported At Family Reunion

The local police department was stunned last weekend when no gunplay, spear-chucking, or other modes of death were reported at the annual Shrimpbait Family Reunion. The event has been the scene of many a snuffing over the years, generally a result of debates over such things as what really should go into baked beans and/or who is True Master of the Lawn Dart.

Some heated arguing over the baked beans issue was reported by one anonymous source, who said the tension was ratcheted up when guests discovered green peppers in Inelda Shrimpbait's beans, which was in defiance of her husband's onion preference. Her mother-in-law reportedly aimed a poison dart at Inelda's forearm, but thought better of it when she spotted the homemade shiv hidden in her daughter-in-law's left Croc. Hard to find an unprepared Shrimpbait, that is a fact.

Further unrest was reported when a water gun fight turned ugly, resulting in four Shrimpbaits and two married-ins being tossed into a horse trough, apparently prematurely.

On a lighter note, Marimba Shrimpbait won first prize for her act in the talent show. To the tune of The Baby Elephant Walk, she successfully juggled a 12-pound bowling ball, a hamster (deceased), and an almond.

Eddie Cowpie came in second with his rendition of Chicken Reel on the bass kazoo. Reportedly, the performance moved his mother to tears.

Next year's reunion will be held at the same time and place, as long as everyone plays nice this year and steers clear of manslaughter. For once.

Ms. E. Toad To Marry Mr. Rump

Eliza Toad and Steadman Rump have announced their engagement and forthcoming marriage, with which they have decided to proceed because they have nothing else better to do.

"We were just so totally bored, you know," Eliza said. "So we figured it'd be awesome to have all that stuff — bridal showers and parties and all that. And get all kinds of new dishtowels and smelly candles and a gazillion bottles of belly wash and rot-gut. All that stuff. Totally awesome."

Mr. Rump had no audible comment other than a slight whimper, followed by excessive sighing.

The wedding will take place sometime in July, with the time and place TBA.

"Yeah, we're gonna have a lot of flowers and a nice cake my uncle's girlfriend's step-mom is making," said the future Ms. Toad-Rump. "My dad's wife was going to, but then they got a deevorce, so you know, I didn't feel like I should ask again. Anyhow, we're getting a karaoke machine for the reception. All we have to find is a preacher, but you know, those guys love to do weddings no matter when. So that's the easy part."

The bride-elect was employed as a plastic plant duster at a rest stop on I-68 until it closed. She is now unemployed, but is heavily engaged in Farmville on FaceBook. Mr. Rump works as sample handler at the mall.

"Ah, we're fine," Ms. Toad said. "We're gonna live with his parents."

Rump remained silent, but did suddenly mouth the words: "Help me."

Ruth Enlow Library Offering My First Card Program

All branches of the Ruth Enlow Library are now offering a My First Card program, which allows children 8 years of age and younger to sign up for their first library card.

Along with signing up, children receive a backpack containing a book, certificate, activity sheets, stickers, and guidelines for using the card. Parents must accompany all children applying for a card and must bring identification showing their address. The My First Card program will be in place at all library branches while supplies last.

According to a spokesperson, the children's area at the Oakland branch is designed to meet the needs of all children and their caregivers. It includes two carts for youngsters to use when selecting books. Toddlers will find a small, cozy space with carefully selected and developmentally appropriate books, and the reading corner offers a child-sized sofa and rocking chair as well as stuffed animals for cuddling. Puzzles and a wooden dollhouse are available for play, and older children and caregivers will find comfort at the wooden tables and chairs.

A LITTLE HELP FROM A FRIEND – Sierra Robinette of Oakland was loading her shopping cart with books in the children's area at the Oakland branch of the Ruth Enlow Library when Dezi the Dog, also known as Karen Bonser, showed up to help. After choosing her books, Sierra pushed her cart to the children's spot at the circulation desk, where she received her very first library card from Dezi as part of the My First Card program, offered at all of the library branches. "I like my card," she said, and was happy to receive her free backpack with goodies. See story for more details about the program. The Dezi fur suit was created by Bonser, daughter of Bob and Suzanne Bonser, circulation clerk at the Oakland branch.

Materials available for check-out include board books, picture books, beginning reader books, chapter books, read-alongs, magazines, non-fiction, biographies, a LeapPad learning system, music CDs, and books on CD.

The library system offers many programs for children of all ages.

"I love this program," said Melissa Robinette, who brings her five children to the HomeSchooler events. "The library does neat things for the kids."

The calendar page of the library's new web site at www.relib.net shows a listing of all programs at all branches. For additional information on children's services, persons may contact Keela at 301-334-3996, ext. 115, or via e-mail at keela@relib.net.

Jon Burnett To MC Health Fair, Facilitate Panel

Jon Burnett of KDKA-TV in Pittsburgh, Pa., will serve as the master of ceremonies for the fourth annual Garrett County Health Fair scheduled for Saturday, April 17, at Wisp Resort, McHenry, beginning at 8:30 a.m.

Burnett will also serve as facilitator for the fair's Lifetime Fitness panel discussion with fitness experts Andrea Bender, Audrey Kennedy, and Dr. Thomas Johnson.

"We are pleased to have Jon Burnett's help again this year at the health fair," said Dorothy Tuel, Health Fair Planning Committee. "Jon brings a level of warmth and fun to the event, with ongoing support for what we are doing in the community."

Burnett is known for his delivery of the AccuWeather forecast weekends on KDKA. He was nominated for Pittsburgh's Mid-Atlantic Emmy Awards for his work as a weathercaster and feature reporter.

In 1984, he won a Golden Quill Award, as well as a national "PM Magazine" award in the Outstanding Feature category. In 1996, he took home an Emmy for Individual Achievement in Weathercasting.

A native of Knoxville, Tenn., Burnett attended the University of Tennessee on a four-year football scholarship and graduated with a bachelor of fine arts degree in theater.

Before joining KDKA, he co-hosted "PM Magazine" at WNGE-TV in Nashville, Tenn., and prior to that was a weathercaster/feature reporter at stations in Louisville, Ky., and his hometown.

"Jon and his wife Debbie both expressed their enjoyment of visiting Garrett County and are looking forward to being a part of the health fair," said event spokesperson Kathy Greaser, Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Sixth Annual WM Democratic Summit Slated For April 23, 24

The 6th annual Western Maryland Democratic Summit will be held Friday, April 23, and Saturday, April 24, at Rocky Gap Lodge and Golf Resort near Cumberland. The summit features informative political workshops, provides opportunities for networking, and includes speeches from top elected officials.

The summit was created in 2005 as a way for democrats in Allegany, Carroll, Frederick, Garrett, and Washington counties to organize, strategize, and make the party more competitive in the 6th Congressional District. The event draws hundreds of activists annually.

The summit begins on Friday evening, and participants are invited to a mixer and hospitality room sponsored by Andrew Duck, candidate for U.S. Congress. The Maryland Democratic Party will sponsor a continental breakfast on Saturday and opening remarks by Tom Slater, chairman of the WM Caucus, and Susan Turnbull, charwoman of the MDP.

Jason Waskey from Organizing for America will introduce breakfast speaker U.S. Rep. Mike Honda, D-CA, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Since 2001, Honda has represented the 15th Congressional District of California. His district includes Silicon Valley, a leading region for technology development.

Following breakfast, participants will have their choice of four breakout sessions: Party Building in Western Maryland; Governing in Hard Times; Campaign School; or Woman to Woman in the 6th District.

Maryland Governor Martin O'Malley and U.S. Senator Barbara Mikulski (D-MD) will speak at lunch. The Saturday afternoon program includes another round of sessions followed by panel discussion on Energy Policy and Climate Change with U.S. Senator Benjamin Cardin (D–MD), as well as a 6th Congressional District Democratic Debate between Casey Clark and Andrew Duck.

A reception sponsored by United Auto Workers, Carpenters Local Union 1024, and Casey Clark for Congress will follow the debate.

Cumberland City councilman Brian Grim will introduce Maryland Attorney General Doug Gansler, who recently argued before the United States Supreme Court, who will give remarks.

The summit closes Saturday evening with dinner and a keynote address by retired U.S. congressman and professional basketball player Charles "Tom" McMillen.

According to a spokesperson, McMillen overcame adversity to achieve success in sports, politics, and business. While in grade school his doctor warned that a knee defect would prevent McMillen from playing basketball. Undeterred, McMillen maintained a 47-point average during his senior year in high school and held the all-time Pennsylvania scoring record for 28 years. Sports Illustrated featured McMillen on its cover as the best high school player in America.

While at the University of Maryland, McMillen was a three-time All-American in basketball, an academic All-American and a member of the controversial 1972 U.S. Olympic Team, which refused to accept a silver medal because of refereeing disputes. McMillen also earned the first and only Rhodes Scholarship awarded to a University of Maryland student.

He was subsequently drafted into the NBA and played 11 years with the New York Knicks, the Atlanta Hawks, and the Washington Bullets (now Washington Wizards). McMillen is the only professional athlete to announce and campaign for congress while still on the roster of a professional team.

McMillen served three consecutive terms in the U.S. House of Representatives in the 4th Congressional District from 1987 to 1993. He was named by President Bill Clinton to co-chair the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports.

Currently, McMillen serves as chairman and CEO of Homeland Security Capital Corp., a homeland security consolidator. He is also vice chairman of Ultimate Escapes, the second largest destination club in the world.

The cost for the summit is $85 per person and includes Saturday's continental breakfast, lunch, and dinner, as well as admission to all events. Attendees are responsible for their own room reservations. Persons desiring more information may contact Rocky Gap Resort directly, and identify themselves as participating in the Western Maryland Democratic Summit.

Conference-only admission is available for $50, but does not include dinner. Conference-only admission for high school or full-time college students is available for $25. Persons may contact Bill DuVall at 301-722-2141 for more information.

At the conclusion of the walk, participants will gather back at the church for a soup supper. The evening will conclude with a time of worship and reflection in the church sanctuary. AN INSTRUMENT TO SUIT SWIMMERS
With a breakthrough that is sure to garner the attention of hearing-impaired swimmers, the maker of invisible extended-wear hearing instruments is developing a swim-proof version of its hearing device. The instrument, which resides deep in the wearer's ear canal, must repel the water that ordinarily short circuits externally worn hearing instruments (including completely-in-the-canal models). The latest generation of the extended-wear instrument, which can be worn day and night for months at a time, will make use of stronger exterior coatings that are able to withstand at least three swims per week. The extended-wear devices are suitable for those with mild to moderate hearing losses and ear canals that are sufficiently long to accept the instruments.
Keeping pace with the fast-growing technology of today's hearing industry is an integral part of our business at AUDIBEL. Our experienced staff will use specialized equipment to pinpoint and evaluate your hearing impairment. We then choose among a selection of hearing instruments to match the most appropriate aid with your individual needs. Our services don't stop there, however. We also know how crucial follow-up care and support are to the successful wearing of any hearing instrument.
P.S. The seals on extended-wear hearing instruments protect the inner workings from moisture while maintaining the correct inner-ear pressure.

Stanton Recently Promoted To Staff Sergeant

U.S. Air Force Airman 1st Class Ashley M. Anderson recently graduated from basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas. She earned distinction as an honor graduate.

The airman completed an intensive eight-week program that included training in military discipline and studies, Air Force core values, physical fitness, and basic warfare principles and skills.

Airmen who complete basic training earn four credits toward an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Anderson earned a bachelor's degree in 2004 from Marietta College, Ohio. She is the daughter of Donna Anderson, Friendsville.

Grantsville native Timothy L. Stanton, stationed at Fort Drum, N.Y., was recently promoted to staff sergeant. Stanton entered the U.S. Army in Oct. 2000. After completing basic training at Fort Benning, Ga., he was stationed at Fort Gordon, Ga., for advanced individual training (AIT) as a signal support systems specialist.

Upon graduation from AIT, he reported to Fort Carson, Colo., with the 10th Combat Support Hospital, where he remained from June 2001 to April 2004. Upon re-enlisting, he received orders to the Republic of Korea, where he served with the 498th Combat Support Sustainment Battalion until Jan. 2007, at which time he reported to the 2nd Infantry Division Headquarters at Camp Red Cloud, Korea.

In May 2009, he returned stateside to Fort Drum to the 10th Mtn. Division, where he reported to the 1-71 Cavalry as an electronics warfare officer. He earned his promotion to staff sergeant on Oct. 1, 2009.

Stanton has deployed with his unit to Afghanistan in support of Operation Enduring Freedom. SSG Stanton is the grandson of Dalton and Ruth Stanton and the son of Terry Stanton and Linda Miller.

U.S. Army Pvt. Caleb W. Walters has graduated from the Infantryman One Station Unit Training at Fort Benning, Columbus, Ga. The training consists of basic infantry training and advanced individual training (AIT).

During the nine weeks of basic combat training, Walters received training in drill and ceremonies, weapons employment, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, physical fitness, first aid skills, and Army history, core values, and traditions.

Additional training included development of basic combat skills and battlefield operations and tactics, and experienced use of various weapons and weapons defenses available to the infantry crewman.

The AIT course is designed to train infantry soldiers to perform reconnaissance operations; employ, fire and recover anti-personnel and anti-tank mines; locate and neutralize land mines and operate target and sight equipment; operate and maintain communications equipment and radio networks, construct field firing aids for infantry weapons; and perform infantry combat exercises and dismount battle drills, which includes survival procedures in a nuclear, biological, or chemical contaminated area.

Walters is the won of William and Teresa Walters, Grantsville. The private is a 2009 graduate of Northern High School.

"Going a little farther, he fell with his face to the ground and prayed, 'My father, if it be possible, may this cup be taken from me. Yet not as I will, but as You will'." (Matthew 26:39)

Even Jesus, God's only Son, was subject to human emotion while He lived and preached on earth. Yet, He had total faith in His Father; Jesus accepted the will of God. Had Jesus not died, had He not paid for our sins on the Cross, humanity could not have realized the concept of God's unconditional mercy and forgiveness.

This Easter, as you worship, won't you meditate on God's gift of forgiveness and pray for acceptance of God's will? In all circumstances, have faith and know you are loved. Happy Easter!

Persistence

The ability to stick to a task or project until completion is a valuable trait in a world where many tasks are difficult and don't go smoothly the first time around. Thomas Edison is said to have tried literally thousands of materials for the filament of the electric light bulb before hitting on carbonized cotton thread as the proper material. How much longer would humans have toiled in darkness had it not been for his dogged persistence? Indeed, it could be argued that civilization would not be possible without this virtue. Perseverance is undoubtedly a useful virtue, but we must be careful that we don't fall into perseveration, the knee-jerk repetition of a particular response, even when that response is not working. So, we should be smart in our persistence and keep at it, but don't continue "beating our head against the wall" when our approach is not working. We should be willing to modify our approach and think about what is required to solve our problem. And remember that in some areas of life, such as working with people, patience and persistence are especially called for. Recall that when Jesus was asked how many times we should forgive our brother who has sinned against us, He is effectively saying that we should never stop forgiving.

Then Peter came up and said to him, "Lord, how often shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? As many as seven times?" Jesus said to him, "I do not say to you seven times, but seventy times seven."

Inherited Condition May Require Anticoagulants

Factor V Leiden is a common cause of inherited thrombophilia. People with the inherited factor V Leiden gene are at an increased risk of blood vessel thrombosis. A change in this factor may cause resistance to a substance called activated protein C. This all leads to a defect in the body's anticoagulation system. Activated protein C is a natural body substance that serves as an anticoagulant. People with factor V Leiden have an increased risk of venous thromboembolism (VTE), deep venous thrombosis (DVT) and pulmonary embolism (PE).

Treatments for factor V Leiden may not be necessary, unless there are other risk factors for thrombosis present, such as surgery or pregnancy. If a person with factor V Leiden experiences a VTE, treatment usually includes heparin, and then anticoagulation therapy with the oral tablet warfarin. Heparin is an anticoagulant, which prevents the formation of a blood vessel thrombus. Low-molecular weight heparins include enoxaparin and dalteparin. Warfarin requires frequent monitoring of drug blood levels. Foods containing vitamin K may decrease the effects of warfarin, and should be consumed in a consistent amount to avoid fluctuations.

TV Pipeline

'Terminator' terminated as television series

Q: Is there any word on if and when "Terminator: The Sarah Connor Chronicles" might return? –Roman Nyznyk, Buffalo, N.Y.

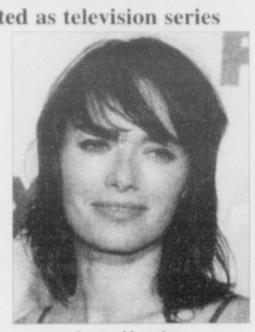
A: There is, but you probably won't like it. After two seasons, Fox canceled the television spinoff of the movie series – which isn't to say repeats might not surface on a cable network at some point, but in terms of new episodes, the Lena Headey-starring show is over. Each of its seasons is available in a separate DVD set.

Q: I remember that many moons ago, there was a show called "The Millionaire." A man would knock on the door of a complete stranger and present a check for $1 million. When is someone going to come up with another show similar to that one? – Willie Gonzales, San Antonio

A: Someone did, last summer. It wasn't a literal remake of "The Millionaire," but NBC's "The Philanthropist" involved the same basic elements, with James Purefoy playing a billionaire prompted by his son's death to use his fortune for the benefit of others.

Q: What ever happened to the "The Jacksons: A Family Dynasty" reality show? –Brigida Goodman, North Palm Beach, Fla.

A: A&E Network played out the six scheduled episodes of the series ... which originated as an intended houriong special, but Michael Jackson's death prompted the expanded look at his surviving brothers. Reportedly, the siblings have been in discussion about doing a second season; in the meantime, the existing episodes have just been released in a DVD set.



Lena Headey

Q: Was the soundtrack of "Bird," the Charlie Parker biography produced and directed by Clint Eastwood, ever released on CD? –William Cole, Littleton, Colo.

A: The jazz compilation was issued in 1988 on the Sony label, and copies still can be found by searching for it on the Internet. In fact, you also can find import copies.

Q: Has the television series "Women's Murder Club" been released on DVD? –Sam Johnston, Boynton Beach, Fla.

A: It hasn't, and 20th Century Fox Home Entertainment – which has the rights to the single-season ABC series – hasn't announced any home-video plans for it. If that happens, we suspect it would be tied into the release of another project from the book series' creator, best-selling mystery staple James Patterson (who also was a producer of the show).
